We now know why there are so many busy signals when we try to use the phone. A report issued this week by the Arlington Heights office of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. does not give the score between women and men users of the phone, but during 1955 there were 68,000 local calls a day made over the CLearbrook exchange and 9,500 long distance calls every 24 hours.

We call that some talking. We have always been a bit partial to that public utility and we are more so since we learned that the company spent $44,000 with local suppliers and $57,000 in property taxes.

Over a million dollars was spent to give phone service to Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows.

Until fashion provides pockets in clothing of high school students, a great many purses are being lost about the high school. When found by honest persons, they are, of course, returned intact to the owners. In some cases the finder removes the money or articles of value and drops the purse somewhere about the school.

We suggest that parents of high school students take an interest in policing their own children. When a son or daughter explains the possession of an article with "I found it," let the parent insist that the article be turned into the school office.

When we inquired as to the number of reported lost articles in one local high school, we were told "there are so many that it would be difficult for the school to institute a "special department" to find the things that are lost because of carelessness on the part of students.

A second high school says, there are more things unclaimed than there are articles returned. It is not unusual for dollar bills, watches and other valuable to remain in the lost and found drawer a long time.

Auto drivers should hereafter prize their drivers license. Judge Neumann, Arlington Heights police magistrate, is now sending all "moving" violations to the office of the secretary of state. Too many violations by moving vehicles might mean loss of driver's license.

With electrical timers, reduction in permitted speed and alert police officers, also $10 minimum fines, what chance has an autoist to be on his own?

We have often said that a reader should not always believe what he reads in a Chicago newspaper. Two local doctors asked us this week to deny the published statement in the daily papers that there is plenty of polio vaccine for all children.

Dr. Bundesen, Chicago health head, may have been able to supply all Chicago children with needed vaccine, but the doctors in the suburbs are under a quota of 27 shots per week. They are still working under the requisitions they made last spring.

The doctors must go through a lot of red tape in order to get the little vaccine that is allotted to them. It is another case of the civic service our physicians are performing.

The moth eaten term, "a good time was had by all" will be more truth than fiction after the ocming primary campaign. There are many candidates for state representative.

Because each voter will have the opportunity to cast 3 votes for his favorite, we predict that support promised by candidates to other candidates will be largely forgotten.

Political chieftains have promised an open campaign, but it will be interesting to see what will actually happen. The independent candidate only has a chance of election if he has enough personal friends to combine their votes.

After attending a political meeting Tuesday night, we are convinced that unless independent voters turn out in force, the regular organization has pinpointed the primary winners.

Cook county municipalities are asking questions of the Chicago sanitary district that its lawyers cannot answer. Many of these municipalities have inadequate sewage treatment plants that they would like to shoulder off upon the proposed metropolitan sanitary district if the voters approve its establishment at the November election.

Several conferences have been held between Palatine officials and attorneys of the Chicago sanitary district, but no answer has been found. In the meantime, Palatine wisely will not accept any more annexations that would only tend to increase the treatment plant bond load that already exists.

History should repeat itself Saturday when voters of School District 25 go to the polls. Arlington Heights has always been liberal in support of its school systems and there is no reason why the million dollar bond issue asked by School District 25 should not carry. Taxpayers have approved 3 other bond issues the past fall and winter.

We predict that Arlington will vote true to form Saturday and approve the school bond issue.

We feel a personal loss in the death of Eugene Heller, Arlington Heights business man. During the past years he was active in many civic projects. He was independent in thought and action. He often differed from us but he never hesitated in letting the world know his stand on anything and everything.

Keep Porchlights Burning Tuesday!

Nearly 400 Arlington Heights mothers will march on polio Tuesday night.

They will be part of some 52,000 Cook county mothers, marching for 8,000 polio patients across America. Chairman of the march is Mrs. Jerome B. Hoopes, 406 N. Carlyle pl.

Families who wish to contribute to the March of Dimes are asked to greet the mothers with a lighted porchlight, a burning candle or a handkerchief tied to a door knob.

The mothers will begin their rounds at 7 p.m. and residents will be urged by a sound truck cruising village streets to turn on their lights. The truck will be provided by the Arlington Radio and Record shop. The fire siren will also sound at 7 p.m.

THE 1956 March of Dimes campaign in Arlington Heights has already topped 1955 contributions in 2 divisions. Mrs. Carl Mees, campaign treasurer, reported Wednesday that contributions from grade and high schools reached a total of $1,968, with a few dollars still expected. She said that mailed donations had also passed 1955 figures. Including Wednesday's estimated receipts' donations now total $1,200, she said.

Last year grade and high schools contributed an amount of $1,765. This year public and parochial grade schools collected $1,365 and the high school $603.

IN 1955 residents of Arlington Heights mailed in $709 during the campaign. Mrs. Muriel Rosene said that she hoped that contributions to the Mother's march on polio would not fall off because of the increased mail donations. Mrs. Mees noted that many persons had returned checks for more than the $2.

Friday the coin cards placed at retail locations in the village will be collected and the coins tabulated. Gifts socilited from businesses by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce are expected to be turned in to the treasurer this week.

Money colected in the mother's march will be counted Tuesday night in the village hall and deposited that night. A special detail of police will be on hand and several village employees have offered to help in the tabulations.

Many Candidates For Legislature

Republican voters of Senatorial District 3 and Representative District 6 will have a wide choice of candidates at the April primary. Last minute filing has increased senatorial candidates in Barrington, Hanover, Palatine and Schaumburg to 6.

Announced candidates are: Charles L. Walters and Jackson Boughner, Palatine; John A. Doyle, Rolling Meadows; Francis Kennedy and Robert Sabel, Barrington; Austin A. Mitchell, Elgin. Democratic candidate is Oliver Dilks from Palatine.

There are many candidates for both the Republican and Democratic nomination in the 6th Representative district.

In the Democratic camp there are 5 candidates for the one position. They are Larry F. Ham and Roger Tansley, Des Plaines; Corvin R. Wagner, Maine township; James Stavros, Arlington Heights; Frank E. O'Reilly, Park Ridge.

Republicans will nominate two. There are 13 candidates. Appearing first on the ballot will be 2 township committeemen who are candidates. They are Sherman Canty, Elk Grove, and Arthur L. Simmons, Niles. William J. Carroll, of Park Ridge, will have the third position. Other candidates are: Anthony J. Muffolette, Park Ridge; James J. Cullen Jr., and Harry L. Kinser, Des Plaines; Jack L. Wilcox and George Krueger, Palatine; Dominic Colucci, John W. Damisch and Farrington Kinne, Northfield; Fred Weiszmann Jr., Northbrook; Anthony Franco Jr., Wheeling.

POP CORN TO HELP

Arlington Heights Ready And Willing For Blizzard

Arlington Heights is ready for any amount of snow should the last months of winter provide it.

Or almost ready.

Two new trucks for snow removal arrived recently and the snow plows for the trucks should arrive any day now, according to Robert C. Buechner, village manager.

The trucks are of 2-ton capacity and were purchased from a local Ford dealer at a cost of $2,915 under sealed bids. Snow plows of the blade type will cost the village $835 each. The village will try to keep all arterial streets free of ice and snow, he said. State highways within the limits are maintained by the state but the village clears ice and snow from state-aid roads within the village and is paid for doing so by the state, he added.

THE TRUSTEES of the village board will soon have new chairs. Buechner announced that the village will purchase the chairs from a local concern "at a substantial discount" and that he hopes to have delivery before the next board meeting in February.

At the last board meeting the trustees authorized an exploratory project at the north well at Vail and Hawthorne to determine if the well can be rehabilitated. The work will be done by L. Cliff Neeley, of Batavia, whose workmen recently completed rehabilitation of the east well. The exploratory work will cost approximately $3,450.

Buechner said that a well can rehabilitate at about one-third of the cost of sinking a new well. He pointed out that village officials hoped to have all the wells in working condition before the arrival of warm weather and the period of peak water usage.

Frosh-Soph Debaters To Attend Competition In Mendota Saturday

Ten frosh-soph debaters will travel to Mendota to take part in a practice tournament Saturday. It will give Coach Clarence Feiereisel a chance to select his best 4 debaters to participate in the Beginners division of the Blue Island tournament.

Two dozen students are working on individual speech events and they will take part in a speech tournament at Hammond high school Saturday. Under the direction of Leotta Hampton and Larry Jenness, students will compete in such events as original oratory, boy's extemporaneous speaking, girls' extemporaneous speaking, oratorical declamation, and serious and humorous speaking.

Students who do well at this practice contest will be invited to take part in a second practice at Thornton Fractional the following Saturday. Entrants for the District Speech contest, to be held February 28, will be chosen from this group.

Chamber Replies To Fake Phone Call Complaints

Dwight H. Wallace, manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce reports that he has received several inquiries concerning solicitation for "blind-made" products by telephone. Wallace said that the persons who had made the inquiries said that the solicitors had claimed that purchases of the products would "aid the blind."

The purchases were to be made by sending money and receiving the goods through the mail. One woman who was called said that the sales person hung up abruptly when she attempted to have the seller establish his identity.

Wallace wrote to one of the organizations for the blind in Chicago which was allegedly "aided" by the purchases. The reply was that the organization sells its products wholesale to a concern which sells them over the phone or from door-to-door at a mark-up of "from 25 to 37 per cent."

The chamber manager urged residents who are approached by solicitors to demand identification and to call the chamber if there is any question of it. He said that all "bona fide" door-to-door salesmen selling in Arlington Heights are fingerprinted and furnished identification by the village. The Chamber of Commerce phone is CL 3-1703.

Sedan Is Prize Of Wayside's Annual Party

A beautiful 1956 Cadillac Sedan de Ville, mountain laurel and Alpine white, will be awarded by Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, at the annual parish party to be held this year at Chevy Chase Country Club, on Sunday, April 29, it was announced this week by the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor.

At the same time Father O'Hara named the committee chairmen responsible for making the 1956 party as successful as past affairs have been. General co-chairmen are Dr. A. J. Prasnikar, 10 S. Salem st., president of the parish Holy Name Society, and Mrs. Russell Gilmore, 1600 W. Fremont st., president of the Catholic Women's Club. In charge of ticket sales are William McNeil, 730 S. Beverly, and Mrs. Michael Slater, 719 Burton. Placement and personnel are being handled by Richard Drolet, 2405 Sigwalt, and Mrs. Theodore Koenig, 343 Bristol.

James Howard, 403 S. Highland, and Mrs. G. L. Smith, 429 S. Vail, are co-chairmen of the dance and card party committee, Mrs. John Harris, 630 S. Dunton, is in charge of door prizes, Edmund Deal, finances, and Norbert Hruby, 618 W. Campbell st., publicity.

The Sedan de Ville, probably the finest luxury automobile made in America today, is on display at the parish.

Local History Theme Of Next DAR Meeting

Eli Skinner chapter of the DAR will meet at 1:30 p.m. February 2 in the home of Mrs. I. S. Parker, 608 Burton pl., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. F. E. Welsh will present the program "Our Town," a fascinating story of the local history of the community, facts told to her by some of the older citizens whose parents settled here close to 100 years ago.

It is a story of faith in God, thrift, courage, and hard work, the qualities that made this country great.

There will also be an exhibit of local antiques.

In TB Hospital

Patients hospitalized at the Suburban Cook county tuberculosis district's hospital-sanitarium in Hinsdale during 1955 included 8 Arlington Heights residents, according to William J. McNeil, 730 S. Beverly st., Arlington Heights, a member of the district's citizens' advisory committee.

Arlington Police Keep Their Fingers Crossed

Arlington Heights police are keeping their fingers crossed. Up to Wednesday noon there had been no injuries due to auto accidents in the month of January.

A 7-year-old Mt. Prospect girl was almost the first casualty of 1956. Kathleen Powers, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Powers, of 404 S. Na-Wa-Ta st., Mt. Prospect, ran into a car driven by Margaret P. Engelking, 732 N. Kennicott, ave., Arlington Heights, on Miner st. Police said that she got out of a car and dashed behind it into the path of the Engelking car. She was taken to a doctor's office and found to have suffered no injuries.

Russell H. Albin, 65, of West Chicago was issued a ticket for failure to yield right of way as a result of an accident Wednesday afternoon. Police said that he pulled out of a driveway at 320 W. Northwest hwy. onto U. S. 14. In order to avoid him a car driven by Herman Petersen, 45, of Quintens rd., Palatine, stopped suddenly. The Petersen auto was hit from the rear by a car driven by Ronald A. Neff, 17, of 735 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON a car driven by David E. Schoberg, 25, of Chicago, hit another car in the right rear fender at the intersection of Fremont and N. Evergreen sts. and tipped it over. The second car was driven by Joseph Domico, 37, also of Chicago.

Dudley S. Schultz, 25, of 49 E. Slade st., Palatine, was the driver of the car that went out of control in the Dunton court shopping center and crashed into the Stagecoach Inn. He said he was about to leave the lot at 11:30 p. m. Sunday night when the accident occurred. Three plate glass windows were smashed.

Walter Krambeer, 49, of 840 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, started to pull away from a curb on Davis st. January 21 and police said that he ran into a car driven by A. L. Abrahamson, 49, of 604 E. Rockwell st., Arlington Heights.

Theft of 4 hub caps from his parked car was reported to police by Sam Kadlecik, 128 Reuter st., Arlington Heights. Guy R. Henken, 9, of 106 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, was bitten by a dog on the leg Friday and given medical treatment.

The fire department extinguished a burning mattress at the roller rink Monday night and the inhalator squad was called to the home of Richard Schmidt on Hintz rd. early Saturday morning to take Schmidt's son to Resurrection hospital where his illness was diagnosed as pneumonia.

Firemen were called to the Myron Blum home at 615 S. Evergreen early Sunday morning. A waste basket in the kitchen had caught fire and the house became filled with smoke before the fire was put out.

Change Date Of Annual Turnabout Dinner At Presbyterian Church

Date for the annual turnabout dinner prepared by men of First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights has been changed from February 4, to Saturday, Feb. 18, because of unavoidable schedule complications, according to James Webster, president of the men's group.

Mr. Webster is also in charge of the annual dinner which is planned, cooked and served each year by men of the church to crowds of 350 or more persons.

Directing the seating and service of guests, as in previous years, will be Charles Tully, head waiter, and Henry Halvorsen, his assistant. A staff of 24 waiters who will work under the direction of Mr. Tully, will be appointed from the men's club membership by the group's four division leaders: Ray Feind, Forrest Terry, Howard Froyd and C. W. Carlson. These men will also be in charge of the distribution of tickets and any persons not members of the church who wish to atend the dinner are invited to call any of them; or they may call at the office of the church where tickets will also be sold.

Jim Conway Radio Show At Food Store

Jim Conway, celebrated sausage salesman from Oscar Mayer and Co., will conduct his popular "Shopping with the Missus" radio show from Elms Grocerland, 510 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, Tuesday at 11 a.m.

A number of local homemakers will be interviewed on the program heard 3 times a week on station WBBM. Each homemaker interviewed will receive a gift package of Oscar Mayer "Yellow Brand" meat products, and a beautiful electric appliance will be awarded the winner of a special jackpot question. Consolation prizes will be presented runners-up.

Grocerland is located in the new Elms Shopping center.

Debators Win 7 Of 8 Debates At Whiting

Arlington high school debaters won 7 out of 8 debates in a metropolitan debate union tournament held at George Rogers Clark High School in Whiting, Indiana, Saturday.

The affirmative team of Mary Jansen, Mimi McDonald, and John Petersen defeated Horace Mann of Gary, Morton of Hammond, Roosevelt of East Chicago, and Thornton Fractional.

THE NEGATIVE team, consisted of Jan Davenport, Eldon Krieder, and Pete Swanson defeated Morton, Washington of East Chicago, and LaPorte before losing to Hammond.

With 6 out of the 15 rounds of debate completed, Arlington is tied for sixth among the 16 teams in the MDU.

The Cardinal debaters have a busy schedule before them in the next eight weeks. MDV tournaments continue with two rounds scheduled at Downers Grove Wednesday, January 25, and three rounds to be held at LaGrange Wednesday, February 1.

THE ARLINGTON squad will make its first appearance in the Augustana Invitational tournament Friday and Saturday, February 3 and 4, returning to participate in the Blue Island Lincoln Day tournament February 11. MDU debating will come to a close with four rounds at Downers Grove February 18.

Polio Vaccine Is Available Only In Limited Quantities

Anti-polio vaccine will not be available in unlimited quantities for suburban children until next fall, 2 area physicians informed Paddock Publications this week.

At present, doctors in Arlington Heights and Palatine can administer about 25 polio shots a week. They can give shots, however, only to children between age 5 and 14.

As one doctor expressed it, "There's a mint of paper work involved." A parent cannot take his child into his doctor's office and get the shot. There are numerous orms and applications which must be filled out beforehand.

Parents were cautioned not to be alarmed, however, if their child doesn't get a polio shot immediately. All children will eventually be immunized.

Vote Saturday On $1,050,000 Elementary Bond Proposal

Double sessions can be avoided—if construction on a new junior high school starts this spring.

So declared V. L. Bedingfield, president of the board of education of Arlington Heights elementary schools, who referred to the $1,050,000 bond election Saturday.

Local school administrators are of the opinion that the junior high school age is the least desirable of all age groups for double sessions.

"Students of this age are too large to profit from parental direction at home during a large part of every day and not mature enough to spend this time successfully on school assignments," explained R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent.

School authorities stated this week that the present junior high can acommodate students on regular sessions during the 1956-57 school year by increasing class size beyond desirable levels.

HOWEVER, even present enrollments of children who will be in junior high school in 1957-58 would make regular sessions impossible without additional facilities then.

Lower grade enrollments are also critical in the school system.

Plans are now being made for triple sessions in kindergarten and double sessions in first grade or first and second grades next year.

Construction of additional classrooms provided for by the proposed bond means the difference, states the board of education, between having most, or all, classes on regular sessions and having most, or all, of them on regular sessions 2 years from now.

THE BUILDING program provides for construction of a new junior high school at Miner and Dryden, construction of a new elementary school at Grove and Dwyer, and construction of additions to the present junior high school, including central offices, a library, boiler room expansion and kitchen expansion.

Voting will be Saturday from noon to 7 p.m.

The four K-5 schools will serve as polling places and the areas from which children come. With some exceptions, these areas are divided by the North Western railway and State rd. (or Dunton ave.) However, those voters who are not sure where they may vote should call the superintendent of schools, CLearbrook 3-6100, or ask a neighbor with a child in kindergarten or grade 1 to 5.

Seek Rezoning Of 74 Acres For Industry

A zoning change to (I-2) heavy industry will be sought for 74 acres of farmland located on the north and south sides of Higgins rd. to the west of Mt. Prospect rd. in Elk Grove township.

The Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold the zoning hearing at 7 p.m. February 3 in the Mt. Prospect village hall. The property is presently zoned for farming. Robert E. Haskins will appear as counsel for the petitioners.

TWO ZONING hearings will be held in the Arlington Heights village hall beginning at 8 p.m. February 3. The first involves a 15,000 square foot lot located on the northwest corner of Elmhurst rd. and Vera ln. is ½ mile north of Hintz rd. in Wheeling township. The owner, Walter Malecke Jr., of 939 N. Pulaski rd., Chicago, said that he would erect a grocery store on the corner. He is seeking a zoning change from farming to (B-1) business.

The second zoning change up for consideration will be a petition to rezone a ½-acre lot on the southwest corner of Hintz rd. and Elmhurst rd. from farming to (B-1) business. The change is being sought by A. C. Raupp, Elmhurst rd., Wheeling.

The hearings are open to the public.

Checks Or Postal Money Orders Only Accepted For Drivers' Licenses

The office of the secretary of state in the Arlington Heights village hall makes easy the procurement of drivers' licenses. The office is not allowed to handle money, but can accept only personal checks or postal money orders.

Persons who apply there should bring with them their personal check or a postal money order for $1 made payable to the secretary of state.

It may seem a little odd that Uncle Sam's good money is not acceptable in a semi-government office, but those are the rules and nothing can be done about it.

The Arlington Heights office issues about 30 driver's licenses a day. Its services are being appreciated by autoists throughout northwest Cook county. (B 7

Annual Meeting Of Hospital Center Is Monday In Arlington

Annual meeting of the voters of the Northwest Community Hospital center corporation will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights VFW hall.

Eligible to attend and vote are all persons who have made cash donations or pledges to the proposed hospital center. Any person can give their proxy to a voting member in lieu of attendance.

The voters will hear reports from committee chairman and fill existing vacancies and expired terms on the board of trustees, who will meet following the voters' session. The voters will also consider changes in the by-laws of the corporation.

Ask Arlington Hi Parents To Meeting

Parents of Arlington high school students are invited to the parent-teacher conference tonight in the high school gymnasium.

There will be a progress report on new construction of the addition to the high school and discussion of many aspects of the curiculum program and extra-curricular program of activities. The meeting will be held in the large gymnasium.

Dollar Day Bargains Set For Monday

Monday will be Dollar Day in the Arlington Heights stores, Dwight H. Wallace, recenty-appointed manager of the village Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that 21 local merchants will offer special values on the Dollar Day sponsored by the Chamber.

Stores will open their doors to hundreds of value-seeking shoppers at 9 a.m. Monday and many will be open until 9 p.m. If traffic congestion develops, the Arlington Heights police department will be on hand to unsnarl it.

Although the Chamber has sponsored such events in the past, this will be the first this year. Wallace said that the merchants are considering an expanded, year-round program of special shopping events for the residents of the northwest area who patronize local merchants.

Samples of the values being offerred and a list of the participating stores may be found elsewhere in this section.

Van Driel Supports Canty For GOP Bid

Herbert Van Driel, Mt. Prospect druggist, has been selected chairman of business men's finance committee for Sherman H. Canty, candidate for state representative for the 6th district.

Anyone wishing to assist in the campaign in any way, stated Van Driel, can call the Canty Campaign Committee at headquarters, CL 5-3924, or CL 3-5160, or can write to post office box 22, Mt. Prospect.

Canty, Republican committeeman of Elk Grove, is being supported by 6 township committeemen in the newly formed 6th representative district. Wallace Henderson, Republican committeeman of Barrington township, is acting as campaign manager, assisted by Henry Heine, Hanover; Louis Redeker, Schaumburg; George Howes, Palatine and Henry Busse, Wheeling.

Keep Porchlights Burning Tuesday!

Nearly 400 Arlington Heights mothers will march on polio Tuesday night.

They will be part of some 52,000 Cook county mothers, marching for 8,000 polio patients across America. Chairman of the march is Mrs. Jerome B. Hoopes, 406 N. Carlyle pl.

Families who wish to contribute to the March of Dimes are asked to greet the mothers with a lighted porchlight, a burning candle or a handkerchief tied to a door knob.

The mothers will begin their rounds at 7 p.m. and residents will be urged by a sound truck cruising village streets to turn on their lights. The truck will be provided by the Arlington Radio and Record shop. The fire siren will also sound at 7 p.m.

IN 1955 residents of Arlington Heights mailed in $709 during the campaign. Mrs. Muriel Rosene said that she hoped that contributions to the Mother's march on polio would not fall off because of the increased mail donations. Mrs. Mees noted that many persons had returned checks for more than the $2.

Friday the coin cards placed at retail locations in the village will be collected and the coins tabulated. Gifts socilited from businesses by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce are expected to be turned in to the treasurer this week.

Money colected in the mother's march will be counted Tuesday night in the village hall and deposited that night. A special detail of police will be on hand and several village employees have offered to help in the tabulations.

Many Candidates For Legislature

Republican voters of Senatorial District 3 and Representative District 6 will have a wide choice of candidates at the April primary. Last minute filing has increased senatorial candidates in Barrington, Hanover, Palatine and Schaumburg to 6.

Announced candidates are: Charles L. Walters and Jackson Boughner, Palatine; John A. Doyle, Rolling Meadows; Francis Kennedy and Robert Sabel, Barrington; Austin A. Mitchell, Elgin. Democratic candidate is Oliver Dilks from Palatine.

There are many candidates for both the Republican and Democratic nomination in the 6th Representative district.

In the Democratic camp there are 5 candidates for the one position. They are Larry F. Ham and Roger Tansley, Des Plaines; Corvin R. Wagner, Maine township; James Stavros, Arlington Heights: Frank E. O'Reilly, Park Ridge.

Republicans will nominate two. There are 13 candidates. Appearing first on the ballot will be 2 township committeemen who are candidates. They are Sherman Canty, Elk Grove, and Arthur L. Simmons, Niles. William J. Carroll, of Park Ridge, will have the third position. Other candidates are: Anthony J. Muffolette, Park Ridge; James J. Cullen Jr., and Harry L. Kinser, Des Plaines; Jack L. Wilcox and George Krueger, Palatine; Dominic Colucci, John W. Damisch and Farrington Kinne, Northfield; Fred Weiszmann Jr., Northbrook; Anthony Franco Jr., Wheeling.

POP CORN TO HELP

Arlington Heights Ready And Willing For Blizzard

Arlington Heights is ready for any amount of snow should the last months of winter provide it.

Or almost ready.

Two new trucks for snow removal arrived recently and the snow plows for the trucks should arrive any day now, according to Robert C. Buechner, village manager.

The trucks are of 2-ton capacity and were purchased from a local Ford dealer at a cost of $2,915 under sealed bids. Snow plows of the blade type will cost the village $835 each. The village will try to keep all arterial streets free of ice and snow, he said. State highways within the limits are maintained by the state but the village clears ice and snow from state-aid roads within the village and is paid for doing so by the state, he added.

THE TRUSTEES of the village board will soon have new chairs. Buechner announced that the village will purchase the chairs from a local concern "at a substantial discount" and that he hopes to have delivery before the next board meeting in February.

At the last board meeting the trustees authorized an exploratory project at the north well at Vail and Hawthorne to determine if the well can be rehabilitated. The work will be done by L. Cliff Neeley, of Batavia, whose workmen recently completed rehabilitation of the east well. The exploratory work will cost approximately $3,450.

Buechner said that a well can rehabilitate at about one-third of the cost of sinking a new well. He pointed out that village officials hoped to have all the wells in working condition before the arrival of warm weather and the period of peak water usage.

Frosh-Soph Debaters To Attend Competition In Mendota Saturday

Ten frosh-soph debaters will travel to Mendota to take part in a practice tournament Saturday. It will give Coach Clarence Feiereisel a chance to select his best 4 debaters to participate in the Beginners division of the Blue Island tournament.

Two dozen students are working on individual speech events and they will take part in a speech tournament at Hammond high school Saturday. Under the direction of Leotta Hampton and Larry Jenness, students will compete in such events as original oratory, boy's extemporaneous speaking, girls' extemporaneous speaking, oratorical declamation, and serious and humorous speaking.

Students who do well at this practice contest will be invited to take part in a second practice at Thornton Fractional the following Saturday. Entrants for the District Speech contest, to be held February 28, will be chosen from this group.

Chamber Replies To Fake Phone Call Complaints

Dwight H. Wallace, manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce reports that he has received several inquiries concerning solicitation for "blind-made" products by telephone. Wallace said that the persons who had made the inquiries said that the solicitors had claimed that purchases of the products would "aid the blind."

The purchases were to be made by sending money and receiving the goods through the mail. One woman who was called said that the sales person hung up abruptly when she attempted to have the seller establish his identity.

Wallace wrote to one of the organizations for the blind in Chicago which was allegedly "aided" by the purchases. The reply was that the organization sells its products wholesale to a concern which sells them over the phone or from door-to-door at a mark-up of "from 25 to 37 per cent."

The chamber manager urged residents who are approached by solicitors to demand identification and to call the chamber if there is any question of it. He said that all "bona fide" door-to-door salesmen selling in Arlington Heights are fingerprinted and furnished identification by the village. The Chamber of Commerce phone is CL 3-1703.

Sedan Is Prize Of Wayside's Annual Party

A beautiful 1956 Cadillac Sedan de Ville, mountain laurel and Alpine white, will be awarded by Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, at the annual parish party to be held this year at Chevy Chase Country Club, on Sunday, April 29, it was announced this week by the Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor.

At the same time Father O'Hara named the committee chairmen responsible for making the 1956 party as successful as past affairs have been. General co-chairmen are Dr. A. J. Prasnikar, 10 S. Salem st., president of the parish Holy Name Society, and Mrs. Russell Gilmore, 1600 W. Fremont st., president of the Catholic Women's Club. In charge of ticket sales are William McNeil, 730 S. Beverly, and Mrs. Michael Slater, 719 Burton. Placement and personnel are being handled by Richard Drolet, 2405 Sigwalt, and Mrs. Theodore Koenig, 343 Bristol.

James Howard, 403 S. Highland, and Mrs. G. L. Smith, 429 S. Vail, are co-chairmen of the dance and card party committee, Mrs. John Harris, 630 S. Dunton, is in charge of door prizes, Edmund Deal, finances, and Norbert Hruby, 618 W. Campbell st., publicity.

The Sedan de Ville, probably the finest luxury automobile made in America today, is on display at the parish.

Local History Theme Of Next DAR Meeting

Eli Skinner chapter of the DAR will meet at 1:30 p.m. February 2 in the home of Mrs. I. S. Parker, 608 Burton pl., Arlington Heights.

Mrs. F. E. Welsh will present the program "Our Town," a fascinating story of the local history of the community, facts told to her by some of the older citizens whose parents settled here close to 100 years ago.

It is a story of faith in God, thrift, courage, and hard work, the qualities that made this country great.

There will also be an exhibit of local antiques.

In TB Hospital

New Junior High School Or Double Sessions!

Vote Saturday On $1,050,000 Elementary Bond Proposal

Double sessions can be avoided—if construction on a new junior high school starts this spring.

So declared V. L. Bedingfield, president of the board of education of Arlington Heights elementary schools, who referred to the $1,050,000 bond election Saturday.

Local school administrators are of the opinion that the junior high school age is the least desirable of all age groups for double sessions.

"Students of this age are too large to profit from parental direction at home during a large part of every day and not mature enough to spend this time successfullly on school assignments," explained R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent.

School authorities stated this week that the present junior high can acommodate students on regular sessions during the 1956-57 school year by increasing class size beyond desirable levels.

HOWEVER, even present enrollments of children who will be in junior high school in 1957-58 would make regular sessions impossible without additional facilities then.

Lower grade enrollments are also critical in the school system.

Plans are now being made for triple sessions in kindergarten and double sessions in first grade or first and second grades next year.

Construction of additional classrooms provided for by the proposed bond means the difference, states the board of education, between having most, or all, classes on regular sessions and having most, or all, of them on regular sessions 2 years from now.

THE BUILDING program provides for construction of a new junior high school at Miner and Dryden, construction of a new elementary school at Grove and Dwyer, and construction of additions to the present junior high school, including central offices, a library, boiler room expansion and kitchen expansion.

Voting will be Saturday from noon to 7 p.m.

The four K-5 schools will serve as polling places and the areas from which children come. With some exceptions, these areas are divided by the North Western railway and State rd. (or Dunton ave.) However, those voters who are not sure where they may vote should call the superintendent of schools, CLearbrook 3-6100, or ask a neighbor with a child in kindergarten or grade 1 to 5.

Arlington Police Keep Their Fingers Crossed

Arlington Heights police are keeping their fingers crossed. Up to Wednesday noon there had been no injuries due to auto accidents in the month of January.

A 7-year-old Mt. Prospect girl was almost the first casualty of 1956. Kathleen Powers, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Powers, of 404 S. Na-Wa-Ta st., Mt. Prospect, ran into a car driven by Margaret P. Engelking, 732 N. Kennicott, ave., Arlington Heights, on Miner st. Police said that she got out of a car and dashed behind it into the path of the Engelking car. She was taken to a doctor's office and found to have suffered no injuries.

Russell H. Albin, 65, of West Chicago was issued a ticket for failure to yield right of way as a result of an accident Wednesday afternoon. Police said that he pulled out of a driveway at 320 W. Northwest hwy. onto U. S. 14. In order to avoid him a car driven by Herman Petersen, 45, of Quintens rd., Palatine, stopped suddenly. The Petersen auto was hit from the rear by a car driven by Ronald A. Neff, 17, of 735 N. Pine ave., Arlington Heights.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON a car driven by David E. Schoberg, 25, of Chicago, hit another car in the right rear fender at the intersection of Fremont and N. Evergreen sts. and tipped it over. The second car was driven by Joseph Domico, 37, also of Chicago.

Dudley S. Schultz, 25, of 49 E. Slade st., Palatine, was the driver of the car that went out of control in the Dunton court shopping center and crashed into the Stagecoach Inn. He said he was about to leave the lot at 11:30 p. m. Sunday night when the accident occurred. Three plate glass windows were smashed.

Walter Krambeer, 49, of 840 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, started to pull away from a curb on Davis st. January 21 and police said that he ran into a car driven by A. L. Abrahamson, 49, of 604 E. Rockwell st., Arlington Heights.

Theft of 4 hub caps from his parked car was reported to police by Sam Kadlecik, 128 Reuter st., Arlington Heights. Guy R. Henken, 9, of 106 S. Dunton st., Arlington Heights, was bitten by a dog on the leg Friday and given medical treatment.

The fire department extinguished a burning mattress at the roller rink Monday night and the inhalator squad was called to the home of Richard Schmidt on Hintz rd. early Saturday morning to take Schmidt's son to Resurrection hospital where his illness was diagnosed as pneumonia.

Firemen were called to the Myron Blum home at 615 S. Evergreen early Sunday morning. A waste basket in the kitchen had caught fire and the house became filled with smoke before the fire was put out.

Change Date Of Annual Turnabout Dinner At Presbyterian Church

Date for the annual turnabout dinner prepared by men of First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights has been changed from February 4, to Saturday, Feb. 18, because of unavoidable schedule complications, according to James Webster, president of the men's group.

Mr. Webster is also in charge of the annual dinner which is planned, cooked and served each year by men of the church to crowds of 350 or more persons.

Directing the seating and service of guests, as in previous years, will be Charles Tully, head waiter, and Henry Halvorsen, his assistant. A staff of 24 waiters who will work under the direction of Mr. Tully, will be appointed from the men's club membership by the group's four division leaders: Ray Feind, Forrest Terry, Howard Froyd and C. W. Carlson. These men will also be in charge of the distribution of tickets and any persons not members of the church who wish to atend the dinner are invited to call any of them; or they may call at the office of the church where tickets will also be sold.

Jim Conway Radio Show At Food Store

Jim Conway, celebrated sausage salesman from Oscar Mayer and Co., will conduct his popular "Shopping with the Missus" radio show from Elms Grocerland, 510 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, Tuesday at 11 a.m.

A number of local homemakers will be interviewed on the program heard 3 times a week on station WBBM. Each homemaker interviewed will receive a gift package of Oscar Mayer "Yellow Brand" meat products, and a beautiful electric appliance will be awarded the winner of a special jackpot question. Consolation prizes will be presented runners-up.

Grocerland is located in the new Elms Shopping center.

Debators Win 7 Of 8 Debates At Whiting

Arlington high school debaters won 7 out of 8 debates in a metropolitan debate union tournament held at George Rogers Clark High School in Whiting, Indiana, Saturday.

The affirmative team of Mary Jansen, Mimi McDonald, and John Petersen defeated Horace Mann of Gary, Morton of Hammond, Roosevelt of East Chicago, and Thornton Fractional.

THE NEGATIVE team, consisted of Jan Davenport, Eldon Krieder, and Pete Swanson defeated Morton, Washington of East Chicago, and LaPorte before losing to Hammond.

With 6 out of the 15 rounds of debate completed, Arlington is tied for sixth among the 16 teams in the MDU.

The Cardinal debaters have a busy schedule before them in the next eight weeks. MDV tournaments continue with two rounds scheduled at Downers Grove Wednesday, January 25, and three rounds to be held at LaGrange Wednesday, February 1.

THE ARLINGTON squad will make its first appearance in the Augustana Invitational tournament Friday and Saturday, February 3 and 4, returning to participate in the Blue Island Lincoln Day tournament February 11. MDU debating will come to a close with four rounds at Downers Grove February 18.

Polio Vaccine Is Available Only In Limited Quantities

Anti-polio vaccine will not be available in unlimited quantities for suburban children until next fall, 2 area physicians informed Paddock Publications this week.

At present, doctors in Arlington Heights and Palatine can administer about 25 polio shots a week. They can give shots, however, only to children between age 5 and 14.

As one doctor expressed it, "There's a mint of paper work involved." A parent cannot take his child into his doctor's office and get the shot. There are numerous forms and applications which must be filled out beforehand.

Parents were cautioned not to be alarmed, however, if their child doesn't get a polio shot immediately. All children will eventually be immunized.

Seek Rezoning Of 74 Acres For Industry

A zoning change to (I-2) heavy industry will be sought for 74 acres of farmland located on the north and south sides of Higgins rd. to the west of Mt. Prospect rd. in Elk Grove township.

The Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold the zoning hearing at 7 p.m. February 3 in the Mt. Prospect village hall. The property is presently zoned for farming. Robert E. Haskins will appear as counsel for the petitioners.

TWO ZONING hearings will be held in the Arlington Heights village hall beginning at 8 p.m. February 3. The first involves a 15,000 square foot lot located on the northwest corner of Elmhurst rd. and Vera ln. is ½ mile north of Hintz rd. in Wheeling township. The owner, Walter Malecke Jr., of 939 N. Pulaski rd., Chicago, said that he would erect a grocery store on the corner. He is seeking a zoning change from farming to (B-1) business.

The second zoning change up for consideration will be a petition to rezone a ½-acre lot on the southwest corner of Hintz rd. and Elmhurst rd. from farming to (B-1) business. The change is being sought by A. C. Raupp, Elmhurst rd., Wheeling.

The hearings are open to the public.

Checks Or Postal Money Orders Only Accepted For Drivers' Licenses

The office of the secretary of state in the Arlington Heights village hall makes easy the procurement of drivers' licenses. The office is not allowed to handle money, but can accept only personal checks or postal money orders.

Persons who apply there should bring with them their personal check or a postal money order for $1 made payable to the secretary of state.

It may seem a little odd that Uncle Sam's good money is not acceptable in a semi-government office, but those are the rules and nothing can be done about it.

The Arlington Heights office issues about 30 driver's licenses a day. Its services are being appreciated by autoists throughout northwest Cook county. (B 7

Annual Meeting Of Hospital Center Is Monday In Arlington

Annual meeting of the voters of the Northwest Community Hospital center corporation will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Arlington Heights VFW hall.

Eligible to attend and vote are all persons who have made cash donations or pledges to the proposed hospital center. Any person can give their proxy to a voting member in lieu of attendance.

The voters will hear reports from committee chairman and fill existing vacancies and expired terms on the board of trustees, who will meet following the voters' session. The voters will also consider changes in the by-laws of the corporation.

Ask Arlington Hi Parents To Meeting

Parents of Arlington high school students are invited to the parent-teacher conference tonight in the high school gymnasium.

There will be a progress report on new construction of the addition to the high school and discussion of many aspects of the curiculum program and extra-curricular program of activities. The meeting will be held in the large gymnasium.

Dollar Day Bargains Set For Monday

Monday will be Dollar Day in the Arlington Heights stores. Dwight H. Wallace, recenty-appointed manager of the village Chamber of Commerce, announced this week that 21 local merchants will offer special values on the Dollar Day sponsored by the Chamber.

Stores will open their doors to hundreds of value-seeking shoppers at 9 a.m. Monday and many will be open until 9 p.m. If traffic congestion develops, the Arlington Heights police department will be on hand to unsnarl it.

Although the Chamber has sponsored such events in the past, this will be the first this year. Wallace said that the merchants are considering an expanded, year-round program of special shopping events for the residents of the northwest area who patronize local merchants.

Samples of the values being offerred and a list of the participating stores may be found elsewhere in this section.

Van Driel Supports Canty For GOP Bid

Herbert Van Driel, Mt. Prospect druggist, has been selected chairman of business men's finance committee for Sherman H. Canty, candidate for state representative for the 6th district.

Anyone wishing to assist in the campaign in any way, stated Van Driel, can call the Canty Campaign Committee at headquarters, CL 5-3924, or CL 3-5160, or can write to post office box 22, Mt. Prospect.

Canty, Republican committeeman of Elk Grove, is being supported by 6 township committeemen in the newly formed 6th representative district. Wallace Henderson, Republican committeeman of Barrington township, is acting as campaign manager, assisted by Henry Heine, Hanover; Louis Redeker, Schaumburg; George Howes, Palatine and Henry Busse, Wheeling.

Monday half of his class visited him at his home and on Tuesday the remaining half came for a visit with Mr. Candelaria.

Recovering

The many friends of Erle M. Ellis, 612 S. Burton, who has been a patient at Resurrection hospital since Jan. 13, will be happy to hear that his condition is improving nicely. Mr. Ellis is recovering from an emergency appendectomy.

Mrs. Samuel Wells, 348 S. Bristol, returned to Arlington Heights last Friday after a month's visit at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Reynolds of Houston.

Bruce Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd Jr., 640 S. Bristol, is celebrating his sixth birthday tomorrow afternoon at a party from 3:30 until 5:30. He plans to entertain his friends with games, favors, birthday cake and ice cream. Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and children motored to Kenosha, Wis. a week ago Sunday to visit their daughter, Roberta, who attends Kemper hall.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Overton have returned home after spending some time in Bartleville, Okla. and Denver with their son and daughter-in-law, the Dave Overtons.

Illinois Bell Spends 2 Million In Heights

Illinois Bell Telephone Company spent a record $1,046,835 in Arlington Heights during 1955, an increase of more than $150,000 over the 1954 expenditures here.

In a year-end review, Manager Robert Kozeliski said the money was primarily spent for wages, taxes and other expenses necessary to provide service to local subscribers, and was in addition to money spent for construction, equipment additions and other physical improvements.

"Although we're taking a backward glance now at a busy year, we're spending even more time looking ahead, planning to give the best service possible to this rapidly growing area," Kozeliski said.

In 1955, purchases from local suppliers accounted for $44,314 of the total expenditure, the manager reported, and $57,063 was paid out in property taxes.

Another $71,589 was paid in rents, pay station commissions and other obligations, including dividends to local shareholders of Bell Telephone stock.

Wage payments alone amounted to $873,414 in 1955, he said, which was the largest single item.

The number of telephones served in the Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Rolling Meadows area zoomed from 12,500 a year ago, to more than 15,800 at year's end.

LOCAL CITIZENS did an amazing amount of talking on these phones, too, Kozeliski noted. There were 19,561,740 local calls originated and 2,749,051 long distance calls made here during the year. That's an average of about 68,000 local calls a day and about 9,500 long distance calls.

"And that doesn't count the incoming calls from other towns near and far," he pointed out

In reviewing other company activities during the past year, Kozeliski also observed these highlights—

- purchase of land for an accounting center;
- start of an addition which will double the size of the exchange building;
- addition of more than 39,000 miles of wire in cable to provide more and better service to the area.
- announcement of the end of "days of waiting" for telephone service.

"Last year was a busy one," Kozeliski said, "but it looks like this year may be even busier."

To back up his predictions, he pointed to major additions of central office equipment which will allow future expansion of the area's telephone system by more than 7,000 telephones.

He said ten more long distance and information switchboards will be added soon, with another 16 scheduled for shipment late in the year.

Emergency power equipment and inter-city circuits will also be enlarged this year, Kozeliski reported.

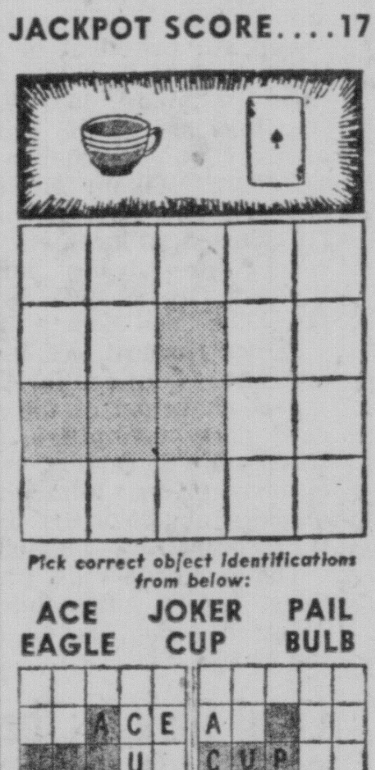
JACKPOT SCORE....17



Pick correct object identifications from below:
ACE JOKER PAIL
EAGLE CUP BULB
EXAMPLE 1 Missed by 8 points
EXAMPLE 2 Hit Jackpot Score!

FIRST WE select the name of each object pictured from the list below the puzzle—in this case CUP and ACE.

Then place the letters of each word in the diagram of squares crossing or joining them at right angles on a common letter, as in a crossword puzzle. Each word must read from top to bottom or from left to right . . . one letter to each blank square, in proper sequence and without skipping any squares. In this Sample Puzzle, the common letter is "C" and the Jackpot Score is 17. Our aim is to hit the Jackpot Score or get as close as we can.

Each letter is worth one (1) point when placed in a WHITE square, and five (5) points in a GRAY square.

In Example 1 to the left, one letter fell into a GRAY square and four letters in WHITE squares, giving us 9 points. Thus we missed by 8 points. In Example 2, we hit 17, the "Jackpot Score"! Here two letters fell in the WHITE squares, giving us three 5-point letters and two 1-point letters. Catch on?

YMCA Marks 98th Year Of Service

The Young Mens Christian association will observe YMCA week in 78 different countries with various special events during the present week.

As part of the celebration, the Northwest Suburban YMCA will participate with 32 other associations in the Chicago area in the 98th Annual Meeting which will be held in the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton hotel on Thursday, January 26. More than 1,200 people will attend this gala event.

Activities of the YMCA movement are almost as diverse as its 4,242,819 world members. It employs 5,704 full-time professional secretaries (the term for YMCA local administrative officers), operates 8,360 headquarters buildings, 247 armed services centers, 186 industrial workers' centers, 89 refugee camp associations, 252 holiday hostels, 72 summer camps, and scores of schools and colleges.

In almost every corner of the world people are familiar with its escutcheon, a red triangle whose sides symbolize the association's 3 concerns: spirit, mind and body.

THE YMCA was founded in London on June 6, 1844 by a committee led by 2 young dry goods clerks, George Williams and Edward Beaumont. From the first it was a religious movement of laymen, in spirit ecumenical, evangelical and often puritanical. Aimed at young workers who had become indifferent to religion in the turmoil of the Industrial Revolution, the YMCA had no formal religious creed, urged its members only "to exert a Christian influence in the sphere of their daily calling."

Within a decade the idea had spread through England to the Continent, and to Canada and the U.S. Over the century the YMCA multiplied more than a hundredfold.

It lost much of its early puritanism, expanded its services in every direction. A herald of the physical gospel, it celebrated its liturgy in the gymnasium, introduced sports into dozens of lands (basketball and volleyball are YMCA inventions). Working with youngsters, teen-agers and adults, it taught everything from swimming and driving to painting and how to prepare for marriage.

Because the YMCA never attempts to proselytize for a particular sect, it has attracted not only all denominations of Christians but non-Christians as well.

Almost 90% of India's 30,000 members are Hindus. In Japan and Ceylon many members are Buddhists.

Even Moslems have joined the Y. Some 25% of the YMCA's 2,230,000 U.S. members and about 95% of Philippine and South American members are Catholic. The balance of the U.S. membership is composed of people of all religious faiths.

THE YMCA's flexibility and good will have made it welcome in almost all communities. Locally, the YMCA has developed a program for youth and adults during the past 2 years.

Operating from rented office quarters and using existing facilities in the community, its program and membership have expanded rapidly. Records indicate that there were more than 90,000 attendances recorded at the various activities during the past year.

A new session of program activities has just been inaugurated as part of the YMCA Week observance.

Activities include swimming, gynasium classes, riding, bowling, puppet classes, archery, basketball leagues, leaders' training groups, crafts, dancing, bridge, calisthenics and volleyball, trips to various places of interest, and club groups for all ages and interests. Outstanding in the club groups are the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs, composed of high school boys and girls whose club objectives include service and education as well as social activities. Another major program emphasis in the local YMCA is its camp program for boys and girls.

Boasting one of the finest resident camps in the country, the Northwest Suburban YMCA will accommodate several hundred youngsters at its Rodney Kroehler YMCA near Hayward, Wis., this summer. In addition, a well organized day-camp program and caravan camp will also be available for hundreds of other youngsters.

THE YMCA is a lay organization operated by committees and boards with the aid of a few professionally trained staff people. The local chairman is Thomas M. Blake, president of Littlefuse, Inc.; vice-chairmen are Earl K. Riley, Arlington Heights, and Howard Wilson, Mt. Prospect, and the secretary is Percy Baines of Des Plaines. The board of directors, consisting of business and civic leaders in our community, is in the process of obtaining a site for a building to house the growing program. Announcement concerning this phase of the YMCA will be made in the near future. (B

Urge Aliens To File Addresses

District Director Robert H. Robinson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service said Wednesday aliens in Illinois have only this week in which to comply with the Federal law requiring that they report their address to the Government during January of each year.

The immigration official urged all aliens who have not yet complied to go as soon as possible to the nearest Post Office or Immigration Service office to file the report.

Parents or guardians may file the report for aliens under 14 years of age, or those incompetent or under custodial care. (B7

NO CHANCE OF TRUMPING your partner's ace with all this help! Practicing for the big event, St. John Episcopal church card party to be held February 2 at 8 p. m. at the Arlington Heights high school cafeteria, are Mesdames Fredric Suhr, chairman, and her co-chairmen, Mrs. E. B. Smeed, refreshments; Mrs. A. W. Lindahl, decorating; Mrs. Harold Houskeeper, publicity and Mrs. Herbert Peters, tables. The annual card party, sponsored by the Womans auxiliary of St. John's, is headed this year by Mrs. Suhr and Mrs. Allen Jones. Mrs. G. J. Edgcumbe and Mrs. K. W. Olsen have announced ticket sales are now under way and may be purchased from any guild member or at the doors the evening of the party. Refreshments, consisting of homemade cake and coffee, will be served under the direction of Mrs. E. B. Smeed and Mrs. V. K. Brown. Soft drinks will be served by the youth group. Proceeds from the benefit will aid the new parish hall. —Staff Photo

Rolling Meadows Attorney Makes Bid For GOP

John A. Doyle, attorney, of Rolling Meadows has announced he will seek the primary nomination as Republican candidate for state senator from the new 3rd district comprised of Palatine, Barrington, Hanover and Schaumburg townships.

In announcing his candidacy, Doyle stated he had decided to seek election in an effort to help solve the many new problems created by the rapid growth of the northwest suburban area. He feels the most serious of these problems are adequate schools and finding money to support them without increasing the already-heavy real estate taxes.

WHILE the schools must be assisted in every way not only to give all children the best education possible but to protect them from delinquency as well, financial sources other than real estate taxes must be found.

Real estate taxes on individual home owners and farmers can no longe be considered the main source of school revenue because any further increase will place too great a burden on the individual home owner and tax the farmer out of business.

Doyle is city attorney for Rolling Meadows and is presently associated with the law firm of Finn and Fitzpatrick. He is an overseas veteran of World War II. He is an active member of the local Jaycees and Home Owners association.

With his wife Lucille and 2 daughters, Doyle resides at 2802 Starling lane, Rolling Meadows. Mrs. Doyle is acitve in community affairs, serving as treasurer of the local Junior Woman's club and as 1955 community chairman of the March of Dimes campaign.

Doyle would welcome the opportunity to meet with any individuals, group or organization in the district to answer questions or further explain his views. Doyle may be contacted at CLearbrook 3-4335.

Golfers can tee off to a good start if they set their shoes with oil-based nylon spikes, a brand new development in the field of sports. The spikes have a steel core and tip, and are said to be lighter and longer-wearing than conventional models. Nylon spikes are just one of oil's contributions to this popular game.

State Department Offers Travel Opportunities

Chicagoans are seeing the world! Many have rubbed elbows with people from Barcelona, Rome, and Bangkok. Others have visited the Taj Mahal in India or seen the Eiffel Tower in Paris or the Pyramids of Egypt. They are U. S. Department of State employees working at American Embassies, legations and consulates throughout the world.

U. S. Department of State Personnel officers are now in Chicago to interview other young men and women from this area who are interested in working overseas or in Washington, D. C. Interviews are being conducted daily at the Illinois State Employment Serivce Office, 73 West Washington st., from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Applicants for overseas positions must be between the ages of 21 and 35, single with no dependents, American citizens for at least five years, in excellent physical condition and willing to go anywhere in the world. Starting salary is $3390 per year plus overseas allowances. Candidates for positions in Washington, D. C. must be at least 18 years of age. Salaries range from $3175 per year for clerk-typists to $3415 per year for clerk-stenographers.

Qualified applicants are urged to come in for a personal interview. (B7

ARLINGTON GREENS

For neighbors of Arlington Greens with whom I am not acquainted, this, my first column will serve as an introduction between us. Pat Peterson has done such an efficient and excellent job of reporting, her shoes are going to be hard to fill but I feel with the cooperation and good spirit that reigns in our community and with your help I can at least make an attempt to follow in her footsteps. I sincerely hope that everyone will feel free to call me about any item that might prove of interest and that through our column we may help maintain the high reputation that Arlington Greens has gained in our village. I will be looking forward to hearing from you, or better yet, if you have a few moments to spare, drop in, you will always be welcome!

Thank You

Heartiest thanks to Pat Peterson for her efforts in keeping us informed. The community will miss her friendly visits each week and sincerely wishes her the very best of luck.

Association News

There's no evidence of a mid-winter lull as far as the activities of the Greens are concerned. The round robin bridge tournament has reached approximately the half-way point and the couples' standings to date are as follows: Baker, 12,840; Waffle, 12,750; Willy, 12,190; David, 11,800; Hultgren, 11,790; Kay, 11,080; Dahl, 11,040; Coward, 10,680; Thompson, 10,300; Kalkhoff, 9900; Johnson, P., 9570; Mundel, 9480; Johnson, W., 8900; Kerz, 8660; Loos, 8580; Rush, 8420; McLean, 7770; Jansen, 7590; Horner, 7220; Baer, 7140; Korff, 6970; Brown, 6070; Sims, 5790; Nichols, 5250.

Bowling is still going strong with the Rales in first place having won 35 games and lost 13 and the Hot Dogs in second place, winning 30 games and losing 18. Along with her proficiency, Alice Mead's new ball helped her capture the individual high game for the women with a 201; Alice Nichols runner up with a 191. Men's individual high games were rolled by Jack O'Neill, sporting a 245 and Bob Williams, 239.

Just a reminder to members of the community association that dues for the coming year should be paid by January 31. The membership committee will be hard at work this coming week contacting all residents of the Greens, hoping to enroll those who are not members and to re-enlist present members. Those who wish to join before they are contacted may call John "Red" Funk, CL. 3-3980, chairman of the membership committee. Working with "Red" on the committee are A. J. Baugous, Bob Bradshaw, Larry Harrington, Bette Johnson, Amos Kalkhoff, Ray Kirchenberg, Harry Kushner, Evelyn Sage, Leonard Smedberg and Jack Summers.

The importance of the school board voting January 28, will be brought to your attention by a phone call from a member of the association's board of directors.

Anyone contemplating a problem filing their income tax return will benefit by attending the association meeting, February 7. More details next week!

Farewell

Marie George, 1140 Hickory, was hostess at a farewell open house, Tuesday, Jan. 24, for her friends and neighbors. The Georges are leaving Arlington Heights January 31, to make their home in Lyndhurst, Ohio, an eastern suburb of Cleveland. They were entertained Saturday evening, Jan. 21, at a surprise party given for them by Mag and Bill Kelly. Doris and Ken Jennings, Maxine and Len Smedberg, Rosemary and Gordon Baer and Harriet and Jack Bell were on hand to spend the evening, enjoy the buffet supper served by Mag and present Marie and Paul with a brass fireplace set to use in their new home. The same evening, their daughter, Kathleen, was guest of honor at a going away party held at the home of Richard Passmore, 610 S. Evergreen. Twenty of her classmates form the Junior high school joined in the fun and she was given a camera and flash attachment as a parting gift. The Georges' many friends in the Greens wish them well.

Polio Drive

Adele Mitchell, district captain for the mothers' march for polio, urges all neighbors interested in donating to this campaign, to put on their porch lights between 7 and 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 31. Any mother wanting to volunteer her help for this evening may call Adele, CL 3-8666. All helpers have been invited to the Mitchell residence, 635 Clarendon, for coffee and rolls after they have made their rounds.

Birth Announcement

Congratulations to Jane and Bob Bee, 1137 N. Douglas, on the birth of a son, Robert Eric, January 11, at Resurrection hospital. He weighed 8 pounds 14½ ounces and was welcomed home by his 4½-year-old sister, Debbie. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bee of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Klofkorn of New York City.

Birthday Party

The day you reach the age of 8 can be a very exciting one and so it was for Maureen Mitchell, Saturday, Jan. 21. Eleven classmates and neighborhood friends helped her celebrate, spending the afternoon playing games and most important enjoying the cake, ice cream and root beer. Joining in the fun from the neighborhood were Susan Mueller, Barbara Epsky, Linda Fett and Marilyn Carlson.

Good Fortune

The Newcomers luncheon and card party January 11, proved to be a lucky date for 3 girls from the Greens. Gloria Gildemeister received a set of attractive ashtrays as a special prize and a pair of earrings for first prize in pinochle. Alice Johnson won second prize in pinochle and received 2 dozen paper place mats and napkins to match. The lovely handkerchief that Jean Marshall had admired in a store window only a few days before, was her booby prize for bridge.

Alice Johnson, 1154 Hickory, has been appointed to represent the Newcomers club at its annual meeting of the Northwest community hospital association. The Newcomers club has been granted a membership in the hospital association and much credit must be given to Alice for her untiring efforts as past president, helping make possible the presentation of a $500 check to the hospital association.

Association Meeting

The speaker for the general meeting of the Virginia Terace Improvement association will be E. E. Olmstead, president of the plan commission in Arlington Heights.

Mr. Olmstead will discuss the functions and authority of the commission and how the commission operates with the other local government bodies. The meeting will be held at the VFW hall Friday, Feb. 3, at 8:30 p.m.

Mothers' March

The Mothers' March on polio will be next Tuesday. Leave your outside lights on between the hours of 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. Jen Kline, 1710 W. Oakton, is chairman for Virginia Terrace. Her workers will be: Wilke rd., Ellen Sottung and Ann Cardinell; Oakton st., Maxine Mells; Race st., Louise Gordon, Pat Gorman and Marilyn Crouch; Clarendon, Phyllis Marshall; Chicago ave., LaVerne Reichert, Dorothy Murray and Vi Weinacht; Illinois ave., Mae Courvoisier, Helen Kersey; Yale, Betty Hotze, Gerry Gardner and Nancy Vodick.

A surprise baby shower was given for Elaine Frick, 1411 W. Clarendon, last Tuesday night by Mary Klint, 1507 W. Clarendon. Those invited for the surprise party were Bonnie Franzen, Mary Ann Geer, Esther Turner, Sandy Yates, Phyllis Marshall, Dorothy Henneman, Gerry Williams, Jerry Ladney and Betty Warner.

Holding a double birthday party last Saturday evening were Lt. and Mrs. William Ladney, 1216 N. Chicago. Jerry and Bill's birthdays are January 16 and 26 and their ceebration turned into a triple one when it was discovered that one of their guests, Lt. Col. John Dillon of Park Ridge had a birthday last Saturday. Guests at the party were Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Dillon, Joan and Curt Wayne and Mary and Bud Klint.

Guest

Spending the weekend with the Bud Klints, 1507 W. Clarendon, was Bud's father, O. E. Klint of Chicago.

Bee Harper, 1326 Race, had a Mundelein college aumni meeting at her home last Tuesday evening. Those from Virginia Terrace at the meeting were Marilyn Crouch, Mona McKiernan, Margery Frisbie and Eileen Brown.

Winnie Brown, 1414 W. Oakton, spent 4 days last week visiting her father, E. E. Cavanaugh, in Kalamazoo. Pvt. Don E. Brown, son of Winnie and Lyle, was recently transferred to Pontiers, France with special services. Don will be playing with the basketball team until March.

Dorothy and George Murray, 1433 Wilke, returned last week from a 2-week vacation in Florida. They travelled along the east and west coast visiting friends made in the navy in Miami and St. Petersburg. They also took a trip to Cuba. Comment on the trip was that they enjoyed the visiting but didn't escape the cold.

New Arrival

Jill Kristine Rix was born January 20 at Resurrection hospital and weighed 8 pounds 3 ounces. Jill is the daughter of Jerry and Bill Rix, 1244 N. Chicago.

Mother Singers

Anyone wishing to join a new choral group, Mother Singers, that is organizing may call Gloria Kalous, CL 3-8841. The group held a meeting last night at Wilson school. Mrs. Lorraine Dean of Palatine is the director and the main purpose of the organization is for the pure enjoyment of singing. A definite date and time for the next meeting will be announced in this column.

This Week with PTA

Vote for the Future!

Day after tomorrow will tell whether the schools are to keep pace with Arlington Heights' growth, or will have to face over-crowding and inadequate facilities that jeopardize the children's education. The million-dollar bond referendum which will be presented to the voters Saturday, if passed, will insure proper housing for school children for several years, at least.

Bridge Scores Needed

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Phillips, round robin bridge chairmen, urgently request that all outstanding bridge scores be submited as soon as possible, so that they may make tabulations as to the progress of the playing. Anyone with an unreported score is asked to call Mrs. Phillips at CL 3-3629.

Word Picture of Modern School Fits Arlington

North school PTA heard Dr. Jack R. Childress, assistant dean of Northwestern university's department of education, explain "How the Modern School Helps "How Child Develop." Dr. Childress described modern schooling grade by grade, comparing it to older teaching methods.

Addition to the curriculum of such things as music and hobby clubs are not just "frills", he declared, but may lead to future careers or valuable hobbies. He praised the system of parent conferences as being the only means by which a parent may learn what school. Modern schools, said Dr. Childress, try to take the fear out of school without sacrificing discipline.

He stressed the advantages of a junior high system such as is followed in Arlington Heights, which combines features of both elementary and secondary schools, as affording students good preparation for, and an easy transition to, high school.

Carl Mees, a member of the board of education, appeared to discuss the importance of the bond referendum January 28.

Educator Speaks To Ridge PTA

Evaluation slips received following the Ridge PTA meeting indicate that Dr. Wilbur A. Yauch, head of the department of education at Northern Illinois university, spoke to an eager and receptive audience.

Speaking on "What Parents Ought to Want for Their Children," Dr. Yauch mentioned 5 attributes which should be developed and encouraged:

1. Literacy - developed by learning the skills of intercommunication (reading, writing, speaking and listening).
2. Individuality - strengthened by learning to work together and accepting, as well as maintaining, individual differences.
3. Knowledge - not only of the physical world, but the social world as well.
4. Social skills - learning democratic principles and living together in a democracy.
5. Faith - development of a feeling of dedication, a sense of allegiance to something greater than themselves.

William Hannum of the board of education spoke on the important features of the coming bond referendum.

Born, Not Made?

Potentially poor readers can be spotted in kindergarten was the consensus of the panel members who appeared at Dryden PTA meeting to discuss "Better Reading for Better Schools." There are many causes for reading inability, the teachers agreed, and one of these is discouragement at constant failure.

Differences between phonics and sight reading were explained, with the conclusion that both methods are used in Arlington schools and that only a combination of the two approaches can result in adequately trained readers.

An example for reading habits should be set at home, advised the panel, who advocated helping children become acquainted with the library.

Panel members were Mrs. Barbara Walberg and Miss Lois Stachnik, teachers; Mrs. Frances Sorokin, librarian; and Mrs. Agnes Scadberg, reading consultant for the school district. Moderator was Superintendent Ralph E. Clabaugh.

Victor Bedingfield, presidnet of the board of education, spoke about the bond referendum to the parents and teachers.

Watch Your Language

It's not so much what you say, but how you say it, that is important in answering your child's questions about sex, said Dr. Franklin Fitch, of Northwestern university's medical school faculty, to the 250 parents and teachers who attended the South school PTA meeting.

Executive director of the Illinois Scoial Hygiene league, and an advocate of sex education in the pre-school years, Dr. Fitch recommended the use of actual, scientific terms to describe parts of the body when answering children's questions, and emphasized the importance of giving short, simple honest answers to suit the child's interest and age level.

In dealing with 5 and 6-year-olds, the physical differences between the sexes should be pointed out, and marriage emphasized, said Dr. Fitch. The changes that take place during puberty should be explained to both sexes before these occur, declared Dr. Fitch, whose talk was accompanied by the movie, "Human Growth", the purpose of which is not only to inform adolescents on the facts of human reproduction but to stimulate their questions on the subject and encourage a healthy attitude toward sex.

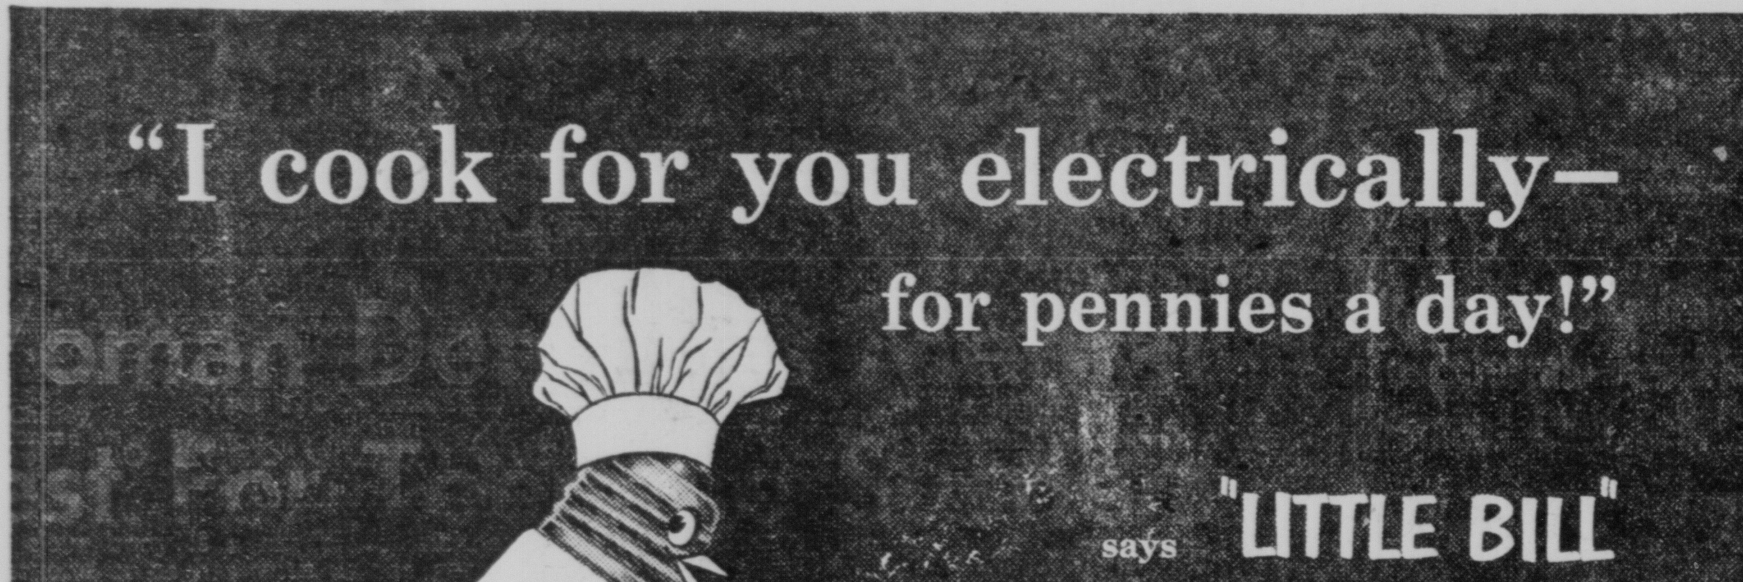
The board of education's representative, Joseph Lohr, talked to parents and teachers, about the important features involved in the bond referendum this Saturday.

Family With Seven Children Needs Home

A Palatine family with 7 children is desperately seeking a place to live.

The Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth, pastor of Rolling Meadows Community church, is assisting the family in the search. Rev. Ringsmuth said that the family will be evicted January 31 and has so far looked with no success. The family would need a minimum of 3 bedrooms but would prefer 4 and is prepared to pay up to $125 a month rent.

Anyone knowing of a large house for rent in any of the communities in the northwest suburban area is requested to call either CL 3-0953 or Palatine 1511.



"I cook for you electrically—
for pennies a day!"
says "LITTLE BILL"
your electric friend

A complete dinner for 4 costs only pennies to prepare with a modern automatic electric range.

How we keep your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

Although the cost of living has doubled, electricity today actually costs you less per kilowatt-hour than it did 25 years ago.

Commonwealth Edison helps keep your electricity bill down in many ways. Bills sent every two months reduce costs of bookkeeping, meter reading and postage. These and other important "little savings" add up to lower cost electricity.

So today, while you use more electricity, you get more for your money (almost twice as much, in fact).

ARLINGTON GREENS

For neighbors of Arlington Greens with whom I am not acquainted, this, my first column will serve as an introduction between us. Pat Peterson has done such an efficient and excellent job of reporting, her shoes are going to be hard to fill but I feel with the cooperation and good spirit that reigns in our community and with your help I can at least make an attempt to follow in her footsteps. I sincerely hope that everyone will feel free to call me about any item that might prove of interest and that through our column we may help maintain the high reputation that Arlington Greens has gained in our village. I will be looking forward to hearing from you, or better yet, if you have a few moments to spare, drop in, you will always be welcome!

Thank You

Heartiest thanks to Pat Peterson for her efforts in keeping us informed. The community will miss her friendly visits each week and sincerely wishes her the very best of luck.

Association News

There's no evidence of a midwinter lull as far as the activities of the Greens are concerned. The round robin bridge tournament has reached approximately the half-way point and the couples' standings to date are as follows: Baker, 12,840; Waffle, 12,750; Willy, 12,190; David, 11,800; Hultgren, 11,790; Kay, 11,080; Dahl, 11,040; Coward, 10,680; Thompson, 10,300; Kalkhoff, 9900; Johnson, P., 9570; Mundel, 9480; Johnson, W., 8900; Kerz, 8660; Loos, 8580; Rush, 8420; McLean, 7770; Jansen, 7590; Horner, 7220; Baer, 7140; Korff, 6970; Brown, 6070; Sims, 5790; Nichols, 5250.

Bowling is still going strong with the Rales in first place having won 35 games and lost 13 and the Hot Dogs in second place, winning 30 games and losing 18. Along with her proficiency, Alice Mead's new ball helped her capture the individual high game for the women with a 201; Alice Nichols runner up with a 191. Men's individual high games were rolled by Jack O'Neill, sporting a 245 and Bob Williams, 239.

Just a reminder to members of the community association that dues for the coming year should be paid by January 31. The membership committee will be hard at work this coming week contacting all residents of the Greens, hoping to enroll those who are not members and to re-enlist present members. Those who wish to join before they are contacted may call John "Red" Funk, CL. 3-3980, chairman of the membership committee. Working with "Red" on the committee are A. J. Baugous, Bob Bradshaw, Larry Harrington, Bette Johnson, Amos Kalkhoff, Ray Kirchenberg, Harry Kushner, Evelyn Sage, Leonard Smedberg and Jack Summers.

The importance of the school board voting January 28, will be brought to your attention by a phone call from a member of the association's board of directors.

Anyone contemplating a problem filing their income tax return will benefit by attending the association meeting, February 7. More details next week!

Executive director of the Illinois Scoial Hygiene league, and an advocate of sex education in the preschool years, Dr. Fitch recommended the use of actual, scientific terms to describe parts of the body when answering children's questions, and emphasized the importance of giving short, simple honest answers to suit the child's interest and age level.

In dealing with 5 and 6-year-olds, the physical differences between the sexes should be pointed out, and marriage emphasized, said Dr. Fitch. The changes that take place during puberty should be explained to both sexes before these occur, declared Dr. Fitch, whose talk was accompanied by the movie, "Human Growth", the purpose of which is not only to inform adolescents on the facts of human reproduction but to stimulate their questions on the subject and encourage a healthy attitude toward sex.

The board of education's representative, Joseph Lohr, talked to parents and teachers, about the important features involved in the bond referendum this Saturday.

Family With Seven Children Needs Home

A Palatine family with 7 children is desperately seeking a place to live.

The Rev. S. Nelson Ringsmuth, pastor of Rolling Meadows Community church, is assisting the family in the search. Rev. Ringsmuth said that the family will be evicted January 31 and has so far looked with no success. The family would need a minimum of 3 bedrooms but would prefer 4 and is prepared to pay up to $125 a month rent.

Anyone knowing of a large house for rent in any of the communities in the northwest suburban area is requested to call either CL 3-0953 or Palatine 1511.

"I cook for you electrically—
for pennies a day!"
your electric friend

A complete dinner for 4 costs only pennies to prepare with a modern automatic electric range.

How we keep your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

Although the cost of living has doubled, electricity today actually costs you less per kilowatt-hour than it did 25 years ago.

Commonwealth Edison helps keep your electricity bill down in many ways. Bills sent every two months reduce costs of bookkeeping, meter reading and postage. These and other important "little savings" add up to lower cost electricity.

So today, while you use more electricity, you get more for your money (almost twice as much, in fact).

GI Juniors Slate Ft. Sheridan Visit

Sheriff Joseph Lohman announced last week that County boys in his new "G. I. Juniors" program will visit Fort Sheridan under the direction of the Fifth Army for a weekend. The program will run through the school year and during the three month summer vacation the period will be extended so that each boy will be able to spend one week at the army base.

Any boy between the ages of 14 and 17 is eligible to become a "G. I. Junior" by making a request to the sheriff's office either by phone or mail.

THE PROJECT is part of the sheriff's program to combat juvenile delinquency and is coupled with the already established "Devil Dog Teen" program of last summer. The plan will ultimately give many hundreds of boys the opportunity to learn discipline, leadership and respect for their fellow man and country, and at the same time will provide the boys with a pattern of constructive activities that they can carry home with them and share with their families and friends.

Because of the tremendous number of boys that will take part in the G. I. Junior's program, subsequent physical examinations will be given every two weeks.

Symphony Group Announces Spring Auditions

The Northwest Symphony association has announced that auditions for instrumentalists to solo with our local community symphony orchestra will be held in the Spring.

The announcement is being made now so that local musicians will have ample time to prepare.

Early in December the Auditions Committee of the Symphony Board heard 8 outstanding vocal soloists. Mrs. Warren Kreft of Des Plaines was chosen to appear with the orchestra at its next concert Sunday afternoon, March 4. The committee was pleased with the vocal talent from Northwest Side communities and plans to present others heard in December at later concerts.

THE SYMPHONY BOARD wants to give the people of the community an opportunity to hear a variety of soloists. For this reason it wishes to extend an invitation particularly to instrumentalists — pianists, violinists, 'cellists, and others — to appear at the spring auditions.

Local musicians who are interested are asked to write Perry Crafton, musical director of the symphony, at 6924 Ottawa ave., Chicago 31, Ill. (B7

Lor Jean Grandt Wed To Edward Matter

DES PLAINES STUDIO

Miss Lor Jean Alice Grandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Grandt, Hintz rd., Wheeling, and Edward Arthur Matter, son of Mr. and Mrs Henry Matter of Cary, repeated their marriage vows November 26 before the Rev. George Ballweber in St. Mary Catholic church, Buffalo Grove.

The ceremony was held at 11 a. m. with white carnations and chrysanthemums forming the background.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional white satin fashioned with circling skirt and train. A crown of pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a white orchid with white carnations.

Jeanie Sniff of Highland Park was maid of honor wearing an orchid pastel nylon tulle gown made with fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a feathered hat in the orchid shade and carried pastel orchid carnations.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Mrs. Carol A. Schmidt of Northbrook, and the bridegroom's niece, Miss Janet Davis of Glenview. Mrs. Schmidt's gown was in yellow and Janet's in blue, fashioned identically to the maid of honor's gown. They also wore feathered headpieces and carnations dyed to match their gowns. The bride's niece, Judith Ann Gorski of Wheeling, was flower girl. Her gown was of pastel green and she wore a small flowered headpiece with nylon net and carried an orchid with carnations.

Kenneth Gabriel Grandt was his new brother-in-law's best man and ushers were Roy A. Schmidt, brother-in-law of the bride and Noel Fenny of Roselle John Otto Orlowski, nephew of the bride from Wheeling, was ring bearer.

A dinner for 90 guests was held at 2 p. m. and 400 guests attended the reception held later.

Mr. Matter and his bride are now at home in Cary.

Radio-Controlled Model Airplane Club To Meet Thursday

The newly-organized radio-controlled model airplane club will hold its second meeting tonight, Thursday, at 8 in the home of Dr. Frank J. Psota, 931 N. Patton, Arlington Heights. Subject for discussion, according to James Dean, Palatine rd., Mt. Prospect, who was instrumental in forming the group, will be new developments in this field of model aircraft.

The group is open to anyone in the northwest area interested in making and flying radio-controlled planes and further information may be obtained by calling Dr. Psota at CLearbrook 3-5371 or Mr. Dean at CLearbrook 3-2714.

Local Square Dancers To Meet Saturday

The first regular meeting for the Mt. Prospect square dancers for the year is scheduled for this coming Saturday. Residents of the surrounding areas are invited to become part of this group if they are interested.

Dances are held on the fourth Saturday of each month through May. Beginners are given special attention starting at 8 p.m. sharp. As Don Finfrock, caller, says, "Within a few months of the early instruction most dancers find themselves thoroughly enjoying themselves and joining in the more advanced dancing done later in the evening."

This group of square dancers meets at the Mt. Prospect vaillage hall from 8 til 12 o'clock. Further information is available by calling CLearbrook 3-4433.

Father-Son Banquet To Feature Local Magician

AL LEECH

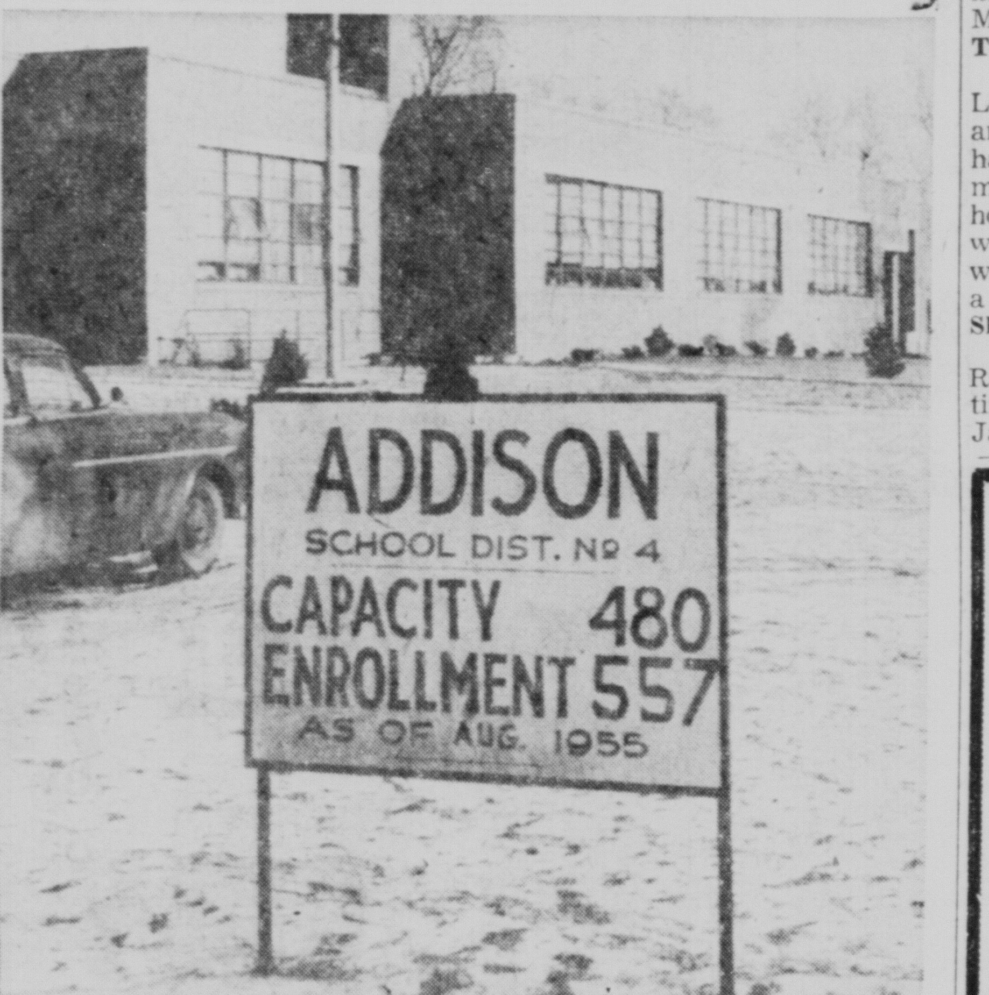
The annual father and son banquet, sponsored by the Friendly circle of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will be given at 6:30 p.m., February 1. Mrs. Edward Schimming and Mrs. Willard Tagtmeier are chairmen of this event.

Guests will be entertained by Alfred Leech, local magician, and his son. Musical numbers will be provided by members of the church and Willard Tagtmeier will preside as master of ceremonies.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Edward Fritz and Mrs. Frank Meyer who have planned the menu, Mrs. Carl Hundrieser and Mrs. Weddy Kraenzel in charge of the dining room with Mrs. Arthur Peterson serving as program chairman. Tickets may be purchased from either chairman.

Addison School Overflowing; Plan For Second Structure

The sign in the picture tells the story of the growing woes of Addison public school district No. 4 where 4 to 5 new children are now trying to squeeze their way into classrooms by the week.



THE ENROLLMENT is now nearing the 580 mark.

Allan T. Lindsay, first president of the district 4 board of education and now a member, reports that the sign was put up last August in an attempt to discourage builders who have been constructing homes in and around the village at a record rate for the past year.

LINDSAY discloses that the board of education originally met with the developers to see if they might not be able to help the situation financially, but "they turned us down flat," he says. Last week's Register showed that over 100 new houses were built in Addison during 1955.

The board has thus seen only one way out and will attempt to get public approval of a bond issue for a completely new school by early March. The structure, possibly of 14 rooms, will cost an estimated $160,000-$180,000, Lindsay disclosed Tuesday.

THE DISTRICT 4 board has already purchased the 10 acres on which the school would be located at the south edge of the village. The property fronts on Fullerton ave., says Lindsay, and is bounded on the east and west respectively by Wisconsin and Harvard aves.

Slot Machine Near Itasca

A slot machine stamped with the year 1932 on the front was found in pieces last week by the Itasca police department night squad headed by Sgt. E. B. Christensen along Arlington Heights rds., near Lawrence ave. and just north of the village.

Chief George Cites, shown here with the gambling device which was partially built of wood, reports there was no money in the machine and that the glass on the front had been broken and the back and the money drawer on one side had been pried open

WHERE IT CAME from remains a mystery of questionable importance. Despite the age of the machine, it could have been in use until recently, it has been pointed out, since the syndicate is reportedly scratching the bottom of the barrel these days to find enough slots for clients.

Girl Scout News

Neighborhood Meeting

Northeast and Northwest Arlington Heights girl scout neighborhood meeting was held at the field house last Thursday. Mrs. Melvin Born, chairman, and Mrs. John Coward, acting secretary, presided over the northeast section meeting. Mrs. John Crawford, chairman, and Mrs. Robert Jakubiec, secretary, presided over the northwest section meeting.

Mrs. Crawford requested all leaders to ask at least one mother of a child in her troop who might be interested in camping be present at next month's meeting. A camp committee representative will be present to answer any questions. Leaders were asked to review the constitution pertaining to the Northwest Cook County council. This constitution will come up for ratification this spring. All Leaders were asked to see that information was given each child of her troop enlisting the fathers' aid in repairing Arlington Heights cabins at Camp Pine. These cabins have been condemned.

Pageant Rehearsal

Announcement was made that rehearsal for the Americana pageant would be held, Thursday, Jan. 26 at the field house. All specific parts in the pageant are requested to be present at 4 p.m.

Discussion regarding a workshop was a thought left for the next meeting. Leaders are to be prepared to volunteer their services on this project and have suggestions as to what program they would like for the coming year.

Exhibits of various crafts of the troops were on display.

Cookies and coffee was served. Donation of cookies were made by Mrs. Lois Nelson and Mrs. Mary Kirschner. Mrs. Yates provided the paper coffee cups. Regular monthly meeting will be held at the field house, Thursday, Feb. 16 at 1:15 p.m.

Troop 95

Senior girl scout troop 95's request to become a Mariner has been approved by the council. It may be noted this is the first Mariner troop in the Northwest Cook County council in several years. Mrs. Cordell is its leader.

Troop 180

Troop 180 welcomed 2 new members into its troop with the regular investiture ceremony January 19. The girls invested were Georgia Stanley and Peggy Prafke. Mrs. Ruth Epsky and Mrs. Mary Kirschner are their leaders.

Troops 5-25

Troops 5 and 25 have combined. Leaders are Mrs. Enid Westfall and Mrs. Lucille Anderson. They have just completed their requirements and have earned their hospitality badges. They are now working on the magic carpet which requires their having read a variety of literature.

Skating Party

Troops 7, 369, 328, and 395 of Ridge school had an enjoyable time roller skating at the rink January 18. The troops were accompanied by their leaders and troop committee members.

Troop 395

Troop 395 reports they have replaced Mary Ann Carey who recently moved to La Grange with Lorna McDougal. Lorna will soon be invested.

'Angel Street' To Benefit Arlington Nurses Club

Arlington Heights Nurses Club, Inc. will sponsor Vilage Theatre, Inc. in a presentation of "Angel Street," also known as "Gaslight", on the nights of February 9 and 11. Written by Patrick Hamilton, it is a Victorian suspense play; the entire action takes place in a house on Angel st. in the Pimlico district of London in 1880.

The cast of the play includes Kay Hawley as Mrs. Manningham, Bob Tindall as her husband; Marcelle Wilcox, the maid; Barbara Houskeeper, Elizabeth; Al Wilcox as Rough and Tom Grisell and Bob Hawley as policemen.

The performance is under the direction of Marian Malcolmson, charter member of the group and its first president. She has directed past performances of "You Can't Take It With You," "Dear Ruth," "George Washington Slept Here," "Life With Father" and "The Silver Whistle." She has appeared in several 3-act plays and children's plays, the most recent being "Harvey" this fall.

Kay Hawley is a charter member of Village Theatre, a former vice-president and talent bank chairman. She is well-known for her parts in "Blithe Spirit," "You Can't Take It With You," and "Life With Father." She has also written and produced historical plays for the Presbyterian church and Arlington Heights Womans club.

Although a relative newcomer to the group, Bob Tindal. has appeared as the minister in "Silver Whistle" and the cab driver in "Harvey." Marcelle Wilcox, this year's Village Theatre treasurer, is a native of Quebec and has been active in the group for 4 years. She has played in "George Washington Slept Here," "Ladies In Retirement" and "Silver Whistle." She is a perennial favorite in children's plays produced by the group.

Barbara Houskeeper, whose first appearance was as the maid, Cleota, in "The Male Animal," is interested in design as applied to the stage. She designed the costumes for last year's "Cinderella" as well as portraying the fairy godmother.

Al Wilcox as the detective Rough, plays a much different character than those he portrayed in "Harvey" and "Silver Whistle" Tom Grisell and Bob Hawley are a study in contracts; Tom is a newcomer to the group while Bob has been a member since the incorporation of the group and is this year's president. Both had major parts in "Harvey."

This production promises to be an entertaining one with an exciting climax that every ticket holder should be certain to see. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Arlington Heights Nurses club, Village Theatre, Inc. or by calling Mrs. Edward Schumacher, CLearbrook 3-0474. Tickets will also be available at the door. Money from the ticket sale will be used to support philanthopies of the Nurses club, its lending closet and scholarships for nursing careers.

Home Owners Association

The first meeting of the newly formed Home Owners association was held last Wednesday with quite a turn-out. The attendance was approximately 130 people. Discussions moved quite swiftly and smoothly for a meeting of this kind. Jim Blocki reigned as M.C. and was assisted by Ed Huster. The by-laws were discussed, pro and con, to a considerable extent and were provisionally accepted. They were referred back to the by-laws committee for revision. It was decided at this meeting that there had to be officers and board members in order to have any kind of an organization, so a motion was made and passed, and nominations were made from the floor. The following are the newly appointed officers for the coming year: president, Jim Blocki, 419 N. Yale; vice president, George Rudolphy, 1507 St. James pl.; recording secretary, Joyce Akerlund, 1509 W. Fremont; corresponding secretary, Jean Novotny, 201 N. Yale; temporary treasurer, Ray Downing, 407 N. Yale.

Howard Huff, 1411 W. Euclid, who was unable to attend this meeting, was elected treasurer, but has since called the president and declined this office, due to the amount of time he spends traveling.

Board members consist of 1 member from each of the 7 districts within the boundaries, which have been divided geographically, rather than by the number of residents in each district. The newly appointed board members and the districts they represent are district 1, Ken Purcell, 1516 W. Campbell; district 2, Frank Conley, 107 N. Reuter; district 3, Ed Huster, 1411 W. Fremont; district 4, Gene Ballou, 1418 St. James pl.; district 5, Glen Sundquist, 1711 W. Fremont; district 6, John Heinz, 1611 W. Euclid; district 7, John Vork, 415 N. Yale.

The next regular meeting, which was scheduled for February 8, has been changed to February 29 at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Junior high school. The school was unavailable for the original date set. It is hoped at that time to see at least 1 member from each household, which would bring the attendance up to around 250 people. The membership drive is on, so get your $3 to your district representative as soon as possible.

One of the important points to be discussed at the next meeting is the forming of committee's for civic affairs, membership, publicity, social, and financial matters. Think this over, and decide which committee you would like to volunteer for. Credit certainly goes to H. W. Huff, E. A. Huster and C. F. Wrobel for the wonderful job they did in organizing the by-laws, and to all the other people who helped them.

Shower

A baby shower for Aquinas Powers was held January 23 at the home of Jenny Huff, 122 N. Reuter. Jenny, Betty Frank and Celeste Switalla gave the shower which was attended by Gwen Kadlecik, Bette Lister, Gerry Runkel, Anne Welton, Jean Bellino and Mary Barkulis.

Phyllis and Jim Fitzpatrick, 501 N. Yale, had their daughter, Mary Judith, christened at Our Lady of the Wayside church Sunday. Godparents are Mrs. Inez Bosshart of Rolling Meadows and William Burke of Brookfield. After the christening, the Fitzpatricks entertained family and friends, consisting of 22 people.

Robert Perry, infant son of Gerry and Bob Runkel, 203 N. Reuter, was christened Saturday at St. John Episcopal church in Mt. Prospect. Following the christening, an open house was held at their house for the Rev. and Mrs. G. Needham, Rita and Vern Virchow, Delores and Dick Goedke, Marlene and Roy Jernberg, Barbara and Roy Thompson, Anne and Ralph Welton, Mary and Nick Barkulis, Celeste and John Switalla, Jenny and Wally Huff, Gwen and Sam Kadlecik and Jean and Joe Bellino.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Graczyk, 1417 W. Fremont, entertained 11 couples at a party Saturday. Most of the couples were cousins and friends of Andy's, whom the Graczyks hadn't seen for quite some time.

Caroline and Bob Herigodt, 1513 W. Fremont, had 2 tables of bridge for last Saturday's entertainment. Couples included for the evening were Joyce and Skip Akerlund, Mary Margaret and Ernie Snoyer and Joyce and John Czerney.

Chuck and Berniece Doherty of Palatine were dinner guests of Jeanne and Ed Huster of Fremont st. January 14.

Cub Scouts

The monthly pack meeting for cub scouts of pack 255 was held January 20 in the Junior high school gym. This particular meeting was devoted to games for the cub scouts and their parents and several awards were issued. Robert Herigodt is cubmaster of the pack. Den 6 is made up of all boys from Westgate with Ed Kabat and Andy Graczyk as den fathers. Boys in den 6 are Robert Alm, Richard Burnes, Michael Graczyk, Raymond Herda, Steve Johnson, Tom Kabat, Jim Kuharich, Joe Moos, Edward Quigley, Jack Romme, Jack Spies and Gerry Sundquist. Bog Herigodt and Mike Granis are in den 11, which originally was started in Arlingdale.

Sympathy

Neighbors of Barbara McDonald, 1601 W. Fremont, extend their sympathy to her and her family on the death of her father, George F. Nudgett.

Where Is It?

An interesting note at the recent home owners' meeting was several people asking where there was a Johanna terrace in Westgate. There certainly is one. It is a small circular street that comes in off of Reuter ave., between Miner and Campbell. It consists of only 6 homes. Five of these homes are presently occupied, with the sixth family moving in shortly. There are 20 children on this small block, which is something to boast about. Two registered nurses are constantly about in the presence of Mrs. Nora McFarland and Mrs. Jane Fiduccia. The largest family in Westgate is also within these bounds, that of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, 1611 Johanna terrace who have 8 children. Quite a record for such a tiny street.

Stork Feathers

Friday, Jan. 13, proved to be a lucky day in the Blix household, 15 N. Reuter. A boy, Mark Lawrence, made his appearance at West Suburban hospital in Oak Park. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Blix. Young Mark has 2 brothers, Brian, 6, and Bruce, 3. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Nelson and Mrs. Augusta Blix, all of Chicago.

It's a boy for Marge and Frank Santelli, 409 N. Yale. Mark James was born January 9 at Resurrection hospital, Chicago. The Santellis have 3 other children, Paul, 5, Jean, 3, and Mary, 1½. Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. I. J. Thornby of Waseca, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. F. Santelli Sr., of Chicago.

Hear Say

Tina Hegyan and Jean Collins of Fremont st. were co-hostesses January 18 at the regular monthly meeting of their circle of the Presbyterian church of Arlington Hts. The meeting was held at the home of Hazel Bradle.

Mrs. Nora McFarland and her 2 daughters, Mary and Susan, of Johanna terrace, spent 10 days in Wothington, Minn., visiting Nora's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wickstrom.

Millie and Jim Scott, 511 N. Yale, have Millie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Hansen of Minneapolis, visiting them.

Farewell Party

Geraldine Martinell, 119 N. Wilke, held a farewell party for Rosalind McCracken, 107 N. Wilke, who is moving to Indianapolis with her family. A shorty lounging robe was presented to Rosalind by Geraldine, Mary Keslinke, Christine Dittmeyer, Olga Townill, Theresa Daniels, Shirley Goodman and Gwen Kadlecik of Westgate and Delores Tolley of Rolling Meadows.

Down Boy

This reporter has been asked to remind residents of Westgate that dogs must be on a leash at all times and not allowed to run by themselves. Several alien dogs have been repeatedly seen on Fremont and Yale at all times of the day. During the summer the police had quite a drive on and were out picking up stray dogs. New neighbors moving in since summer may be unaware of this law in Arlington Heights, which has a fine of $5 for the first offense. Keep the dogs on a chain and keep peace among the neighbors and their shrubs.

Mothers March

Let's not forget to turn on our porch lights next Tuesday evening between the hours of 7 and 8 to welcome the mothers marching for polio. Don't be surprised to see some strange faces among the marchers as it seems some of the captains had a miserable time getting volunteers from this area. In order to complete their list of workers they had to assign some of the blocks to women not living in Eastwood.

Fifth Birthday

Bonnie Burrow enjoyed her fifth birthday last Friday evening when 20 relatives joined her in the celebration. Saturday afternoon her neighborhood friends gathered at the Burrow home from 2 'til 4 for games and refreshments.

A Saturday afternoon movie and then supper at his house was Tommy Rush's birthday celebration which he shared with his playmates. Tommy can now boast of being 8 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bliss and family returned last week from an extended vacation that took them to Nebraska to visit their parents then on down to Florida. However, they were unfortunate to be in Florida during the cold spell but did manage to have a day or 2 of summer temperatures.

Cub Scout News

Some changes have recently been made in the Arlington cub scout organization. A new pack has been formed and will be known as pack 32. John Kelly, formerly den dad for den 10, is the cubmaster of the new pack which takes in the area north of Euclid ave. Now presiding over den 10 is Wally Ellertson. His boys put on a skit "Pirate Waters" and conducted the flag ceremony at the first meeting of pack 32 January 20 at the Presbyterian church. Den 7, under the leadership of Robert Perschbacher and Howard Baker, are rehearsing this week for their skit to be presented this Friday at their pack meeting at the North school.

While on the subject of scouting, all residents are urged to support this organization next month in its drive for needed funds.

Home Owners Association

The first meeting of the newly formed Home Owners association was held last Wednesday with quite a turn-out. The attendance was approximately 130 people. Discussions moved quite swiftly and smoothly for a meeting of this kind. Jim Blocki reigned as M.C. and was assisted by Ed Huster. The by-laws were discussed, pro and con, to a considerable extent and were provisionally accepted. They were referred back to the by-laws committee for revision. It was decided at this meeting that there had to be officers and board members in order to have any kind of an organization, so a motion was made and passed, and nominations were made from the floor. The following are the newly appointed officers for the coming year: president, Jim Blocki, 419 N. Yale; vice president, George Rudolphy, 1507 St. James pl.; recording secretary, Joyce Akerlund, 1509 W. Fremont; corresponding secretary, Jean Novotny, 201 N. Yale; temporary treasurer, Ray Downing, 407 N. Yale.

Howard Huff, 1411 W. Euclid, who was unable to attend this meeting, was elected treasurer, but has since called the president and declined this office, due to the amount of time he spends traveling.

Board members consist of 1 member from each of the 7 districts within the boundaries, which have been divided geographically, rather than by the number of residents in each district. The newly appointed board members and the districts they represent are district 1, Ken Purcell, 1516 W. Campbell; district 2, Frank Conley, 107 N. Reuter; district 3, Ed Huster, 1411 W. Fremont; district 4, Gene Ballou, 1418 St. James pl.; district 5, Glen Sundquist, 1711 W. Fremont; district 6, John Heinz, 1611 W. Euclid; district 7, John Vork, 415 N. Yale.

The next regular meeting, which was scheduled for February 8, has been changed to February 29 at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Junior high school. The school was unavailable for the original date set. It is hoped at that time to see at least 1 member from each household, which would bring the attendance up to around 250 people. The membership drive is on, so get your $3 to your district representative as soon as possible.

One of the important points to be discussed at the next meeting is the forming of committee's for civic affairs, membership, publicity, social, and financial matters. Think this over, and decide which committee you would like to volunteer for. Credit certainly goes to H. W. Huff, E. A. Huster and C. F. Wrobel for the wonderful job they did in organizing the by-laws, and to all the other people who helped them.

Shower

A baby shower for Aquinas Powers was held January 23 at the home of Jenny Huff, 122 N. Reuter. Jenny, Betty Frank and Celeste Switalla gave the shower which was attended by Gwen Kadlecik, Bette Lister, Gerry Runkel, Anne Welton, Jean Bellino and Mary Barkulis.

Phyllis and Jim Fitzpatrick, 501 N. Yale, had their daughter, Mary Judith, christened at Our Lady of the Wayside church Sunday. First Baptist Church Conducts Second Baptismal Service

The second baptismal service since its beginning was held by First Baptist church of Arlington Heights at 7:30 p.m. January 22 in the South Baptist church, Mt. Prospect.

Rev. Edwin Stevens, pastor of South Baptist church, offered the prayer of invocation. Rev. George I. Beckstrom, pastor of the First Baptist church of Arlington Heights, stated in his sermon that "Christianity must be agressive and Christians must be active in carrying the gospel to all who have not yet received it. Every disciple should become an apostle." The choir gave a special anthem entitled "Let Mount Zion Rejoice" from Psalm 48.

After the worship hour the pastor conducted baptismal services for 10 candidates. This was followed by holy communion.

At the close of these services the OUR circle was in charge of a coffee and fellowship hour.

Name Arlington Man Head Of Cancer Fund

George A. Glow, 603 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, will head the 1956 fund campaign of the American Cancer society to be conducted in April. The appointment of Glow was announced recently by Charles J. Walters, 307 N. Bothwell ave., Arlington Heights, chairman of the Northwest Suburban chapter.

In his post, Glow will be responsible for lining up chairmen for the communities of the Chapter. These chairmen will, in turn, enroll volunteers who will conduct a house-to-house canvass in April. Members of the Northwest Suburban chapter are: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Niles, Orchard Place, Palatine, Park Ridge, Prospect Heights and Wheeling.

Glow served as Arlington Heights campaign chairman in 1954 and as chapter campaign chairman in 1955. Glow, assistant vice president, trust department of Harris Trust and Savings bank, is a graduate of Loyola school of law. He has also served in the drives of the Red Cross, boy and girl scouts and March of Dimes. He lives with his wife, Beniti, and has two daughters.

One of Glow's first duties was recruiting Mrs. Roy E. Hammond, as chairman of Mt. Prospect. Mrs. Hammond, 101 W. Milburn st., Mt. Prospect, served as a volunteer in the 1954 and 1955 Crusades of the society in her community. A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Mrs. Hammond is a member and past president of Delta Theta Tau, philanthropic and social sorority, and a member of the AAUW and Mt. Prospect Women's club.

'ALREADY BUSY with preparation for a successful drive in her suburb, she has scheduled a meeting for her volunteer recruits from the Women's club which sponsors the drive. Members of her com mittee are: Mrs. Joseph Zickmund, 215 S. Alberts st.; Mrs. Edward L. Wilson, 323 S. George st.; Mrs. Frederick G. Henneman, 702 E. Evergreen st.; Mrs. George D. Henneberg, 421 S. Busse rd.; Mrs. Horace D. Blocksom, 202 S. Pine st.; Mrs. Arthur C. Peterson, 310 Ioka st.; and Mrs. Henry H. Peters, 116 N. Elmhurst ave. all of Mt. Prospect.

Glow pointed out that "April is designated as Cancer control month by congress. In the face of the rise in incidence of cancer, the overall attack on it in April demands more funds than ever before," he said. "Despite the increase in such incidence, we know that encouraging progress is being made in saving lives from the nation's number two killer. ACS doctors tell us that with greater effort and especially through earlier detection of cancer, it will be possible to save twice as many as the 80,000 persons estimated to have been saved from it in this country in 1955. During the month," he explained, "every adult resident of the Northwest suburbs will be asked to strike a double blow at cancer—with a checkup and a check— a medical examination as a safeguard against that disease and a contribution to support research, educational, and service programs of the society." Join The Crowd At Night School!

The civic-minded citizen, the home handy-man, the family seamstress, business people in search of improved techniques, budding interior decorators and models join the throngs of their neighbors and friends seeking hobby and recreational outlets as the doors of the Arlington high school open and the lights go on for the spring term of evening school beginning January 30.

Registrations have been corning in by mail and during the evening registration period, but those classes which are not filled will welcome registrants on the first of the class meeting nights.

MOST CLASSES in the evening school meet for ten weeks, with a few having shorter sessions. The class in golf is held at a nearby country club, and while it does not begin until after daylight savings time, registrations are taken at this time to determine the size of the class and the number of instructors needed.

There are 8 sewing classes for women at all levels of skill from beginners to those who are ready for tailoring instruction in the making of suits and coats.

Courses are also offered in millinery, interior decorating, floral arrangement, landscape gardening, charm and Girl Scout Leadership. English is taught to newcomers to this country, and there is also a class in effective English for those who need to review grammar, diction and rhetoric for correct use of the language in speeches.

IN THE field of mathematics and related subjects there is a class in algebra, and a course in bookkeeping which offers individual attention to special problems in business or commercial practice as well as general principles of accounting theory and practice

Other business courses include classes in mechanical and engineering drawing, sliderule, salesmanship, typing for beginners and for review, refresher shorthand, and advertising.

French and Spanish classes begun in the Fall term will continue, and will be open for those who have had the equivalent of twenty hours of instruction. In addition, there will be a new session in beginning French using the conversational approach rather than formal study of grammar.

Art instruction is available for beginners, those more advanced, and persons interested in ceramics work and in enameling on copper for the production of jewelry and art objects.

THE CLASS in color photography is proving a welcome addition by the advance classes, as evidenced by the advance registrations. Composition, lighting and exposure will be discussed, along with the appreciation of good photography, and the course will be a combination of lecture and actual photographic work.

The musical sounds heard throughout the building originate in any one of a number classes: beginning or intermediate piano class, organ for beginners, advanced students or those concentrating on church organ work, or the new course being offered in ear training and harmony.

The shop section of the building will be humming with activity with the machine shop, woodshop and electricity classes for men who seek to improve their skills in their employment or who have projects of their own choosing on which they will work in the modern and fully equipped shops of the school.

Recreation of a physical rather than mental nature is offered through groups in square dancing, men's gym class, women's gym class, and the fencing class which is open to both men and women.

THE BUSINESSMAN and the active citizen in the community both find a good deal of reading required in their pursuits, and are often called upon to express themselves effectively in a group. For these ambitious and conscientious persons there are three classes of special interest. The improvement in reading class extends the opportunity to double reading speed while maintaining or increasing comprehension as well as improving the vocabulary.

The speech class presents a group situation in which to practice the preparation and delivery of material and receive constructive criticism. The parliamentary procedure course will include actual practice in participating in and conducting meetings.

The 4 dual-control cars of the high school are used fr the instruction in driver training. The class will meet for five weeks for classroom work, followed by ten weeks of actual driving in the cars with the instructor and another student.

Beginning bridge students will meet for class on Wednesday nights to learn the fundamentals of the game, bidding, playing, and the Goren point count system.

Those who have had previous instruction in the Goren system are registering for the intermediate class which will meet on Tuesday evenings for the course in intermediate play of hands, and actual experience in meeting problems of play. (ACM

Waysiders Planning 'Night In Las Vegas'

Preparations already are underway for a gala "Night in Las Vegas" party to be held March 17 in the parish hall of our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights.

Details were discussed and duties assigned for the St. Patrick's day affair at a meeting last week by a joint committe of the Catholic Womans club and the Holy Name society. In general charge will be Mrs. Russell Gilmore and Dr. Anthony J. Prasnikar.

Refreshments will be served and tickets may be obtained at the church or from the officers of either organization.

Join The Crowd At Night School!

The civic-minded citizen, the home handy-man, the family seamstress, business people in search of improved techniques, budding interior decorators and models join the throngs of their neighbors and friends seeking hobby and recreational outlets as the doors of the Arlington high school open and the lights go on for the spring term of evening school beginning January 30.

Registrations have been coming in by mail and during the evening registration period, but those classes which are not filled will welcome registrants on the first of the class meeting nights.

MOST CLASSES in the evening school meet for ten weeks, with a few having shorter sessions. The class in golf is held at a nearby country club, and while it does not begin until after daylight savings time, registrations are taken at this time to determine the size of the class and the number of instructors needed.

There are 8 sewing classes for women at all levels of skill from beginners to those who are ready for tailoring instruction in the making of suits and coats.

Courses are also offered in millinery, interior decorating, floral arrangement, landscape gardening, charm and Girl Scout Leadership. English is taught to newcomers to this country, and there is also a class in effective English for those who need to review grammar, diction and rhetoric for correct use of the language in speeches.

IN THE field of mathematics and related subjects there is a class in algebra, and a course in bookkeeping which offers individual attention to special problems in business or commercial practice as well as general principles of accounting theory and practice.

Other business courses include classes in mechanical and engineering drawing, sliderule, salesmanship, typing for beginners and for review, refresher shorthand, and advertising.

French and Spanish classes begun in the Fall term will continue, and will be open for those who have had the equivalent of twenty hours of instruction. In addition, there will be a new session in beginning French using the conversational approach rather than formal study of grammar.

Art instruction is available for beginners, those more advanced, and persons interested in ceramics work and in enameling on copper for the production of jewelry and art objects.

THE CLASS in color photography is proving a welcome addition by the advance classes, as evidenced by the advance registrations. Composition, lighting and exposure will be discussed, along with the appreciation of good photography, and the course will be a combination of lecture and actual photographic work.

The musical sounds heard throughout the building originate in any one of a number classes: beginning or intermediate piano class, organ for beginners, advanced students or those concentrating on church organ work, or the new course being offered in ear training and harmony.

The shop section of the building will be humming with activity with the machine shop, woodshop and electricity classes for men who seek to improve their skills in their employment or who have projects of their own choosing on which they will work in the modern and fully equipped shops of the school.

Recreation of a physical rather than mental nature is offered through groups in square dancing, men's gym class, women's gym class, and the fencing class which is open to both men and women.

THE BUSINESSMAN and the active citizen in the community both find a good deal of reading required in their pursuits, and are often called upon to express themselves effectively in a group. For these ambitious and conscientious persons there are three classes of special interest. The improvement in reading class extends the opportunity to double reading speed while maintaining or increasing comprehension as well as improving the vocabulary.

The speech class presents a group situation in which to practice the preparation and delivery of material and receive constructive criticism. The parliamentary procedure course will include actual practice in participating in and conducting meetings.

The 4 dual-control cars of the high school are used fr the instruction in driver training. The class will meet for five weeks for classroom work, followed by ten weeks of actual driving in the cars with the instructor and another student.

Beginning bridge students will meet for class on Wednesday nights to learn the fundamentals of the game, bidding, playing, and the Goren point count system.

Those who have had previous instruction in the Goren system are registering for the intermediate class which will meet on Tuesday evenings for the course in intermediate play of hands, and actual experience in meeting problems of play. (ACM

Waysiders Planning 'Night In Las Vegas'

Preparations already are underway for a gala "Night in Las Vegas" party to be held March 17 in the parish hall of our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights.

Details were discussed and duties assigned for the St. Patrick's day affair at a meeting last week by a joint committe of the Catholic Womans club and the Holy Name society. In general charge will be Mrs. Russell Gilmore and Dr. Anthony J. Prasnikar.

Refreshments will be served and tickets may be obtained at the church or from the officers of either organization.

Irene Nightingale Is Now Mrs. R. McGlynn

In a 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony that took place January 21 in St. John Lutheran church, Elk Grove, Miss. Irene Nightingale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Nightingale of Church rd., Arlington Heights, became the bride of S/Sgt. Richard L. McGlynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. McGlynn of Bellwood.

The Rev. F. L. Gehrs officiated at the ceremony during which Mr. Nightingale gave his daughter in marriage. Delbert Stegemann was organist and Mrs. Betty Orzolek, soloist. Nuptial selections were "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Twenty-third Psalm." Baskets of white mums decorated the church.

The bride's gown was of white silk taffeta trimmed with chantilly lace. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts from the bridegroom, and her sister's white net veil, held in place by a lace cap trimmed with pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of phaelanopsis and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in pink taffeta and American beauty velvet with the matron of honor carrying nile green carnations and vanda orchids and the bridesmaids pink carnations and vanda orchids. Mrs. Betty Orzolek was matron of honor and Miss Rosemarie Stupka and Miss Lisa Walendy were bridesmaids.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Nightingale wore an aqua lace over taffeta dress while the bridegroom's mother wore a pink brocade. Both wore corsages of pink and white camellias.

Donald Helgeson was the bridegroom's best man and Richard Macri and Ralph Bulger were ushers.

Two hundred twenty-five guests attended the reception at Palatine fireman's hall after which the newlyweds left on a trip through the southwest. They will be at home after February 1 at Castle air force base in Merced, Cal. where the bridegroom is stationed with the strategic air command.

The new Mrs. McGlynn was graduated from Arlington high school and was employed by Howard Rotavator Co.

Carol Twiss Becomes Mrs. Ronald Prellberg

A Christmas tree, red poinsettias and white mums decorated Luther Memorial church in Chicago for a 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony December 26 in which Miss Carol Twiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver O. Twiss, 2307 Jay, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Ronald Prellberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Prellberg, 114 S. Pine, Arlington Heights.

The Rev. K. Bruno Neumann officiated at the double ring ceremony and Robert Schiller of Ripon, Wis., sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her marriage the bride wore a white chantilly lace gown. The neckline was trimmed with irridescent sequins and seed pearls and the full skirt was made in tiers. She wore a fingertip veil fastened to a lace crown decorated with pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white starlight roses and lily of the valley. Mr. Twiss gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Barbara Williams of Chicago was maid of honor wearing a white princess style taffeta gown with red shoes. She carried a basket bouquet of red poinsettias. Miss Dorothy Recht, also of Chicago, was bridesmaid and wore a dress identical to the maid of honor's gown. Her shoes were green and she carried a basket bouquet of white poinsettias.

Marvin W. Prellberg Jr. was his brother's best man and George Davajon of Mt. Prospect, Robert Baker of Palatine and James Blackburn of Arlington Heights, were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 400 guests was held in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Twiss received in a toast colored lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and sprays of pink rose buds. The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose tulle over taffeta dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and rosebuds.

Mr. Prellberg and his bride honeymooned in Chicago and after February 1 will reside in Bloomington, Ind. where the groom is studying for his master's degree at the University of Indiana. He was also graduated from Ripon college and Arlington high school. The bride was graduated from Amundsen high school and Wright junior college in Chicago. She has been employed at American Hardware Mutual Insurance Co. in Park Ridge.

A love of foods, a Southern background and training and experience as a home economist provide the essential elements for an exceptional cook.

And in addition to these qualities, the good cook we are featuring this week is also representative of traditional southern hospitality.

Mrs. Joseph Gausch was head of the foods department at the Anniston, Ala., high school for several years. She and her husband moved to their new home on S. Vail in Arlington Heights last May.

The recipe which she is sharing with us today is for Southern Pecan Pie. Mrs. Gausch devised this recipe herself, experimenting and improving it until the pie suited her taste.

The result is an elegant, delectable dessert. It is so rich that a nine-inch pie can adequately serve eight persons.

Southern Pecan Pie

1 cup sugar
1 cup red Karo syrup
1 stick margarine or butter
3 eggs
1 cup pecan meats (halves)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/8 teaspoon salt

Blend sugar, Karo syrup and melted margarine.

Add beaten eggs, pecans, vanilla and salt.

Pour into an unbaked, nine-inch pie shell and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, about one hour.

Cool before serving. Serves 8.

'Dan Cupid' Busy On Valentine Cocktail Benefit Dance

This week "Dan Cupid" is announcing plans for a benefit he's boosting on behalf of children at the Evanston Receiving home. Currently he's sending invitations to the Chicago-North Shore alumnae of Chi Omega, their friends, and friends of the Evanston Receiving home.

The Receiving home is an agency of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society and is one of the few homes in the country where emotionally disturbed children are given the kind of care and understanding they would receive in a normally happy home.

Chi Omegas have been working for several years to assist the home in whatever ways possible, everything from Christmas stockings and decorations to money-raising benefits.

The event planned for February 11 at the Highland Park Woman's club will be a Valentine cocktail dance. Ralph Berger and his orchestra will provide music and a Webcor hi-fi phonograph will be given away.

President of the local Chi Omega alumnae group is Mrs. Frank Strong, 210 Swan lane, Arlington Heights.

Carol Twiss Becomes Mrs. Ronald Prellberg

A Christmas tree, red poinsettias and white mums decorated Luther Memorial church in Chicago for a 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony December 26 in which Miss Carol Twiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver O. Twiss, 2307 Jay, Arlington Heights, became the bride of Ronald Prellberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Prellberg, 114 S. Pine, Arlington Heights.

The Rev. K. Bruno Neumann officiated at the double ring ceremony and Robert Schiller of Ripon, Wis., sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her marriage the bride wore a white chantilly lace gown. The neckline was trimmed with irridescent sequins and seed pearls and the full skirt was made in tiers. She wore a fingertip veil fastened to a lace crown decorated with pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of white starlight roses and lily of the valley. Mr. Twiss gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Barbara Williams of Chicago was maid of honor wearing a white princess style taffeta gown with red shoes. She carried a basket bouquet of red poinsettias. Miss Dorothy Recht, also of Chicago, was bridesmaid and wore a dress identical to the maid of honor's gown. Her shoes were green and she carried a basket bouquet of white poinsettias.

Marvin W. Prellberg Jr. was his brother's best man and George Davajon of Mt. Prospect, Robert Baker of Palatine and James Blackburn of Arlington Heights, were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 400 guests was held in the social hall of the church. Mrs. Twiss received in a toast colored lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and sprays of pink rose buds. The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose tulle over taffeta dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations and rosebuds.

Mr. Prellberg and his bride honeymooned in Chicago and after February 1 will reside in Bloomington, Ind. where the groom is studying for his master's degree at the University of Indiana. He was also graduated from Ripon college and Arlington high school. The bride was graduated from Amundsen high school and Wright junior college in Chicago. She has been employed at American Hardware Mutual Insurance Co. in Park Ridge.

Favorites For Flavor

A love of foods, a Southern background and training and experience as a home economist provide the essential elements for an exceptional cook.

And in addition to these qualities, the good cook we are featuring this week is also representative of traditional southern hospitality.

Mrs. Joseph Gausch was head of the foods department at the Anniston, Ala., high school for several years. She and her husband moved to their new home on S. Vail in Arlington Heights last May.

The recipe which she is sharing with us today is for Southern Pecan Pie. Mrs. Gausch devised this recipe herself, experimenting and improving it until the pie suited her taste.

The result is an elegant, delectable dessert. It is so rich that a nine-inch pie can adequately serve eight persons.

Southern Pecan Pie

1 cup sugar
1 cup red Karo syrup
1 stick margarine or butter
3 eggs
1 cup pecan meats (halves)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/8 teaspoon salt

Blend sugar, Karo syrup and melted margarine.

Add beaten eggs, pecans, vanilla and salt.

Pour into an unbaked, nine-inch pie shell and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, about one hour.

Cool before serving. Serves 8.

'Dan Cupid' Busy On Valentine Cocktail Benefit Dance

This week "Dan Cupid" is announcing plans for a benefit he's boosting on behalf of children at the Evanston Receiving home. Currently he's sending invitations to the Chicago-North Shore alumnae of Chi Omega, their friends, and friends of the Evanston Receiving home.

The Receiving home is an agency of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society and is one of the few homes in the country where emotionally disturbed children are given the kind of care and understanding they would receive in a normally happy home.

Chi Omegas have been working for several years to assist the home in whatever ways possible, everything from Christmas stockings and decorations to money-raising benefits.

The event planned for February 11 at the Highland Park Woman's club will be a Valentine cocktail dance. Ralph Berger and his orchestra will provide music and a Webcor hi-fi phonograph will be given away.

President of the local Chi Omega alumnae group is Mrs. Frank Strong, 210 Swan lane, Arlington Heights.

'Chemical Curls' Is Kappa Delta Topic

Kappa Delta Northwest Suburban Alumnae association will meet at 8 p.m. January 30 at the home of Mrs. R. O. Riser, 217 N. Ashland, Park Ridge. "Chemical Curls" will be the topic of the program to be presented by Mrs. John Dunham, a chemist with Toni. Mrs. R. M. Parker and Mrs. M. H. Knapp will be co-hostesses.

All new Kappa Delta alumnae in the area who have not been contacted are asked to call Mrs. Kenneth R. Kort at CLearbrook 3-6699 for information.

Woman Demands Mental Test For Teenage Suspect

by TOM BRENNAN

Juvenile delinquency is usually taken to include the less serious breaches of law committed by persons under the age of 21.

But juvenile crime can be as serious as adult crime.

An instance of a shocking crime charged to a juvenile was related to Paddock Publications this week.

Mrs. Jean Macchi parked her car in the garage of her home at 201 E. Willow st., Prospect Heights, Sunday morning, January 15, after returning from church.

She entered the back door, stepped into the kitchen and was confronted by a tall boy.

HE WAS HOLDING a hatchet, she recalls, in the air.

She screamed and fled to a neighbor's home. The neighbor called county police, who arrived within 10 minutes.

The boy had also fled, but police were able to follow a winding path made in the snow by gym shoes. The boy was apprehended at home.

Mrs. Macchi found gasoline spilled on a bed and on a coffee table in the living room.

A dress and 4 pairs of shoes had been slashed.

She estimated damage at $500.

The gasoline had apparently been poured from a 5-gallon can kept in the garage.

Twice before Mrs. Macchi's home had been broken into.

The first time was in October, when she returned home from her job in Arlington Heights to find the home full of gas fumes. The gas stove had been pulled away from the wall and the burner turned on.

THE SECOND TIME was only 3 weeks ago.

She returned January 1 from a trip West. Again a window had been pried open to gain entrance. This time the house had been thoroughly ransacked, contents of drawers littered the floors. Only some kitchen knives had been stolen. No one had been apprehended for these acts.

Prospect Heights is unincorporated and depends on county police for protection.

After that, Mrs. Macchi's employer, Richard W. Manke, Arlington Heights realtor, often accompanied her home. She had lived alone for years without giving the matter a second thought.

"Now I want to sell my home," she said. "I don't want to come home alone to an empty house."

The boy's parents did not know why a police officer came to their home Sunday morning. He was taken to juvenile authorities in Chicago and bound over for trial after questioning.

The trial will be in family court January 31.

Juveniles can be tried without a formal arrest charge and the boy was not charged. He was released to his parents awaiting trial.

Mrs. Macchi said that she would "insist" on a psychiatric examination for the boy.

Male Overweight Is Increasing

"The average man is now 5 pounds more overweight, than men of the same height were in 1912. Women have lost about 5 pounds of their overweight in the same period, probably because of fashion demands. Mortality statistics indicate that twice as many of the overweight succumb to coronary, cerebral hemorrhage, and chronic nephritis diseases, and four times as many to diabetes, than do people of normal or underweight. Underweight people live the longest, as a rule."

"Don't depend on unsupervised dieting and reducing aids alone", warned George R. Harris of the Harris Pharmacy, Arlington Heights. "80 per cent of people who reduce that way soon gain back the weight they have lost."

"A half hour of some good old fashioned exercise every day will lose you about one pound of overweight every two weeks. Any safe physical exertion burns up from 500 to 600 calories per hour and uses up excess fat."

"The proper way to permanently reduce," said Pharmacist Harris, "is to have your physician advise you about the proper combination of diet and safe exercise that is best for you, and let him check your progress at regular intervals If a glandular imbalance is contributing to your overweight he will prescribe proper medication, and if necessary one of the new appetite curbs that will help you to eat less.

Halpin Democratic Candidate For State Representative

Assistant State's Attorney Thomas J. Halpin today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative in the newly formed 6th Representative District. Mr. Halpin's candidacy was sponsored by Martin (Scotty) Krier and his Niles Township Regular Democratic Organization, and has been endorsed by the Democratic Township Committeemen of the District. Several hundred business men and residents, who have known Halpin during his 22 years of public life, have pledged their support and have volunteered to carry on a house to house campaign to insure his election.

Mr. Halpin is 46 years of age, and a graduate of De Paul University, and was admitted to the practice of law in February 1933. He was the Attorney for the Secretary of State in the Chicago office from 1934 to 1953, serving under Edward J. Hughes, Richard Yates Rowe, Edward J. Barrett and Charles Carpentier.

Dramatist-Songstress To Entertain Heights Womans Club Feb. 1

MISS LENORE PORGES

Miss Lenore Porges, dramatist and songstress, will present "The Gertrude Lawrence Story" for the next regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Womans club Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 1:15 p.m., in the field house. Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson, president, will preside.

Last year Miss Porges gave a program called "Chicago Sentimental" for the Womans club and it was so well received, that she was asked to return again for this meeting. "The Gertrude Lawrence Story" will be the story of Miss Lawrence's life in song.

After graduating from the Kansas City Conservatory of Music, Miss Porges furthered her studies in Chicago and New York. She has appeared as soloist on such platforms as Orchestra hall, Fullerton hall, Kimball hall, Civic Opera house and as soloist in one of Chicago's largest churches.

Patriotism will be the theme of the meeting, and both Washington and Lincon's birthdays will be honored. Mrs. William J. Willy will sing "America," and Mrs. George W. Hasbach will accompany her at the piano. The club hopes to end its drive for a flag in every home in the area during the month of February. Flags may still be purchased from the club or boy scout troop 57.

Hostesses for the meeting to assist Mrs. Wilbur G. Inman will be Mrs. W. G. Franke and Mrs. Walter G. Edelblute.

Boy Scout News

Explorer crew of troop 7 had a weekend campout at Deer Grove forest preserve during December. It was a real cool affair with early morning temperatures of about 3 above and a light snow, but all kept warm and dry. In December the crew was glad to welcome Frank Woodruff, Jerry Olson, Kurt Engle and Lance Engle as new Explorer members.

Three crew members, Fred Fischer, Jerry Olson and Jim Traver, attended the annual Order of the Arrow banquet December 28 in Des Plaines.

Through arrangements made by Mr. Bergstrom, a troop 7 dad, the crew enjoyed an educational evening by taking a tour through Ridgeland station of Commonwealth Edison Co. This is one of the newest stations and the 10 boys making the trip felt they had added to their knowledge of electric power generation.

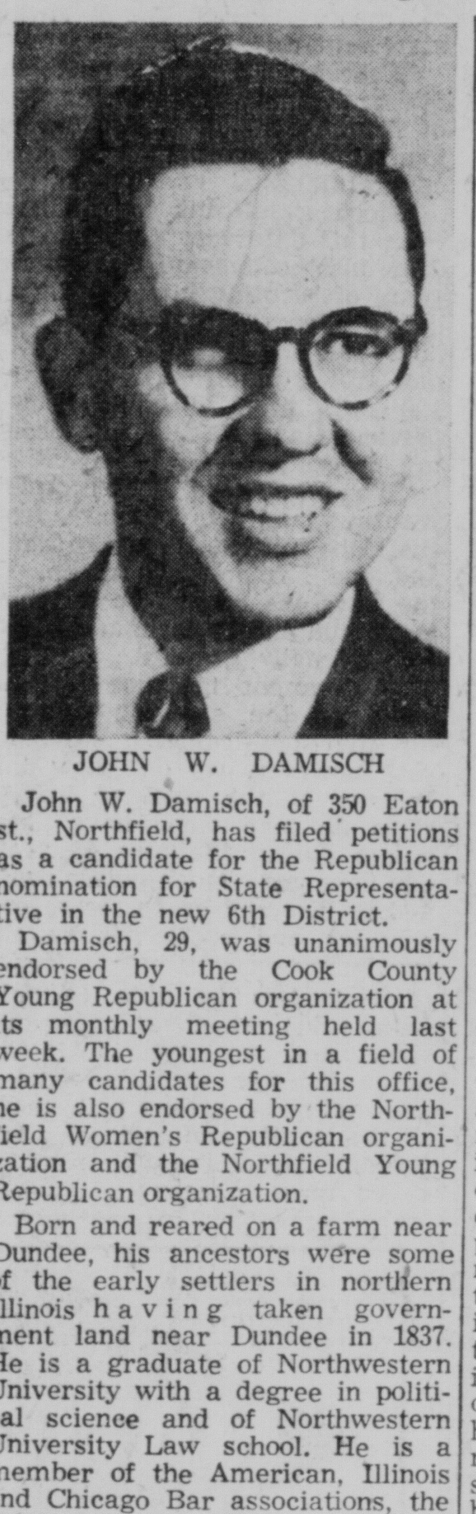
Ex-Precinct Captain Tries For GOP Representative



JOHN W. DAMISCH

John W. Damisch, of 350 Eaton st., Northfield, has filed petitions as a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative in the new 6th District.

Damisch, 29, was unanimously endorsed by the Cook County Young Republican organization at its monthly meeting held last week. The youngest in a field of many candidates for this office, he is also endorsed by the Northfield Women's Republican organization and the Northfield Young Republican organization.

Born and reared on a farm near Dundee, his ancestors were some of the early settlers in northern Illinois having taken government land near Dundee in 1837. He is a graduate of Northwestern University with a degree in political science and of Northwestern University Law school. He is a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar associations, the Trial Lawyers Club of Chicago, the Elks, Moose, the JC's, and numerous clubs. An army veteran, he was admitted to practice before the U. S. Court of Military Appeals.

The Cub Scouts of pack 37 will hold an inspection during the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 26 at 7:30 p. m. in St. Peter activity building.

Inspection of the cub scout uniform and appearance will be made by fathers from the various dens. There are six dens in pack 37 with 49 cub scouts and six den chiefs.

The flag ceremony will be conducted by cub scouts Bruce Rodewald, Reynold Stephan, Roy Tater, Terry Tater, Robert Clark, James Lambdin, Richard Zogrphas and James Harting.

Hosts for the evening are members of den 5 including Mrs. Lorraine Meyer, den mother, Ronald Kranz, den chief and Raymond Gross, Garry Grom, David Weber, Fred Koelling, John Meyn and Donald Meyer.

Girl Scout News

Senior scout troop 95 has voted to adopt the Mariner program under the leadership of Mrs. John Cordaro and her assistants, Mrs. Robert Wolff and Mrs. G. S. Morgan. The troop will be known as the Ship Chrystolite.

January 17, at the home of Judy Lips in Arlington Heights new officers were elected for the next semester. They are: Jean Edgecumbe, president; Judy Willer, vice president; Judy Maitland, yeoman (secretary); Joan Fisher, purser(treasurer); Babs Rasmussen, log keeper (scribe); Sylvia Pfeffer, corresponding yeoman; Gail Smith, chantyman (leader of songs); and Bernie Fleury, corpsman (first aider). The new officers were to start their jobs the following Tuesday.

Guest Speaker Sunday At Our Saviour; Councilmen Elected

Our Saviour United Lutheran church will have as guest minister Sunday morning, Edward G. Anderson, of the Chicago Lutheran theological seminary at Maywood. Mr. Anderson will conduct the service and deliver the sermon for the morning.

Four councilmen were re-elected to an additional term at the annual meeting of the congregation held Sunday evening. G. Werner Fritsch, Roy Anderson and Byrd Miller, who were elected to 1-year terms at the first annual meeting of the congregation, and Vern Heim, who was appointed to fill an unexpired term, were returned to office by the vote of the members for 2-year terms.

At a meeting of the church council held in conjunction with the congregational meeting, all of the council officers were re-elected to serve for the coming year. Edgar F. Neas will act as vice president of the congregation, Mr. Fritsch as treasurer, Mr. Anderson as secretary and John Pfingsten as financial secretary.

Among the matters discussed at the meeting Sunday evening was a resolution concerning the methods of fund-raising to be used in carrying out the work of the church and the building of a church edifice. The resolution, prepared by the stewardship committee of the church and presented through the church council, stated in part that "since the only scriptural guide for giving of our money is found in responding to the love of Christ and in proportion as God has blessed us both spiritually and materially in His great love, and since the Christian church has been the strongest in faith and truest to its mission when love has been the motivation for its stewardship, we shall at all times, both as a congregation and as committees and auxiliaries within the congregation, use only scriptural methods (the tithe, proportionate giving, free will offerings) for the raising of money for any financial obligations, thus allowing our giving to grow through our individual and collective response to the love which Christ has shown unto us".

The resolution was adopted and will become the policy of the congregation.

The Brotherhood of the church will meet tomorrow, Friday, evening at 8 o'clock in Dryden school. All men of the church are invited to attend.

The Luther league, which meets every other week, will meet Sunday evening at 7:30 at the home of Frank Meyer, 606 Mayfair ave. The group welcomes any young people of confirmation age and above to its fellowship.

Woman Demands Mental Test For Teenage Suspect

by TOM BRENNAN

Juvenile delinquency is usually taken to include the less serious breaches of law committed by persons under the age of 21.

But juvenile crime can be as serious as adult crime.

An instance of a shocking crime charged to a juvenile was related to Paddock Publications this week.

Mrs. Jean Macchi parked her car in the garage of her home at 201 E. Willow st., Prospect Heights, Sunday morning, January 15, after returning from church.

She entered the back door, stepped into the kitchen and was confronted by a tall boy.

HE WAS HOLDING a hatchet, she recalls, in the air.

She screamed and fled to a neighbor's home. The neighbor called county police, who arrived within 10 minutes.

The boy had also fled, but police were able to follow a winding path made in the snow by gym shoes. The boy was apprehended at home.

Mrs. Macchi found gasoline spilled on a bed and on a coffee table in the living room.

A dress and 4 pairs of shoes had been slashed.

She estimated damage at $500.

The gasoline had apparently been poured from a 5-gallon can kept in the garage.

Twice before Mrs. Macchi's home had been broken into.

The first time was in October, when she returned home from her job in Arlington Heights to find the home full of gas fumes. The gas stove had been pulled away from the wall and the burner turned on.

THE SECOND TIME was only 3 weeks ago.

She returned January 1 from a trip West. Again a window had been pried open to gain entrance. This time the house had been thoroughly ransacked, contents of drawers littered the floors. Only some kitchen knives had been stolen. No one had been apprehended for these acts.

Prospect Heights is unincorporated and depends on county police for protection.

After that, Mrs. Macchi's employer, Richard W. Manke, Arlington Heights realtor, often accompanied her home. She had lived alone for years without giving the matter a second thought.

"Now I want to sell my home," she said. "I don't want to come home alone to an empty house."

The boy's parents did not know why a police officer came to their home Sunday morning. He was taken to juvenile authorities in Chicago and bound over for trial after questioning.

The trial will be in family court January 31.

Juveniles can be tried without a formal arrest charge and the boy was not charged. He was released to his parents awaiting trial.

Mrs. Macchi said that she would "insist" on a psychiatric examination for the boy.

Male Overweight Is Increasing

"The average man is now 5 pounds more overweight, than men of the same height were in 1912. Women have lost about 5 pounds of their overweight in the same period, probably because of fashion demands. Mortality statistics indicate that twice as many of the overweight succumb to coronary, cerebral hemorrhage, and chronic nephritis diseases, and four times as many to diabetes, than do people of normal or underweight. Underweight people live the longest, as a rule."

"Don't depend on unsupervised dieting and reducing aids alone", warned George R. Harris of the Harris Pharmacy, Arlington Heights. "80 per cent of people who reduce that way soon gain back the weight they have lost."

"A half hour of some good old fashioned exercise every day will lose you about one pound of overweight every two weeks. Any safe physical exertion burns up from 500 to 600 calories per hour and uses up excess fat."

"The proper way to permanently reduce," said Pharmacist Harris, "is to have your physician advise you about the proper combination of diet and safe exercise that is best for you, and let him check your progress at regular intervals If a glandular imbalance is contributing to your overweight he will prescribe proper medication, and if necessary one of the new appetite curbs that will help you to eat less. Halpin Democratic Candidate For State Representative

Assistant State's Attorney Thomas J. Halpin today announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Representative in the newly formed 6th Representative District. Mr. Halpin's candidacy was sponsored by Martin (Scotty) Krier, and his Niles Township Regular Democratic Organization, and has been endorsed by the Democratic Township Committeemen of the District. Several hundred business men and residents, who have known Halpin during his 22 years of public life, have pledged their support and have volunteered to carry on a house to house campaign to insure his election.

Mr. Halpin is 46 years of age, and a graduate of De Paul University, and was admitted to the practice of law in February 1933. He was the Attorney for the Secretary of State in the Chicago office from 1934 to 1953, serving under Edward J. Hughes, Richard Yates Rowe, Edward J. Barrett and Charles Carpentier. (B7

MISS LENORE PORGES

Miss Lenore Porges, dramatist and songstress, will present "The Gertrude Lawrence Story" for the next regular monthly meeting of the Arlington Heights Womans club Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 1:15 p.m., in the field house. Mrs. C. A. Hendrickson, president, will preside.

Last year Miss Porges gave a program called "Chicago Sentimental" for the Womans club and it was so well received, that she was asked to return again for this meeting. "The Gertrude Lawrence Story" will be the story of Miss Lawrence's life in song.

After graduating from the Kansas City Conservatory of Music, Miss Porges furthered her studies in Chicago and New York. She has appeared as soloist on such platforms as Orchestra hall, Fullerton hall, Kimball hall, Civic Opera house and as soloist in one of Chicago's largest churches.

Patriotism will be the theme of the meeting, and both Washington and Lincon's birthdays will be honored. Mrs. William J. Willy will sing "America," and Mrs. George W. Hasbach will accompany her at the piano. The club hopes to end its drive for a flag in every home in the area during the month of February. Flags may still be purchased from the club or boy scout troop 57.

Hostesses for the meeting to assist Mrs. Wilbur G. Inman will be Mrs. W. G. Franke and Mrs. Walter G. Edelblute.

Boy Scout News

Explorer crew of troop 7 had a weekend campout at Deer Grove forest preserve during December. It was a real cool affair with early morning temperatures of about 3 above and a light snow, but all kept warm and dry. In December the crew was glad to welcome Frank Woodruff, Jerry Olson, Kurt Engle and Lance Engle as new Explorer members.

Three crew members, Fred Fischer, Jerry Olson and Jim Traver, attended the annual Order of the Arrow banquet December 28 in Des Plaines.

Through arrangements made by Mr. Bergstrom, a troop 7 dad, the crew enjoyed an educational evening by taking a tour through Ridgeland station of Commonwealth Edison Co. This is one of the newest stations and the 10 boys making the trip felt they had added to their knowledge of electric power generation.

Ex-Precinct Captain Tries For GOP Representative

JOHN W. DAMISCH

John W. Damisch, of 350 Eaton st., Northfield, has filed petitions as a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Representative in the new 6th District.

Damisch, 29, was unanimously endorsed by the Cook County Young Republican organization at its monthly meeting held last week. The youngest in a field of many candidates for this office, he is also endorsed by the Northfield Women's Republican organization and the Northfield Young Republican organization.

Born and reared on a farm near Dundee, his ancestors were some of the early settlers in northern Illinois having taken government land near Dundee in 1837. He is a graduate of Northwestern University with a degree in political science and of Northwestern University Law school. He is a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago Bar associations, the Trial Lawyers Club of Chicago, the Elks, Moose, the JC's, and numerous clubs. An army veteran, he was admitted to practice before the U. S. Court of Military Appeals.

The Cub Scouts of pack 37 will hold an inspection during the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 26 at 7:30 p. m. in St. Peter activity building.

Inspection of the cub scout uniform and appearance will be made by fathers from the various dens. There are six dens in pack 37 with 49 cub scouts and six den chiefs.

The flag ceremony will be conducted by cub scouts Bruce Rodewald, Reynold Stephan, Roy Tater, Terry Tater, Robert Clark, James Lambdin, Richard Zogrphas and James Harting.

Hosts for the evening are members of den 5 including Mrs. Lorraine Meyer, den mother, Ronald Kranz, den chief and Raymond Gross, Garry Grom, David Weber, Fred Koelling, John Meyn and Donald Meyer.

Girl Scout News

Guest Speaker Sunday At Our Saviour; Councilmen Elected

Our Saviour United Lutheran church will have as guest minister Sunday morning, Edward G. Anderson, of the Chicago Lutheran theological seminary at Maywood. Mr. Anderson will conduct the service and deliver the sermon for the morning.

Four councilmen were re-elected to an additional term at the annual meeting of the congregation held Sunday evening. G. Werner Fritsch, Roy Anderson and Byrd Miller, who were elected to 1-year terms at the first annual meeting of the congregation, and Vern Heim, who was appointed to fill an unexpired term, were returned to office by the vote of the members for 2-year terms.

At a meeting of the church council held in conjunction with the congregational meeting, all of the council officers were re-elected to serve for the coming year. Edgar F. Neas will act as vice president of the congregation, Mr. Fritsch as treasurer, Mr. Anderson as secretary and John Pfingsten as financial secretary.

Among the matters discussed at the meeting Sunday evening was a resolution concerning the methods of fund-raising to be used in carrying out the work of the church and the building of a church edifice. The resolution, prepared by the stewardship committee of the church and presented through the church council, stated in part that "since the only scriptural guide for giving of our money is found in responding to the love of Christ and in proportion as God has blessed us both spiritually and materially in His great love, and since the Christian church has been the strongest in faith and truest to its mission when love has been the motivation for its stewardship, we shall at all times, both as a congregation and as committees and auxiliaries within the congregation, use only scriptural methods (the tithe, proportionate giving, free will offerings) for the raising of money for any financial obligations, thus allowing our giving to grow through our individual and collective response to the love which Christ has shown unto us".

The resolution was adopted and will become the policy of the congregation.

The Brotherhood of the church will meet tomorrow, Friday, evening at 8 o'clock in Dryden school. All men of the church are invited to attend.

The Luther league, which meets every other week, will meet Sunday evening at 7:30 at the home of Frank Meyer, 606 Mayfair ave. The group welcomes any young people of confirmation age and above to its fellowship.

Kindergarten

For some time, parents in the Elk Grove school district have felt the need of a kindergarten program. At the present time school funds are not available for instituting such a program. However, Ernest Cavallo, superintendent and Mrs. Carl G. Anderson are making plans for an experimental kindergarten to begin after Easter vacation. Mrs. Anderson, who has 6 years of previous teaching to her credit and a keen interest in children, has offered her services to take charge of the class which will be in the morning at the school. The class is open to all children who will enter first grade in September. It will give them an opportunity to adjust to school life by group activities such as play and games. Transportation must be provided by the parents to and from school. Registration for first grade and kindergarten and a meeting for mothers interested in the kindergarten program will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 9:30 at school.

Basketball Games

Last week the Elks lost a heartbreaker to St. Peter by the score of 30-29. The battle sea-sawed back and forth until the St. Peter squad pulled away. The Elks fought back and closed the gap only to see their drive stalled by the clock. Jose Ortiz's long shot with 5 seconds to go dropped in and out of the bucket and for a split second it appeared that Elk Grove would salvage a victory, but the shot bounded out and the game ended in a victory for St. Peter. Lester Landmeier and Armondo Palomo led the Elk Grove attack.

Elk Grove returned to the victory trail with a convincing 35-17 victory over the Mt. Prospect Central schol lightweight squad January 20. It was the first time this year that the Elks have faced an opponent of equal size and weight. The Elks are usually much smaller than their foes. Jesse Ortiz led the Elk attack with 13 points and was ably assisted by his teammates. Charley Mollenkamp and Kenny Anderson also played outstanding games. Elk Grove's league record now stands at 2 won and 6 lost. St. James of Arlington Heights will be the Elks' next opponent.

Table Arrangements

Home economics students have taken over the responsibility of making the table arrangements for the monthly meetings of Mothers club. They expect to follow a theme of the current month with February offering many ideas. Mrs. Grosche is in charge of this activity and the girls are very thrilled to be able to display their homemaking talents.

Mr. Cavallo, Mrs. Altenburg, and Mrs. Folkman attended a health meeting in Des Plaines Thursday morning. Mr. Cavallo also attended the Arlington area superintendent's meeting Friday afternoon.

Cheerleaders now have new outfits. The gray sweaters that they have been using will be worn with the new red cotton felt skirts. The new skirts are short and each girl made her skirt. Mrs. Harry Wille made the red matching beanies for the girls. They are planning to make pom pons of red and grey for use in the near future.

Birthday Party

Sheila Gilbert entertained friends Friday, Jan. 20, when she had her annual birthday party.

Grade 7-2 has elected new officers. Lester Landmeier is president, Susan Kappa is vice president, and Susan Horbus is secretary-treasurer.

Bob Bollmann of the eighth grade is student of the month. He is president of the eighth grade class, a patrol boy, runs the movie projector at school, a 4-H club member and susbtitute for the basketball team.

Teachers' Workshop

The teachers held a workshop Monday with a holiday resulting for Elk Grove students. The teachers had a general meeting and then broke up into groups pertaining to their general teaching load: primary, intermediate and junior high levels. The teachers enjoyed a potluck luncheon held in home economics.

Members of the TNT 4-H club are reminded to bring Christmas cards to the next meeting Tuesday, Jan. 31, at Judy Wille's home.

Feehanville School

"At the time of the April school elections there will be a referendum to accept the state recommended 10-month school program for this district, in order that we will conform to the program held by the majority of schools in the state", Mr. Alstrin, principal of the Feehanville school, said at the January PTA meeting. "The name of the plan appears to indicate would be increased, however the legal number of school days, 185, remains the same under the new plan. The new plan would, however, make available more extended vacation periods at Christmas and at Easter, and would definitely not mean that the school is operating for an additional month. Under our present 9-month plan that has been discarded almost universally, the school must complete its legal school year of 185 days within 9 calendar months, which means that in emergency cases of snow, ice or boiler difficulties when the school must close, there is no time left to make up these missing school days except for vacation periods. After vacation period time has been used up, the necessity of scheduling full time Saturday classes would arise."

Mrs. Joseph Eannerino, who is working with the lunchroom representative and is in charge of the schedule for volunteer help in the cafeteria, asked for more volunteers. She will be glad to hear from anyone who can help. Her telephone number is Va.4-8001.

"Frustrating Fours and Fascinating Fives" and "Sociable Sixes and Noisy Nines", 2 films from the film library of the University of Illinois, were shown after the business meeting.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The hospitality committee had decorated the tables with small snowmen, with one large, cleverly decorated snowman for centerpiece. Name tags also carried out the winter theme and were in the shape of snowmen. Cakes were provided by the refreshment committee, who were Mrs. Paul Hartwig, Mrs Bette Lingo and Mrs. Joseph Murdock.

"A school cafeteria is not just a filling station for the children. It is just as much a classroom as the mathematics or English classroom,' Miss Robinson said in her lecture last week Tuesday at the school lunch workshop sponsored by the American Institute of Baking. Miss Marguerite Robinson is the field nutritionist, A.I.B., coordinator, and had charge of the workshop held at the Burny Bros., Inc., bakery on Chicago ave. She further said, "For good health's sake and social acceptability, we must teach the children to eat and like new foods. Families are apt to fall into set patterns of eating habits, and the children must learn to eat new foods at school."

Miss Robinson demonstrated the preparation of several new foods, among which were Fricadella pie, peach bread pudding, oven-egg cheese sandwiches, chili 'burgers and peanut au gratin sandwiches. While the foods were in the ovens the ladies were taken on a tour of the Burny bakery, after which they were served a plate lunch containing a sample of the foods in the demonstration. Among those from the Feehanville district who attended this workshop were Mrs. Jeanne Kramer and Mrs. Arthur Hanson.

The 3 upper grades of the Feehanville school visited several points of interest in Chicago on their field trip last Friday. They stopped at the House of Correction and were taken through various departments of that institution. They saw the dormitories, workshops and kitchens on a conducted tour. From there they visited the world's largest postoffice at Canal and Van Buren, where they were taken on a conducted tour to see the distribution and handling of first class and parcel post mail. Their next visit was to the Food and Drug Administration offices on the 12th floor of the same building, where Mr. Cavett, chief food inspector presented a [illegible] of the department's function, which is testing foods, drugs and cosmetics for purity. Mr. Cavett also took them on a tour of the laboratory. The children ate their lunch in the bus and stopped at the canteen in the postoffice for drinks. Mrs. Frank Sullivan went along to help on this trip.

Forest River Church

The T.F.C.'s are planning a box social for February 11. Plans are under way for an evening of fun and frolic.

Forest River Brigade were scheduled to play basketball against the Palatine Brigade at Palatine last Monday. This was in the nature of a play-off game, as each team has won 1 game so far. The next league game is Saturday afternoon, when they will be playing the Boys Brigade of the Madison Street Bible church, at the Emmaus Bible school gym in Oak Park. Spectators are welcome.

Scouting

Intermediate troop 233 have inaugurated the patrol system. Mary Jane Arkell was elected patrol leader of the 12 and 13 year olds, with Sharon Anderson as assistant leader, and Betty Broberg was elected patrol leader of the 10 and 11 year olds, with Donna Jean Murphy as her assistant leader. Results of the election of troop officers were: Bonnie Sim, president; Sharon Gould, vice president; Mary Alice Hauser, secretary; Sue Ellen Steward, treasurer; Mary Edgeworth attendance recorder; Jackie Sim and Emma West, entertainment committee; Charlotte Mius and Patricia Zschbach, refreshment committee; Mary Jane Arkell and Patricia Pletcher, sick committee.

North Neighborhood adult scouts had their January meeting last week Wednesday at the Scout house, with Mrs. Roman Anderson, Mrs. Henry Schmit and Mrs. Laurenz Hauser attending from this section. Cookie captains were selected to handle this year's cookie sale. Mrs. Marge Erber from North school is captain of North Neighborhood, Mrs. Anderson is captain of this section and Mrs. Hauser is district 3 captain. The adult scouts learned a folk dance taught by East Maine, and Mrs. Hauser reports that records of square dances and folk dances are available for the use of the troops and can be obtained from her. Tentative plans were made to have a camp night early in March. The girls and parents will be invited to attend this meeting. Films of Day Camp and Hickory Hill will be shown and Miss Marion Hodgins will be asked to speak.

All girl scout leaders are invited to attend the district tea scheduled for 8 p.m. January 26, at the Congregational church. There will be installation of officers and a social afterwards. There is an extensive training course provided for new board members and neighborhood officers. Mrs. Marge Hauser, North Neighborhood chairman, has been attending the current one.

Community News

The Teen club reports their hay ride last Saturday was a grand success. Thirty seven young people came out. While it was cold, the night was clear and the moonlight beautiful. They arrived back at the Community hall about 8:30, where they served cocoa and cookies after a short business meeting. They enjoyed themselves dancing until about 10:30. Young people from Des Plaines, Chicago and the Feehanville district, and many of the younger teenagers were present, and the Teen club would like to see more of the younger ones come out to their doings. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Red Bischof, Mrs. Irwin Phar and Miss Ruth Smith. Plans for the next social will be made at a committee meeting in February.

The Evanston Ladies auxilliary to the Letter Carriers association, (a nation-wide and state-wide organization), held their annual dinner party at the Dominion room in Evanston last week. After the dinner there was installation of officers, with Mrs Elmer Milz, past president, as installing officer. In their social hour after the ceremony the ladies played several games.

Dear Neighbor, announcing the proposed organization of a community council to form and put into operation a recreational activity plan for children of all ages. Due to the overcrowded conditions in towns surrounding us, it becomes more and more difficult for our children to find openings to engage in the recreational activities offered within the nearby city limits. At this time each and every parent and neighbor is now being asked to step forward and contribute any and all suggestions and to give a little of their time and effort to organize and supervise such activities necessary to keeping all of the children in this community busy and happy outside of school hours.

The Forest View school building will form the nucleous of the community council and will serve as a meeting place for all groups participating in the proposed program.

Monday evening, Feb. 6, has been set aside as the first general meeting date. The meeting will be held at Forest View school, S. State rd., at 8 p.m. Every member of the community is invited and urged to attend this first all important step in the betterment of the rapidly growing community.

Please join us and assist where ever you can in the organization and application of the recreational program for the children.

Elk Grove News

Kindergarten

For some time, parents in the Elk Grove school district have felt the need of a kindergarten program. At the present time school funds are not available for instituting such a program. However, Ernest Cavallo, superintendent and Mrs. Carl G. Anderson are making plans for an experimental kindergarten to begin after Easter vacation. Mrs. Anderson, who has 6 years of previous teaching to her credit and a keen interest in children, has offered her services to take charge of the class which will be in the morning at the school. The class is open to all children who will enter first grade in September. It will give them an opportunity to adjust to school life by group activities such as play and games. Transportation must be provided by the parents to and from school. Registration for first grade and kindergarten and a meeting for mothers interested in the kindergarten program will be held Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 9:30 at school.

Basketball Games

Last week the Elks lost a heartbreaker to St. Peter by the score of 30-29. The battle sea-sawed back and forth until the St. Peter squad pulled away. The Elks fought back and closed the gap only to see their drive stalled by the clock. Jose Ortiz's long shot with 5 seconds to go dropped in and out of the bucket and for a split second it appeared that Elk Grove would salvage a victory, but the shot bounded out and the game ended in a victory for St. Peter. Lester Landmeier and Armondo Palomo led the Elk Grove attack.

Elk Grove returned to the victory trail with a convincing 35-17 victory over the Mt. Prospect Central schol lightweight squad January 20. It was the first time this year that the Elks have faced an opponent of equal size and weight. The Elks are usually much smaller than their foes. Jesse Ortiz led the Elk attack with 13 points and was ably assisted by his teammates. Charley Mollenkamp and Kenny Anderson also played outstanding games. Elk Grove's league record now stands at 2 won and 6 lost. St. James of Arlington Heights will be the Elks' next opponent.

Table Arrangements

Home economics students have taken over the responsibility of making the table arrangements for the monthly meetings of Mothers club. They expect to follow a theme of the current month with February offering many ideas. Mrs. Grosche is in charge of this activity and the girls are very thrilled to be able to display their homemaking talents.

Mr. Cavallo, Mrs. Altenburg, and Mrs. Folkman attended a health meeting in Des Plaines Thursday morning. Mr. Cavallo also attended the Arlington area superintendent's meeting Friday afternoon.

Cheerleaders now have new outfits. The gray sweaters that they have been using will be worn with the new red cotton felt skirts. The new skirts are short and each girl made her skirt. Mrs. Harry Wille made the red matching beanies for the girls. They are planning to make pom pons of red and grey for use in the near future.

Birthday Party

Sheila Gilbert entertained friends Friday, Jan. 20, when she had her annual birthday party.

Grade 7-2 has elected new officers. Lester Landmeier is president, Susan Kappa is vice president, and Susan Horbus is secretary-treasurer.

Bob Bollmann of the eighth grade is student of the month. He is president of the eighth grade class, a patrol boy, runs the movie projector at school, a 4-H club member and susbtitute for the basketball team.

Teachers' Workshop

The teachers held a workshop Monday with a holiday resulting for Elk Grove students. The teachers had a general meeting and then broke up into groups pertaining to their general teaching load: primary, intermediate and junior high levels. The teachers enjoyed a potluck luncheon held in home economics.

Members of the TNT 4-H club are reminded to bring Christmas cards to the next meeting Tuesday, Jan. 31, at Judy Wille's home.

Feehanville School

"At the time of the April school elections there will be a referendum to accept the state recommended 10-month school program for this district, in order that we will conform to the program held by the majority of schools in the state", Mr. Alstrin, principal of the Feehanville school, said at the January PTA meeting. "The name of the plan appears to indicate would be increased, however the legal number of school days, 185, remains the same under the new plan. The new plan would, however, make available more extended vacation periods at Christmas and at Easter, and would definitely not mean that the school is operating for an additional month. Under our present 9-month plan that has been discarded almost universally, the school must complete its legal school year of 185 days within 9 calendar months, which means that in emergency cases of snow, ice or boiler difficulties when the school must close, there is no time left to make up these missing school days except for vacation periods. After vacation period time has been used up, the necessity of scheduling full time Saturday classes would arise."

Mrs. Joseph Eannerino, who is working with the lunchroom representative and is in charge of the schedule for volunteer help in the cafeteria, asked for more volunteers. She will be glad to hear from anyone who can help. Her telephone number is Va.4-8001.

"Frustrating Fours and Fascinating Fives" and "Sociable Sixes and Noisy Nines", 2 films from the film library of the University of Illinois, were shown after the business meeting.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria. The hospitality committee had decorated the tables with small snowmen, with one large, cleverly decorated snowman for centerpiece. Name tags also carried out the winter theme and were in the shape of snowmen. Cakes were provided by the refreshment committee, who were Mrs. Paul Hartwig, Mrs Bette Lingo and Mrs. Joseph Murdock.

"A school cafeteria is not just a filling station for the children. It is just as much a classroom as the mathematics or English classroom,' Miss Robinson said in her lecture last week Tuesday at the school lunch workshop sponsored by the American Institute of Baking. Miss Marguerite Robinson is the field nutritionist, A.I.B., coordinator, and had charge of the workshop held at the Burny Bros., Inc., bakery on Chicago ave. She further said, "For good health's sake and social acceptability, we must teach the children to eat and like new foods. Families are apt to fall into set patterns of eating habits, and the children must learn to eat new foods at school."

Miss Robinson demonstrated the preparation of several new foods, among which were Fricadella pie, peach bread pudding, oven-egg cheese sandwiches, chili 'burgers and peanut au gratin sandwiches. While the foods were in the ovens the ladies were taken on a tour of the Burny bakery, after which they were served a plate lunch containing a sample of the foods in the demonstration. Among those from the Feehanville district who attended this workshop were Mrs. Jeanne Kramer and Mrs. Arthur Hanson.

The 3 upper grades of the Feehanville school visited several points of interest in Chicago on their field trip last Friday. They stopped at the House of Correction and were taken through various departments of that institution. They saw the dormitories, workshops and kitchens on a conducted tour. From there they visited the world's largest postoffice at Canal and Van Buren, where they were taken on a conducted tour to see the distribution and handling of first class and parcel post mail. Their next visit was to the Food and Drug Administration offices on the 12th floor of the same building, where Mr. Cavett, chief food inspector presented a [illegible] ing of the department's function, which is testing foods, drugs and cosmetics for purity. Mr. Cavett also took them on a tour of the laboratory. The children ate their lunch in the bus and stopped at the canteen in the postoffice for drinks. Mrs. Frank Sullivan went along to help on this trip.

Forest River Church

The T.F.C.'s are planning a box social for February 11. Plans are under way for an evening of fun and frolic.

Forest River Brigade were scheduled to play basketball against the Palatine Brigade at Palatine last Monday. This was in the nature of a play-off game, as each team has won 1 game so far. The next league game is Saturday afternoon, when they will be playing the Boys Brigade of the Madison Street Bible church, at the Emmaus Bible school gym in Oak Park. Spectators are welcome.

Scouting

Intermediate troop 233 have inaugurated the patrol system. Mary Jane Arkell was elected patrol leader of the 12 and 13 year olds, with Sharon Anderson as assistant leader, and Betty Broberg was elected patrol leader of the 10 and 11 year olds, with Donna Jean Murphy as her assistant leader. Results of the election of troop officers were: Bonnie Sim, president; Sharon Gould, vice president; Mary Alice Hauser, secretary; Sue Ellen Steward, treasurer; Mary Edgeworth attendance recorder; Jackie Sim and Emma West, entertainment committee; Charlotte Mius and Patricia Zschbach, refreshment committee; Mary Jane Arkell and Patricia Pletcher, sick committee.

North Neighborhood adult scouts had their January meeting last week Wednesday at the Scout house, with Mrs. Roman Anderson, Mrs. Henry Schmit and Mrs. Laurenz Hauser attending from this section. Cookie captains were selected to handle this year's cookie sale. Mrs. Marge Erber from North school is captain of North Neighborhood, Mrs. Anderson is captain of this section and Mrs. Hauser is district 3 captain. The adult scouts learned a folk dance taught by East Maine, and Mrs. Hauser reports that records of square dances and folk dances are available for the use of the troops and can be obtained from her. Tentative plans were made to have a camp night early in March. The girls and parents will be invited to attend this meeting. Films of Day Camp and Hickory Hill will be shown and Miss Marion Hodgins will be asked to speak.

All girl scout leaders are invited to attend the district tea scheduled for 8 p.m. January 26, at the Congregational church. There will be installation of officers and a social afterwards. There is an extensive training course provided for new board members and neighborhood officers. Mrs. Marge Hauser, North Neighborhood chairman, has been attending the current one.

Community News

The Teen club reports their hay ride last Saturday was a grand success. Thirty seven young people came out. While it was cold, the night was clear and the moonlight beautiful. They arrived back at the Community hall about 8:30, where they served cocoa and cookies after a short business meeting. They enjoyed themselves dancing until about 10:30. Young people from Des Plaines, Chicago and the Feehanville district, and many of the younger teenagers were present, and the Teen club would like to see more of the younger ones come out to their doings. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Red Bischof, Mrs. Irwin Phar and Miss Ruth Smith. Plans for the next social will be made at a committee meeting in February.

The Evanston Ladies auxilliary to the Letter Carriers association, (a nation-wide and state-wide organization), held their annual dinner party at the Dominion room in Evanston last week. After the dinner there was installation of officers, with Mrs Elmer Milz, past president, as installing officer. In their social hour after the ceremony the ladies played several games.

Forest View School

Dear Neighbor, announcing the proposed organization of a community council to form and put into operation a recreational activity plan for children of all ages. Due to the overcrowded conditions in towns surrounding us, it becomes more and more difficult for our children to find openings to engage in the recreational activities offered within the nearby city limits. At this time each and every parent and neighbor is now being asked to step forward and contribute any and all suggestions and to give a little of their time and effort to organize and supervise such activities necessary to keeping all of the children in this community busy and happy outside of school hours.

The Forest View school building will form the nucleous of the community council and will serve as a meeting place for all groups participating in the proposed program.

Monday evening, Feb. 6, has been set aside as the first general meeting date. The meeting will be held at Forest View school, S. State rd., at 8 p.m. Every member of the community is invited and urged to attend this first all important step in the betterment of the rapidly growing community.

Please join us and assist where ever you can in the organization and application of the recreational program for the children.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How spiritual understanding of divine Love enables mankind to make the Golden Rule practical in daily living will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday, January 29.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" is the Golden Text from I John (4:12): "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us."

The spiritual basis for brotherhood is brought out in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (518:13-19): "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link to the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower. The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's powerful statement on brotherly love (Galatians 5:14): "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How spiritual understanding of divine Love enables mankind to make the Golden Rule practical in daily living will be set forth at Christian Science services this Sunday, January 29.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" is the Golden Text from I John (4:12): "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us."

The spiritual basis for brotherhood is brought out in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy including the following (518:13-19): "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link to the greater, and in return, the higher always protects the lower. The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's powerful statement on brotherly love (Galatians 5:14): "For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself."

Funeral services were held January 17 in Zion Lutheran church, Marengo, for Mrs. Henry C. Schaeffer, a former resident of this vicinity.

Mrs. Emma Schaeffer, nee Neely, was born February 16, 1866 in Washington county, Covington, Ill. She died January 14, in Mt. Prospect.

She was married to Daniel Harting in 1888; he died in 1895. In 1905 she was married to Henry C. Schaeffer. Besides her husband, Henry, she leaves her children: Bertha Rinne of New Minden, Ill., Marie Schram of Affton, Mo., Arthur D. Harting and Gus H. Schaeffer of Arlington Heights; Frank Harting of Elgin, Louise Heuer of Hebron, Emma Busse, Lydia Wille and Herbert Schaeffer of Mt. Prospect, Emily Mueller of Griswold, Iowa, Minnie Studtman of Des Plaines and Melvin Schaeffer of Marengo; 52 grand children and 83 great-grandchildren. Three sons, William, Fred and Albert Harting, preceded her in death.

Fred Folleth

Fred Folleth, long-time resident of Palatine area, died at the age of 95 in his home at 130 E. Chicago ave., Palatine. Funeral services were held January 20 at 1:30 p.m. in Tharp funeral home with the Rev. Glenn G. Gumm officiating. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Folleth was born September 25, 1860 in Metz, Alsace Lorraine. He came to America at the age of 21 and settled in Quintens corner near Palatine. He married Louise Landmann January 22, 1895 in Palatine and farmed at Quintens corner until 1920 when they moved to Palatine.

Mr. Folleth, who had been confined to his home for the past severa years, resided with his daughter, Mrs. Melanie Schilitz. His wife preceded him in death in 1955. Besides Mrs. Schilitz, Mr. Folleth leaves his sons, Daniel of Elgin and Albert of Barrington, another daughter, Cora Folleth of Palatine and 3 grandchildren.

William A. Onsrud

William A. Onsrud, 65, former resident of Palatine, died Sunday in Avon Park, Fla., where he had resided for the past 3 years.

Masonic services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 26, at the C. Kampp funeral home, 318 Central ave., Chicago. Mr. Onsrud leaves his wife, Clara, and several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Pearl Koffler of Arlington Heights.

Chester A. Wolf

Chester A. Wolf, 1130 Deerfield rd., Deerfield, was buried in Wheeling cemetery January 23 after funeral services in the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Deerfield. The Rev. Wayne C. Hess officiated.

Mr. Wolf was born May 8, 1876 in Aptakisic and died January 19 in Plum Grove nursing home. His wife, Gertrude, preceded him in death. He leaves his sisters and brothers, Elnora and Nelda Wolf of Libertyville and Daisy Wolf, Mildred Schneider and Welton and Oliver Wolf of Deerfield.

He was a member of Wheeling Vitruvius lodge 81 AF and AM.

Carrie M. Harth

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie M. Harth, long-time Arlington Heights resident, were held January 24 at 2 p.m. in the Lauterburg and Oehler chapel in Arlington Heights. Rev. Paul Stumpf officiated.

Mrs. Harth died in the Arlington Heights rest home January 21. She was born January 1, 1865 in Aptakisic. She had been a resident of Arlington Heights for 38 years and was preceded in death by her husband, Jacob, who died June 1, 1935. Mrs. Harth leaves 2 sons, Edward and Elmer; 7 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Interment, Arlington Heights cemetery.

Mrs. Christine Benko

Word was received January 20 of the death of Mrs. Christine Benko, nee Prellberg of Lorain, Ohio. Mrs. Benko was born in Palatine November 2, 1892, a daughter of Ernest Prellberg, pioneer Palatine business man.

She was a sister of George H. Prellberg of Park Ridge and of the late Mrs. Minnie Holste, Charles, Henry and William Prellberg of Palatine, Fred of Des Plaines, Albert and Ernest of Chicago, all the latter preceded Mrs. Benko in death.

Burial was in Lorain, Ohio, where Mrs. Benko had lived with her family for over 25 years. She leaves her husband, 2 sons and 2 daughters.

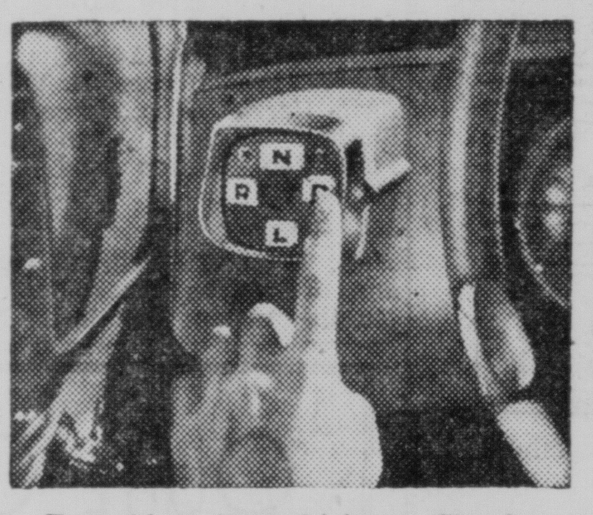
WHY THE CHRYSLER WINDSOR V-8



Everything about driving a Chrysler is new! You touch a button on the left (and safe!) side . . . and Push-button PowerFlite, the smoothest of all transmissions, goes into action.

From four lengths behind to four lengths ahead of a moving truck going 40 m.p.h. in 8 seconds fiat. That's the kind of reserve power you get in Chrysler's great airplane-type V-8 engine.

IS THE YEAR-AHEAD CAR

And talk about style! Here's the "PowerStyle" look that is showing its sassy tail to contemporary car designs. Isn't it time you compared a Chrysler with the other cars in its price class?

Best of all, you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor for the cost of a medium-priced car. Here is year-ahead value that means better re-sale value for years to come.

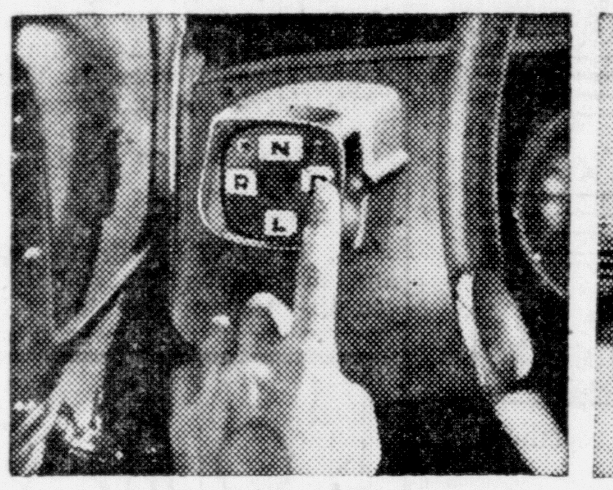
WHY THE CHRYSLER WINDSOR V-8



Everything about driving a Chrysler is new! You touch a button on the left (and safe!) side . . . and Push-button PowerFlite, the smoothest of all transmissions, goes into action.

From four lengths behind to four lengths ahead of a moving truck going 40 m.p.h. in 8 seconds flat. That's the kind of reserve power you get in Chrysler's great airplane-type V-8 engine.

IS THE YEAR-AHEAD CAR

And talk about style! Here's the "PowerStyle" look that is showing its sassy tail to contemporary car designs. Isn't it time you compared a Chrysler with the other cars in its price class?

Best of all, you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor for the cost of a medium-priced car. Here is year-ahead value that means better re-sale value for years to come.

50 Years Ago

January 26, 1906

A desperate revolver battle, in which one robber was killed and another injured, was fought in the fog and darkness at Des Plaines, early last Saturday morning. Railroad detectives opened fire at a quartet of thieves who attempted to escape after being caught in the act of stealing $500 worth of brass journals at a section house 10 yards east of the Northwestern railway station. The light of the flash from two barrels of a shotfun fired by one of the detectives, made it possible for another officer to draw a bead on the man who was killed. The wounded man was shot after he had become entangled in a barbed-wire fence and the detective, who made the capture was also caught by the barbs as he seized the man. The remaining two thieves escaped. A wagon which they had loaded with car brasses was captured.

Butter was firm at 27 cents on the Elgin Board of Trade, Monday.

Miss Hattie and Laura McElhose spent Wednesday in the city.

Very few people at church Sunday because the roads were so bad.

The editor paid the public school a brief visit, Thursday and found the teachers and pupils in all departments doing splendid, systematic work. The children in Miss Horcher's room can't help but like to go to school. It makes a person wish he were a child again, so he could enjoy and have the advantages of modern methods of teaching. It is work and play combined.

A large crowd attended the Masquerade Saturday evening. Miss Beckman of Palatine won first prize, a silk umbrella. Gustave Heim, a box of cigars, was also a lucky one.

The Arlington Heights Public school has been awarded the Chicago Tribune $100 prize for showing the greatest progress in agricultural education and the best results of the year.

The Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. points with pardonable pride to the splendid record they have made during the year just passed by by not having killed a single passenger.

Don't kiss your wife, she can wait. Don't kiss your sweetheart, she MUST wait. If your mother-in-law comes for a Sunday or a holiday visit, let her kisses go over for three weeks. If the sweetheart kiss can not wait, strain it with antiseptic cloths or kiss by proxy. It is all due to the prevalence of grippe in the worst form. The disease germs are spread by kissing more readily than other known means and citizens should aid the health department in fighting the malady. It often develops into penumonia and the weakened victim is almost sure to succumb.

Say, girls. This is leap year so you can propose to that fellow of yours.

Workmen have been busy this week installing the new street lights which are 60 candle power and greatly improve the lighting of the streets. There are now 76 lights and we defy any town in this vicinity to make a better showing in brilliancy of streets after dark than Palatine does.

Mail carrier, John Gainer, is possessed of an unusual amount of self control these days. When he leaves home he bids his family goodbye never knowing if he will ever see them again, as the chances are about even that he and his mail wagon will sink so deep in the mud on his route that all trace of him will be lost.

January 29, 1926

A shadow of sorrow crossed the path of many in Wheeling this week, when Miss Elizabeth Port succumbed at the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago Sunday morning following an operation. Miss Port, with her mother, came to Wheeling about fifteen years ago to assist in the establishment of the Crane colony for Widows and children now known as Childerley. Her work here is pioneer and unique, demanding freshness of thinking, wide knowledge of human nature, and at the same time personal devotion.

Ground was broken this week for a block of fine stores at the corner of Evergreen and Miner streets, adjacent to the Arlington Theatre. Building operations will start very soon for a block of five stores corner of Campbell and Vail streets. Mr. Hagenbring, proprietor of the Five and Ten Cent Stores of Des Plaines and Arlington Heights, has removed the residence to the south end of the lot, which he recently purchased at the corner of Campbell and Vail street and is waiting for warmer weather when construction work will start upon his five stores.

Arlington Heights south side grade school will open its doors next Monday to all children of the 6th grade and below who reside south of the railroad tracks. The new school, one of the most complete for its size and purpose in this part of the country is completed.

There is a general sentiment prevailing upon the commuters that the expected improvements that the C&NW Ry. advertised so extensively were of little avail to the towns north of Des Plaines. There is still five hours upon Sunday afternoons without a train towards Chicago. There are three hours in the morning of week days without a Chicago train. These commuters feel that they have come "clean" in the payment of increased fares and ask some service in return.

While speaking of train service, it will not be out of place to say something about the mails. The local service between the towns upon the division is very inferior. There is only one south bound and one north bound mail train a day that makes local stops. This means that a package of mail from Arlington Heights for Palatine, only three miles away, must be mailed before 7:45 a.m. or wait until the next day.

January 24, 1936

The President's Birthday ball, the social highlight for the month of January, will be held Thursday night at the CYO social center, York and Arthur streets, Elmhurst. This is the third annual event of its kind to be staged here.

Sunday, Jan. 19, was another milestone in the life of our local editor, Mr. Guy Sampson of Bensenville. He advises us that he was born on the banks of the Kickapoo river in Wisconsin on Jan. 19, 1876, which makes him as old as two old maids of 30 years each. Guy says good morning to everyone he meets whether it be forenoon or afternoon and all, he says, because he is still in the morning of life and still hopes to spend as many years on this old earth as either his father or mother are able to.

Sutherland Woman's Relief Corps presented the Salem Evangelical Church with a beautiful silk flag at the service last Sunday evening.

An inspiring poem and "Happy Birthday" wishes by the president, Mrs. Stuart Paddock, began the fifth anniversary festivities of the Woman's club of Palatine, Tuesday, January 21, at the high school. The idea of a Woman's club in this community had its inception at a basketball game. The idea and plenty of courage enabled Mrs. George Butler to organize the Woman's club of Palatine in January, 1931. Thus, the first candle lighted by Mrs. Elvin Steinbrinck in the candle-lighting ceremony honored Mrs. Butler and the first club year. The second year the club joined the District Federation. The third year affiliations with the State Federation began. The fourth year Palatine as a community recognized the permanency of the organization. The fifth candle was lighted for the present year, with high hopes for the future as well.

The first permits for building material to be issued in the Chicago area for the construction of homes for veterans were issued last week for the construction of 40 homes in Palatine. The permits were issued for homes in the Arthur T. McIntosh Palanoi Park subdivision.

Palatine high school district, in the same condition as a great many other school districts in Cook county, must ask the voters' permission to increase its tax rate. The need for that increase in tax rate is not brought about by the need for more money than used last year but because recent state legislation has decreased the legal rate that can hereafter be used by schools.

At a recent special meeting of the high school board of Bensenville, it was voted to proceed with plans for an addition to the present high school building to be erected at the southwest corner of the structure and to consist of the equivalent of twelve rooms, with full basement and two floors.

At the last meeting of the board of trustees of the village of Bensenville, an ordinance providing for the creation of a village plan commission was passed. The commission will consist of five members, appointed by the president, William B. Peck, with the approval of the board. The commission will have the power to prepare and recommend to the president and board, a comprehensive plan of public improvements, looking to the present and future development of the village.

The final report on the Victory Loan for the Metropolitan area shows that Mt. Prospect and Elk Grove township placed tenth with a percentage of 177.2 per cent of its quota.

A $150,000 deluxe bowling establishment in Arlington Heights has become something more than just a rumor. Negotiations have progressed to the point that the village officials were asked last week to repeal the ordinance that sets 11 o'clock as the closing hour for bowling alleys.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Now that the New Year's total of traffic fatalities and injuries is in, it is time to recount the causes, and see if we can find some way of overcoming this terrifying, shameful waste of human life.

A high percentage of holiday traffic accidents are caused by certain types of drivers; the drinker, the speeder, and the fellow who is out to scare hell out of the rest of us by cutting in and out of traffic, passing cars at hill tops, failing to dim bright lights in after dark travel, and general carelessness and disregard for his fellow drivers, his own, and other passengers.

STRICT supervision and prompt punishment and fines will have results, and will be a deterrant; but reducing the necessity for such action through preventive measures is far better. Two lane highways with under and over passes, plus new highways made more skid resistant when wet is a costly, but valuable preventive measure.

The other day I got an idea which I am passing on to whoever wants to develop it. Suppose that in Chicago, all business and factory employees north of Madison street were given Friday instead of Monday off for Christmas day when it falls on a Sunday; and all of those north of Madison street were given the usual Monday off. Theoretically, this would reduce the number of employee driven cars on the highways during a double or triple holiday by one half, lessening the congestion and lowering the death and injury toll by that much.

THINGS COULD be equalized by alternating the day off for a holiday each time, so that one time those north of Madison would have Monday, while the next holiday they would have Friday.

Maybe that would mean some of us would celebrate Christmas a day early when it falls on the weekend, but is that too much to ask if the number of weekend fatalities could be cut by even so little as 25 per cent?

It would be possible to use this idea in smaller cities all over the nation, too. Just an idea—maybe it has been thought of and discarded before—but as a 'teen ager would say, "it digs me!" It would save some lives each time it was applied. And if it saved 100 lives each weekend for Christmas, New Year, July 4th and Labor Day—that would be 400 people living, working and buying groceries who otherwise might be wearing wooden overcoats!

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

Arlington Heights

The village board approved purchase of a lot on north State road on which a new fire station will be erected.

Representatives of 9 property owners associations met to discuss a campaign for the formation of a mosquito abatement district. The district, if formed, would be large enough to control all mosquito breeding spots in northwest Cook county.

Rolling Meadows

A total of 395 voters registered during the week to bring the total registration within the city since May 1 to 628.

Palatine

At a hearing in Palatine the Cook county zoning board of appeals heard arguments from petitioners wishing to erect a service station and a motel at 2 locations along U. S. 14 in Palatine township. The board took the cases under advisement.

Members elected to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce were C. Berlin, Fred Rogers, Fred Korber, N. Whipplefurth, Harriet Koop, Moose Foster, Shirley Shanklin, Jean Moore, Mrs. Paul Wilson and Adolph Kunze.

Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect's railroad parking lots are to be blacktopped and parking meters installed. Negotiations for the lease with the Chicago North Western railway, bids for surfacing and costs of meters have all been arranged by the Mt. Prospect Lions club.

Light industrial zoning was extended along Prospect ave. to Edwards st. in an ordinance enacted by the trustees.

Mt. Prospect's first income from the ½ cent sales tax which went into effect October 1 amounts to a net of $2,982.53 for the month of October.

Prospect Heights

A large super market will be erected in the new shopping center planned for the corner of McDonald and Elmhurst rds.

Monday the community had its first delivery of mail, with postmaster W. H. Watson promising to "get the mail out before dark as soon as the snags are ironed out."

Wheeling

A home owners' organization was formed by residents of Dunhurst Heights with the object of planning for future improvements for the subdivision.

Barrington

Instant coffee will soon be made in Barrington plant of the Jewel Tea Co. Equipment costing $400,000 will be installed in an already existing building. The operation will be the only one of its kind in the Midwest.

Des Plaines

Plans are under way to erect a modern office and bank building at the southeast corner of Lee st. and Prairie ave. The building will house the First National Bank. On an adjacent lot there will be parking spaces for 50 cars.

DuPage County

Officials of 4 north DuPage county villages, Wood Dale, Addison, Roselle and Itasca, met Monday night in Itasca to consider formation of a sanitary district in the Salt creek basin area.

J. T. Harris Jr., manager of Illinois Bell, announced that 4,100 telephones in Bensenville and Wood Dale will be changed to dial operation next year. He said that work on a new dial exchange building would be started "as soon as possible" and that construction bids would be sought beginning this week. The project will cost 1½ million dollars.

Walter Ashdown, Wood Dale engineer, told the council meeting that it will be the end of 1957 before the sewer system now under construction can be completed.

No Thirst for Culture

Concerning the controversy about a library for Bensenville, I feel constrained to add a note of caution. Are there really enough genuine readers in the area to justify the expenditure of tax funds and/or private funds and energy?

Late in 1950 we opened a small library in the vestibule of Holy Ghost Church in Wood Dale. It has grown from its initial 50 volumes to approximately 275 books, with access to another privately owned 200 books, non-fiction of current interest, available on request for titles. At most, a fourth of the church library holdings might be classed as denominational, leaving 75 per cent of general interest, recent fiction, non-fiction, and reference material. Mrs. Manly has periodically mentioned in Wood Dale Flashes that all residents are welcome to use the library. The membership fee of 25 cents, and a 10 cent weekly rental on books is minuscule; there must be other reasons for the lack of interest.

Perhaps the decentralization of the home is part of the picture; every member of the family seems to be going to social activities or committee meetings several times a week, and transportation must be provided. If anyone does stay home, it requires only a minimum of effort to turn on TV and let it provide a soothing soporific for the mind. Also, possibly our devotion to John Dewey these past thirty-five years has produced better do-it-yourselfers than readers.

Although hundreds of persons pass within four feet of the library each Sunday, we are astonished if as many as three stop for books; these potential readers are not only from Wood Dale, but also from the rarefied atmosphere of contignons communities. If there is thirst for culture in this area, our library circulation shows scant eveidence of it. We have considered weekday evening hours, but if people will not bother to stop after Sunday services, they will not take the trouble to make an extra trip during the week.

For pleasurable reading, there must be an occasional hour of peace in the home; without it, all the books within reach will remain unused.

Mrs. G. F. Welter, Wood Dale

This Esoteric Journal

This letter is written so that my friends might be dissuaded from hurtling themselves into the breach in my public defenses made by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune; treatment given my comments on the possible half-cent sales tax in this newspaper should not be blamed on the reporter, Mr. Thomas Brennan.

YOU SEE, Mr. Brennan was covering the board meeting for the first time and apparently had no knowledge or recollection of headlines in this esoteric journal heralding the passage of ordinances which, in fact, had never been drafted, when the board merely instructed the attorney, by its vote, to prepare an ordinance for discussion, reading and eventual consideration at a later meeting. It might be said that banner pronouncing the board's summary discharge of a village manager - still very much in evidence - was a case in point. He could not see my conjured vision of the headline: SALES TAX ORDINANCE PASSED BY BOARD when I cautioned Mr. Bishop concerning press reaction to such instructions to Mr. Thal as being "tantamount to passage."

Certainly, my friends must not be outraged by the implied criticism by the Herald of my use of the term "executive session" in this connection. Mr. Brennan surely felt constrained to apply the same connotation to this expression as had a colleague recently in reporting that Mr. Davis wanted an "executive" or "secret" meeting of the board on certain matters, applying an archaic meaning to a word which defines simply a session at which no legislative action is to be taken.

No, cease and desist, my brave and loyal compatriots, for the day will come when this periodical and the general citizenry will wish to heaven that we of the village board would pass or defeat the sales tax ordinance and put an end to the eternal public meetings on the subject. And, I suspect that Mr. Brennan will take the lead in the movement as a dedicated journalist whose inspired pen cannot silently endure boredom.

The undersigned are a group of neighbors who would like to have Mrs. D. O'Kane present them with a bill for any property damage caused by their children. As of this date, we have been unaware that our children have caused property damage.

We would like to know how we can protect ourselves from acquiring belligerent neighbors who use profane language in the presence of and against our children.

We realize that our mortgage covers not only our particular plot, but also an obligation to the community life and the harmonious spirit that should exist within. A pugnacious attitude is not the way to solve problems. There are other people who have already raised their families, living amongst us who do not feel that the neighborhood children are destructive, much less that they even understand the meaning of "sneak attack."

As parents, we are concerned with the actions of our children and would not make light of complaints if received.

When you refer to damage to your property, you must be referring to the front yard, due to the fact that the back is mostly weeds, except where your two barking cocker spaniels have dug holes.

Grateful for City

Mrs. A. C. Schutz of Rolling Meadows complained of noisy horns, unshoveled sidewalks, papers burned at all hours, etc. In all fairness, look at the over-all picture in Rolling Meadows and compare it with the many annoyances and law violations in the part of Chicago you came from. Is there as much horn blowing, etc., out here?

One won't find perfection anywhere—city or small community. To us, wonderful neighbors, lots of fresh air (even with a few paper ashes mixed in), mean a lot. We are grateful for all the good things in Rolling Meadows.

Last summer 3 small children stood at the edge of their driveway waiting to cross over to the sidewalk on our side of the street. They waited so long, but there were always cars in sight. A man in a dark green panel truck stopped when he reached them (in the middle of the block) and beckoned Wish I had gotten his license number so I could have shouted it from the housetops. Would a truck driver in busy Chicago have stopped to do that?

Trivia

The letters from 2 Rolling Meadows residents gave an interesting view into the complex trivia of community living. I would like to reply to their complaints because my neighborhood is so similar.

We have neighbors, dogs and cats, children, garbage cans (lids off and on) and landscaping. (We haven't had much snow.) Most of us get along very well. We don't always agree and some of us might think our neighbor peculiar, but we get along with each other. We have to.

NO MATTER where you live, a few vital social facts remain the same: A good fence never hurts and is convenient to lean on.

Everyone's dog is a pest. (This includes all children but your own.)

Children will not keep sand in a sandbox, keep off new grass, or keep quiet.

The quickest way to lose friends and disinterest people is to quarrel, mix in quarrels, take sides in children's quarrels, and "hog" the party line of your telephone.

If you can smile, be interested, and say something friendly to your neighbor, he'll become a friend.

FORGIVE ME if I seem amused by the "terrible" behavior of Rolling Meadows toward Mrs. Schutz and Mrs. Smith. Don't you think they might find enough COMMUNITY PROJECTS to keep them busy so they wouldn't find time to know when, where, and how the garbage gets burnt?

Hit the Nail

In Jan. 19 issue of the Palatine Enterprise I enjoyed reading your article headed, "Juvenile Delinquency Begins In The Homes."

As the father of four adult and married children, I have obtained a lot of experience in their guidance and have done a lot of reading. My only comment on your article is: you hit the nail on the head.

Dear Peg:

It would be impossible, or at least ridiculous, for me to say what I think is "good" or "bad" about Toulouse-Lautrec's work. In fact, I would think it impossible or ridiculous for an artist to render such an opinion about another artist's work, for, it seems to me, that once you have convinced the people and your associates that you have studied and worked long enough to know all the "rules and regulations" of your art (be it drawing or writing) then you may do as you please, creating your own rules and regulations.

Surely this is what Lautrec did, since he has defied practically all the primary rules I have just been trying to learn in my painting class. Great expanses of black fill his posters—and black that is really black, "cool" colors such as blues and greens are used on spots nearest to the viewer, where warm ones should be used, and "warm" colors stay that way when they should be getting "cooler" as they move into the rear of the picture. Yet, with all his breaking of "rules" he creates effects which are startling, emotional and moving, revealing his sense of gaiety, humor and pathos.

ALTHOUGH YOU CAN'T say what is "good or bad" about an artistic effort, you can say what you like or dislike, according to your own feelings for drawing and color. I was unable to understand or appreciate, as I walked through the first exhibition rooms of Lautrec's work, the many portraits of his friends. They seemed to be done on brown cardboard, which added to the feeling of carelessness about his painting. Color seemed to cover color, as though covering a mistake. Faces seemed expressionless, backgrounds vague and colors all modified, as if he were being held under control and wished he weren't.

In first contrast, his posters are flamboyant with colors clashing in odd harmony, faces illuminated by footlights and legs of dancers often kicking in all directions. These must have been the scenes he loved most for his feelings are felt so much more vividly through them. Now he seemed to enjoy using strong oranges and pinks together—yet these were the colors of the swirling ruffles of the dancing girls at the Moulin Rouge and the flimsy dresses of the ladies of the "salons." For an eye-catching effect he often used orange and black together on his posters depicting only one person.

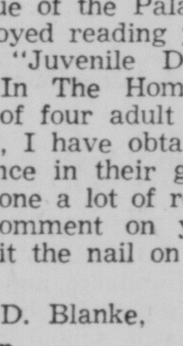
I THOROUGHLY ENJOYED his tiny sketches and drawings of the circus—in all these he caught the gay spirit of the animals and people performing together. He seemed, for a period, preoccupied with the drawing of horses—but like his women, they were seldom in proportion. The most surprising fact became apparent as I looked from women to horses—the heads were too small, necks too long and bodies too big. The bodies of the race horses looked like those of Percherons and the women's did too! Do you suppose he realized this or do you suppose he drew them this way, subconsciously aware of his infirmity? As you know, Toulouse-Lautrec was a dwarf and though he had many friends and people who loved him, he also suffered the taunts of strangers and those who disliked him.

This exhibit will be at the Art Institute until early February, so I hope you'll be able to have a chance to see it. It's a good example of the work of young artists in France during the late 1800's.

My love,
Patty

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY



Packing for a trip at our house is much, much more than just packing for a trip. Somewhere in our ancestry theer must have been a lass who took a trip and forgot her nightgown and toothbrush. Never let it be said that our ilk does not learn by experience.

Our subconscious and conscious lashes us into a perfect frenzy when we start to take off for foreign parts. It lashes us so much that we wonder that we manage to leave the stove and refrigerator home for the unfortunates who must bravely carry on in our absence. As we fill bag after bag with absolute essentials, the man in our life hovers about saying bravely that we are to remember at all times that we are flying and not in a cargo carrier either.

As he utters these disapproving words, we mentally decide to leave the sewing machine and the projector home. We have a sneaking feeling that he won't let us get away with those. However, so he won't get to feeling too smug, we do manage to sneak in a couple more pair of shoes, raincoat, some old bricks that may come in handy for an improvised barbecue pit, and Roget's Thesaurus.

These little tidbits always manage to make us just enough overweight to cause father to mutter strong words about traveling light and about when he was in the army. It seems that when he was in the army, he went all over Europe in the dead of winter with an extra pair of socks and a razor. Sartorially, he must have been a pip and we have no intention of emulating his sterling example.

We must admit, and we certainly hate to do it, that we always take too much with us. We end up with outfit after outfit that never come out of the suitcase. Then too, those poor unfortunates that are misguided enough to ask us to visit them, think that the Russian army has come to bivouac through the winter.

We keep assuring our hostess that we just brought a few things but that they happen to be a little bulky. We don't fool her for a minute and the poor soul revises her schedule from a quiet visit around the hearth to something more glamorous that will allow us to wear all those clothes. We are ashamed of ourselves for creating the impression that we expected a round of the Fontainbleau with a dash of Eden Roc thrown in.

She is ashamed of herself for having invited us in the first place. This is not the way to travel we wish to inform all who will listen. But just let the pain of this visit wear off, and if we get invited again, what do you bet that we do bring the sewing machine next time.

A desperate revolver battle, in which one robber was killed and another injured, was fought in the fog and darkness at Des Plaines, early last Saturday morning. Railroad detectives opened fire at a quartet of thieves who attempted to escape after being caught in the act of stealing $500 worth of brass journals at a section house 10 yards east of the Northwestern railway station. The light of the flash from two barrels of a shotfun fired by one of the detectives, made it possible for another officer to draw a bead on the man who was killed. The wounded man was shot after he had become entangled in a barbed-wire fence and the detective, who made the capture was also caught by the barbs as he seized the man. The remaining two thieves escaped. A wagon which they had loaded with car brasses was captured.

The editor paid the public school a brief visit, Thursday and found the teachers and pupils in all departments doing splendid, systematic work. The children in Miss Horcher's room can't help but like to go to school. It makes a person wish he were a child again, so he could enjoy and have the advantages of modern methods of teaching. It is work and play combined.

A large crowd attended the Masquerade Saturday evening. Miss Beckman of Palatine won first prize, a silk umbrella. Gustave Heim, a box of cigars, was also a lucky one.

The Arlington Heights Public school has been awarded the Chicago Tribune $100 prize for showing the greatest progress in agricultural education and the best results of the year.

The Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. points with pardonable pride to the splendid record they have made during the year just passed by by not having killed a single passenger.

Don't kiss your wife, she can wait. Don't kiss your sweetheart, she MUST wait. If your mother-in-law comes for a Sunday or a holiday visit, let her kisses go over for three weeks. If the sweetheart kiss can not wait, strain it with antiseptic cloths or kiss by proxy. It is all due to the prevalence of grippe in the worst form. The disease germs are spread by kissing more readily than other known means and citizens should aid the health department in fighting the malady. It often develops into penumonia and the weakened victim is almost sure to succumb.

Say, girls. This is leap year so you can propose to that fellow of yours.

Workmen have been busy this week installing the new street lights which are 60 candle power and greatly improve the lighting of the streets. There are now 76 lights and we defy any town in this vicinity to make a better showing in brilliancy of streets after dark than Palatine does.

Mail carrier, John Gainer, is possessed of an unusual amount of self control these days. When he leaves home he bids his family goodbye never knowing if he will ever see them again, as the chances are about even that he and his mail wagon will sink so deep in the mud on his route that all trace of him will be lost.

A shadow of sorrow crossed the path of many in Wheeling this week, when Miss Elizabeth Port succumbed at the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago Sunday morning following an operation. Miss Port, with her mother, came to Wheeling about fifteen years ago to assist in the establishment of the Crane colony for Widows and children now known as Childerley. Her work here is pioneer and unique, demanding freshness of thinking, wide knowledge of human nature, and at the same time personal devotion.

Ground was broken this week for a block of fine stores at the corner of Evergreen and Miner streets, adjacent to the Arlington Theatre. Building operations will start very soon for a block of five stores corner of Campbell and Vail streets. Mr. Hagenbring, proprietor of the Five and Ten Cent Stores of Des Plaines and Arlington Heights, has removed the residence to the south end of the lot, which he recently purchased at the corner of Campbell and Vail street and is waiting for warmer weather when construction work will start upon his five stores.

Arlington Heights south side grade school will open its doors next Monday to all children of the 6th grade and below who reside south of the railroad tracks. The new school, one of the most complete for its size and purpose in this part of the country is completed.

There is a general sentiment prevailing upon the commuters that the expected improvements that the C&NW Ry. advertised so extensively were of little avail to the towns north of Des Plaines. There is still five hours upon Sunday afternoons without a train towards Chicago. There are three hours in the morning of week days without a Chicago train. These commuters feel that they have come "clean" in the payment of increased fares and ask some service in return.

While speaking of train service, it will not be out of place to say something about the mails. The local service between the towns upon the division is very inferior. There is only one south bound and one north bound mail train a day that makes local stops. This means that a package of mail from Arlington Heights for Palatine, only three miles away, must be mailed before 7:45 a.m. or wait until the next day.

The President's Birthday ball, the social highlight for the month of January, will be held Thursday night at the CYO social center, York and Arthur streets, Elmhurst. This is the third annual event of its kind to be staged here.

Sunday, Jan. 19, was another milestone in the life of our local editor, Mr. Guy Sampson of Bensenville. He advises us that he was born on the banks of the Kickapoo river in Wisconsin on Jan. 19, 1876, which makes him as old as two old maids of 30 years each. Guy says good morning to everyone he meets whether it be forenoon or afternoon and all, he says, because he is still in the morning of life and still hopes to spend as many years on this old earth as either his father or mother are able to.

Sutherland Woman's Relief Corps presented the Salem Evangelical Church with a beautiful silk flag at the service last Sunday evening.

An inspiring poem and "Happy Birthday" wishes by the president, Mrs. Stuart Paddock, began the fifth anniversary festivities of the Woman's club of Palatine, Tuesday, January 21, at the high school. The idea of a Woman's club in this community had its inception at a basketball game. The idea and plenty of courage enabled Mrs. George Butler to organize the Woman's club of Palatine in January, 1931. Thus, the first candle lighted by Mrs. Elvin Steinbrinck in the candle-lighting ceremony honored Mrs. Butler and the first club year. The second year the club joined the District Federation. The third year affiliations with the State Federation began. The fourth year Palatine as a community recognized the permanency of the organization. The fifth candle was lighted for the present year, with high hopes for the future as well.

The first permits for building material to be issued in the Chicago area for the construction of homes for veterans were issued last week for the construction of 40 homes in Palatine. The permits were issued for homes in the Arthur T. McIntosh Palanois Park subdivision.

Palatine high school district, in the same condition as a great many other school districts in Cook county, must ask the voters' permission to increase its tax rate. The need for that increase in tax rate is not brought about by the need for more money than used last year but because recent state legislation has decreased the legal rate that can hereafter be used by schools.

At a recent special meeting of the high school board of Bensenville, it was voted to proceed with plans for an addition to the present high school building to be erected at the southwest corner of the structure and to consist of the equivalent of twelve rooms, with full basement and two floors.

At the last meeting of the board of trustees of the village of Bensenville, an ordinance providing for the creation of a village plan commission was passed. The comission will consist of five members, appointed by the president, William B. Peck, with the approval of the board. The commission will have the power to prepare and recommend to the president and board, a comprehensive plan of public improvements, looking to the present and future development of the village.

The final report on the Victory Loan for the Metropolitan area shows that Mt. Prospect and Elk Grove township placed tenth with a percentage of 177.2 per cent of its quota.

A $150,000 deluxe bowling establishment in Arlington Heights has become something more than just a rumor. Negotiations have progressed to the point that the village officials were asked last week to repeal the ordinance that sets 11 o'clock as the closing hour for bowling alleys.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Now that the New Year's total of traffic fatalities and injuries is in, it is time to recount the causes, and see if we can find some way of overcoming this terrifying, shameful waste of human life.

A high percentage of holiday traffic accidents are caused by certain types of drivers; the drinker, the speeder, and the fellow who is out to scare hell out of the rest of us by cutting in and out of traffic, passing cars at hill tops, failing to dim bright lights in after dark travel, and general carelessness and disregard for his fellow drivers, his own, and other passengers.

STRICT supervision and prompt punishment and fines will have results, and will be a deterrant; but reducing the necessity for such action through preventive measures is far better. Two lane highways with under and over passes, plus new highways made more skid resistant when wet is a costly, but valuable preventive measure.

The other day I got an idea which I am passing on to whoever wants to develop it. Suppose that in Chicago, all business and factory employees north of Madison street were given Friday instead of Monday off for Christmas day when it falls on a Sunday; and all of those north of Madison street were given the usual Monday off. Theoretically, this would reduce the number of employee driven cars on the highways during a double or triple holiday by one half, lessening the congestion and lowering the death and injury toll by that much.

THINGS COULD be equalized by alternating the day off for a holiday each time, so that one time those north of Madison would have Monday, while the next holiday they would have Friday.

Maybe that would mean some of us would celebrate Christmas a day early when it falls on the weekend, but is that too much to ask if the number of weekend fatalities could be cut by even so little as 25 per cent?

It would be possible to use this idea in smaller cities all over the nation, too. Just an idea—maybe it has been thought of and discarded before—but as a 'teen ager would say, "it digs me!" It would save some lives each time it was applied. And if it saved 100 lives each weekend for Christmas, New Year, July 4th and Labor Day—that would be 400 people living, working and buying groceries who otherwise might be wearing wooden overcoats!

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

Arlington Heights

The village board approved purchase of a lot on north State road on which a new fire station will be erected.

Representatives of 9 property owners associations met to discuss a campaign for the formation of a mosquito abatement district. The district, if formed, would be large enough to control all mosquito breeding spots in northwest Cook county.

Rolling Meadows

A total of 395 voters registered during the week to bring the total registration within the city since May 1 to 628.

Palatine

At a hearing in Palatine the Cook county zoning board of appeals heard arguments from petitioners wishing to erect a service station and a motel at 2 locations along U. S. 14 in Palatine township. The board took the cases under advisement.

Members elected to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce were C. Berlin, Fred Rogers, Fred Korber, N. Whipplefurth, Harriet Koop, Moose Foster, Shirley Shanklin, Jean Moore, Mrs. Paul Wilson and Adolph Kunze.

Mt. Prospect

Mt. Prospect's railroad parking lots are to be blacktopped and parking meters installed. Negotiations for the lease with the Chicago North Western railway, bids for surfacing and costs of meters have all been arranged by the Mt. Prospect Lions club.

Light industrial zoning was extended along Prospect ave. to Edwards st. in an ordinance enacted by the trustees.

Mt. Prospect's first income from the ½ cent sales tax which went into effect October 1 amounts to a net of $2,982.53 for the month of October.

Prospect Heights

A large super market will be erected in the new shopping center planned for the corner of McDonald and Elmhurst rds.

Monday the community had its first delivery of mail, with postmaster W. H. Watson promising to "get the mail out before dark as soon as the snags are ironed out."

Wheeling

A home owners' organization was formed by residents of Dunhurst Heights with the object of planning for future improvements for the subdivision.

Barrington

Instant coffee will soon be made in Barrington plant of the Jewel Tea Co. Equipment costing $400,000 will be installed in an already existing building. The operation will be the only one of its kind in the Midwest.

Des Plaines

Plans are under way to erect a modern office and bank building at the southeast corner of Lee st. and Prairie ave. The building will house the First National Bank. On an adjacent lot there will be parking spaces for 50 cars.

DuPage County

Officials of 4 north DuPage county villages, Wood Dale, Addison, Roselle and Itasca, met Monday night in Itasca to consider formation of a sanitary district in the Salt creek basin area.

J. T. Harris Jr., manager of Illinois Bell, announced that 4,100 telephones in Bensenville and Wood Dale will be changed to dial operation next year. He said that work on a new dial exchange building would be started "as soon as possible" and that construction bids would be sought beginning this week. The project will cost 1½ million dollars.

Walter Ashdown, Wood Dale engineer, told the council meeting that it will be the end of 1957 before the sewer system now under construction can be completed.

Hit the Nail

In Jan. 19 issue of the Palatine Enterprise I enjoyed reading your article headed, "Juvenile Delinquency Begins In The Homes."

As the father of four adult and married children, I have obtained a lot of experience in their guidance and have done a lot of reading. My only comment on your article is: you hit the nail on the head.

Barrington,

No Thirst for Culture

Concerning the controversy about a library for Bensenville, I feel constrained to add a note of caution. Are there really enough genuine readers in the area to justify the expenditure of tax funds and/or private funds and energy?

Late in 1950 we opened a small library in the vestibule of Holy Ghost Church in Wood Dale. It has grown from its initial 50 volumes to approximately 275 books, with access to another privately owned 200 books, non-fiction of current interest, available on request for titles. At most, a fourth of the church library holdings might be classed as denominational, leaving 75 per cent of general interest, recent fiction, non-fiction, and reference material. Mrs. Manly has periodically mentioned in Wood Dale Flashes that all residents are welcome to use the library. The membership fee of 25 cents, and a 10 cent weekly rental on books is minuscule; there must be other reasons for the lack of interest.

Perhaps the decentralization of the home is part of the picture; every member of the family seems to be going to social activities or committee meetings several times a week, and transportation must be provided. If anyone does stay home, it requires only a minimum of effort to turn on TV and let it provide a soothing soporific for the mind. Also, possibly our devotion to John Dewey these past thirty-five years has produced better do-it-yourselfers than readers.

Although hundreds of persons pass within four feet of the library each Sunday, we are astonished if as many as three stop for books; these potential readers are not only from Wood Dale, but also from the rarefied atmosphere of contignons communities. If there is thirst for culture in this area, our library circulation shows scant eveidence of it. We have considered weekday evening hours, but if people will not bother to stop after Sunday services, they will not take the trouble to make an extra trip during the week.

For pleasurable reading, there must be an occasional hour of peace in the home; without it, all the books within reach will remain unused.

Mrs. G. F. Welter, Wood Dale

This Esoteric Journal

This letter is written so that my friends might be dissuaded from hurtling themselves into the breach in my public defenses made by the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune; treatment given my comments on the possible half-cent sales tax in this newspaper should not be blamed on the reporter, Mr. Thomas Brennan.

YOU SEE, Mr. Brennan was covering the board meeting for the first time and apparently had no knowledge or recollection of headlines in this esoteric journal heralding the passage of ordinances which, in fact, had never been drafted, when the board merely instructed the attorney, by its vote, to prepare an ordinance for discussion, reading and eventual consideration at a later meeting. It might be said that banner pronouncing the board's summary discharge of a village manager - still very much in evidence - was a case in point. He could not see my conjured vision of the headline: SALES TAX ORDINANCE PASSED BY BOARD when I cautioned Mr. Bishop concerning press reaction to such instructions to Mr. Thal as being "tantamount to passage.

Certainly, my friends must not be outraged by the implied criticism by the Herald of my use of the term "executive session" in this connection. Mr. Brennan surely felt constrained to apply the same connotation to this expression as had a colleague recently in reporting that Mr. Davis wanted an "executive" or "secret" meeting of the board on certain matters, applying an archaic meaning to a word which defines simply a session at which no legislative action is to be taken.

No, cease and desist, my brave and loyal compatriots, for the day will come when this periodical and the general citizenry will wish to heaven that we of the village board would pass or defeat the sales tax ordinance and put an end to the eternal public meetings on the subject. And, I suspect that Mr. Brennan will take the lead in the movement as a dedicated journalist whose inspired pen cannot silently endure boredom.

The undersigned are a group of neighbors who would like to have Mrs. D. O'Kane present them with a bill for any property damage caused by their children. As of this date, we have been unaware that our children have caused property damage.

We would like to know how we can protect ourselves from acquiring belligerent neighbors who use profane language in the presence of and against our children.

We realize that our mortgage covers not only our particular plot, but also an obligation to the community life and the harmonious spirit that should exist within. A pugnacious attitude is not the way to solve problems. There are other people who have already raised their families, living amongst us who do not feel that the neighborhood children are destructive, much less that they even understand the meaning of "sneak attack."

As parents, we are concerned with the actions of our children and would not make light of complaints if received.

When you refer to damage to your property, you must be referring to the front yard, due to the fact that the back is mostly weeds, except where your two barking cocker spaniels have dug holes.

Grateful for City

Mrs. A. C. Schutz of Rolling Meadows complained of noisy horns, unshoveled sidewalks, papers burned at all hours, etc. In all fairness, look at the over-all picture in Rolling Meadows and compare it with the many annoyances and law violations in the part of Chicago you came from. Is there as much horn blowing, etc., out here?

One won't find perfection anywhere—city or small community. To us, wonderful neighbors, lots of fresh air (even with a few paper ashes mixed in), mean a lot. We are grateful for all the good things in Rolling Meadows.

Last summer 3 small children stood at the edge of their driveway waiting to cross over to the sidewalk on our side of the street. They waited so long, but there were always cars in sight. A man in a dark green panel truck stopped when he reached them (in the middle of the block) and beckoned Wish I had gotten his license number so I could have shouted it from the housetops. Would a truck driver in busy Chicago have stopped to do that?

Trivia

The letters from 2 Rolling Meadows residents gave an interesting view into the complex trivia of community living. I would like to reply to their complaints because my neighborhood is so similar.

We have neighbors, dogs and cats, children, garbage cans (lids off and on) and landscaping. (We haven't had much snow.) Most of us get along very well. We don't always agree and some of us might think our neighbor peculiar, but we get along with each other. We have to.

NO MATTER where you live, a few vital social facts remain the same: A good fence never hurts and is convenient to lean on.

Everyone's dog is a pest. (This includes all children but your own.)

Children will not keep sand in a sandbox, keep off new grass, or keep quiet.

The quickest way to lose friends and disinterest people is to quarrel, mix in quarrels, take sides in children's quarrels, and "hog" the party line of your telephone.

If you can smile, be interested, and say something friendly to your neighbor, he'll become a friend.

FORGIVE ME if I seem amused by the "terrible" behavior of Rolling Meadows toward Mrs. Schutz and Mrs. Smith. Don't you think they might find enough COMMUNITY PROJECTS to keep them busy so they wouldn't find time to know when, where, and how the garbage gets burnt?

A neighbor Bensenville

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

Packing for a trip at our house is much, much more than just packing for a trip. Somewhere in our ancestry theer must have been a lass who took a trip and forgot her nightgown and toothbrush. Never let it be said that our ilk does not learn by experience.

Our subconscious and conscious lashes us into a perfect frenzy when we start to take off for foreign parts. It lashes us so much that we wonder that we manage to leave the stove and refrigerator home for the unfortunates who must bravely carry on in our absence. As we fill bag after bag with absolute essentials, the man in our life hovers about saying bravely that we are to remember at all times that we are flying and not in a cargo carrier either.

As he utters these disapproving words, we mentally decide to leave the sewing machine and the projector home. We have a sneaking feeling that he won't let us get away with those. However, so he won't get to feeling too smug, we do manage to sneak in a couple more pair of shoes, raincoat, some old bricks that may come in handy for an improvised barbecue pit, and Roget's Thesaurus.

These little tidbits always manage to make us just enough overweight to cause father to mutter strong words about traveling light and about when he was in the army. It seems that when he was in the army, he went all over Europe in the dead of winter with an extra pair of socks and a razor. Sartorially, he must have been a pip and we have no intention of emulating his sterling example.

We must admit, and we certainly hate to do it, that we always take too much with us. We end up with outfit after outfit that never come out of the suitcase. Then too, those poor unfortunates that are misguided enough to ask us to visit them, think that the Russian army has come to bivouac through the winter.

We keep assuring our hostess that we just brought a few things but that they happen to be a little bulky. We don't fool her for a minute and the poor soul revises her schedule from a quiet visit around the hearth to something more glamorous that will allow us to wear all those clothes. We are ashamed of ourselves for creating the impression that we expected a round of the Fontainbleau with a dash of Eden Roc thrown in.

She is ashamed of herself for having invited us in the first place. This is not the way to travel we wish to inform all who will listen. But just let the pain of this visit wear off, and if we get invited again, what do you bet that we do bring the sewing machine next time.

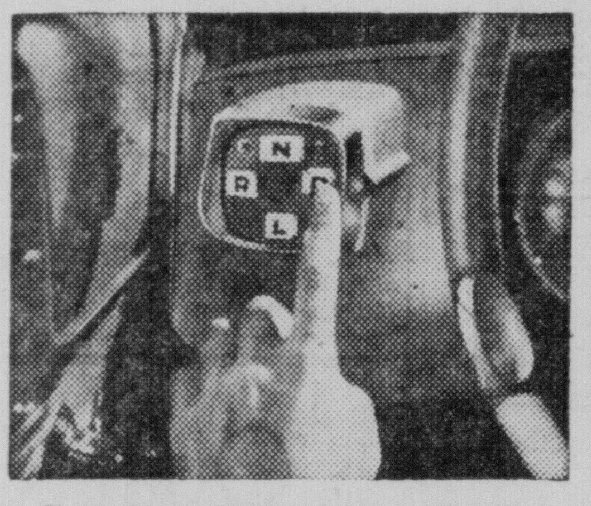
WHY THE CHRYSLER WINDSOR V-8



Everything about driving a Chrysler is new! You touch a button on the left (and safe!) side . . . and Push-button PowerFlite, the smoothest of all transmissions, goes into action.

From four lengths behind to four lengths ahead of a moving truck going 40 m.p.h. in 8 seconds flat. That's the kind of reserve power you get in Chrysler's great airplane-type V-8 engine.

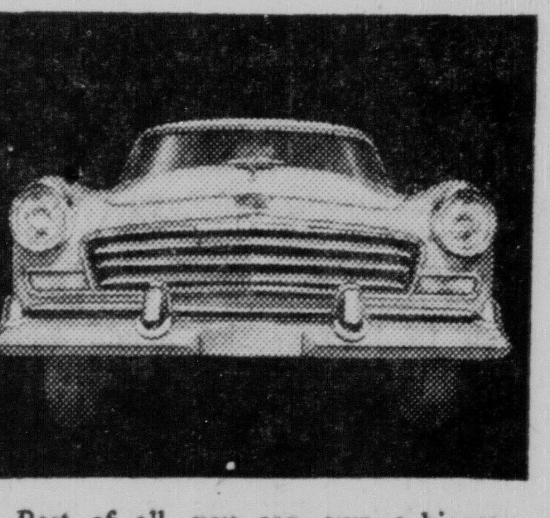
IS THE YEAR-AHEAD CAR

And talk about style! Here's the "PowerStyle" look that is showing its sassy tail to contemporary car designs. Isn't it time you compared a Chrysler with the other cars in its price class?



Best of all, you can own a bigger, more powerful Chrysler Windsor for the cost of a medium-priced car. Here is year-ahead value that means better re-sale value for years to come.

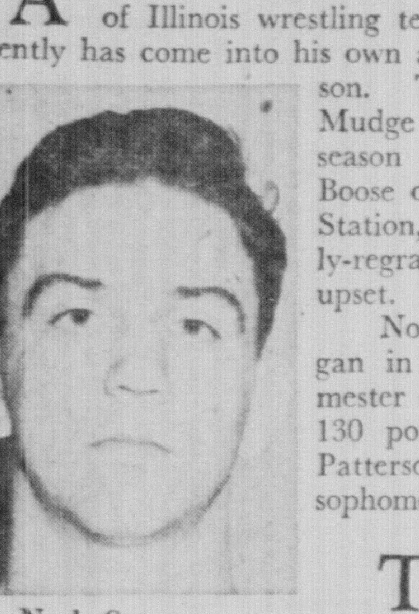
KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS' contribution to the University of Illinois wrestling team—junior Norb Sargent—apparently has come into his own as a Big Ten grappler this season. The former protege of Dick Mudge opened the Illinois dual meet season with a 1-0 victory over Ken Boose of Great Lakes Naval Training Station, then drew with Purdue's highly-regraded Hap Whitney in a major upset.



Norb Sargent

Norb drew again against Michigan in the last meet until after semester exams. Sargent is wrestling at 130 pounds for Coach B. R. "Pat" Patterson. He won his first letter as a sophomore.

TWENTY YEARS AGO the Chicagoland Lutheran church dart ball league had four scattered divisions; today there are eight divisions in the Chicago area. All have from eight to 12 teams playing a regular schedule of games from September until April, with finals to be played between the winners of first place in each division for the Chicagoland championship of the league.

Dart baseball as played in the church league is not a sissy game to those acquainted with the sport. Dart baseball is a game of skill and a lot of excitement for the players.

Darts are tossed underhand from the batter's position, 20 feet from the dart board, on which a baseball diamond has been marked off.

On this diamond are small two inch circles designating most plays in the regular game; when a player tosses a dart and it hits the small circle, the umpire standing at the board calls the plays. The game advances in the same manner as regular baseball. Base hits advance runners around the base paths and bring in the runs. Batters are called out when they hit the spaces on the board indicating outs.

It takes a lot of practice and skill to enable a player to toss his darts accurately into the small circle at which he is aiming. If the batter before him is on base he must try getting him home or advancing him along the base path into a scoring position. Each team has nine players and the top batters are always in the cleanup spot.

THREE WHITE SOX farm clubs won pennants in 1955, including Memphis in Southern, Colorado Springs in Western and Dubuque in Miss-Ohio Valley with another Sox farm, Waterloo, copping second in Three-I league . . . On Southern wrestling team is first string heavyweight Ed Miller of LaGrange . . . Each time Harry Combes-coached Illini cage teams have won 4 in a row they've won the title . . . National invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square Garden March 17-24 will be televised for the first time . . . There have been 2 minor changes in national prep football rules.

One authorizes officials to call a penalty when they detect a coach signalling to players on the field . . . Other calls for the clock to start immediately after a timeout called by an official's signal rather than start at the snap of the ball.

Bloom trackmen have started indoor workouts under direction of coach Ralph Steben, formerly of Wauconda, and will begin operating at North Central fieldhouse Feb. 4 . . . FBI agent George McSwain was Maine Dad's club speaker last week with the group planning winter sports banquet next week . . . Maine high's boys club raised $1,000 to help injured athletes by conducting a Christmas card mailing service among students, collecting the regular 2c fee per card, but donating the shoe leather for delivery . . . Bob Zuppke recently stated he dreamed up the football huddle because he didn't want to depend upon quarterbacks having fog-horn voices.

Jim Dutcher, Downers Grove and Illinois grad, is playing basketball with Quantico Marines this winter . . . Ron Purcell, former Pinckneyville star, has quit Dayton university.

One of the better swimmers for Grinnell this year is Glenbard's John Marsh, a junior . . . Carthage college cagers have won 8 of 14 games thus far, are averaging 84.6 points to opponents' 81.6 . . . We've often thought of trying to better our bowling by keeping our eyes closed . . . When Dave Kaiser kicked that important field goal for Michigan State he did it without using his contact lenses.

MAINE SWIMMING TEAMS have always been strong . . . Two grads now sophomores at Michigan State, Al Coxon and Fordon Fornell, helped their alma mater whip Wisconsin tankmen . . . Coxon set a new MSU pool record in taking the 200-yard individual medley in 2:19.3 . . . Fornell took second in 100 yard free style . . . Both boys were members of Maine high's medley relay team that took national honors in 1954.

Former state 440 champ Hal Caffey of LaGrange recently outran Indiana star Don Ward in a Hoosier trial . . . Ward whipped Michigan State's Biig Ten champ Kevan Gosper.

Our nomination of "most interested of the week" is Bill Schmidt of Arlington Heights junior high, who attends many grade and high school basketball games, a full-fledged scorebook in hand, keeping score solely for his own interest.

Palatine's John Busch, 6-4 center, recently tallied 21 points for Dubuque against Iowa Wesleyan . . . With the Dubuque wrestlers is starter Bill Harrison of Glenbard at 123 pounds.

THE HEIGHTS FROSH cagers are currently sporting an 8-1 record. Soph wrestlers have a 10-2 mark. Frosh stand 3-0. Soph cagers have a good mark, too. Maybe that's some solace to fans who are watching the varsity grapplers work for a 50-50 season, and varsity cagers try to win some games in February.

We still have faith in those basketball boys. We think they'll be heard from yet, though the WSC question is whether they can escape the cellar.

Cage mentor Howard Lester has had many sleepless nights, but received a surprise last weekend when a former high school star later making a cage name for himself at West Point dropped in. Ray Bergeson was one of 5 of "Lester's boys" simultaneously attending West Point in 1952, was a varsity football guard at army 3 years. He hails from Batavia.

DICK WINTERBAUER, Arlington's weight man supreme a couple of years back, is starting workouts with both shot and discus at Yale . . . Athletic directors and principals of West Suburban league will dine and discuss spring sports schedules at Brookwood country club, north of Addison, Wednesday night, Feb. 21 . . . When Heights soph wrestlers lost to Evanston, it was by the same score as the varsity, 27-16 . . . Sophs' other loss was to Leyden.

Principals, athletic directors and coaches of schools participating in Palatine regional basketball tournament will meet at Palatine Tuesday night, Jan. 31.

Young Pirates Could Surprise Coach And Fans

Palatine and Fenton high schools will have double weekends of Northwest conference basketball coming up, topped off by their own second meeting of the year at Bensenville Saturday night. Friday Palatine will be host to the league leading Ela-Vernon Bears while Fenton will be on the road to play at Grayslake.

Fenton, with 3 close defeats in a row, almost eliminating them from the conference race, has a good chance to recoup their losses against Grayslake (2-6) and Palatine (0-8).

FOUR BISONS have been potent scorers all season as Phil Johnson is fourth in league scoring with 147 points for an average per game of 18 while Lars Henricksen has averaged 15, Bob Heinrich 13, and Tony Tecza 11. Fenton is now tied with Grant at the .50 level with a 4-4 record in fourth place two games behind Glenbrook and Wauconda and three games off the pace of the Ela-Vernon Bears.

Even if the Bisons won all their remaining games the odds would be against their finishing on top.

PALATINE is setting a losing record but fans see the makings of a fine ball team in the sophomores and juniors Coach Gene Moylan has playing for him, and will be content to wait another year, for a real rebuilding program is underway. The Pirates may be pretty well overmatched in their home game Friday with Ela but if the Pirates do win a game this year it may come when least expected.

Last weekend they lost number 14 to Wauconda and number 15 to Maine. Pete Trenchard's 23 points was a bright spot in the Maine defeat and the lanky senior may have at last hit his real scoring stride of which there have been other indications lately.

AGAINST ELA the Pirates will meet a team about their own height but having much more speed and superior ball handling ability. At Bensenville Saturday they will be up against a great height handicap.

Palatine's frosh-sophs, whose only victory was over Ela-Vernon, have another crack at the Cubs Friday but Saturday take on the undefeated Fenton team.

In other games Friday Wauconda will play at Antioch and on Saturday Ela-Vernon will put their league lead squarely on the line in a home game with second place Glenbrook, a team which has shown real class the past two weeks. Grant will be idle this week postponing their Antioch game to next Tuesday and their Glenbrook game to Saturday February 4th.

Palatine Wrestlers Trip McHenry, 34-18

Palatine high wrestlers defeated McHenry in a doubleheader Monday night as the varsity won 32-14 and the frosh-sophs 34-18. Winners for the Palatine varsity were Jack Pollien 103, Jim McCreery 127, Karl Schwenk 133, Hans Wehner 138, Dennis Lundgren 145, John Dilks 154, Dick Lundgren 165, and Leonard Rohde, heavyweight. Rohde pinned his man in 45 seconds, McCreery in 1:05, and Pollien in 1:15.

In frosh-soph matches Palatine winners were Bill Sweet, 95, Mearl Hamilton 103, Eligio Patlan 127, John Gehling 153, Bob Nordin 145, Don Teegan 154, Tony Mastroiani 165.

In the varsity matches Palatine trailed 11-5 after 4 matches but then took 6 bouts in a row to make the matches a runaway. McHenry had taken third place in the Palatine holiday wrestling tournament. It was the 7th win in 10 dual matches for Palatine.

Saturday night Palatine will be host to the strong Glenbrook team.

Dot won high average for girls. Other 4 were league champs for the partial schedule just completed, with Catherwood also taking high average for boys. —Staff Photo

Good Playmaker

Dave Helms, outstanding with the Northwest conference frosh champs last year, has been a good playmaker for Fenton this season. He was brought up to the varsity after the first couple of games when Coach Frank Novatny needed a guard, though standing just 5-9 and weighing 140 pounds.

Dave has long arms, plenty of spring in his legs, can rebound with 6-footers. He needs more confidence in his shooting, however, is a good defensive man for his size. Dave and Henrikson provide the defensive front line for Fenton.

Palatine And Glenbrook To Wrestle For 'NW Title'

One of the best wrestling shows of the year on the Palatine schedule will be held in the new Pirate gym Saturday night when Glenbrook comes to town. Last year Palatine beat the Spartans by one point and the year before lost to Coach Sherman's team.

The 12 bouts on Saturday night's card will be for the unofficial Northwest Conference championship. Wauconda is the only other Northwest team competing in the mat sport. They have come up fast in 2 years, but not to the level of the Pirates and Spartans.

GLENBROOK will go all out to whip Palatine and might do it, for they have a number of top notch grapplers. Bill Reed at 145, Elko at 127, and Pagano at 120 were first place winners in the Palatine holiday tournament. Deering at 103 and Epp at 133 are also fine performers.

Palatine's hopes for victory depend not on Rohde, Dilks and McCreery, but rather on the less successful wrestlers and how they fare against the Spartans. Eric Bessemer at 112 is out of action for a week or two with an injury which will weaken the team but Hans Wehner, who lost only once last season, is back in school this semester and eligible for competition.

IT IS NOT known at what weight he will wrestle and Coach Ellis may shift him around from meet to meet as he is a boy who can hold his own in most any weight over 130.

Saturday's frosh-soph matches with Glenbrook will start at 7 p.m. with the varsity set to come on at about 8 to 8:15 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents and 25 cents.

Fenton Frosh-Sophs Score Easy Win Over Glenbrook

by MAX ZOLLNER

With a fine display of offensive power Fenton's frosh-soph rolled on to its eighth conference victory defeating the Glenbrook Spartans 54-41 on Glenbrook's floor Friday night.

Sparking the Bisons' offense were Bernie Sell and Terry Biefeld, hitting 21 and 14 points respectively. Timmeran and Ayres led the Spartan five with 12 and 11 tallies.

THE SCOREBOARD read 13-0, Fenton, before Glenbrook dumped in their first point in the opening quarter of play. The Bisons added 4 more to take a 17-8 first period lead.

This advantage was increased in the second stanza as the Bisons went way out in front 32-14. Pacing the Bisons was Bernie Sell as he chalked up 10 markers..

THE SPARTANS rallied in the third stanza outscoring the Bisons period ended with Fenton on top 42-33.

The junior Bisons "iced" the game in the final period scoring 12 points and holding Glenbrook to 8. The final score was Fenton 54, Glenbrook 41.

Arlington Jr. High Splits With Park Ridge

Arlington Heights junior high school basketball teams gained another split Friday, this time on the local court against Park Ridge. The Heights lights won, 51-27, but the heavies lost, 45-26.

The lightweight game saw Arlington gain a 11-7 first quarter lead, then keep stretching it to the final 24 point margin. Halftime score was 25-13, third period 39-23.

Coach Wissen's lights hit the basket constantly, making 5 baskets the opening period, 5 the second, 6 the third and 6 the fourth. High scorer for Heights was Jim Kennedy with 10 of 20 baskets and 2 of 3 free throws for 22 points. Bill Lips tallied 12 points and Bob Inman 10 for the winners. For the losers it was Brookens with 13.

THE HEAVIES were slow starters. Coach Bob Spinks' crew had a hard time getting by that first basket, with score reading 14-2 the opening period. Tally was stretched to 24-9 at the half.

The Heights 5 remained even the third stanza, 10-8, but dropped again the final quarter. High point men for the locals were Fred Empkie and Tom Klement with 8 apiece, plus Dougan with 6. Leading the winners were Hamilton with 14 and Schumann with 12.

Arlington JVs Lose

One point made the difference as the Arlington Heights JV basketball squad lost to Hinsdale Saturday, 44-43. The Cards, coached by "Bus" Ormsbee, went ahead the first quarter, 10-3, remained there 23-21 at the half.

That lead (?) was cut in half going into the final segment, 32-31. Jerry Klement sank 3 buckets that last period, with Wayne Haemker getting a pair. Dan Vittum hit a free throw. But 5 Red Devils were making 1 more basket and took the game.

Haemker's 8 baskets were tops for Heights, followed by 11 points by Ronald Garlisch. Klement counted 6 points. For the winners it was Johnson with 12, Mathias with 10.

Wheeling Blackhawks Split With Richmond

In a double header basketball card at the Arlington Heights high school last Thursday, the Wheeling Blackhawks and the Richmond Zephyrs wound up with an even split for the evening.

In the first game, Richmond jumped to a fast 24-6 lead before the Hawks offense began to move. The locals cut the lead to 28-15 at the half. In the second half, the Hawks kept cutting into the Richmond lead, but time ran out with the locals on the short end of a 46-41 score.

Ken Meyer of the Hawks was high individually with 7 baskets and 2 free throws for 16. Larry Brumm was runner-up with 12 points. High man for Richmond was Olsen with 9.

Judson	1	0	0	Di Piero	0	1	2
Mecklenburg	1	0	3
	15	16	14		15	11	16

SECOND CONTEST saw a much closer game as the Hawks and Richmond matched points for over 3 quarters of play, with the locals leading 17-16 at the first quarter, 39-35 at the half, and 58-55 going into the final quarter. Paced by Ken Van Sickle's 10 points from under and guards Bob Metcalf and Vic "Pop" Lesch combined 13 points from out, the Hawks moved away to win 87-78.

The Hawks' sharp-shooting guard Bob Metcalf paced the scorers with 11 baskets and 6 charity throws for 28 points. May and Judson were high for the losers with 22 each. Ken Van Sickle followed with 18.

The split gives Gene Bell's Hawks a 7 won and 2 lost standing for the season. Next week the Hawks travel to Glenview where they meet the Navy Fliers on Jan. 31 and return to Arlington Heights on Feb. 2 for a contest with either Elgin or Lake Forest. (Sp

Hts. Looked Good At Hinsdale, Hope For More Of Same

Arlington's Cardinal basketball squad comes home Friday night to meet Maine on the home court, after a 2-week trip to York and Hinsdale. The locals lost those 2 games, though the second one was no disgrace.

Heights led at halftime at Hinsdale, even stretched its lead the third period to 10 points. Then fouls called against the Cardinals put the Red Devils into the saddle and the game was lost.

Interestingly enough, not a single foul was committed by Hinsdale that third period in spite of the league leaders coming from 10 points back to take the lead.

ARLINGTON once again lost the the game on free throws. The locals made 18 of 22 charities, but Hinsdale scored on 29 of 36. Two teams were even on field goals. Hinsdale appeared the best team Heights has met thus far and could go on to the conference title.

Bright light of the game was the play of Bill Palmer, who has finally jelled. Bill played his best game of the year, had good poise, could help the team to several victories in the last 6 weeks of the season if he keeps it up.

Maine will be tough Friday. Last time the Demons won by just 2 points, but have improved since, the same as the locals.

THE ODDS are catching up with the frosh-sophs at Heights. Entire league is even, with exception of LaGrange, and some of those early victories for Arlington are turning the other way the second half. Arlington sophomores beat Maine by 7 points the last time the 2 schools met.

But that time Maine had lost 1 boy by injury, another had just been moved to the varsity. The young Demons were down for that one and will be tough this time.

Against Hinsdale Coach Maurice Klotz' 5 played its usual game, but Hinsdale was vastly improved. Heights previously whipped Hinsdale by 19, this time lost by 9. Bruce Bjorklund, who had been sick 8 days, played the final 7 minutes against the Red Devils but was decidedly not up to strength for the contest.

HALFTIME SHOW planned for the Maine game will include the demonstration by state gymnastics champs from Heights, plus music by the high school dance band.

Coach Gay Hughes will have Dick Neiland, Bruce Robb, Tom Seward and Ed Holm performing on the rings. On the horizontal bar it will be Bob Baas, John Koeppen, John Kimbrough and Ed Wison.

Norb Flowers, Bob Maierhofer, Dave Peterson and Gerard Moreland will be seen on trampoline. On side horse will be seen Fritz Snyder, Tom Pendleton and John Koeppen.

Arlington Frosh Win No. 8 Over Hinsdale Yearlings

Arlington's freshman "A" cagers defeated Hinsdale Saturday morning on the Cardinals' court, 61-50. The locals, coached by Ken Schaller, took a 4-point lead the opening period, stretched it to 10 at halftime and 14 going into the home stretch.

The victory was the eighth in 9 starts for the frosh "A" team. Only team to whip the young Cards is North Chicago, 27-26. Two teams will meet again in 2 weeks.

The Heights frosh had a scoring punch, and therein lies the tale. They tallied 8 baskets the first period, then 6, 5 and 10 the other 3 quarters. Allen Sander dropped in 8, Donald Gerken 7, and Pat Cortein, Bob Barbour and Lee Magnuson 4 apiece.

For the losers it was Harlow with 14 and Heller with 10.

Wauconda Whips Grayslake, 67-61

Wauconda moved within a half game of the Northwest conference lead Tuesday night as they whipped Grayslake 67-61 for their seventh league victory in 9 games. The Bulldogs trailed 16-10 the first period but outscored Grayslake in all quarters thereafter. They trailed 30-26 at the half but a 25-point splurge in the third period sewed up the game.

Gene Jaskot and Eddie Okpisza ha identical 8-4 records for 20 points apiece. Koko Svec notched 15 counters. Ritta scored 16 while Peregrin, Anderson, and Hunziker each had 12 for Grayslake.

Wauconda soundly trounced Grayslake's frosh-sophs 54-36 for their sixth straight victory. It was Grayslake's third defeat in 9 league games and dropped them into third place.

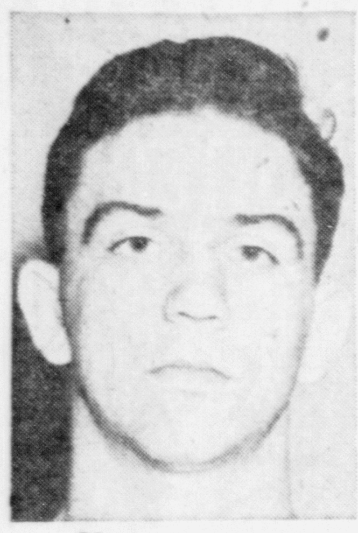
Cardinals Come Home To Meet Maine Fives Friday Night

THURSDAY, JAN. 26, 1956

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS' contribution to the University of Illinois wrestling team—junior Norb Sargent—apparently has come into his own as a Big Ten grappler this season. The former protege of Dick Mudge opened the Illinois dual meet season with a 1-0 victory over Ken Boose of Great Lakes Naval Training Station, then drew with Purdue's highly-regraded Hap Whitney in a major upset.



Norb Sargent

Norb drew again against Michigan in the last meet until after semester exams. Sargent is wrestling at 130 pounds for Coach B. R. "Pat" Patterson. He won his first letter as a sophomore.

TWENTY YEARS AGO the Chicagoland Lutheran church dart ball league had four scattered divisions; today there are eight divisions in the Chicago area. All have from eight to 12 teams playing a regular schedule of games from September until April, with finals to be played between the winners of first place in each division for the Chicagoland championship of the league.

Dart baseball as played in the church league is not a sissy game to those acquainted with the sport. Dart baseball is a game of skill and a lot of excitement for the players.

Darts are tossed underhand from the batter's position, 20 feet from the dart board, on which a baseball diamond has been marked off.

On this diamond are small two inch circles designating most plays in the regular game; when a player tosses a dart and it hits the small circle, the umpire standing at the board calls the plays. The game advances in the same manner as regular baseball. Base hits advance runners around the base paths and bring in the runs. Batters are called out when they hit the spaces on the board indicating outs.

It takes a lot of practice and skill to enable a player to toss his darts accurately into the small circle at which he is aiming. If the batter before him is on base he must try getting him home or advancing him along the base path into a scoring position. Each team has nine players and the top batters are always in the cleanup spot.

THE HEIGHTS FROSH cagers are currently sporting an 8-1 record. Soph wrestlers have a 10-2 mark. Frosh stand 3-0. Soph cagers have a good mark, too. Maybe that's some solace to fans who are watching the varsity grapplers work for a 50-50 season, and varsity cagers try to win some games in February.

We still have faith in those basketball boys. We think they'll be heard from yet, though the WSC question is whether they can escape the cellar.

Young Pirates Could Surprise Coach And Fans

Palatine and Fenton high schools will have double weekends of Northwest conference basketball coming up, topped off by their own second meeting of the year at Bensenville Saturday night. Friday Palatine will be host to the league leading Ela-Vernon Bears while Fenton will be on the road to play at Grayslake.

Fenton, with 3 close defeats in a row, almost eliminating them from the conference race, has a good chance to recoup their losses against Grayslake (2-6) and Palatine (0-8).

FOUR BISONS have been potent scorers all season as Phil Johnson is fourth in league scoring with 147 points for an average per game of 18 while Lars Henricksen has averaged 15, Bob Heinrich 13, and Tony Tecza 11. Fenton is now tied with Grant at the .50 level with a 4-4 record in fourth place two games behind Glenbrook and Wauconda and three games off the pace of the Ela-Vernon Bears.

Even if the Bisons won all their remaining games the odds would be against their finishing on top.

PALATINE is setting a losing record but fans see the makings of a fine ball team in the sophomores and juniors Coach Gene Moylan has playing for him, and will be content to wait another year, for a real rebuilding program is underway. The Pirates may be pretty well overmatched in their home game Friday with Ela but if the Pirates do win a game this year it may come when least expected.

Last weekend they lost number 14 to Wauconda and number 15 to Maine. Pete Trenchard's 23 points was a bright spot in the Maine defeat and the lanky senior may have at last hit his real scoring stride of which there have been other indications lately.

AGAINST ELA the Pirates will meet a team about their own height but having much more speed and superior ball handling ability. At Bensenville Saturday they will be up against a great height handicap.

Palatine's frosh-sophs, whose only victory was over Ela-Vernon, have another crack at the Cubs Friday but Saturday take on the undefeated Fenton team.

In other games Friday Wauconda will play at Antioch and on Saturday Ela-Vernon will put their league lead squarely on the line in a home game with second place Glenbrook, a team which has shown real class the past two weeks. Grant will be idle this week postponing their Antioch game to next Tuesday and their Glenbrook game to Saturday February 4th.

Palatine Wrestlers Trip McHenry, 34-18

Palatine high wrestlers defeated McHenry in a doubleheader Monday night as the varsity won 32-14 and the frosh-sophs 34-18. Winners for the Palatine varsity were Jack Pollien 103, Jim McCreery 127, Karl Schwenk 133, Hans Wehner 138, Dennis Lundgren 145, John Dilks 154, Dick Lundgren 165, and Leonard Rohde, heavyweight. Rohde pinned his man in 45 seconds, McCreery in 1:05, and Pollien in 1:15.

In frosh-soph matches Palatine winners were Bill Sweet, 95, Mearl Hamilton 103, Eligio Patlan 127, John Gehling 153, Bob Nordin 145, Don Teegan 154, Tony Mastroiani 165.

In the varsity matches Palatine trailed 11-5 after 4 matches but then took 6 bouts in a row to make the matches a runaway. McHenry had taken third place in the Palatine holiday wrestling tournament. It was the 7th win in 10 dual matches for Palatine.

Saturday night Palatine will be host to the strong Glenbrook team.

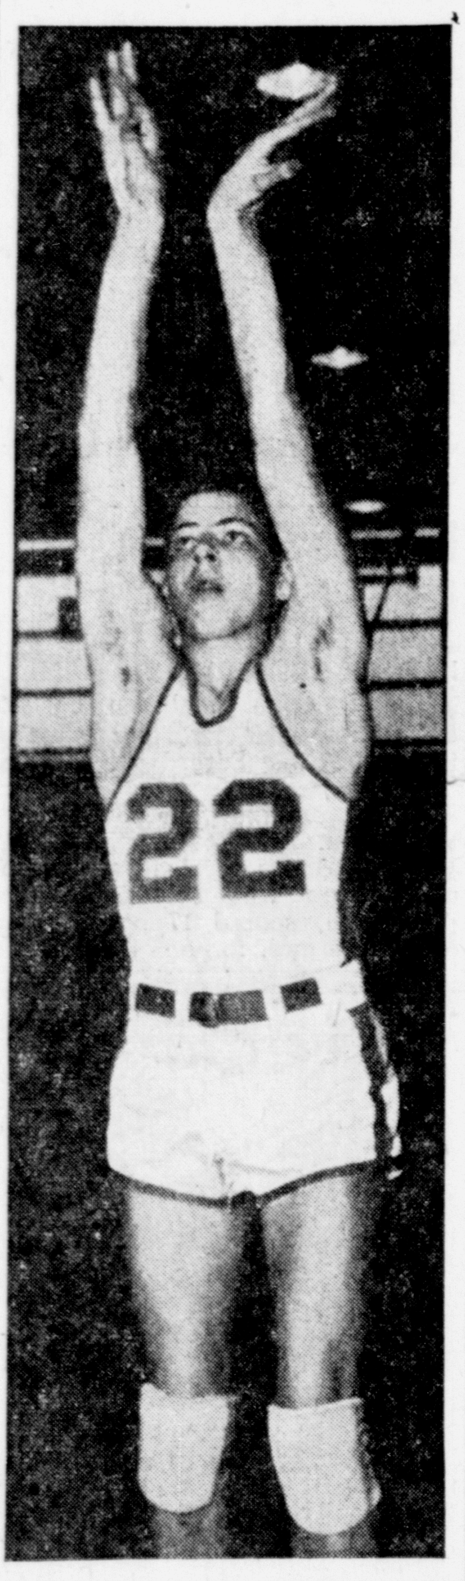
Dot won high average for girls. Other 4 were league champs for the partial schedule just completed, with Catherwood also taking high average for boys. —Staff Photo

Good Playmaker



Dave Helms, outstanding with the Northwest conference frosh champs last year, has been a good playmaker for Fenton this season. He was brought up to the varsity after the first couple of games when Coach Frank Novatny needed a guard, though standing just 5-9 and weighing 140 pounds.

Dave has long arms, plenty of spring in his legs, can rebound with 6-footers. He needs more confidence in his shooting, however, is a good defensive man for his size. Dave and Henrikson provide the defensive front line for Fenton.

Palatine And Glenbrook To Wrestle For 'NW Title'

One of the best wrestling shows of the year on the Palatine schedule will be held in the new Pirate gym Saturday night when Glenbrook comes to town. Last year Palatine beat the Spartans by one point and the year before lost to Coach Sherman's team.

The 12 bouts on Saturday night's card will be for the unofficial Northwest Conference championship. Wauconda is the only other Northwest team competing in the mat sport. They have come up fast in 2 years, but not to the level of the Pirates and Spartans.

GLENBROOK will go all out to whip Palatine and might do it, for they have a number of top notch grapplers. Bill Reed at 145, Elko at 127, and Pagano at 120 were first place winners in the Palatine holiday tournament. Deering at 103 and Epp at 133 are also fine performers.

Palatine's hopes for victory depend not on Rohde, Dilks and McCreery, but rather on the less successful wrestlers and how they fare against the Spartans. Eric Bessemer at 112 is out of action for a week or two with an injury which will weaken the team but Hans Wehner, who lost only once last season, is back in school this semester and eligible for competition.

IT IS NOT known at what weight he will wrestle and Coach Ellis may shift him around from meet to meet as he is a boy who can hold his own in most any weight over 130.

Saturday's frosh-soph matches with Glenbrook will start at 7 p.m. with the varsity set to come on at about 8 to 8:15 p.m. Admission will be 50 cents and 25 cents.

Fenton Frosh-Sophs Score Easy Win Over Glenbrook

by MAX ZOLLNER

With a fine display of offensive power Fenton's frosh-soph rolled on to its eighth conference victory defeating the Glenbrook Spartans 54-41 on Glenbrook's floor Friday night.

Sparking the Bisons' offense were Bernie Sell and Terry Biefeld, hitting 21 and 14 points respectively. Timmeran and Ayres led the Spartan five with 12 and 11 tallies.

THE SCOREBOARD read 13-0, Fenton, before Glenbrook dumped in their first point in the opening quarter of play. The Bisons added 4 more to take a 17-8 first period lead.

This advantage was increased in the second stanza as the Bisons went way out in front 32-14. Pacing the Bisons was Bernie Sell as he chalked up 10 markers..

THE SPARTANS rallied in the third stanza outscoring the Bisons period ended with Fenton on top 42-33.

The junior Bisons "iced" the game in the final period scoring 12 points and holding Glenbrook to 8. The final score was Fenton 54, Glenbrook 41.

Arlington Jr. High Splits With Park Ridge

Arlington Heights junior high school basketball teams gained another split Friday, this time on the local court against Park Ridge. The Heights lights won, 51-27, but the heavies lost, 45-26.

The lightweight game saw Arlington gain a 11-7 first quarter lead, then keep stretching it to the final 24 point margin. Halftime score was 25-13, third period 39-23.

Coach Wissen's lights hit the basket constantly, making 5 baskets the opening period, 5 the second, 6 the third and 6 the fourth. High scorer for Heights was Jim Kennedy with 10 of 20 baskets and 2 of 3 free throws for 22 points. Bill Lips tallied 12 points and Bob Inman 10 for the winners. For the losers it was Brookens with 13.

THE HEAVIES were slow starters. Coach Bob Spinks' crew had a hard time getting by that first basket, with score reading 14-2 the opening period. Tally was stretched to 24-9 at the half.

The Heights 5 remained even the third stanza, 10-8, but dropped again the final quarter. High point men for the locals were Fred Empkie and Tom Klement with 8 apiece, plus Dougan with 6. Leading the winners were Hamilton with 14 and Schumann with 12.

Arlington JVs Lose

One point made the difference as the Arlington Heights JV basketball squad lost to Hinsdale Saturday, 44-43. The Cards, coached by "Bus" Ormsbee, went ahead the first quarter, 10-3, remained there 23-21 at the half.

That lead (?) was cut in half going into the final segment, 32-31. Jerry Klement sank 3 buckets that last period, with Wayne Haemker getting a pair. Dan Vittum hit a free throw. But 5 Red Devils were making 1 more basket and took the game.

Haemker's 8 baskets were tops for Heights, followed by 11 points by Ronald Garlisch. Klement counted 6 points. For the winners it was Johnson with 12, Mathias with 10.

Wheeling Blackhawks Split With Richmond

In a double header basketball card at the Arlington Heights high school last Thursday, the Wheeling Blackhawks and the Richmond Zephyrs wound up with an even split for the evening.

In the first game, Richmond jumped to a fast 24-6 lead before the Hawks offense began to move. The locals cut the lead to 28-15 at the half. In the second half, the Hawks kept cutting into the Richmond lead, but time ran out with the locals on the short end of a 46-41 score.

Ken Meyer of the Hawks was high individually with 7 baskets and 2 free throws for 16. Larry Brumm was runner-up with 12 points. High man for Richmond was Olsen with 9.

Judson	1	0	0	Di Piero	0	1	2
	15	16	14		15	11	16

SECOND CONTEST saw a much closer game as the Hawks and Richmond matched points for over 3 quarters of play, with the locals leading 17-16 at the first quarter, 39-35 at the half, and 58-55 going into the final quarter. Paced by Ken Van Sickle's 10 points from under and guards Bob Metcalf and Vic "Pop" Lesch combined 13 points from out, the Hawks moved away to win 87-78.

The Hawks' sharp-shooting guard Bob Metcalf paced the scorers with 11 baskets and 6 charity throws for 28 points. May and Judson were high for the losers with 22 each. Ken Van Sickle followed with 18.

The split gives Gene Bell's Hawks a 7 won and 2 lost standing for the season. Next week the Hawks travel to Glenview where they meet the Navy Fliers on Jan. 31 and return to Arlington Heights on Feb. 2 for a contest with either Elgin or Lake Forest. (Sp

Hts. Looked Good At Hinsdale, Hope For More Of Same

Arlington's Cardinal basketball squad comes home Friday night to meet Maine on the home court, after a 2-week trip to York and Hinsdale. The locals lost those 2 games, though the second one was no disgrace.

Heights led at halftime at Hinsdale, even stretched its lead the third period to 10 points. Then fouls called against the Cardinals put the Red Devils into the saddle and the game was lost.

Interestingly enough, not a single foul was committed by Hinsdale that third period in spite of the league leaders coming from 10 points back to take the lead.

ARLINGTON once again lost the the game on free throws. The locals made 18 of 22 charities, but Hinsdale scored on 29 of 36. Two teams were even on field goals. Hinsdale appeared the best team Heights has met thus far and could go on to the conference title.

Bright light of the game was the play of Bill Palmer, who has finally jelled. Bill played his best game of the year, had good poise, could help the team to several victories in the last 6 weeks of the season if he keeps it up.

Maine will be tough Friday. Last time the Demons won by just 2 points, but have improved since, the same as the locals.

THE ODDS are catching up with the frosh-sophs at Heights. Entire league is even, with exception of LaGrange, and some of those early victories for Arlington are turning the other way the second half. Arlington sophomores beat Maine by 7 points the last time the 2 schools met.

But that time Maine had lost 1 boy by injury, another had just been moved to the varsity. The young Demons were down for that one and will be tough this time.

Against Hinsdale Coach Maurice Klotz' 5 played its usual game, but Hinsdale was vastly improved. Heights previously whipped Hinsdale by 19, this time lost by 9. Bruce Bjorklund, who had been sick 8 days, played the final 7 minutes against the Red Devils but was decidedly not up to strength for the contest.

HALFTIME SHOW planned for the Maine game will include the demonstration by state gymnastics champs from Heights, plus music by the high school dance band.

Coach Gay Hughes will have Dick Neiland, Bruce Robb, Tom Seward and Ed Holm performing on the rings. On the horizontal bar it will be Bob Baas, John Koeppen, John Kimbrough and Ed Wison.

Norb Flowers, Bob Maierhofer, Dave Peterson and Gerard Moreland will be seen on trampoline. On side horse will be seen Fritz Snyder, Tom Pendleton and John Koeppen.

Arlington Frosh Win No. 8 Over Hinsdale Yearlings

Arlington's freshman "A" cagers defeated Hinsdale Saturday morning on the Cardinals' court, 61-50. The locals, coached by Ken Schaller, took a 4-point lead the opening period, stretched it to 10 at halftime and 14 going into the home stretch.

The victory was the eighth in 9 starts for the frosh "A" team. Only team to whip the young Cards is North Chicago, 27-26. Two teams will meet again in 2 weeks.

The Heights frosh had a scoring punch, and therein lies the tale. They tallied 8 baskets the first period, then 6, 5 and 10 the other 3 quarters. Allen Sander dropped in 8, Donald Gerken 7, and Pat Cortein, Bob Barbour and Lee Magnuson 4 apiece.

For the losers it was Harlow with 14 and Heller with 10.

Wauconda Whips Grayslake, 67-61

Wauconda moved within a half game of the Northwest conference lead Tuesday night as they whipped Grayslake 67-61 for their seventh league victory in 9 games. The Bulldogs trailed 16-10 the first period but outscored Grayslake in all quarters thereafter. They trailed 30-26 at the half but a 25-point splurge in the third period sewed up the game.

Gene Jaskot and Eddie Okpisz ha identical 8-4 records for 20 points apiece. Koko Svec notched 15 counters. Ritta scored 16 while Peregrin, Anderson, and Hunziker each had 12 for Grayslake.

Wauconda soundly trounced Grayslake's frosh-sophs 54-36 for their sixth straight victory. It was Grayslake's third defeat in 9 league games and dropped them into third place.

PALATINE HAS BEEN notified of the teams assigned to the sectional wrestling tournament to be held in the Pirates' gym Friday and Saturday, February 17-18. Thirteen schools will compete including West Aurora, Oswego, DeKalb, Wheaton, Wheaton Academy, Crystal Lake, Downers Grove, York, Elgin, Arlington Heights, Rochelle, Elmwood Park, and the host school, Palatine.

The tournament favorite will be Elgin, who will wrestle against the Pirates a week from Friday night. Arlington Heights, York, and Palatine are considered contenders for the second place trophy.

Palatine's best hopes to advance to the state meet at Proviso February 24-25 are Leonard Rohde, heavy; John Dilks 145; and Jim McCreery 120 who are undefeated in dual meets this season. Also a strong contender will be Hans Wehner, who returned to school this semester. Wehner qualified for the state tournament last season.

GENE JASKOT of Wauconda who is a close third in Northwest scoring has had his best percentages against Palatine. In two games with the Pirates Jaskot has made 21 field goals in 26 shots for 81% and made 13 out of 15 free throws for 87%. Friday night Jaskot made 12 of 14 shots from the field. How much more accurate can you be?

If Jaskot went after the points he would win the scoring title hands down but he is a team player and feeder primarily, shooting only when he has a high percentage opportunity.

Grant is having a terrible time getting their new gym ready for basketball. All the first round games were played away from home but Friday in a second game with Ela Grant authorities rented the Antioch gym for their home game. This week Grant games are both postponed in hopes the gym will be ready. The game with Antioch is moved to next Tuesday, January 31, and the one with Glenbrook, to have been played Friday, is shifted to Saturday, February 4.

ARTHUR J. BERGSTROM, athletic director of Bradley university the past eight years and formerly successful football coach at Libertyville high school, was this week named assistant to the executive director of the national collegiate athletic association. This brings to mind the fact that in the late twenties Carl Megel was coach at Casey, Illinois, with Art Bergstrom his assistant. They were not able to give the school winners and left.

Megel came to Palatine and made losing basketball into championships before going into the Chicago system and eventually to his position today as head of the American federation of teachers. Bergstrom left a little later and finally came to Libertyville where sports were at low ebb and gave the Wildcats one of the longest winning streaks in the state on the gridiron. He then went to Bradley and a year later was made athletic director.

WE SAW OSCAR KURTZ of Arlington Heights at the Palatine Lions 30th anniversary meeting Thursday and asked him about his son Tom who used to be a good track man for the Cardinals. Oscar, who has been an official with the Lions International organization in Chicago may years, told us his son is finishing his Ph.D. degree in statistics at Princeton University and has been employed as a professor in that field at Dartmouth University for next school year.

Girls very rarely are mentioned in this column as Illinois high school rules prevent girls athletic competition between schools. However, it has come to our attention that a graduate of the Palatine high G.A.A. group, Barbara Sanborn, a sophomore at Lawrence college, has been selected on the all-star girls volley ball team at college following a similar distinction in field hockey received last fall.

AROUND THE CHICAGO suburban area the league leaders in basketball at this time are as follows: (1) Suburban—Proviso undefeated; (2) West Suburban—LaGrange and Hinsdale tied with one loss; (3) South Suburban—Thornton; (4) Southwest Suburban—Rich undefeated; (5) Little Seven—Sycamore undefeated; North Suburban—Crystal Lake with one loss to Zion last Friday; Northwest Suburban—Ela-Vernon one loss.

Fenton has kiissed their championship chances goodbye by losing three in a row since the holidays. They will need an immediate reversal of form to stay in the first division but should have a good chance for a change in fortunes at the expense of Grayslake and Palatine this coming weekend.

Every time Palatine plays they set a new record for consecutive Palatine defeats. The string has now reached 17, with 15 this season and the last two losses of last season. There would be no more appropriate time to break the string than against Ela's league leaders Friday night, though it would be the upset of the year if it happened. Palatine's head coach, Gene Moylan, used excellent judgment in bringing up sophs to his varsity squad this year as it will hasten the time when the Pirates will make a respectable showing. The result is that Palatine is a better team in defeat than they otherwise would have been and have hopes of a fair showing next season and a contender in 1957-58.

Trenchard Hits For 23, But Pirates Lose

by JOE GODDARD

For the second night in a row and the fifteenth time this season Palatine's basketball team was no match for their opponents as they obligingly fell under the attack of the Maine varsity 84 to 49.

Maine overcame a weak first quarter of only 11 points and totaled 23 or more for the remaining periods to hand the Pirates another defeat.

CENTER PETE Trenchard was the only bright spot for the locals as he scored almost half of Palatine's 49 points. His 23 points were not only good for high scoring honors but he was the second boy this year to hit the players' destination of 20 points. Roy Hahnfeld was the other Pirate to hit this figure when he made 20 against Libertyville early in December.

Maine's attack was stalled early in the game and they had to fight for a 36-25 half time lead. However, an effective full court press gave them a 51-36 third quarter lead and permitted all their substitutes to see fourth quarter action. Dick Nelson's 22 points, all in the second and third quarter, were the main gun in building this lead. In all, thirteen boys saw action with only three hitting the double figures. To add insult to injury the Pirates were fouled 26 times and could total only 19 charity tosses.

Only Trenchard of 11 Pirate players could hit the double figures with Terry Moore the closest competitor with 8 points

Fenton Freshmen Whip Glenbrook, 44-38

by BILL RIPERGER

Fenton's freshmen Bisons, after taking an 18-4 lead in the first period, whipped Glenbrook, 44-38. Fred Hohman of Fenton led all scoring with 13 points. Dierking of Fenton and Mead of Glenbrook each collected 5 baskets.

Hohman scored 7 points in the first period as the Bisons romped to an 18-4 lead. Mead scored all four of Glenbrook's points. In the second quarter Fenton outscored the Spartans 8 to 4, and they held a 26-8 halftime advantage.

In the second half Glenbrook outscored the Bisons 30-18, however they could not overcome that halftime deficit. Hohman scored 6 points in the half for Fenton. Mead, DeLuther and Mulford each scored six for Glenbrook. The final score was Fenton 44, Glenbrook 38.

Wauconda Runs Up Fast Count Over Palatine Cagers 78-46

by JOE GODDARD

Wauconda's Bulldogs stayed one game behind Ela's Bears last Friday in the hectic conference race by defeating a lifeless Palatine Pirate team, 78 to 46, at Wauconda.

Wauconda's 1—2—3 punch of Gene Jaskot, Koko Svec, and Ed Okpisz scored 64 points between them as they ran up a fast and convincing lead in the early stages of the game.

The game was played almost free of fouls as only 17 fouls were registered all game. The first half was completed in 22 minutes with the second only a few minutes longer.

WAUCONDA'S ATTACK featured the outside shooting of Svec whose missed shots, when they were missed, were tipped in by Jaskot, who missed only 2 shots, or by Okpisz. These 3 boys, along with 3 others, played the whole game and even ran up the score on fresh Palatine reinforcements. The Bulldogs were not noticeably bothered by the loss of junior Weinberg who turned an ankle earlier in the week and could not play.

Palatine's scoring was even with 9 players closely bunched together. Roy Hahnfeld had 9 points and Pete Trenchard and Rich Wisner had 8 to lead the pack.

Wauconda's percentage from the floor was an amazing 47% while the free throw average was an excellent 83%.

Palatine Wins Wrestling Meet From York, 27-19

by JOE GODDARD

Palatine's varsity wrestling squad recovered from a loss at Maine 2 nights before and whipped a stubborn York squad 27-19 Thursday at Palatine. The frosh-soph grapplers did not have any such luck as they lost, 36-9.

The senior matmen won their sixth meet in 9 starts, not including the holiday tournament, as 7 boys won their matches, 3 on pins. Two boys, John Dilks and Lenard Rohde maintained their victory streak at twelve straight wins.

ODLY ENOUGH, Dilks has not pinned a man yet this season and has had to decision all 12 of his opponents. Rohde, on the other hand, has pinned 9 of his opponents.

The lead changed hands frequently throughout the first 8 matches until Bob Nordin pinned his man to give Palatine a 17-14 lead. Richard Lundgren, enthusiastic over the recent surge, pinned his man in 1:36. Freshman Don Funston was then pinned at 175 but Rohde's pin which followed decided the meet.

Palatine Freshmen Beat Wauconda

by JOE GODDARD

The Palatine freshmen basketball team won its fourth game in 9 starts last Saturday by dumping Wauconda's Bulldogs for the second time this year 39 to 27 at Wauconda.

Dave Hodgson, leading freshman scorer with an 8.5 average per game, scored 17 points, nine on free throws, to pace the Pirates who never trailed in the game.

Pete John's 6 points in the first quarter gave Palatine their only points and a lead at that time, 6 to 2. The margin was still 4 points by half time but a Pirate last half of 19 points made the difference. The Bulldogs were handicapped by the loss of their star, Baldino, who turned his ankle the night before in the frosh-soph game and was used only sparingly.

John followed Hodgson with 10 points while Don Christensen totaled 5. Three Wauconda boys had 6 points.

Johnson's 31 Points Not Enuf In Fenton's Loss To G'brook

by BILL RIPPERGER

Fenton's Bisons succumbed to the Spartans, 70-63 Friday, in a conference battle at Glenbrook. This loss gives the Bisons a 4 win-4 loss record in conference play.

6'4'' Phil Johnson was the sparkplug for Fenton and also high scorer in the game. Phil collected 10 baskets and 11 free throws for 31 points, one of the best performances in the conference this season. Besides Phil, no other Bison scored in double figures. Boyd and Sawyers led the Spartans with 23 and 18 points respectively.

JOHNSON SCORED 9 points in the first period, but Boyd and Spalding combined for 13. The Glenbrook five led 19-15 at the end of the quarter. In the second stanza Johnson's scoring pulled the Bisons to within one point of Glenbrook, 35-34.

Big Phil droped in 6 baskets and one free throw. Ragland and Sawyers each scored six for the Spartans.

CONTINUING his scoring in the third period, Johnson hit for 7 points. Boyd and Sawyers each scored 8 for Glenbrook, though, as they pulled out to a 55-47 lead at the end of the period.

In the last quarter Boyd pushed through 2 baskets and 3 free tosses for Glenbrook. A substitute forward, Leon Langguth led Fenton with 6 free throws. Final score found the Bisons trailing, 70-63.

Ela-Vernon Rallies To Retain NW Lead

Ela-Vernon held to the top of the Northwest standings Friday night by coming from behind to whip Grant 48-42 in a low scoring game held on the neutral Antioch floor. The game was shifted as Grant's gym is not ready for play until January 31. Ela copped the frosh-soph game 54-43.

Al Bathrick who leads the league with 182 points, came through with 10 in the final period to turn the tide. Grant had been on top 26-22 at the half. Al Bathrick's 21 points topped the scoring as the little Ela guard tossed in nine from the field and three charity tries. It was Ela's seventh league win in eight games.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McElroy

PALATINE HAS BEEN notified of the teams assigned to the sectional wrestling tournament to be held in the Pirates' gym Friday and Saturday, February 17-18. Thirteen schools will compete including West Aurora, Oswego, DeKalb, Wheaton, Wheaton Academy, Crystal Lake, Downers Grove, York, Elgin, Arlington Heights, Rochelle, Elmwood Park, and the host school, Palatine.

The tournament favorite will be Elgin, who will wrestle against the Pirates a week from Friday night. Arlington Heights, York, and Palatine are considered contenders for the second place trophy.

Palatine's best hopes to advance to the state meet at Proviso February 24-25 are Leonard Rohde, heavy; John Dilks 145; and Jim McCreery 120 who are undefeated in dual meets this season. Also a strong contender will be Hans Wehner, who returned to school this semester. Wehner qualified for the state tournament last season.

GENE JASKOT of Wauconda who is a close third in Northwest scoring has had his best percentages against Palatine. In two games with the Pirates Jaskot has made 21 field goals in 26 shots for 81% and made 13 out of 15 free throws for 87%. Friday night Jaskot made 12 of 14 shots from the field. How much more accurate can you be?

If Jaskot went after the points he would win the scoring title hands down but he is a team player and feeder primarily, shooting only when he has a high percentage opportunity.

Grant is having a terrible time getting their new gym ready for basketball. All the first round games were played away from home but Friday in a second game with Ela Grant authorities rented the Antioch gym for their home game. This week Grant games are both postponed in hopes the gym will be ready. The game with Antioch is moved to next Tuesday, January 31, and the one with Glenbrook, to have been played Friday, is shifted to Saturday, February 4.

ARTHUR J. BERGSTROM, athletic director of Bradley university the past eight years and formerly successful football coach at Libertyville high school, was this week named assistant to the executive director of the national collegiate athletic association. This brings to mind the fact that in the late twenties Carl Megel was coach at Casey, Illinois, with Art Bergstrom his assistant. They were not able to give the school winners and left.

Megel came to Palatine and made losing basketball into championships before going into the Chicago system and eventually to his position today as head of the American federation of teachers. Bergstrom left a little later and finally came to Libertyville where sports were at low ebb and gave the Wildcats one of the longest winning streaks in the state on the gridiron. He then went to Bradley and a year later was made athletic director.

WE SAW OSCAR KURTZ of Arlington Heights at the Palatine Lions 30th anniversary meeting Thursday and asked him about his son Tom who used to be a good track man for the Cardinals. Oscar, who has been an official with the Lions International organization in Chicago may years, told us his son is finishing his Ph.D. degree in statistics at Princeton University and has been employed as a professor in that field at Dartmouth University for next school year.

Girls very rarely are mentioned in this column as Illinois high school rules prevent girls athletic competition between schools. However, it has come to our attention that a graduate of the Palatine high G.A.A. group, Barbara Sanborn, a sophomore at Lawrence college, has been selected on the all-star girls volley ball team at college following a similar distinction in field hockey received last fall.

AROUND THE CHICAGO suburban area the league leaders in basketball at this time are as follows: (1) Suburban—Proviso undefeated; (2) West Suburban—LaGrange and Hinsdale tied with one loss; (3) South Suburban—Thornton; (4) Southwest Suburban—Rich undefeated; (5) Little Seven—Sycamore undefeated; North Suburban—Crystal Lake with one loss to Zion last Friday; Northwest Suburban—Ela-Vernon one loss.

Fenton has kissed their championship chances goodbye by losing three in a row since the holidays. They will need an immediate reversal of form to stay in the first division but should have a good chance for a change in fortunes at the expense of Grayslake and Palatine this coming weekend.

Every time Palatine plays they set a new record for consecutive Palatine defeats. The string has now reached 17, with 15 this season and the last two losses of last season. There would be no more appropriate time to break the string than against Ela's league leaders Friday night, though it would be the upset of the year if it happened. Palatine's head coach, Gene Moylan, used excellent judgment in bringing up sophs to his varsity squad this year as it will hasten the time when the Pirates will make a respectable showing. The result is that Palatine is a better team in defeat than they otherwise would have been and have hopes of a fair showing next season and a contender in 1957-58.

Trenchard Hits For 23, But Pirates Lose

by JOE GODDARD

For the second night in a row and the fifteenth time this season Palatine's basketball team was no match for their opponents as they obligingly fell under the attack of the Maine varsity 84 to 49.

Maine overcame a weak first quarter of only 11 points and totaled 23 or more for the remaining periods to hand the Pirates another defeat.

CENTER PETE Trenchard was the only bright spot for the locals as he scored almost half of Palatine's 49 points. His 23 points were not only good for high scoring honors but he was the second boy this year to hit the players' destination of 20 points. Roy Hahnfeld was the other Pirate to hit this figure when he made 20 against Libertyville early in December.

Maine's attack was stalled early in the game and they had to fight for a 36-25 half time lead. However, an effective full court press gave them a 51-36 third quarter lead and permitted all their substitutes to see fourth quarter action. Dick Nelson's 22 points, all in the second and third quarter, were the main gun in building this lead. In all, thirteen boys saw action with only three hitting the double figures. To add insult to injury the Pirates were fouled 26 times and could total only 19 charity tosses.

Only Trenchard of 11 Pirate players could hit the double figures with Terry Moore the closest competitor with 8 points

Fenton Freshmen Whip Glenbrook, 44-38

by BILL RIPERGER

Fenton's freshmen Bisons, after taking an 18-4 lead in the first period, whipped Glenbrook, 44-38. Fred Hohman of Fenton led all scoring with 13 points. Dierking of Fenton and Mead of Glenbrook each collected 5 baskets.

Hohman scored 7 points in the first period as the Bisons romped to an 18-4 lead. Mead scored all four of Glenbrook's points. In the second quarter Fenton outscored the Spartans 8 to 4, and they held a 26-8 halftime advantage.

In the second half Glenbrook outscored the Bisons 30-18, however they could not overcome that halftime deficit. Hohman scored 6 points in the half for Fenton. Mead, DeLuther and Mulford each scored six for Glenbrook. The final score was Fenton 44, Glenbrook 38.

Wauconda Runs Up Fast Count Over Palatine Cagers 78-46

by JOE GODDARD

Wauconda's Bulldogs stayed one game behind Ela's Bears last Friday in the hectic conference race by defeating a lifeless Palatine Pirate team, 78 to 46, at Wauconda.

Wauconda's 1—2—3 punch of Gene Jaskot, Koko Svec, and Ed Okpisz scored 64 points between them as they ran up a fast and convincing lead in the early stages of the game.

The game was played almost free of fouls as only 17 fouls were registered all game. The first half was completed in 22 minutes with the second only a few minutes longer.

WAUCONDA'S ATTACK featured the outside shooting of Svec whose missed shots, when they were missed, were tipped in by Jaskot, who missed only 2 shots, or by Okpisz. These 3 boys, along with 3 others, played the whole game and even ran up the score on fresh Palatine reinforcements. The Bulldogs were not noticeably bothered by the loss of junior Weinberg who turned an ankle earlier in the week and could not play.

Palatine's scoring was even with 9 players closely bunched together. Roy Hahnfeld had 9 points and Pete Trenchard and Rich Wisner had 8 to lead the pack.

Wauconda's percentage from the floor was an amazing 47% while the free throw average was an excellent 83%.

Johnson's 31 Points Not Enuf In Fenton's Loss To G'brook

by BILL RIPPERGER

Fenton's Bisons succumbed to the Spartans, 70-63 Friday, in a conference battle at Glenbrook. This loss gives the Bisons a 4 win-4 loss record in conference play.

6'4'' Phil Johnson was the sparkplug for Fenton and also high scorer in the game. Phil collected 10 baskets and 11 free throws for 31 points, one of the best performances in the conference this season. Besides Phil, no other Bison scored in double figures. Boyd and Sawyers led the Spartans with 23 and 18 points respectively.

JOHNSON SCORED 9 points in the first period, but Boyd and Spalding combined for 13. The Glenbrook five led 19-15 at the end of the quarter. In the second stanza Johnson's scoring pulled the Bisons to within one point of Glenbrook, 35-34.

Big Phil droped in 6 baskets and one free throw. Ragland and Sawyers each scored six for the Spartans.

CONTINUING his scoring in the third period, Johnson hit for 7 points. Boyd and Sawyers each scored 8 for Glenbrook, though, as they pulled out to a 55-47 lead at the end of the period.

In the last quarter Boyd pushed through 2 baskets and 3 free tosses for Glenbrook. A substitute forward, Leon Langguth led Fenton with 6 free throws. Final score found the Bisons trailing, 70-63.

Ela-Vernon Rallies To Retain NW Lead

Ela-Vernon held to the top of the Northwest standings Friday night by coming from behind to whip Grant 48-42 in a low scoring game held on the neutral Antioch floor. The game was shifted as Grant's gym is not ready for play until January 31. Ela copped the frosh-soph game 54-43.

Al Bathrick who leads the league with 182 points, came through with 10 in the final period to turn the tide. Grant had been on top 26-22 at the half. Al Bathrick's 21 points topped the scoring as the little Ela guard tossed in nine from the field and three charity tries. It was Ela's seventh league win in eight games.

Cards Lose 10 Pt. 3rd Period Lead And Chance For Upset

by PETE SWANSON

For two and a half quarters Friday night it appeared that Howard Lester's Cardinals were going to spring an upset and knock Hinsdale out of the WSC lead. However, it was not to be as the Red Devils rallied to pull the game out.

The turning point came when Denny Striegel left the game on fouls and the Cards sorely missed his rebounding. The locals played one of their best ball games and looked good even in losing.

The score was tied three times and the lead changed hands nine times in the first quarter. Arlington hit well in the latter part of the period and held a four point lead, 21-17, at its end. Bill Palmer and Bill Randag paced the Cards in the period. The locals outrebounded their opponents in this time.

SECOND PERIOD saw Arlington holding a 7 point margin twice, then a 9 point lead, 28-19, and later an 8 point edge at 35-27. This was cut to 35-33 at halftime, the Red Devils' Smith counting a brace of free throws after the period was over. The Cards again were better on the boards and John Sujack looked good in setting up plays throughout the half.

Hitting their first 5 shots from the floor, the Cards moved to a 45-35 lead after 3½ minutes of the third period. Then Striegel fouled out and the game changed. Hinsdale picked up shooting-wise and outrebounded the visitors. Arlington stopped hitting and made costly mistakes. Nine straight points reduced the margin to 45-44. A basket by Jim Summers made it 47-44 for the locals, but baskets by Holderness and Winkler gave the Red Devils the lead that was never relinquished.

THE HOME TEAM iced the game in the final eight minutes. Fast breaks were effective and screens allowed Hinsdale players to get easy shots. The winners stalled the last few minutes, shooting when a hole was found in the defense.

Hinsdale's scoring was handled by Rich Winkler with 20 tallies, and Gene Holderness and Dick Brandt added 14 each. Playing his best game of the year, Bill Palmer dialed 20 to pace the Cards. Bill Randag and John Sujack chipped in with 13 and 12 points.

Each team caged 20 baskets, but the game was won from the foul line. Percentage-wise, the Cards were better from the charity line, but the WSC co-leaders had more chances. They hit 29 of 36 while the Cards sunk 18 of 22.

Arlington Wrestlers Beat Riverside, Lose At Evanston

Arlington's varsity wrestlers mauled Riverside-Brookfield, 29-13, but fell to Evanston, 27-16.

Arlington copped the first 13 points against R-B, saw the margin cut to 7 points at 127 pounds, but then extended the lead the rest of the way.

Al Rose, on the mat for the first time since a long bout with the flu, still hasn't regained his strength.. He had a close match against Riverside, and was pinned by Evanston.

JACK EBERT won both Friday and Saturday for Coach Dick Mudge, remains undefeated in duals, his sole loss the Waukegan tournament.

Dean Schneck, undefeated on frosh-soph mat, was moved up to the varsity and did a fine job both days. He won by a single point Friday, lost by the same margin Saturday.

Ed Beier won against R-B, and gained a pin against Evanston. Ralph Carlino took victories both days for Heights. Those were the bright lights for Arlington.

Glenbrook JVs Top Fenton Reserves, 57-39

Saturday morning Glenbrook's Junior Varsity rolled over the Fenton J. V., 57-39. Graf of the Spartans netted 7 baskets and one free throw, high total for the game. Ripperger scored 13 for the Bisons.

Graf scored six for Glenbrook in the first period as they moved to a 10-6 advantage. Rucker was high for Fenton with 3. In the second quarter Ripperger scored six for the Bisons while Campbell scored six for Glenbrook. At halftime the Spartans led 27-19.

The Glenbrook five continued pulling away in the second half. For the Spartans in the third period, Bacon scored 5 points. Ripperger was high with 4 for the Bisons. Martin scored 4 for Glenbrook in the final period as they outscored Fenton 17-13. D'Hooge and Rucker each got four for the Bisons. Final score was Glenbrook Spartans 57, Fenton Bisons 39.

Arlington Sophs Drop To 3rd With Hinsdale Defeat

by PETE SWANSON

Arlington's second year Cards dropped to third place in the WSC by losing to Hinsdale Friday night on the winner's court. The home team was vastly improved over previous showings while the young Cards played very mediocre ball.

Both teams shot well in the opening quarter. Denny Thill paced the young Cards, who were better on the boards and ahead most of the period.

The lead changed hands 5 times in the second stanza. The locals led by 5 points early, but the Imps scored the next 10 points to take a 5 point lead of their own. Arlington led twice after that, but a last-minute basket gave Hinsdale a one point edge at halftime. Sam Caltagirone counted 9 points for Arlington in this quarter. The home team out-rebounded the Cards.

THE IMPS never lost the lead again as they pulled away in the third quarter. Arlington had trouble hitting, while Hinsdale was hot from the field. The home five's Carmignani tallied 14 points in the period, most of them on jump shots from the right side. The young Cards started pressing midway in the period.

The Cards twice crept within 6 points of the leaders in the final period, but the Imps pulled away again. In trying to get the ball the visitors gave Hinsdale plenty of opportunities from the foul line and the home team took advantage of them. Arlington pressed, but the Imps were adept at ball control.

LEADING SCORER was Carmignani of the victors with 30 points, 22 in the second half. Besides shooting well, the Hinsdale guard also handled the ball well against a press and was the outstanding player on either team. Treptow was next for Hinsdale with 15. Denny Thill and Sam Caltagirone registered 20 and 14 markers respectively for the young Cards. All of Caltagirone's points came in the opening half.

Other teams are improving and are giving the locals a rougher time.

Wheeling Graders Win 2 Of 3 Games

Inactive as far as Little "9" League competition is concerned, the Wheeling (A) team accomplished a real heavyweight task by trouncing highly rated Glenview.

The first half was low scoring, but interesting as the lead changed hands several times. Neither team scored consistently, and the half ended with a close 16-15, Glenview.

Wheeling changed offensive pattern the second half and began to score often from the outside. Glenview was missing.

Ken Grandt, Dan Striegal, and Anthony Stavros played the rebounds well as they continually maintained possession of the ball, holding the visitors to 10 points in the entire second half.

GLENVIEW "SQUEEKED" out a 32-31 win over the Wheeling lightweights in the opener.

Behind all the way, Wheeling staged a last half rally to pull within one point of the leaders with 2 minutes remaining. However, neither team was able to score and the game ended 32-31 in Glenview's favor.

Both Wheeling teams will play at Glenview Friday, January 27 at 3:45 p.m at 2701 Central rd.. Glenview Transportation for the games is needed and volunteers for this would be appreciated. Persons willing to drive are asked to call Wheeling 87 if they can help in this respect.

WHEELING SCHOOL lightweights played one of their best games as they beat Wayside of Arlington Heights the second time this year. Wheeling scored first and immediately began to roll up a sizeable lead early in the game, eliminating any doubt of the outcome. Wheeling controlled the rebounds and showed a high degree of shooting accuracy as they made a greater percentage of shots attempted.

Fred Kloman and Terry Berndt earned their share of the victor's glory by scoring 13 and 7 points. Not to be denied, James Bower, Bob Diens and Richard Lass saved many points as their defensive play showed real signs of improvement. (Sp

Illinois-DePaul Heads College Doubleheader

Despite recent victories over Penn State, Duquesne, Notre Dame and Bradley, the DePaul Blue Demons will be underdogs again when the Chicago Stadium basketball doubleheaders resume next Saturday, Jan. 28.

Illinois' Big Ten leaders, undefeated in four conference games and beaten only once in 11 starts, will battle DePaul in the 7:45 p.m. opening game. Loyola will return to the stadium wars to face Eastern Kentucky in the second game.

DePaul's thin bench will be strengthened by the addition of Ronald Lakin, sophomore transfer student from Wisconsin, who is eligible for the second semester.

COACH RAY MEYER rates Lakin the equal of Illinois' Bill Ridley as a passer and ball-handler, although not as potent a scorer at this stage of development. The former Lane Tech captain is a native of Chicago.

The return of Chuck Henry to action after suffering a knee injury also will bolster the Blue Demons. Ron Sobieszczyk, Dick Heside, Ken Jaksy, Bill Robinzine, and Ed Curtin will probably start.

Illinois' well-balanced unit has smothered such immediate contenders as Indiana and Purdue to lead the next five teams each by 1½ games prior to the mid-year exam recess.

AFTER LOSING their second start of the season to Missouri, 74-73 at Columbia, the Illini have ground out eight straight victories to rank fourth in one national poll and sixth in another.

Their overall scoring reflects their balance. Capt. Paul Judson leads with a 19.6 average, Ridley is next with 15.7, followed by George BonSalle with 15.5 and Harv Schmidt with 14.0. The two alternates at the other guard post, Don Ohl and Bruce Brothers, have made 76 and 73 points, respectively, a total of 149 for the position, or an average of 13.5.

IN CONFERENCE play, Ridley leads with 20.7, followed by BonSalle with 20.2, Judson with 16.0, and Schmidt with 12.2. Ridley and BonSalle rank sixth and seventh in the Big Ten, with Judson 16th. Judson led the Illini and was ninth in the conference last year with an 18.1 average.

Loyola will try to snap a three-game losing streak in the first of four post-exam stadium appearances, but will not find easy picking in Eastern Kentucky despite the Maroons' 5-10 record.

The Kentuckians have acquired the services for the second semester of Bill Florence, 6-9 sophomore who turned in several fine performances last year before withdrawing from school at the semester mark. He was an all-state selection at Lafayette high school of Lexington.

LEADING the Maroons, however, is senior Jack Adams, 6-4 forward, who won All-American honorable mention last season with a 23.2 scoring average. He is currently belting along at a 23.8 clip. A tremendous competitor, he played 10 complete games last year and totaled 887 minutes out of a possible 960.

Loyola has been able to do everything but score consistently, with substitute Jim DeWulf leading the Ramblers attack with 117 points in 12 games, followed by Ed Stube with 115.

Loyola's only major victory was over Bowling Green, but they dropped one-point decisions to Notre Dame and Purdue, and were trailing Marquette by only three points with a minute and a half to go before free throws gave the Warriors a nine-point decision.

Wauconda Frosh-Sophs Edge Palatine In Final Quarter

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Wauconda's frosh - soph team edged out a victory over Palatine, 42-35, at Wauconda Friday night. Palatine led all through the game until the final minutes of the last quarter.

Palatine started the first quarter with a full court press which slightly bobbled Wauconda's offense. Palatine's press worked very effectively as they took a 6-5 first quarter lead. The second quarter was very evenly played as the half ended in a 16-16 deadlock.

THIRD QUARTER was evenly matched as was the second quarter. Palatine continued to press and keep Wauconda's offense unbalanced. Palatine still held the lead, 26-25 as the third quarter ended. The fourth quarter was a complete loss to Palatine as Wauconda demonstrated improved ball on Pirate errors to clinch a victory, 42-35.

Palatine lost the game on free throws as they made 1 out of 9 attempts. Wauconda's Allison was the individual high scorer with 11 points. Orrin Helms and Bruce King collected 9 and 8 points, respectively for Palatine.

MAINE'S FROSH-SOPH team, which collected sixty points from the field and were paced by Jim Ball's 14 points, defeated Palatine's frosh-soph team, 64-23, in a non-conference game at Maine Saturday night.

Maine only allowed Palatine 8 points in the second half as Palatine lost their tenth game in a row.

First quarter was evenly played until Palatine collected 2 free throws in the last minute, to take a 10-8 lead. The second quarter Palatine's Bruce Crane collected all the 5 points Palatine scored, as Maine took a half time lead of 26-15.

THE THIRD and fourth quarters left Palatine in a complete daze as Maine outscored and outplayed them. Palatine played a complete freshmen team in the last 6 minutes of the fourth quarter. The game finally ended with Maine on top, 64-23. Palatine was completely outplayed and outclassed, as Maine's speed and height was too much for them.

Maine's scoring was highlighted by Ball's and Zamis' 14 and 12 points, respectively. Palatine's Bruce Crane took scoring honors with 12 points.

Card Soph Grapplers Split, But Frosh Win

Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers suffered their second loss in 12 matches Saturday at Evanston 27-16. The squad whipped Riverside-Brookfield, 42-5, the day before.

Listing winners for Coach Maurice Kellogg in that R-B affair would be like reading a team roster. Unusual aspect was replacement of Clarence Trausch by George Steil at 120 and Jim Clark by John Amann at 127 by eliminations prior to the weekend matches.

Clark had been undefeated at his weight. With 127 out of the question Clark switched to 138 and took a pin Friday, a decision Saturday. Steil pinned his man in 5:26 against R-B, lost to Evanston. Amann won a decision with R-B, drew against Evanston.

EVANSTON was strong Saturday. Roger Farleigh suffered his first loss of the year at 154 when he was pinned in 5:40. Tom Kennicott dropped his second loss of the year at 145 in a 4-0 decision. Actually, Tom usualy wrestles at 138 but was shifted to 145 for the weekend to benefit the team.

Doing a great job for the frosh-sophs is Greg Rose at 175. Greg pinned his Evanston opponent in 5:37, is coming strong. New man at heavyweight for Coach Kellogg was Jack Hoffman, who took Schneck's place. Hoffman is inexperienced but looked acceptable though pinned against Evanston.

By The Grapevine

The Cook county jail Grapevine an inmates' newspaper, was organized Sept. 1955. It serves many more purposes than simply to occupy a few idle hours. Its main function is to involve the minds and energies of the inmate population in conventially-oriented channels and to involve them, cooperatively, in the problems of administering an over-crowded and over-utilized institution. In a jail that holds 2,000 inmates at any one time and turns over 15,000 to 20,000 inmates in a year this is a mighty important function.

Cards Lose 10 Pt. 3rd Period Lead And Chance For Upset

by PETE SWANSON

For two and a half quarters Friday night it appeared that Howard Lester's Cardinals were going to spring an upset and knock Hinsdale out of the WSC lead. However, it was not to be as the Red Devils rallied to pull the game out.

The turning point came when Denny Striegel left the game on fouls and the Cards sorely missed his rebounding. The locals played one of their best ball games and looked good even in losing.

The score was tied three times and the lead changed hands nine times in the first quarter. Arlington hit well in the latter part of the period and held a four point lead, 21-17, at its end. Bill Palmer and Bill Randag paced the Cards in the period. The locals outrebounded their opponents in this time.

SECOND PERIOD saw Arlington holding a 7 point margin twice, then a 9 point lead, 28-19, and later an 8 point edge at 35-27. This was cut to 35-33 at halftime, the Red Devils' Smith counting a brace of free throws after the period was over. The Cards again were better on the boards and John Sujack looked good in setting up plays throughout the half.

Hitting their first 5 shots from the floor, the Cards moved to a 45-35 lead after 3½ minutes of the third period. Then Striegel fouled out and the game changed. Hinsdale picked up shooting-wise and outrebounded the visitors. Arlington stopped hitting and made costly mistakes. Nine straight points reduced the margin to 45-44. A basket by Jim Summers made it 47-44 for the locals, but baskets by Holderness and Winkler gave the Red Devils the lead that was never relinquished.

THE HOME TEAM iced the game in the final eight minutes. Fast breaks were effective and screens allowed Hinsdale players to get easy shots. The winners stalled the last few minutes, shooting when a hole was found in the defense.

Hinsdale's scoring was handled by Rich Winkler with 20 tallies, and Gene Holderness and Dick Brandt added 14 each. Playing his best game of the year, Bill Palmer dialed 20 to pace the Cards. Bill Randag and John Sujack chipped in with 13 and 12 points.

Each team caged 20 baskets, but the game was won from the foul line. Percentage-wise, the Cards were better from the charity line, but the WSC co-leaders had more chances. They hit 29 of 36 while the Cards sunk 18 of 22.

Arlington Wrestlers Beat Riverside, Lose At Evanston

Arlington's varsity wrestlers mauled Riverside-Brookfield, 29-13, but fell to Evanston, 27-16.

Arlington copped the first 13 points against R-B, saw the margin cut to 7 points at 127 pounds, but then extended the lead the rest of the way.

Al Rose, on the mat for the first time since a long bout with the flu, still hasn't regained his strength.. He had a close match against Riverside, and was pinned by Evanston.

JACK EBERT won both Friday and Saturday for Coach Dick Mudge, remains undefeated in duals, his sole loss the Waukegan tournament.

Dean Schneck, undefeated on frosh-soph mat, was moved up to the varsity and did a fine job both days. He won by a single point Friday, lost by the same margin Saturday.

Ed Beier won against R-B, and gained a pin against Evanston. Ralph Carlino took victories both days for Heights. Those were the bright lights for Arlington.

Glenbrook JVs Top Fenton Reserves, 57-39

Saturday morning Glenbrook's Junior Varsity rolled over the Fenton J. V., 57-39. Graf of the Spartans netted 7 baskets and one free throw, high total for the game. Ripperger scored 13 for the Bisons.

Graf scored six for Glenbrook in the first period as they moved to a 10-6 advantage. Rucker was high for Fenton with 3. In the second quarter Ripperger scored six for the Bisons while Campbell scored six for Glenbrook. At halftime the Spartans led 27-19.

The Glenbrook five continued pulling away in the second half. For the Spartans in the third period, Bacon scored 5 points. Ripperger was high with 4 for the Bisons. Martin scored 4 for Glenbrook in the final period as they outscored Fenton 17-13. D'Hooge and Rucker each got four for the Bisons. Final score was Glenbrook Spartans 57, Fenton Bisons 39.

Arlington Sophs Drop To 3rd With Hinsdale Defeat

by PETE SWANSON

Arlington's second year Cards dropped to third place in the WSC by losing to Hinsdale Friday night on the winner's court. The home team was vastly improved over previous showings while the young Cards played very mediocre ball.

Both teams shot well in the opening quarter. Denny Thill paced the young Cards, who were better on the boards and ahead most of the period.

The lead changed hands 5 times in the second stanza. The locals led by 5 points early, but the Imps scored the next 10 points to take a 5 point lead of their own. Arlington led twice after that, but a last-minute basket gave Hinsdale a one point edge at halftime. Sam Caltagirone counted 9 points for Arlington in this quarter. The home team out-rebounded the Cards.

THE IMPS never lost the lead again as they pulled away in the third quarter. Arlington had trouble hitting, while Hinsdale was hot from the field. The home five's Carmignani tallied 14 points in the period, most of them on jump shots from the right side. The young Cards started pressing midway in the period.

The Cards twice crept within 6 points of the leaders in the final period, but the Imps pulled away again. In trying to get the ball the visitors gave Hinsdale plenty of opportunities from the foul line and the home team took advantage of them. Arlington pressed, but the Imps were adept at ball control.

LEADING SCORER was Carmignani of the victors with 30 points, 22 in the second half. Besides shooting well, the Hinsdale guard also handled the ball well against a press and was the outstanding player on either team. Treptow was next for Hinsdale with 15. Denny Thill and Sam Caltagirone registered 20 and 14 markers respectively for the young Cards. All of Caltagirone's points came in the opening half.

Other teams are improving and are giving the locals a rougher time.

Illinois-DePaul Heads College Doubleheader

Despite recent victories over Penn State, Duquesne, Notre Dame and Bradley, the DePaul Blue Demons will be underdogs again when the Chicago Stadium basketball doubleheaders resume next Saturday, Jan. 28.

Illinois' Big Ten leaders, undefeated in four conference games and beaten only once in 11 starts, will battle DePaul in the 7:45 p.m. opening game. Loyola will return to the stadium wars to face Eastern Kentucky in the second game.

DePaul's thin bench will be strengthened by the addition of Ronald Lakin, sophomore transfer student from Wisconsin, who is eligible for the second semester.

COACH RAY MEYER rates Lakin the equal of Illinois' Bill Ridley as a passer and ball-handler, although not as potent a scorer at this stage of development. The former Lane Tech captain is a native of Chicago.

The return of Chuck Henry to action after suffering a knee injury also will bolster the Blue Demons. Ron Sobieszczyk, Dick Heside, Ken Jaksy, Bill Robinzine, and Ed Curtin will probably start.

Illinois' well-balanced unit has smothered such immediate contenders as Indiana and Purdue to lead the next five teams each by 1½ games prior to the mid-year exam recess.

AFTER LOSING their second start of the season to Missouri, 74-73 at Columbia, the Illini have ground out eight straight victories to rank fourth in one national poll and sixth in another.

Their overall scoring reflects their balance. Capt. Paul Judson leads with a 19.6 average. Ridley is next with 15.7, followed by George BonSalle with 15.5 and Harv Schmidt with 14.0. The two alternates at the other guard post, Don Ohl and Bruce Brothers, have made 76 and 73 points, respectively, a total of 149 for the position, or an average of 13.5.

IN CONFERENCE play, Ridley leads with 20.7, followed by BonSalle with 20.2, Judson with 16.0, and Schmidt with 12.2. Ridley and BonSalle rank sixth and seventh in the Big Ten, with Judson 16th. Judson led the Illini and was ninth in the conference last year with an 18.1 average.

Loyola will try to snap a three-game losing streak in the first of four post-exam stadium appearances, but will not find easy picking in Eastern Kentucky despite the Maroons' 5-10 record.

The Kentuckians have acquired the services for the second semester of Bill Florence, 6-9 sophomore who turned in several fine performances last year before withdrawing from school at the semester mark. He was an all-state selection at Lafayette high school of Lexington.

LEADING the Maroons, however, is senior Jack Adams, 6-4 forward, who won All-American honorable mention last season with a 23.2 scoring average. He is currently belting along at a 23.8 clip. A tremendous competitor, he played 10 complete games last year and totaled 887 minutes out of a possible 960.

Loyola has been able to do everything but score consistently, with substitute Jim DeWulf leading the Ramblers attack with 117 points in 12 games, followed by Ed Stube with 115.

Loyola's only major victory was over Bowling Green, but they dropped one-point decisions to Notre Dame and Purdue, and were trailing Marquette by only three points with a minute and a half to go before free throws gave the Warriors a nine-point decision.

Wheeling Graders Win 2 Of 3 Games

Inactive as far as Little "9" League competition is concerned, the Wheeling (A) team accomplished a real heavyweight task by trouncing highly rated Glenview.

The first half was low scoring, but interesting as the lead changed hands several times. Neither team scored consistently, and the half ended with a close 16-15, Glenview.

Wheeling changed offensive pattern the second half and began to score often from the outside. Glenview was missing.

Ken Grandt, Dan Striegal, and Anthony Stavros played the rebounds well as they continually maintained possession of the ball, holding the visitors to 10 points in the entire second half.

GLENVIEW "SQUEEKED" out a 32-31 win over the Wheeling lightweights in the opener.

Behind all the way, Wheeling staged a last half rally to pull within one point of the leaders with 2 minutes remaining. However, neither team was able to score and the game ended 32-31 in Glenview's favor.

Both Wheeling teams will play at Glenview Friday, January 27 at 3:45 p.m at 2701 Central rd.. Glenview Transportation for the games is needed and volunteers for this would be appreciated. Persons willing to drive are asked to call Wheeling 87 if they can help in this respect.

WHEELING SCHOOL lightweights played one of their best games as they beat Wayside of Arlington Heights the second time this year. Wheeling scored first and immediately began to roll up a sizeable lead early in the game, eliminating any doubt of the outcome. Wheeling controlled the rebounds and showed a high degree of shooting accuracy as they made a greater percentage of shots attempted.

Fred Kloman and Terry Berndt earned their share of the victor's glory by scoring 13 and 7 points. Not to be denied, James Bower, Bob Diens and Richard Lass saved many points as their defensive play showed real signs of improvement. (Sp

by GEOFFREY JOHN

Wauconda's frosh - soph team edged out a victory over Palatine, 42-35, at Wauconda Friday night. Palatine led all through the game until the final minutes of the last quarter.

Palatine started the first quarter with a full court press which slightly bobbled Wauconda's offense. Palatine's press worked very effectively as they took a 6-5 first quarter lead. The second quarter was very evenly played as the half ended in a 16-16 deadlock.

THIRD QUARTER was evenly matched as was the second quarter. Palatine continued to press and keep Wauconda's offense unbalanced. Palatine still held the lead, 26-25 as the third quarter ended. The fourth quarter was a complete loss to Palatine as Wauconda demonstrated improved ball on Pirate errors to clinch a victory, 42-35.

Palatine lost the game on free throws as they made 1 out of 9 attempts. Wauconda's Allison was the individual high scorer with 11 points. Orrin Helms and Bruce King collected 9 and 8 points, respectively for Palatine.

MAINE'S FROSH-SOPH team, which collected sixty points from the field and were paced by Jim Ball's 14 points, defeated Palatine's frosh-soph team, 64-23, in a non-conference game at Maine Saturday night.

Maine only allowed Palatine 8 points in the second half as Palatine lost their tenth game in a row.

First quarter was evenly played until Palatine collected 2 free throws in the last minute, to take a 10-8 lead. The second quarter Palatine's Bruce Crane collected all the 5 points Palatine scored, as Maine took a half time lead of 26-15.

THE THIRD and fourth quarters left Palatine in a complete daze as Maine outscored and outplayed them. Palatine played a complete freshmen team in the last 6 minutes of the fourth quarter. The game finally ended with Maine on top, 64-23. Palatine was completely outplayed and outclassed, as Maine's speed and height was too much for them.

Maine's scoring was highlighted by Ball's and Zamis' 14 and 12 points, respectively. Palatine's Bruce Crane took scoring honors with 12 points.

Card Soph Grapplers Split, But Frosh Win

Arlington's frosh-soph wrestlers suffered their second loss in 12 matches Saturday at Evanston 27-16. The squad whipped Riverside-Brookfield, 42-5, the day before.

Listing winners for Coach Maurice Kellogg in that R-B affair would be like reading a team roster. Unusual aspect was replacement of Clarence Trausch by George Steil at 120 and Jim Clark by John Amann at 127 by eliminations prior to the weekend matches.

Clark had been undefeated at his weight. With 127 out of the question Clark switched to 138 and took a pin Friday, a decision Saturday. Steil pinned his man in 5:26 against R-B, lost to Evanston. Amann won a decision with R-B, drew against Evanston.

EVANSTON was strong Saturday. Roger Farleigh suffered his first loss of the year at 154 when he was pinned in 5:40. Tom Kennicott dropped his second loss of the year at 145 in a 4-0 decision. Actually, Tom usualy wrestles at 138 but was shifted to 145 for the weekend to benefit the team.

Doing a great job for the frosh-sophs is Greg Rose at 175. Greg pinned his Evanston opponent in 5:37, is coming strong. New man at heavyweight for Coach Kellogg was Jack Hoffman, who took Schneck's place. Hoffman is inexperienced but looked acceptable though pinned against Evanston.

Specialty Acts Added Features Of Trotter Show

Tony Lavelli, handsome 6-4 fashion plate again touring in company with the great Harlem Globetrotters as an added attraction, will perform when the great magicians of basketball headline against the Chicago Majors Thursday, Feb. 16, at Arlington Heights high school gym at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Lavelli was one of the world's greatest basketball players. He is now a fine musician, specializing on the accordion, and a composer of promise. He has hung up his basketball togs in favor of a musical career.

Lavelli is Yale University's greatest basketball All-American, and was recently named to the United States all-time college all-star basketball team, an honor reserved for only a few players.

A SENSATIONAL and show-stopping acrobatic balancing act, the Tong Brothers from Hong Kong, China also will be one of the highlights of the between-halves floor show.

The Tong Brothers—3 of them—have to be seen to be believed so incredible and their feats. Since arriving from the Orient, by way of Europe, where they were heralded as "the most unique act of its kind in the world," the Tong Brothers have played most all the important spots in the United States from coast to coast.

SOME OF THE other stars to be featured wil be 20-year-old Mike Pickering with his trampoline and jiggling act, Jacques Cordon of Brussels, Belgium and his unicycle and the 2 table tennis zanies, Bourne and Anderson. Kopiolani Miller, Miss Hawaii of 1954-55, will be there as an added attraction to this huge variety show.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students. Get your tickets in advance at Beverly Lanes, Harris Pharmacy, Henderson's Pharmay, Kindler's Ice Cream Shop or Lohr's Pharmacy in Arlington Heights. In Palatine they can be purchased at Palatine Office Supply and Palatine Drugs. Mt. Prospect fans can purchase their tickets at either of the Golden Delicatessen stores or Keefer's Pharmacy.

By The Grapevine

The Cook county jail Grapevine an inmates' newspaper, was organized Sept. 1955. It serves many more purposes than simply to occupy a few idle hours. Its main function is to involve the minds and energies of the inmate population in conventially-oriented channels and to involve them, cooperatively, in the problems of administering an over-crowded and over-utilized institution. In a jail that holds 2,000 inmates at any one time and turns over 15,000 to 20,000 inmates in a year this is a mighty important function.

Heap Big Holes

In the 96-year history of the oil industry in the United States, only 150 wells have ever been drilled below 15,000 feet. Over one-third of these wells were drilled last year.

Heap Big Holes

In the 96-year history of the oil industry in the United States, only 150 wells have ever been drilled below 15,000 feet. Over one-third of these wells were drilled last year.

Hello World

Jeffrey John, weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces, was born January 18 at 10:25 p. m., in Sherman hospital, Elgin, to John and Fern Holleran. He has 2 brothers, Tommy and Patrick, and a sister, Kathy.

Bert and Dorothy Johnson became parents of their second child, Mark, born January 19 in Swedish Covenant hospital, Chicago. The baby weighed 7 lbs. and has a sister, Jennifer, 17 months.

Birthdays

Carol, daughter of Joe and Fern Waldron, was hostess at a party Saturday afternoon for young friends on the occasion of her fourth birthday, which was January 24. There were games and party refreshments. Guests were Marcy Vosburgh, Judy Kemppainen, Dolores Schons, Alan Schmidt, Barbara and Freddie Hampe, Raymond and Pamela Hearl, Evan Potratz, Linda and Donna Sell, Patty Reilly, Susan Larson and little brother, Jimmy. Jimmy will be 1 year old January 27. Sunday the Waldrons entertained the children's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, and sons, Randall, Russell and Ronald of Libertyville at a birthday supper for Carol and Jimmy.

Mike Pelletier and Don Valentine were guests of Jay Peregrine,son of Perry and Marilyn Peregrine, when he celebrated his fifth birthday January 20. The Peregrines formerly resided in the Meadows and now live at 806 Columbian, Oak Park. Also attending the party was Jay's sister, Debby, and a few neighborhood friends.

Mrs. Janet Nye, whose birthday was January 17, marked the occasion by enjoying a turkey dinner with Lou and Lynn Nye and their children, Andrea and Scott, January 14.

When the Grandmothers club was entertained January 17 by Catherine Coughlin, members surprised Janet Nye with a birthday celebration. Members present were Helena Woodruff, Myrtle Stockrod, Elizabeth Gutzmer, Frances Schulz, Edna Vartanian and Janey Nye.

Scouting News

The brownies met January 17 in Durecs' basement at 401 Bob-O-Link. The girls made pictures for their scrap books, sang songs, played games and had refreshments furnished by Lee Tucker.

All members were present last Thursday at the meeting of cub scout den 12. The boys conducted their regular meeting January 27, and practiced presenting the flag as this ceremony will be performed by den 12 at the Blue and Gold banquet February 9. During the latter part of the meeting the boys played games and were served refreshments by Dicky Moeller.

All members were present Friday at the regular meeting of cub scout den 13. The boys conducted their meeting, discussed plans for their handicraft projects, played games and had refreshments furnished by Fred Jarm.

Saturday the 13th A.A.A. Battalion Gun Site hdqrs., LaGrange, commanded by Lt. Col. Fred L. Ross, entertained the 2 cub scout dens of Prospect Meadows at one of the Chicago anti-air craft sites. After a demonstration by gun crews at the "B" battery site near River Grove, the battery commander, Capt. Bently J. Greenwood Jr., treated the visitors to hot chocolate and cake.

Accompanying members of den 12, Dean Valentine, Bruce Blim, Tommy Hemesath, Danny Wills, Richard Hehnen, Gregory Wehrheim, Dick Moeller and Webelo, Evans Wells, were Ed Moeller and Gail Webber. Accompaning members of den 13, Michael Doyle, Wayne Harland, Jim Kandul, Tommy Seymour, Kent Nelson, Fred Jarm, Billy Cody and Jay Chaiser, were Ray Doyle and Russ Seymour.

New Teen-agers Club

The newly organized teen-agers club held their second meeting Sunday at the home of Dick and Virginia Jenkins, who have made their house available to the young people for the weekly meetings. At present the members include Pat and Sandy Jenkins, Matt Gora, Nancy Jarm, Sheila Altvatter, Dickie and Carol Anderson, Larry and Barry Toner and Don Getts. Officers of the club are Matt Gora, president, and Pat Jenkins, secretary-treasurer. Membership dues are 15 cents a week and refreshments are furnished by the members. For the first meeting refreshments were donated by Pat and Sandy Jenkins and for the second by Nancy Jarm and Sheila Altvatter. All members of the club are enthusiastic about future plans and it appears that the teen-agers club will be a very active group.

Virginia Jenkins entertained members of the pinochle club January 19. Present for an evening of cards followed by refreshments were Ruby Polly, Kay Sepke, Irma Ehlke, Joyce Ruther, Gert Derning, Marge Blim and Lisa Wells.

Moving To Iowa

Saturday Bernice Long and her children, David, Dick and Diane, will be leaving the Meadows to live in Lake Mills, Iowa, at the home of Bernice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Branstad. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terreberry and daughters, Judy and Jill, who have been living with the Long family, will remain in the Meadows until March, when they plan to move into their new home in Wheeling. After March, Bernice will have renters in her home.

Bernice has been busy the last few weeks being entertained by her friends with farewell dinners. January 13 she was the guest of Mrs. Walter Meyer and Mrs. Robert Terreberry for dinner and a show in Chicago; Jannuary 10 she and the children were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Blomberg of Chicago; January 20 they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Russel Cox of Lombard; January 22 they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. Meyers of Chicago. January 25 Bernice was entertained with dinner at Wellers restaurant by members of her canasta club and was presented with a gift of luggage. Present were Lynn Nye, Kay Wehrheim, Kay Wilson, Maureen Kalwitz, Elaine Johnson, Mae Boland and Marge Blim.

Everyone in the Meadows joins in wishing Bernice and her children the best of luck in the future.

Out-of-Town

Ray Larson will return home Friday after spending a week in Philadelphia representing Stuart Warner Corp of Chicago, at an industrial show. Ray is regional manager of the alemite industrial division of Stuart Warner. His regular territory, which he covers by plane, is on the west coast. Recently Ray gave a talk on barrel-to-bearing lubrication at the second annual lubrication conference at Oklahoma A. and M. college.

Ed and Pearl Moeller and their son, Dicky, spent Saturday in Addison visiting Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Moeller.

Bert and Joyce Ruther entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp of Chicago Saturday evening.

Evans and Lisa Wells and their children, Evans, Neil and Marsha, visited Lisa's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thode, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Thode live in Pistakee bay and the Wells family enjoyed an afternoon on the lake skating and sledding.

January 19 Carol Wilkins joined members of her bridge club at the home of Mary Hagenback in Chicago for an evening of cards. January 20 Wayne and Carol were entertained by James and Evelyn Cummins for an evening of bridge. Sunday the Wilkins entertained Wayne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Benson, and Carol's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Kuhlman of Chicago.

Henry and Marie Robotkay entertained Marie's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shell of Chicago. The Shells came out to see the new member of the Robotkay family, Anita Marie, who was born January 14.

Being entertained at the home of Chuck and Rita Durec Saturday evening were Gene and Francis Krall of Lyons.

Sunday evening Bob and Kay Wehrheim joined Lou and Lynn Nye at their home to view slides taken at the New Year's party given by the Wehrheims.

Get well wishes from friends and neighbors are being extended to Kay Wilson who has been ill with virus pneumonia and to the many other Meadowites who have been ill with the flu recently.

January 26

This date, January 26, is a reminder that this evening the monthly meeting of the Women's auxiliary will be held at the Mt. Prospect Village hall. It is hoped that all women of the Meadows will be able to attend as the various committees have worked hard to plan a productive and entertaining evening for them. Plans have been made to have a "gripe" period during the meeting and it is hoped that anyone who has a problem will present it and perhaps the members of the auxiliary, as a unit, can work out a solution.

January 31

Another reminder that next Tuesday the mothers of the Meadows will join the mothers of the Nation in their annual Mothers' March on polio. Have a light on your porch between 7 and 8 p. m. to indicate that you have a donation to help this worthy cause.

Prospect Meadows

Hello World

Jeffrey John, weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces, was born January 18 at 10:25 p. m., in Sherman hospital, Elgin, to John and Fern Holleran. He has 2 brothers, Tommy and Patrick, and a sister, Kathy.

Bert and Dorothy Johnson became parents of their second child, Mark, born January 19 in Swedish Covenant hospital, Chicago. The baby weighed 7 lbs. and has a sister, Jennifer, 17 months.

Birthdays

Carol, daughter of Joe and Fern Waldron, was hostess at a party Saturday afternoon for young friends on the occasion of her fourth birthday, which was January 24. There were games and party refreshments. Guests were Marcy Vosburgh, Judy Kemppainen, Dolores Schons, Alan Schmidt, Barbara and Freddie Hampe, Raymond and Pamela Hearl, Evan Potratz, Linda and Donna Sell, Patty Reilly, Susan Larson and little brother, Jimmy. Jimmy will be 1 year old January 27. Sunday the Waldrons entertained the children's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, and sons, Randall, Russell and Ronald of Libertyville at a birthday supper for Carol and Jimmy.

Mike Pelletier and Don Valentine were guests of Jay Peregrine,son of Perry and Marilyn Peregrine, when he celebrated his fifth birthday January 20. The Peregrines formerly resided in the Meadows and now live at 806 Columbian, Oak Park. Also attending the party was Jay's sister, Debby, and a few neighborhood friends.

Mrs. Janet Nye, whose birthday was January 17, marked the occasion by enjoying a turkey dinner with Lou and Lynn Nye and their children, Andrea and Scott, January 14.

When the Grandmothers club was entertained January 17 by Catherine Coughlin, members surprised Janet Nye with a birthday celebration. Members present were Helena Woodruff, Myrtle Stockrod, Elizabeth Gutzmer, Frances Schulz, Edna Vartanian and Janey Nye.

Scouting News

The brownies met January 17 in Durecs' basement at 401 Bob-O-Link. The girls made pictures for their scrap books, sang songs, played games and had refreshments furnished by Lee Tucker.

All members were present last Thursday at the meeting of cub scout den 12. The boys conducted their regular meeting January 27, and practiced presenting the flag as this ceremony will be performed by den 12 at the Blue and Gold banquet February 9. During the latter part of the meeting the boys played games and were served refreshments by Dicky Moeller.

All members were present Friday at the regular meeting of cub scout den 13. The boys conducted their meeting, discussed plans for their handicraft projects, played games and had refreshments furnished by Fred Jarm.

Saturday the 13th A.A.A. Battalion Gun Site hdqrs., LaGrange, commanded by Lt. Col. Fred L. Ross, entertained the 2 cub scout dens of Prospect Meadows at one of the Chicago anti-air craft sites. After a demonstration by gun crews at the "B" battery site near River Grove, the battery commander, Capt. Bently J. Greenwood Jr., treated the visitors to hot chocolate and cake.

Accompanying members of den 12, Dean Valentine, Bruce Blim, Tommy Hemesath, Danny Wills, Richard Hehnen, Gregory Wehrheim, Dick Moeller and Webelo, Evans Wells, were Ed Moeller and Gail Webber. Accompaning members of den 13, Michael Doyle, Wayne Harland, Jim Kandul, Tommy Seymour, Kent Nelson, Fred Jarm, Billy Cody and Jay Chaiser, were Ray Doyle and Russ Seymour.

New Teen-agers Club

The newly organized teen-agers club held their second meeting Sunday at the home of Dick and Virginia Jenkins, who have made their house available to the young people for the weekly meetings. At present the members include Pat and Sandy Jenkins, Matt Gora, Nancy Jarm, Sheila Altvatter, Dickie and Carol Anderson, Larry and Barry Toner and Don Getts. Officers of the club are Matt Gora, president, and Pat Jenkins, secretary-treasurer. Membership dues are 15 cents a week and refreshments are furnished by the members. For the first meeting refreshments were donated by Pat and Sandy Jenkins and for the second by Nancy Jarm and Sheila Altvatter. All members of the club are enthusiastic about future plans and it appears that the teen-agers club will be a very active group.

Virginia Jenkins entertained members of the pinochle club January 19. Present for an evening of cards followed by refreshments were Ruby Polly, Kay Sepke, Irma Ehlke, Joyce Ruther, Gert Derning, Marge Blim and Lisa Wells.

Moving To Iowa

Saturday Bernice Long and her children, David, Dick and Diane, will be leaving the Meadows to live in Lake Mills, Iowa, at the home of Bernice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Branstad. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terreberry and daughters, Judy and Jill, who have been living with the Long family, will remain in the Meadows until March, when they plan to move into their new home in Wheeling. After March, Bernice will have renters in her home.

Bernice has been busy the last few weeks being entertained by her friends with farewell dinners. January 13 she was the guest of Mrs. Walter Meyer and Mrs. Robert Terreberry for dinner and a show in Chicago; Jannuary 10 she and the children were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Blomberg of Chicago; January 20 they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Russel Cox of Lombard; January 22 they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. Meyers of Chicago. January 25 Bernice was entertained with dinner at Wellers restaurant by members of her canasta club and was presented with a gift of luggage. Present were Lynn Nye, Kay Wehrheim, Kay Wilson, Maureen Kalwitz, Elaine Johnson, Mae Boland and Marge Blim.

Everyone in the Meadows joins in wishing Bernice and her children the best of luck in the future.

Out-of-Town

Ray Larson will return home Friday after spending a week in Philadelphia representing Stuart Warner Corp of Chicago, at an industrial show. Ray is regional manager of the alemite industrial division of Stuart Warner. His regular territory, which he covers by plane, is on the west coast. Recently Ray gave a talk on barrel-to-bearing lubrication at the second annual lubrication conference at Oklahoma A. and M. college.

Ed and Pearl Moeller and their son, Dicky, spent Saturday in Addison visiting Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Moeller.

Bert and Joyce Ruther entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp of Chicago Saturday evening.

Evans and Lisa Wells and their children, Evans, Neil and Marsha, visited Lisa's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thode, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Thode live in Pistakee bay and the Wells family enjoyed an afternoon on the lake skating and sledding.

January 19 Carol Wilkins joined members of her bridge club at the home of Mary Hagenback in Chicago for an evening of cards. January 20 Wayne and Carol were entertained by James and Evelyn Cummins for an evening of bridge. Sunday the Wilkins entertained Wayne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Benson, and Carol's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Kuhlman of Chicago.

Henry and Marie Robotkay entertained Marie's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Shell of Chicago. The Shells came out to see the new member of the Robotkay family, Anita Marie, who was born January 14.

Being entertained at the home of Chuck and Rita Durec Saturday evening were Gene and Francis Krall of Lyons.

Sunday evening Bob and Kay Wehrheim joined Lou and Lynn Nye at their home to view slides taken at the New Year's party given by the Wehrheims.

Get well wishes from friends and neighbors are being extended to Kay Wilson who has been ill with virus pneumonia and to the many other Meadowites who have been ill with the flu recently.

January 26

This date, January 26, is a reminder that this evening the monthly meeting of the Women's auxiliary will be held at the Mt. Prospect Village hall. It is hoped that all women of the Meadows will be able to attend as the various committees have worked hard to plan a productive and entertaining evening for them. Plans have been made to have a "gripe" period during the meeting and it is hoped that anyone who has a problem will present it and perhaps the members of the auxiliary, as a unit, can work out a solution.

January 31

Another reminder that next Tuesday the mothers of the Meadows will join the mothers of the Nation in their annual Mothers' March on polio. Have a light on your porch between 7 and 8 p. m. to indicate that you have a donation to help this worthy cause.

Electronic Brain To Take Over Billing For Electric Companies

An "electronic brain" has started to prepare the bills of Commonwealth Edison company, Willis Gale, chairman, announced.

Installed in the Edison building at 72 W. Adams st., Chicago, the large-scale computer is the first of its kind in Chicago and the first to be put in service by a public utility company anywhere.

The machine will gradually take over the job of billing more than a million Chicago customers and doing the related bookkeeping work. Built by International Business Machines corporation, the computer is expected to be issuing all the Chicago electric bills by next August.

IN 1957, IT will also take over the job of billing approximately 800,000 customers in the Public Service company division outside the city.

Although the big computer is called a "brain," it cannot really think. It can only handle data which people feed it, and it must be given very detailed instructions. There are 85,000 different instructions just to tell the machine how to figure bills and process accounts.

ON THE OTHER HAND, the machine is phenomenally fast. In one minute it can read the equivalent of a dozen full-length novels or do a quarter of a million add-or-subtract problems.

Unlike the human brain, the computer is sensitive to changes in temperature and humidity. It must be operated at temperatures ranging between 60 and 80 degrees in a relative humidity of 40 to 60 per cent.

Officially named "the IBM-702 electronic data processing machine," the computer weighs over 20 tons and consists of 35 separate units. The heart of the machine is an arithmetical and logical unit that does the figuring and a bank of cathode-ray tubes which remember the answers.

THE MEMORY tubes look like little television tubes. Other units include an operating console, where the operator sits, card readers, punches, printers, and 14 units which hold rolls of magnetic tape.

This magnetic tape is similar to the type used in home-recording devices. All of the information about the accounts will be recorded of magnetic tape, including the name, address, account number, credit status and date used to calculate bills. The tape will even caution the meter reader if there's a dog that bites.

THE 702 performs 32 separate operations, including reading, writing, comparing and computing mathematical problems. In its memory tubes it can store 10,000 different letters and numbers. It will remember past bills, and if the one being figured seems unreasonable, the computer will tell the operator.

Eventually Commonwealth plans to use the computer to prepare payrolls for its 16,000 employes and to issue dividend checks to its 139,000 stockholders.

Buster Keaton Films In Survey Course

Turn of the century silent "flicks," Charlie Chaplin comedies, foreign and American film classics will be shown in a spring semester film survey course at the institute of design, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago.

Comedies, epics, westerns, psycological dramas, documentaries —starring Sarah Bernhardt, Buster Keaton, Peter Lorre, Raimu, Henry Fonda—will be offered in 15 weekly meetings.

Although the film course is required for the institute's photography and design students, the general public may enroll on a non-credit basis.

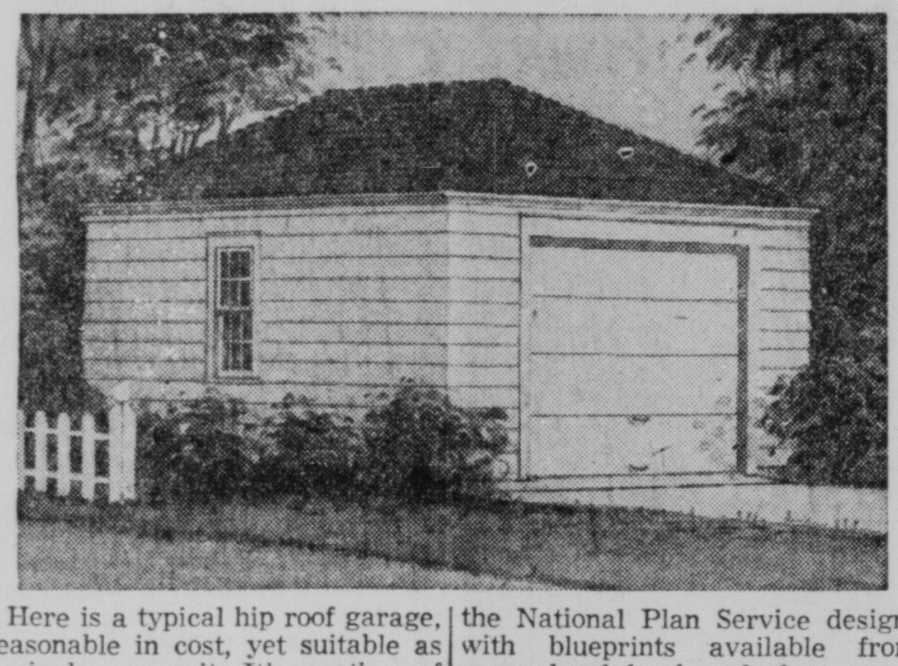
New Bank Building For Des Plaines

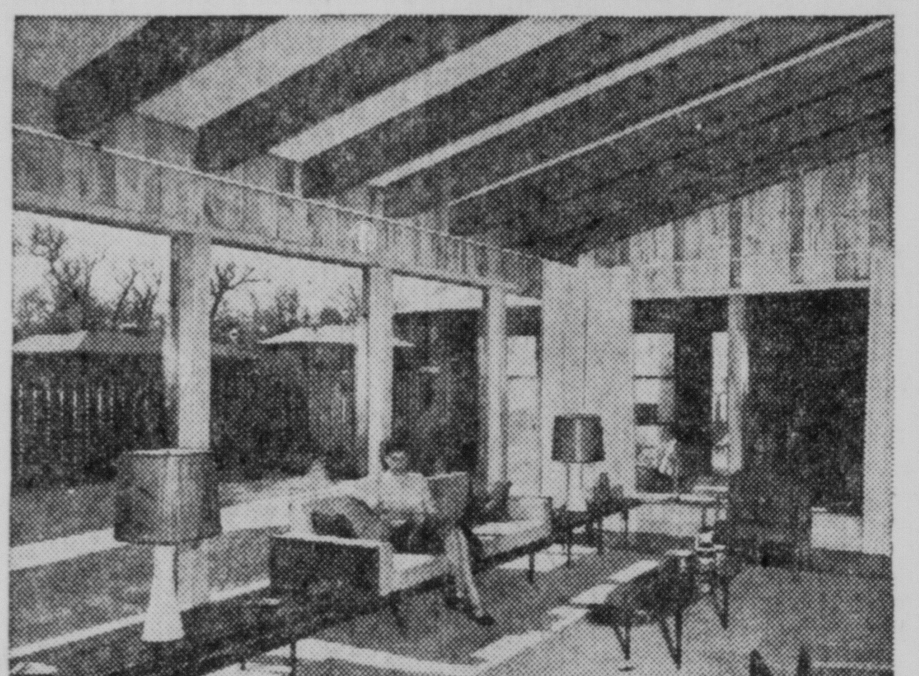
First National Bank of Des Plaines announced plans last week for a new modern 2-story bank and office building at the southeast corner of Lee st. and Prairie ave. in Des Plaines. Construction will start this summer.

Garage of the Week



Here is a typical hip roof garage, reasonable in cost, yet suitable as a single car unit. It's another of the National Plan Service designs with blueprints available from many local lumber dealers.

New Ideas In Homes



REFLECTING SOME of the recent trends in residential architecture, this home was built to "open on itself." A privacy fence permits full enjoyment of the contemporary design and indoor-outdoor living without the loss of privacy. The house is built in an "L" shape with a patio as the "heart" of the home. A post and beam construction system was used with the beams left exposed to lend a feeling of height and spaciousness to the interior.

Private Groups Can Aid City Planting Plans

Gift trees can be a boon or a bone of contention to city fathers.

Civic minded groups or individuals who want to contribute plantings for beautification programs will best satisfy this aim by first consulting public officials about community needs.

Budget-badgered park superintendents and shade tree commissions generally welcome outside help on planting programs, advises B. D. Stamp, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Traditionally, such departments operate on limited budgets. Most moneys allocated are used for maintenance of existing landscaping. Rare is the park official who can earmark specific funds for new plantings.

That is why even a modest expenditure by a civic, garden, women's or business club can be an important expression of pride in the home town.

But often the bane of most public officials is the kind hearted individual or club offering plantings for the "digging." The material offered may not farm to long range plans and shrubs or trees may be of doubtful quality. Besides, park employees seldom have time to do both digging and planting.

Donors should make arrangements to supply desired stock at the most appropriate time to assure successful growth. Frequently a public-spirited nurseryman is only too happy to supply uniform stock at modest prices.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

Navajo Plight Is Shame Of U.S.!

by WILLIAM McGILL

When the "Big Doctor" was sent to work among the Navajos, after 12 years of missionary service in China, he thought the Navajos were in "a far sorrier plight than the Chinese."

That was in 1927.

Typhoid fever, diphtheria, tuberculosis were rampant. The treatment which the United States government has accorded its wards on the reservation has seldom been more than a little short of scandalous.

DR. CLARENCE G. Salsbury persuaded his mission board to build him a 2-story stone hospital. Then he went out to drum up trade. It was a slow process. First, he treated white traders in full view of groups of Indians. He progressed to treating Indians' horses, and then to pulling teeth.

Then an economic and cultural factor added to the degree of willingness to use the doctor's services. When a Navajo dies at home, tribal custom requires that his hogan (house) must be burned. If a dying relative were hurried to the hospital, the hogan could be saved.

Dr. Salsbury's powerful medicine eventually took. When a medicine man objected to inoculations for the prevention of typhoid, an assistant showed him contaminated water under the microscope. "See those bugs? They'll kill all of you if you don't let me help." The medicine man was impressed.

ONCE THE Navajos were won, they made excellent patients: they rarely show irritation and are with "the pictures" (X-rays) and envy of operations was a problem at times.

The mission at Ganado—where the "Big Doctor" had treated more than 25,000 patients by the time of his retirement in 1950—includes a 150 bed hospital (which is the reservation's showpiece), a school of nursing, a high school, a home economics school, an ice plant, a power plant, and a coal mine.

Despite all this, Navajo health is still bad: the TB rate is 14 times the national average, the infant death rate is seven times greater then average. The neglected Navajos need more doctors, better sanitation, a more nourishing standard of living.

Dun & Bradstreet Issues Annual Financial Report

The Cook county section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet reference book contains listings of 82,864 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers.

During 1955, Dun & Bradstreet made about 33,145 changes in the listings of business enterprises in Cook County. These changes resulted from adding the names of new businesses, and deleting the names of those who discontinued; as well as accounting for changes in ownership, trade names, and credit rating. Arlington Heights, with 230 names in the current issue, shows an increase of 33.7 per cent in comparison with the names listed in 1950. (BB

Barrington Plant Of Jewel To Produce Instant Coffee

With the installation of new equipment, Jewel Tea Co. Inc., will now manufacture instant coffee at their Barrington plant according to G. L. Clements, president. Approximately $400,000 of equipment will be installed in one of the existing buildings at Barrington making Jewel the only producer of instant coffee in the entire midwest.

The contract for the equipment and installation has been awarded the Sharples Corporation of Philadelphia, nationally known engineering firm. All preliminary engineering work has been completed. The equipment has been ordered so that work can start next month and the operation is scheduled to begin during May.

All of the equipment for the new process will be of stainless steel, including a 100-foot drying tower. The processing will be almost automatic, requiring only 3 people per shift. The operation will run 24 hours a day with a capacity of approximately 600,000 pounds of instant coffee a year. It is another of the many manufacturing installations and investments made at the Jewel plant in Barrington in the last few years.

New Model Dodge Now Out

New, high performance Dodge "D-500" sports models were announced today by Palatine Motors, Inc. The new "D-500" models feature a 260 horsepower engine, 12-inch brakes, and a lowered chassis with a sport type suspension. These models are in current production and several hundred have been built.

The engine is of the double rocker arm, hemispheric combustion type, and boasts a compression ratio of 9.25 to 1. The air cleaner is of the low restriction type, and the four barrel carburetor has been modified with larger venturi. The intake manifold has an enlarged throttle bore. The engine displacement is 315 cubic inches.

A choice of two camshafts is available. One with 252 degree intake, 252 degree exhaust and 30 degree overlap provides maximum torque throughout the speed range, with little or no loss at high speeds. This, the engineers are quick to point out, is accomplished by employing more rapid opening of the valves. A second camshaft with 280 degree intake, 270 degree exhaust and 60 degree overlap, is available for maximum high speed operation.

The 12-volt electrical system features a double breaker distributor, with ballast coil, and short reach, special heat range spark plugs.

The entire chassis has been lowered one and one-half inches to provide a lower center of gravity. Heavy duty rate springs and shock absorbers are employed, as well as 12" heavy duty brakes. (BB

Dun & Bradstreet Issues Annual Financial Report

The Cook county section of the current issue of the Dun & Bradstreet reference book contains listings of 82,864 local names comprising manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers.

During 1955, Dun & Bradstreet made about 33,145 changes in the listings of business enterprises in Cook County. These changes resulted from adding the names of new businesses, and deleting the names of those who discontinued; as well as accounting for changes in ownership, trade names, and credit rating. Arlington Heights, with 230 names in the current issue, shows an increase of 33.7 per cent in comparison with the names listed in 1950. (BB

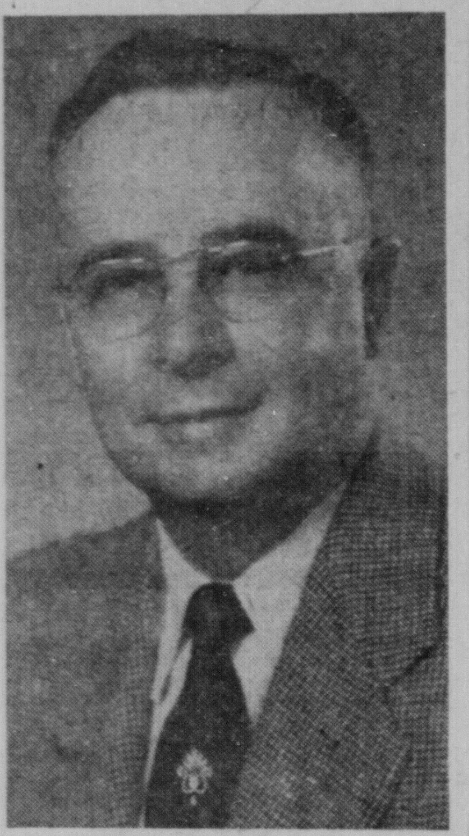
Arlington Heights Federal Reports Record Year Of Growth



Irving T. Rinker

Carl Klehm

Assets of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association reached $3,720,200 during 1955—almost 75 per cent more than they were on December 31, 1954.

This was one of several highlights reported at the annual meeting of association shareholders Wednesday, Jan. 18, at the Federal Savings and Loan offices, 11 N. State rd.

Other features of the annual report pointed up the fact that the local thrift and home financing institution's 1955 operations place it well ahead of national and state averages:

—NET SAVINGS in 1955 increased by 71.6 per cent reaching $3,003,673.83.

—The number of savings account holders increased to 2,927, a gain of 946, or 47.7 per cent over 1954.

—Home loans rose to 223, an increase of 74, or almost 50 per cent, over the preceding year.

"While statewide figures are not yet available, the association's gains in assets, net savings, and volume of home lending in 1955 continue to mark it as probably the fastest growing savings and loan institution in Illinois," said Charles H. Wilson, association president.

THE INCREASE in rate of dividends—from 2½ per cent to 3 per cent per annum—announced last November will be one factor in the institution's steady growth in 1956, Wilson said.

Irving T. Rinker, 630 S. Pine, was elected vice president and Carl Klehm, Algonquin rd., elected to succeed Rinker as secretary at the annual meeting of the association's board of directors, following hte shareholders' session.

Other officers, all reelected, are: Charles H. Wilson, president; Paul E. Collins, executive vice president; Virgil K. Horath, vice president; Alvin A. Popp, treasurer; and Donald F. Morton and Anna M. Schmidt, assistant secretaries.

Carl Klehm, Donald F. Morton, and Arthur J. Schaefer were elected to three-year terms on the board of directors by association shareholders.

The battalion is based on the lower slopes of Fujiyama, 70 miles west of Tokyo.

No Federal Aid For Suburban Schools: Stratton

Has Gov. Stratton turned his back on Chicago's suburbs?

That was a question raised Wednesday after a press conference at which the Republican chief executive said Illinois did not need federal help in building schools.

He declared that there is no statewide classroom shortage problem — "only in a few localized areas, mostly in Chicago suburbs."

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has suggested a program of $250,000,000 in federal grants to be matched by state funds.

Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, told Stratton recently that there is a "desperate" classroom need in 68 suburban districts.

Stratton replied that over-all Cook county property valuations have risen sharply as new housing additions are placed on tax rolls.

Often, however, the new homes don't get on the rolls soon enough to meet the needs of expanding school populations. It usually takes nearly 2 years to get a new house on the tax roll.

Old Stable, Plus Stones From 3 Religions, Means Combined Church

by BILL DILLINGHAM

One of the most unusual places in Europe for religious worship exists at Heilbronn, Germany. It is a synagogue and a church combined.

"The Chapel of the Three Stones," as it is called, holds services for Catholics, Protestants and Jews. It is designed to bring worshippers of different faiths into closer contact, and to lessen their differences.

Three stones form the symbolic foundation of this "chapel". Each one comes from a differnet place, and represents a different religious denomination.

FIRST STONE comes from a Catholic church that was completely destroyed during the war by Allied bombers — the church of Saint Augustin.

The second stone was carried up from Stuttgart where it had been part of a synagogue. In 1939 the synagogue was destroyed by anti-Jewish mobs, in accordance with the German State policy at that time of anti-semitism.

The third stone comes from a Protestant church which was located at Heilbronn and was only partly damaged by bombs.

A RELIGIOUS group in Heilbronn decided that a unity in religion in Germany would do a lot to counteract the rising movement of atheism and anti-Christian governments. An old stable foundation became the base for the "chapel."

Young couples who are troubled about marrying outside of their religion are encouraged to come here. They cannot get a three-denominational marriage ceremony, since all services are individual and not composition affairs, but the priests, rabbis and ministers believe that young people will feel better because they are at least within the atmosphere of their own religion.

SERMONS frequently take up the question of a general world-wide unity of religious elements. It is pointed out the Catholics, Protestants or Jews, being possibly too weak as isolated groups, would in a combined form be more able to deal successfully with those forces and governments which are trying to undermine the Christian spirit throughout the world.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Many of you hi-fi enthusiasts have asked us to specify our own choice of a "dream" home high fidelity system. Matter of fact, your critic has just finished a two-part article on hi-fi which begins in the first issue of "Tiger," a new national monthly in the format of Playboy or Esquire which ought to be on your newsstands by the end of the month.

And here's what we selected as an outstanding quality home music center: the D&R manual turntable with Weathers arm and cartridge, the Pederson "Prelude" preamplifier with 50-watt amplifier, the new Pederson AM-FM tuner, and a pair of Weathers two-way speaker systems (one at each end of the room). Our tape recorder choice is the new "Crown Prince" (created by a gifted humanitarian who is a Bible minister, has established Bible broadcast stations in Ecuador, Guatemala, Panama as well as in this country and is just completing a magnificent new FM station in Elkhart, Indiana which you'll be able to hear any day now at 95.1 on your FM tuner dial). Our microphone choice for "live" recording would be the Shure "300" bi-directional unit, which would capture flawlessly all the music of an orchestra like our own beloved Chicago Symphony. And what a system it is!

WE USED IT, incidentally, to test one of the finest 12-inch discs Victor has ever issued. This is a recital by the great Russian violinist David Oistrakh, who recently visited the United States along with the superb Soviet pianist Emil Gilels (whose stunning interpretation of the Tschaikowsky B Flat Minor Concerto with the Chicago Symphony under Dr. Reiner was just issued by Victor). He plays the magical Prokofieff F Minor Sonata, with Vladimir Yampolsky lending admirable piano accompaniment, and two works by composers two centuries removed from the great composer of "Peter and the Wolf" and "Classical Symphony"; the Third Sonata in D by Leclair and the F Minor Sonata by Locatelli.

You will be left breathless at the Oistrakh violin tone, the fabulous technique, the "up-close" reproduction of his playing!

PRERECORDED TAPES from A-V Tape Libraries will delight many of the hi-fi music-lovers, such as the stunningly brilliant 5-inch-reel album (played back at 7½ inches per second, dual track, or the "Crown Prince") of four little-known but very delightful overtures by Rossini, the "Tancredi," "Journey to Rheims," "Siege of Corinth" and "Turk in Italy," played with verve by the Vienna State Opera Orchestra under Mario Rossi. A-V offers two highly enjoyable folk song albums (at the same speed, same size reel album) by Cynthia Gooding and Susan Reed, the former singing "Queen of Hearts" and a series of famous old British love songs, while Miss Reed has chosen some of the loveliest ballads in folk music's annals like "The Foggy Dew" and "Must I go Bound." There is no record hiss or scratch, you are hardly aware that you are listening to music reproduced by mechanical means!

RUDY VALLEE is shocked at the "costumes" offered Jane Russell and Jeanne Crain for a booking in a Paris night club, in this scene from the CinemaScope Technicolor musical, "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes, due Sunday at the Catlow Theatre, Barrington.

The 90-voice Glee club is under the direction of Mrs. Enid Woodward, associate professor of music and choral director.

At Bethel

Hope Seffens was a member of a mixed trio which sang at the Vesper service Tuesday evening at Bethel college. This was one of a series of services during Deeper Life week held at Bethel college in St. Paul, Minn. January 9-13.

Dr. A. W. Tozer was speaker of the week. He is a well known author and editor in addition to being pastor of the South Side Christian and Missionary Alliance church in Chicago. (CC

At St. Olaf

After years of growing student interest in a campus radio station at St. Olaf college, five Oles have finally come up with some solutions which should put KSTO on the air sometime after February 15. The present campus radio station, WCAL, now goes off the air at sun-down and has consented to let the new group use their facilities rent free from 6 until 11 every evening.

A St. Olaf student from this area, Burt Nesset, son of Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Nesset of Palatine, has been named executive committee director of the station.

The new station will be heard only on campus — it's one of the "closed circuit" type broadcasts that requires no federal license to operate. The largest expense in their budget is $80 set aside to purchase 7 oscillators. These oscillators, or signal boosters are placed in each of the dormitories, and only then can the broadcasts be picked up on regular radios Broadcast signals are carried over the regular campus power lines.

At Wellesley

Miss Natalie Peterson, of Inverness Countryside, Palatine, a junior at Wellesley college, has recently become a reporter on the staff of the Wellesley college News. Miss Peterson is also her class dormitory representative and a member of Phi Sigma. Miss Peterson is a graduate of the Palatine township high school.

At Illinois

Midyear graduates will be honored Sunday, Jan. 29, at a convocation to which Gov. William G. Stratton will speak. This will not be a commencement ceremony, as examinations will have ended only the preceding day, and grades and diplomas will not be ready. Caps and gowns will not be worn.

Honored at the convocation at 2 p.m. will be the graduates, their families, and friends. Following the ceremony, they will be guests at a reception in the ballroom of the Illini Union bldg. given by President and Mrs. David D. Henry.

Among University of Illinois students expecting to complete work this month for midyear degrees are:

Edward R. Caba, 575 White Pine rd., Bensenville, BS.

William G. Dochterman, Bensenville, BS.

Wilbur R. Shebeck, Rte. 2, Bensenville, AM.

Robert A. Claus, 105 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect, MS.

Joan R. Groth, 310 S. Main, Mt. Prospect, BS.

Richard J. Steinbrinck, 117 N. Cedar, Palatine, BS.

At Grinnell

Le Roy Jacobs of 1145 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights, was initiated into the Grinnell college chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity Wednesday evening, Jan. 18.

Bulk Tank Shipments Create Milk Marketing Problems

A Pure Milk association spokesman told 125 dairy farmer members at Wauconda Saturday that increased milk production and continued increase in bulk tank shipment of milk could pose major marketing problems in the Chicago Milkshed in 1956.

A. L. McWilliams, general manager, addressed the annual meeting of district 7 of the association at the high school. The district has dairy farmer members in Lake, North Cook and some of McHenry counties.

McWilliams suggested a "do-it-yourself" program to cope with the situation. These included expansion of plant facilities, particularly distribution, as required; continued advertising and promotion work; development and marketing of new products and continued work to maintain bulk tank premiums.

"AT PRESENT TIME, there are 1400 fewer dairy farmers shipping milk to this market than one year ago," McWilliams stated. "But the dairy farmers who are left are producing about 14 per cent more milk because they have larger herds and producing more milk per herd more efficiently."

PMA's general manager said the marketing problems brought on by bulk tank development in 1955 would continue into 1956 as more country receiving stations were expected to close. He reported how the association had constructed bulk receiving facilities at 8 of its 15 country receiving plants in 1955 to accommodate members who wanted to adopt this method of marketing milk.

"LET'S MAKE IT clear," he stated, "PMA as an organization, is not promoting bulk tank. But it has made facilities available for those members who want to market milk in this manner and want to continue to market through PMA plants. As a result of this program, 27 per cent of the milk coming into our plants now is in bulk while only 3 per cent was in bulk one year ago. Meanwhile the Chicago Market Bulk farms have gone from 1200 to over 3,000.

McWilliams pointed out two other actions by PMA in 1955 to assist members who want to change their method of marketing milk. One was a financing plan for assistance in purchasing of a bulk tank. Another was the continued successful fight of the organization to establish the right of a bulk tank shipper to a premium over the can price. Members present voted unanimously to continue efforts to keep the premium.

THE PMA president related "We've been building our plant program for 20 years. Its success is a product of member cooperation. It holds a valued place in the bargaining and marketing program of the organization."

New district officers elected were: Russ Gualtney, Grayslake, treasurer, to replace Savern Hertel, Grayslake; and Ronald Paddock, Round Lake, to replace Earl Kane Jr., Mundelein, as member of the resolutions committee. Officers reelected include: Martin Meyer, Palatine, president; Robert Paddock, Round Lake, vice president; James Curran, McHenry, secretary; and Chet Faulkner, Gurnee, member of the re-districting committee.

Silence Weather Stripping

THERE'S nothing quite so annoying as a whistling or vibrating metal weather strip on a door. A strong wind will cause the noise. This nuisance can be stopped effectively by inserting a thin strip of felt or rubber between the leaves of the spring, according to Popular Mechanics.

Fit the strip and make sure the door will close snugly against the weather stripping without binding. Then cement the felt or rubber into place or fasten it with brads.

At St. Olaf

After years of growing student interest in a campus radio station at St. Olaf college, five Oles have finally come up with some solutions which should put KSTO on the air sometime after February 15. The present campus radio station, WCAL, now goes off the air at sun-down and has consented to let the new group use their facilities rent free from 6 until 11 every evening.

A St. Olaf student from this area, Burt Nesset, son of Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Nesset of Palatine, has been named executive committee director of the station.

The new station will be heard only on campus — it's one of the "closed circuit" type broadcasts that requires no federal license to operate. The largest expense in their budget is $80 set aside to purchase 7 oscillators. These oscillators, or signal boosters are placed in each of the dormitories, and only then can the broadcasts be picked up on regular radios Broadcast signals are carried over the regular campus power lines.

At Wellesley

Miss Natalie Peterson, of Inverness Countryside, Palatine, a junior at Wellesley college, has recently become a reporter on the staff of the Wellesley college News. Miss Peterson is also her class dormitory representative and a member of Phi Sigma. Miss Peterson is a graduate of the Palatine township high school.

At Illinois

Midyear graduates will be honored Sunday, Jan. 29, at a convocation to which Gov. William G. Stratton will speak. This will not be a commencement ceremony, as examinations will have ended only the preceding day, and grades and diplomas will not be ready. Caps and gowns will not be worn.

Honored at the convocation at 2 p.m. will be the graduates, their families, and friends. Following the ceremony, they will be guests at a reception in the ballroom of the Illini Union bldg. given by President and Mrs. David D. Henry.

Among University of Illinois students expecting to complete work this month for midyear degrees are:

Edward R. Caba, 575 White Pine rd., Bensenville, BS.

William G. Dochterman, Bensenville, BS.

Wilbur R. Shebeck, Rte. 2, Bensenville, AM.

Scouts Sample Navy Life 'In Weekend At Glenview

Mt. Prospect boy scouts of Troop 53 recently spent an exciting weekend at Glenview naval air station, eating, sleeping and even standing watch right alongside Uncle Sam's sailors.

The 38 scouts, led by scoutmaster Bill Granzin, were taken on tours of the base facilities, told of the mechanical wonders of the jet age and even taught to make their beds navy style. As Joseph Vlcek, one of the adults who accompanied the boys commented, "They were a tired group of boys by the time they returned to Mt. Prospect Sunday evening."

The trip began at Central school Friday at 7 p.m. when the boys climbed into cars after answering at the roll call. An aide to Lt. Comdr. Jack Fitzgerald welcomed the group "aboard the station" and showed them to the barracks which were their weekend home. Later that evening the scouts were taken to the gymnasium where they cheered the Glenview team to a 63-54 victory over Fort Sheridan. By 10 p.m. the new recruits were back at the barracks to test the navy's beds.

REVEILLE SOUNDED at 6:30 Saturday morning, in time for the scouts to make up their bunks navy style and stand inspection before breakfast. The food was such to delight the eyes of any hungry teen-ager. It consisted of a choice of cereals, fruit juice, ham and eggs, toast and milk. After "chow" sailors showed the boys through shops where radar and radio sets are repaired and jets reconditioned. A pilot told them that the aircraft flying out of Glenview include the F9F Cougar Jet, the AD3 Sky Raider, the TV33 jet trainer and the SNB multi-engined Beechcraft.

Commander Smith explained the operation of the control tower later and finished up the morning with a visit to the parachute tower where Navy Waves demonstrated parachute packing.

At noon the boys and the 5 adults who accompanied them partook of a healthy meal of steak, beans, carrots, potatoes and ice cream for dessert. After a 15-minute time out following lunch they heard a briefing from a jet pilot, Lt. A. T. Anderson, given to one of the adults who later took a jet ride. He was Stuart Goodenough and he was the envy of all. Next stop was the base canteen for mid-afternoon refreshments. Survival at sea was shown to be possible in a movie that pictured a downed pilot acutally doing it.

A recreation and cleanup period wound up the afternoon's activities. At the conclusion of the main course at dinner the 38 scouts polished off delicious blueberry turnovers covered with blueberry syrup.

After a full day of tramping around the huge base, the scouts still had enough energy left to take on the men who went along on the trip and beat them handily. After that all were glad to relax at a film —"Paris Follies of 1956."

LIGHTS WERE OUT in the barracks by 10 p.m. but flashlights were kept handy as the boys had to take turns standing fire watch in real navy fashion. Watches consisted of 1 hour of duty. Sunday morning everyone tumbled out of bed at 6:30 again—not so quickly this time—to prepare for another day of activities. One group went to church while another group went aboard a P4Y Privateer 4-engine bomber and then the procedure was reversed. A hearty dinner followed at noon and soon after the boys got ready to pack up and return home after what all agreed was an exciting, if exhausting, weekend.

Making the trip were: Cheyene patrol—Eugene Martin, Jack Burke, Bob Elliott, Duane Goodenough, Tom Mott and Joe' Vlcek; Moose patrol—Frank Todaro, Bob McDowell, John Lustman, Dickson Randolph and Jim Powell;

Mink patrol—John Randell, John Kidd, Richard Christensen, Dave Cole, Tom Flynn and Alan Holdiman; Panther patrol—Bob Christensen, Ken Peterson, Fred Boedeker, Bob Manchester, Jim Blake and Jim Anderson;

Rattlesnake patrol — Jerry Willie, Vaughn Kirchhoff, Tom Busse, John Ryan, Carl Schoenbeck and Jerry Schwieger; Woodchuck patrol—Neal West, Ronald Bingham, Jim Lange, Phil Kunz, Bob Ziel and Bob Wright; senior patrol leader T. Georcaris, explorer scout Newell Esmond, scoutmaster Granzin and adult leaders Irvin Cole, Stuart Goodenough, Eugene Martin and Joseph Vlcek.

Lohman Brought 'New Look' To Sheriff's Office In 1955

by CHARLES HAYES

More than a million persons residing in 483 square miles of unincorporated Cook county must depend upon 160 men for police protection.

These officers, under the direction of County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, last year answered 15,712 calls, investigated 15,250 complaints, made 3,223 non-traffic arrests and 6,885 arrests for traffic violations, and recovered property valued at $86,767.

As the rapid and unprecedented growth of the county raced ahead, Sheriff Lohman initiated sweeping changes and improvements within his office in order to keep abreast of expanding needs.

Sheriff Lohman

THE RECORD of Lohman's first year as sheriff is impressive.

Within the police branch, the sheriff made these improvements:

—established a blood bank for county policemen;

—set up for the first time in county history a training school for sheriff's police and officers from suburban departments who asked to attend;

—created a major investigation unit to handle major crimes;

—instituted a bureau of investigation to specialize in vice and gambling;

—made 433 raids and confiscated $151,000 worth of gambling equipment as well as 712 arrests;

—recommended revocation of 150 liquor licenses;

—destroyed $7 million worth of marijuana fields through the narcotics division;

—recovered 192 stolen autos; and

—instituted a central record division which makes it possible for the first time to keep a complete file on all accident, arrest, investigation, and complaint records.

LOHMAN HAS received considerable praise for the manner in which he has administered county jail, an out-dated building constructed to hold a maximum of 1,302 inmates and currently jammed with as many as 2,400 prisoners.

Better communication, discontinuance of censorship, creation of a business office and perpetual inventory system, installation of a trust-credit system, a TB X-ray screening and general medical and dental program, as well as expansion of services with outside agencies—these are some of the innovations the sheriff brought to the jail.

In addition, a twice monthly professional staff meeting has been organized for coordination of rehabilitative measures.

A new classification system has been put into effect with proper segregation of inmates according to their status.

Maximum security prisoners were transferred to a special tier and jail church services were reorganized and made available to all inmates.

Wire mesh was installed in attorney's cages, replacing glass. Construction of 6 interview booths in the administrative part of the jail office was opened for lawyers under special security conditions.

Vocational training has expanded. The educational program was overhauled, and a jail newspaper edited by inmates begun.

FROM A DEPARTMENT of minor importance, Sheriff Lohman reorganized and expanded the juvenile bureau into a vital and aggressive branch of the sheriff's office.

His program is two-fold:

1) precent delinquency by marshalling county-wide activities program for all youth, regardless of race, color or creed, and

2) attempt to control existing problems by modern and efficient juvenile police methods.

To head the department, Lohman brought Dr. Benedict Mayers, experienced in youth program administration, and Capt. Richard Boone, a trained and experienced criminologist in the field of juvenile work.

Lorman quadrupled the number of men in the bureau, enlarged the scope of its work, and gave the juvenile department equal status with other branches of the sheriff's office.

Through cooperation with the heads of 102 suburbs, the sheriff's ofice has set up a central files system. Juvenile officers are supplied in Family court to represent suburban police.

A special training school for juvenile officers is being conducted this month.

A COUNTY-WIDE conference on delinquency brought together more than 800 youth leaders. From its recommendations have been held more than 30 meetings of various subcommittees.

Lohman, a former university professor and nationally-known criminologist has attracted considerable attention across the country for his professional approach to a political office, once notorious for patronage and pay-off.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rahn
300 East Circle

Looking for a comfortable ranch home, instead of a two-story house the Watler Rahns found exactly what they wanted in the former George Habenicht home at 300 E. Circle. And they did not have to move far since they were living in Arlington Heights. Mr. Rahn does not have far to travel to work, either, as he is in plant assigning at the Illinois Bell Telephone company office in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Rahn is a telephone company employee occasionally now since she formerly was a full-time employee.

Dogs are a hobby for Mr. and Mrs. Rahn and they have 2 friendly and fine examples of the English setter breed. They are Penny and Martha and both have had litters of pups to carry on their line.

In the sport department these 2 belong to the bowling, hunting and fishing group.

Arlington Heights was the Rahns home for over 5 years. Before that time they were Chicagoans.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Stevenson
309 N. Maple ave.

Moving into an older home on the New Year weekend were the Lionel Stevensons. They chose the Edward Faber home at 309 N. Maple ave. as their Prospect Heights residence and came from Oak Park.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are employed. Mr. Stevenson is an engineer at Commonwealth Edison company. The National Safety council is Mrs. Stevenson's employer. Mr. Stevenson took his engineer's training at Purdue and U.C.L.A.

Mrs. Stevenson has a son, Richard Sumner, who is in the army at Fort Campbell, Kentucky. In service for 5 months he has just become a full fledged parachutist.

At home there is one more member of the family, a Cairn terrier who is a good age of 10 years. Smoky is the dog's name.

This is another family who likes Lake Michigan by virtue of the fact that one can have sailboats on it. Now Mr. Stevenson is making an exact model of the big boat he has.

Knitting and sewing are other interests of Mrs. Stevenson.

Although Mr. Stevenson is leaving his home town for the first time, Mrs. Stevenson has been in this area for only 10 years; she came from Boston.

Lohman Brought 'New Look' To Sheriff's Office In 1955

by CHARLES HAYES

More than a million persons residing in 483 square miles of unincorporated Cook county must depend upon 160 men for police protection.

These officers, under the direction of County Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, last year answered 15,712 calls, investigated 15,250 complaints, made 3,223 non-traffic arrests and 6,885 arrests for traffic violations, and recovered property valued at $86,767.

As the rapid and unprecedented growth of the county raced ahead, Sheriff Lohman initiated sweeping changes and improvements within his office in order to keep abreast of expanding needs.

Sheriff Lohman

THE RECORD of Lohman's first year as sheriff is impressive.

Within the police branch, the sheriff made these improvements:

—established a blood bank for county policemen;

—set up for the first time in county history a training school for sheriff's police and officers from suburban departments who asked to attend;

—created a major investigation unit to handle major crimes;

—instituted a bureau of investigation to specialize in vice and gambling;

—made 433 raids and confiscated $151,000 worth of gambling equipment as well as 712 arrests;

—recommended revocation of 150 liquor licenses;

—destroyed $7 million worth of marijuana fields through the narcotics division;

—recovered 192 stolen autos; and

—instituted a central record division which makes it possible for the first time to keep a complete file on all accident, arrest, investigation, and complaint records.

LOHMAN HAS received considerable praise for the manner in which he has administered county jail, an out-dated building constructed to hold a maximum of 1,302 inmates and currently jammed with as many as 2,400 prisoners.

Lessons In English

by W. L. GORDON

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "In so far as I know." The word "in" is not needed, and should be omitted. Say, "So far as I know."

"The experiment was quite satisfactory" means completely, or wholly, satisfactory. Otherwise, say, "was fairly satisfactory."

Do not say, "Do you wish cream in your coffee?" Say, "Do you want (care for, or desire) cream in your coffee?"

Distinguish bewteen "altogether" (wholly; completely) and "all together" (with each other). Thus: "I am altogether at a loss," and, "We are all together at last."

Do not say, "When the meeting was over with, we departed." Omit "with."

Do not say, "Until he moved to a healthier climate, he came near dying." Say, "Until he moved to a more healthful climate, he almost died."

Do not say, "She fell down off of the ladder." Omit "down" and "of." Say, "She fell off the ladder."

The verb "transpire" should not be used in sense of "happen." "Transpire" means to come to light; to become known. Thus: "The news of the battle did not transpire until several days after it had been fought."

"Raise," in the sense of "bring up" or "rear," is unacceptable as applied to children. In this sense, it is properly used only of animals.

Do not say, "I can't hardly hear the speaker." Say, "I can hardly hear the speaker."

Do not say, "His voice is different than what it used to be." Say, "is different from what it used to be."

Do not say, "He's the one who we want." Say, "Whom we want."

Words Often Mispronounced

Pundit (a learned teacher or critic). Pronounce the "u" as in "pun," not as in "rude."

Deign. Pronounce as "dane."

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Finite; subject to creature limitations. (Pronounce both i's as in fine, accent first syllable). "Man's finite mind is unable to comprehend these mysteries."

Chiromancy; divination by examination of the hand; palmistry. (Pronounce kie-roe-man-si, accent on first syllable). "Through chiromancy, the palmist claimed to reveal the past and foretell the future."

Venerable; capable of being regarded with admiration and deference; generally implying an advanced age. "The venerable schoolmaster retired at the age of sixty-five."

Surfeit; excess; over-abundant supply. (Pronounce sur-fit). "More people die of surfeits than of hunger."

Ostracism; exclusion by general consent from common privileges, as favor, etc.; "social ostracism."

Momentary; continuing only a moment. "Anger can be momentary madness."

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Amity; mutual good will; friendship. "They lived in perfect amtiy."

Inappetent; wanting in appetite or desire (accent second syllable). "The dog's inappetent condition necessitated the care of a veterinary."

Gravity; seriousness; importance; enormity. "The gravity of the situation calls for action."

Repugnant; offensive to the taste or feeling. "His manner was repugnant to most people."

Increment; an increasing; enlargement. (Accent first syllable). "Experience is a necessary increment to an education."

Infelicitous; unhappy; displeasing; inappropriate. "The move to a new city was an infelicitous change for the popular school girl."

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

By Eddie Meier

Venison Head Cheese

Head cheese was developed in the days of farm butchering expressly to utilize the meat parts of hogs and cattle which were not otherwise adaptable to table use. When farm butchering passed out of the picture, the good old fashioned head cheese went with it!

Lacking the hog heads, feet and so forth, we have for years substituted chuck beef, pork shoulder and veal. Then one year we tried venison chuck instead of beef, and boy, it was like hitting the jackpot!

Here is how: place 5 pounds each of venison chuck, veal and pork shoulder in a cloth and boil in a kettle with 4 or 5 bay leaves, 1 teaspoon cloves, 3 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon red pepper, 1 tablespoon allspice and 3 or 4 small onions. Reason for placing meat in a cloth is to keep it from breaking apart. When thoroughly cooked, remove and slice thin immediately.

Lay another cloth over a dinner plate and on this start building your head cheese. First put a layer of venison, then a layer of pork and finally a layer of veal, working fast and while the meat is still hot so that the layers will adhere. The fat in the pork will help bind the layers together so use it generously.

Between each layer of meat sprinkle mustard seed, paprika, red pepper and salt and pepper. When all the meat has been used, bring cloth together at top and twist. This squeezes the excess juice from the meat and puts pressure on the whole cake so that it will hold together. Finally, immerse the whole cake (still in the cloth) in a strong brine. A stone jar is ideal. Lay a pie plate or board over the head cheese, weigh it down with several stones and store in a cool place 3 or 4 days before using. When transferred to the refrigerator, always keep headcheese wrapped in a damp cloth. (Sp

Tax Facts

Taxpayers of Illinois will be called upon to pay $4,577,600,000 as their share of the $65,865,000,000 which President Eisenhower's budget message estimated will be spent by the federal government in the new fiscal year (1957) beginning next July 1, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois estimated.

Illinois taxpayers provide 6.95 per cent of the total, based on computations using a Tax Foundation formula for determining the ultimate distribution of the Federal tax burden.

Due primarily to the substantial increase in federal revenues, reflecting high levels of business activity, the prospects for a balanced budget, both in the current (1956) fiscal year and in fiscal 1957, appear more favorable than for many years, the Taxpayers' Federation reports. Net budget receipts for fiscal 1957 are now estimated at $66,300,000,000, and the new estimate of receipts for the current (1956) fiscal year is $64,500,000,000, far above the $60 billion originally estimated last January.

The trend of federal spending has been down, from the 1953 peacetime high of $74.3 billion to an estimated $64,270,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending July 1. However, the estimate of almost 66 billions of spending for next fiscal year interrupts that trend, and doesn't take into account other spending proposals now being widely discussed.

"The promise of a balanced budget tends to obscure the interruption in the downward trend of expenditures," the taxpayer group says. "Federal spending must continue to be cut back if there is to be avoidance of deficits in the future, reduction of the public debt (estimated at $273,800,000,000 at the end of fiscal 1957), and assurance of relief from an oppressive burden of Federal taxation. This can be accomplished if the people insist on adoption of Hoover Report recommendations."

Lessons In English

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "In so far as I know." The word "in" is not needed, and should be omitted. Say, "So far as I know."

"The experiment was quite satisfactory" means completely, or wholly, satisfactory. Otherwise, say, "was fairly satisfactory."

Do not say, "Do you wish cream in your coffee?" Say, "Do you want (care for, or desire) cream in your coffee?"

Distinguish bewteen "altogether" (wholly; completely) and "all together" (with each other). Thus: "I am altogether at a loss," and, "We are all together at last."

Do not say, "When the meeting was over with, we departed." Omit "with."

Do not say, "Until he moved to a healthier climate, he came near dying." Say, "Until he moved to a more healthful climate, he almost died."

Do not say, "She fell down off of the ladder." Omit "down" and "of." Say, "She fell off the ladder."

The verb "transpire" should not be used in sense of "happen." "Transpire" means to come to light; to become known. Thus: "The news of the battle did not transpire until several days after it had been fought."

"Raise," in the sense of "bring up" or "rear," is unacceptable as applied to children. In this sense, it is properly used only of animals.

Do not say, "I can't hardly hear the speaker." Say, "I can hardly hear the speaker."

Do not say, "His voice is different than what it used to be." Say, "is different from what it used to be."

Do not say, "He's the one who we want." Say, "Whom we want."

Words Often Mispronounced

Pundit (a learned teacher or critic). Pronounce the "u" as in "pun," not as in "rude."

Deign. Pronounce as "dane."

Vagrant. Pronounce first a as in ate, not as in rag.

Ghoul. Pronounce as "gool.' '

Exchequer. Pronounce eks-check-er, accent on second syllable.

Tyro (a novice). Pronounce tie-roe, accent on first syllable.

Words Often Misspelled

Forbear (to refrain from doing); forebear (an ancestor). Climatic (relating to the climate); climactic (of the nature of a climax). Bouillon (a soup); bullion (gold or silver considered as metal). Genius (a person of extraordinary talent); genus (a class or group). Precipice; two c's, not s. Either "chaperon" or "chaperone" is correct.

Dolorous. Pronounce first syllable as "doll," preferred, and accent first syllable.

Cerement. Pronounce seer-ment, accent first syllable.

Menage (a household). Pronounce may-nahzh, with accent on second syllable.

Infamous. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Delete. Pronounce dee-leet, accent on second syllable.

Positively. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Words Often Misspelled

Cheddar (cheese); observe the ar. Withhold; observe the two h's. Engineer, eer; atmosphere, ere. Porte-cochere; observe the first e. Auger (carpenter's boring tool); augur (to predict). Accompany; accompaniment.

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Finite; subject to creature limitations. (Pronounce both i's as in fine, accent first syllable). "Man's finite mind is unable to comprehend these mysteries."

Chiromancy; divination by examination of the hand; palmistry. (Pronounce kie-roe-man-si, accent on first syllable). "Through chiromancy, the palmist claimed to reveal the past and foretell the future."

Venerable; capable of being regarded with admiration and deference; generally implying an advanced age. "The venerable schoolmaster retired at the age of sixty-five."

Surfeit; excess; over-abundant supply. (Pronounce sur-fit). "More people die of surfeits than of hunger."

Ostracism; exclusion by general consent from common privileges, as favor, etc.; "social ostracism."

Momentary; continuing only a moment. "Anger can be momentary madness."

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Amity; mutual good will; friendship. "They lived in perfect amtiy."

Inappetent; wanting in appetite or desire (accent second syllable). "The dog's inappetent condition necessitated the care of a veterinary."

Gravity; seriousness; importance; enormity. "The gravity of the situation calls for action."

Repugnant; offensive to the taste or feeling. "His manner was repugnant to most people."

Increment; an increasing; enlargement. (Accent first syllable). "Experience is a necessary increment to an education."

Infelicitous; unhappy; displeasing; inappropriate. "The move to a new city was an infelicitous change for the popular school girl."

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN

By Eddie Meier

Venison Head Cheese

Head cheese was developed in the days of farm butchering expressly to utilize the meat parts of hogs and cattle which were not otherwise adaptable to table use. When farm butchering passed out of the picture, the good old fashioned head cheese went with it!

Lacking the hog heads, feet and so forth, we have for years substituted chuck beef, pork shoulder and veal. Then one year we tried venison chuck instead of beef, and boy, it was like hitting the jackpot!

Here is how: place 5 pounds each of venison chuck, veal and pork shoulder in a cloth and boil in a kettle with 4 or 5 bay leaves, 1 teaspoon cloves, 3 tablespoons salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon red pepper, 1 tablespoon allspice and 3 or 4 small onions. Reason for placing meat in a cloth is to keep it from breaking apart. When thoroughly cooked, remove and slice thin immediately.

Lay another cloth over a dinner plate and on this start building your head cheese. First put a layer of venison, then a layer of pork and finally a layer of veal, working fast and while the meat is still hot so that the layers will adhere. The fat in the pork will help bind the layers together so use it generously.

Between each layer of meat sprinkle mustard seed, paprika, red pepper and salt and pepper. When all the meat has been used, bring cloth together at top and twist. This squeezes the excess juice from the meat and puts pressure on the whole cake so that it will hold together. Finally, immerse the whole cake (still in the cloth) in a strong brine. A stone jar is ideal. Lay a pie plate or board over the head cheese, weigh it down with several stones and store in a cool place 3 or 4 days before using. When transferred to the refrigerator, always keep headcheese wrapped in a damp cloth. (Sp

Taxpayers of Illinois will be called upon to pay $4,577,600,000 as their share of the $65,865,000,000 which President Eisenhower's budget message estimated will be spent by the federal government in the new fiscal year (1957) beginning next July 1, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois estimated.

Illinois taxpayers provide 6.95 per cent of the total, based on computations using a Tax Foundation formula for determining the ultimate distribution of the Federal tax burden.

Illini Freshmen Have Good Records

Nearly half of the freshmen entering the University of Illinois are from the upper quarter of their high school classes, and 70 per cent from the upper half, George P. Tuttle, director of admissions and records, said today.

"Of 3,311 freshmen admitted in September, 1954, to the Urbana campus of the University of Illinois, 44.5 per cent ranked in the highest quarter of their high school classes; 70 per cent ranked in the upper half," Tuttle said.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Will you please make some comments on hand-shaking?

A. This can be the most maddening form of greeting there is. Limp, boneless handshakes are actually repulsive, contradicting the very warmth they were intended to convey. If you shake hands, do it with character. Grasp the hand of your friend firmly, release it quickly. Don't pump it! Look into the eyes of the person with whom you are shaking hands. Make him feel your friendship.

Q. When a man is accompanying his wife and another woman to some social function, which woman does he assist first with her wraps?

A. He should assist the woman guest first.

Q. When celery, pickles or olives are passed at the dinner table, where should the guest place them?

A. On his bread-and-butter plate.

Q. Shouldn't the husband always carve the roast at the table, when there are guests, even if the family has a maid?

A. Not necessarily. It should depend upon who is the better carver, and also whether you want to save the extra time it takes to carve the meat at the table.

Q. During a recent bereavement we received flowers with a card reading, "Sympathy from your neighbors." How can we acknowledge this?

A. You can ask one of your neighbors who contributed, then thank each one individually.

Q. May a wedding "breakfast" be served properly as late as one p.m.?

A. Yes, it is still properly a wedding breakfast.

Q. What is the correct way to write one's acceptance or regrets to a formal invitation?

A. "Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gordon accept with pleasure (or, regret they are unable to accept) Mr. and Mrs. William R. Morton's kind invitation for Saturday, the seventeenth of December."

Q. Is it all right to dip the napkin into a glass of water, after eating, and wipe the mouth and fingers?

A. If no finger bowl has been provided, it is proper to hold your napkin in one hand and tip the glass enough to wet it. This is better than "dunking" the napkin in the glass.

Q. If a woman is being married for the second time, would it be proper for her married daughter to announce the marriage?

A. No. The marriage should be announced in the name of the woman and her husband.

Q. How soon after his departure should a weekend guest write his "bread-and-butter" letter?

A. Within a day or two after his departure.

Q. is it ever proper for a man and girl to meet at some designated place to go on a date, rather than at the girl's home?

A. As a general rule, the man should always call at the girl's home for her. However, there are exceptions — as, for instance, if the man has to work late, has tickets for a certain show, and cannot possibley call at the girl's home and arrive at the theater in time — then she may meet him in front of the theater.

Q. If a bride wishes to wear her engagement ring during the wedding ceremony, on which finger does she wear it?

A. On the third finger of her right hand.

Q. Is it all right to write "thank you" notes on the typewriter?

A. Athough most typewritten personal letters are now generally accepted, it is still better to write the "thank you" note by hand.

Q. Is it proper, when setting the dinner table, to put the butter on one plate and pass it around, or to put it on individual bread-and-butter plates?

A. This is more a question of convenience than propriety, and certainly it is more convenient to serve the butter on individual plates than to have your guests pass it around.

Q. Is it obligatory to make calls on the bride and bridegroom?

A. Yes; all those who received invitations to the wedding should call on the bride in her new home, even if they didn't attend the wedding.

Q. Is it obligatory to make calls on the bride and bridegroom?

A. Yes; all those who received invitations to the wedding shoud call on the bride in her new home, even if they didn't attend the wedding.

Q. Is one ever justified in mentioning to friends and acquaintances the prices one has paid for certain possessions?

A. Never! This is extremely ill-bred.

Q. When is the proper moment for a dinner guest to open his napkin and place it on his lap?

A. Only when the hostess takes up her napkin. And be sure not to unfold the napkin completely. Open it only in half and lay it across the lap.

Q. Is it proper for a girl to hold the arm of the man with whom she is walking on the street?

A. If she is walking in high-heeled shoes on a slippery, icy street, it is all right. Otherwise, she should walk beside him unaided.

Q. What is the correct way for a friend or relative to respond to a birth announcement?

A. By calling to see the mother, sending flowers to her, or a gift to the baby.

Q. Is it required to bring a gift to a "Welcome Home" party given for a man returning from army overseas service?

A. No, this isn't required, although in some instances friends will band together to buy a gift for the returnee.

Q. Is it proper for the bridegroom-elect to be present at a shower for his fiancee?

A. No, it isn't. He may, however, appear at the end of the party to help his fiancee home with her gifts.

Q. Should a girl smoke her own cigarettes when going out with a young man, or should she smoke his?

A. Either way is correct.

Q. Is it required that a woman wear a hat when she goes to a restaurant during the day?

A. Most authorities seem to think it looks much better if she wears a hat.

Q. How close to the edge of the table should the silverware be placed?

A. The ends of the handles should be placed about an inch from the table edge.

Q. Where should one's return address be properly placed on the envelope of a letter?

A. The preferred position is in the upper lefthand corner of the face of the envelope, although when the envelope is too small, the return address is sometimes written on the back.

Q. I am a widow who is going to be married for the second time. Would it be proper for my daughter to serve as my maid-of-honor and my son to give me away?

A. This is not only proper, but very nice, too. It would indicate your children's approval of your remarrying.

Q. Should individual dishes be provided for the various vegetables when giving a dinner at home?

A. No; this is done only in restaurants.

Q. Isn't the bridegroom supposed to pay for the wedding music?

A. No; this expense is borne by the bride or her family.

Fire Losses

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, estimated losses for December (1955) totaled $89,212,000, an increase of 29.7 per cent over losses of $68,784,000 reported for November (1955) and an increase also of 6.4 per cent over losses of $83,881,000 reported for December, 1954.

Fire damaged or destroyed an estimated $885,218,000 worth of property in the United States last year (195), the national board of fire underwriters reported. This is 1.6 per cent more than that for 1954, when estimated monthly

Nearly half of the freshmen entering the University of Illinois are from the upper quarter of their high school classes, and 70 per cent from the upper half, George P. Tuttle, director of admissions and records, said today.

"Of 3,311 freshmen admitted in September, 1954, to the Urbana campus of the University of Illinois, 44.5 per cent ranked in the highest quarter of their high school classes; 70 per cent ranked in the upper half," Tuttle said.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Will you please make some comments on hand-shaking?

A. This can be the most maddening form of greeting there is. Limp, boneless handshakes are actually repulsive, contradicting the very warmth they were intended to convey. If you shake hands, do it with character. Grasp the hand of your friend firmly, release it quickly. Don't pump it! Look into the eyes of the person with whom you are shaking hands. Make him feel your friendship.

Q. When a man is accompanying his wife and another woman to some social function, which woman does he assist first with her wraps?

A. He should assist the woman guest first.

Q. When celery, pickles or olives are passed at the dinner table, where should the guest place them?

A. On his bread-and-butter plate.

Q. Shouldn't the husband always carve the roast at the table, when there are guests, even if the family has a maid?

A. Not necessarily. It should depend upon who is the better carver, and also whether you want to save the extra time it takes to carve the meat at the table.

Q. During a recent bereavement we received flowers with a card reading, "Sympathy from your neighbors." How can we acknowledge this?

A. You can ask one of your neighbors who contributed, then thank each one individually.

Q. May a wedding "breakfast" be served properly as late as one p.m.?

A. Yes, it is still properly a wedding breakfast.

Q. What is the correct way to write one's acceptance or regrets to a formal invitation?

A. "Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Gordon accept with pleasure (or, regret they are unable to accept) Mr. and Mrs. William R. Morton's kind invitation for Saturday, the seventeenth of December."

Q. Is it all right to dip the napkin into a glass of water, after eating, and wipe the mouth and fingers?

A. If no finger bowl has been provided, it is proper to hold your napkin in one hand and tip the glass enough to wet it. This is better than "dunking" the napkin in the glass.

Q. If a woman is being married for the second time, would it be proper for her married daughter to announce the marriage?

A. No. The marriage should be announced in the name of the woman and her husband.

Q. How soon after his departure should a weekend guest write his "bread-and-butter" letter?

A. Within a day or two after his departure.

Q. is it ever proper for a man and girl to meet at some designated place to go on a date, rather than at the girl's home?

A. As a general rule, the man should always call at the girl's home for her. However, there are exceptions — as, for instance, if the man has to work late, has tickets for a certain show, and cannot possibley call at the girl's home and arrive at the theater in time — then she may meet him in front of the theater.

Q. If a bride wishes to wear her engagement ring during the wedding ceremony, on which finger does she wear it?

A. On the third finger of her right hand.

Q. Is it all right to write "thank you" notes on the typewriter?

A. Athough most typewritten personal letters are now generally accepted, it is still better to write the "thank you" note by hand.

Q. Is it proper, when setting the dinner table, to put the butter on one plate and pass it around, or to put it on individual bread-and-butter plates?

A. This is more a question of convenience than propriety, and certainly it is more convenient to serve the butter on individual plates than to have your guests pass it around.

Q. Is it obligatory to make calls on the bride and bridegroom?

A. Yes; all those who received invitations to the wedding should call on the bride in her new home, even if they didn't attend the wedding.

Q. Is it obligatory to make calls on the bride and bridegroom?

A. Yes; all those who received invitations to the wedding shoud call on the bride in her new home, even if they didn't attend the wedding.

Q. Is one ever justified in mentioning to friends and acquaintances the prices one has paid for certain possessions?

A. Never! This is extremely ill-bred.

Q. When is the proper moment for a dinner guest to open his napkin and place it on his lap?

A. Only when the hostess takes up her napkin. And be sure not to unfold the napkin completely. Open it only in half and lay it across the lap.

Q. Is it proper for a girl to hold the arm of the man with whom she is walking on the street?

A. If she is walking in high-heeled shoes on a slippery, icy street, it is all right. Otherwise, she should walk beside him unaided.

Q. What is the correct way for a friend or relative to respond to a birth announcement?

A. By calling to see the mother, sending flowers to her, or a gift to the baby.

Q. Is it required to bring a gift to a "Welcome Home" party given for a man returning from army overseas service?

A. No, this isn't required, although in some instances friends will band together to buy a gift for the returnee.

Q. Is it proper for the bridegroom-elect to be present at a shower for his fiancee?

A. No, it isn't. He may, however, appear at the end of the party to help his fiancee home with her gifts.

Q. Should a girl smoke her own cigarettes when going out with a young man, or should she smoke his?

A. Either way is correct.

Q. Is it required that a woman wear a hat when she goes to a restaurant during the day?

A. Most authorities seem to think it looks much better if she wears a hat.

Q. How close to the edge of the table should the silverware be placed?

A. The ends of the handles should be placed about an inch from the table edge.

Q. Where should one's return address be properly placed on the envelope of a letter?

A. The preferred position is in the upper lefthand corner of the face of the envelope, although when the envelope is too small, the return address is sometimes written on the back.

Q. I am a widow who is going to be married for the second time. Would it be proper for my daughter to serve as my maid-of-honor and my son to give me away?

A. This is not only proper, but very nice, too. It would indicate your children's approval of your remarrying.

Q. Should individual dishes be provided for the various vegetables when giving a dinner at home?

A. No; this is done only in restaurants.

Q. Isn't the bridegroom supposed to pay for the wedding music?

A. No; this expense is borne by the bride or her family.

Fire Losses

losses totaled $870,984,000.

According to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager, estimated losses for December (1955) totaled $89,212,000, an increase of 29.7 per cent over losses of $68,784,000 reported for November (1955) and an increase also of 6.4 per cent over losses of $83,881,000 reported for December, 1954.

Fire damaged or destroyed an estimated $885,218,000 worth of property in the United States last year (195), the national board of fire underwriters reported. This is 1.6 per cent more than that for 1954, when estimated monthly

'Display House' Racket Opening Up Here Again

Don't fall for the "display house" racket by a fast talking salesman who wants to use your residence as a "demonstration home" for his company's remodeling work, says the Better Business bureau. This warning is issued because inquiries and complaints from the public indicate such selling techniques are again being used by some of the less reputable organizations in the Chicago area.

This "demonstration home" approach is followed by high pressure boys who attempt to make the home owner believe he is getting a special price if he helps sell other prospective purchasers. It has been used by salesmen selling various types of remodeling work, such as aluminum or suedo brick siding, awnings, mastic paint jobs, etc.

THE BUILD-UP on this fast buck operation may vary. Sometimes the home owner will receive an impressive letter from the company about some new product or process it wants to demonstrate The letter says the sales manager will call that evening for written consent to use the owner's home as a "display house.'"

In other instances the approach may be by a telephone call or a salesman may come to the owner's home. In any event, the usual pitch is that the company can reduce the heating bill by one-third in the winter, keep out heat in the summer or guarantee you will never have to paint your house again.

OF COURSE you get a special price. Ordinarily, for example, the cost would be $3,600, but because your house was "selected" as a demonstration job, the price, is reduced to $2,100, provided, of course, you will permit photographs to be made, a sign placed in the yard and also tell prospects who examine the completed job, how satisfied you are.

If you still aren't convinced, the salesman, in typical pitchman fashion, "offers more for your money." "Chances are," he says, "your job won't cost you a cent—our company will pay you a bonus of $75.00 for every customer you help us sell and since we expect to sell 25 or 30 homes in this part of town—well, add it up for yourself."

Washday Bright

Synthetic detergents are such a familiar product in our kitchens that it doesen't seem possible they were unheard of in the household less than 20 years ago. Bringing petroleum into our washday world has certainly made it bright — literally.

Red Cross 1st Aid Representatives To Plan Classes

Seven persons have been appointed volunteer Red Cross first aid representatives for 8 northwest suburban communities by Roy D. Day, volunteer chairman of first aid for the Chicago chapter.

They are for Itasca, Mrs. Richard P. Hanson, Irving Park blvd., phone Itasca 37; for Arlington Heights, Gerald H. Knitter, 730 N. Hardwood ave., phone CLearbrook 3-6499; for Roselle, Mrs, Alfred Renz, 311 E Pine st., phone Lawrence 9-2461; for Wheeling, Arthur C. Truelsen, 312 N. Wolf rd., phone Wheeling 661-R.

Also appointed, for Bartlett, Edward Heinberg, S. Western ave., phone Tennyson 7-5372; for Bloomingdale, Edwin Steinbeck, Bloomingdale and Shick, phone Lawrence 7-2841; for Cloverdale and Keeneyville, Charles Suckow, Argyle and Barrington rd., phone, Tennyson 7-3447, (Keeneyville).

AS RED CROSS first aid representatives, these people will promote the first aid program in their neighborhoods, and will set up first aid courses in the communities.

Any organization wishing to arrange a first aid course for a group of persons, or any individual wishing to enroll in a Red Cross first aid course may contact the individual in his community by telephone. (G

Wall Insulation Encases Pipes, Protects Water

Water pipes in an outside wall may seem to obstruct placing of insulation, but they are really a blessing in disguise. The same insulation that keeps room heat from escaping in winter, and the sun's heat from entering in summer, can be installed to encase the pipes, too. Insulating the pipes helps to keep hot water pipes hot and both cold and hot water pipes from frezing in the winter.

Salute CARE And The Donors For 10 Years Help

"A warm thank you to the American people" was the theme of the tenth anniversary, January 18, of the founding of CARE.

Ten years of major achievements in bringing person-to-person aid to individuals in 54 countries through CARE has only been possible because of the personal generosity of millions of Americans. Generosity not only in money and in kind but also in "wonderful" cooperation.

This is best exemplified by the millions of personal letters that have been sent to American donors through CARE. Some of the letters are from children who have received CARE food through school lunch programs. Some have been copied out laboriously from a public letterwriter's master copy by illiterate villagers who want to say thank you. All of them are a real expression of appreciation — not only for food and equipment —but appreciation of the fact that someone knew their need and cared enough to help.

IN TEN YEARS CARE has received from the field 19 million personally signed receipts for CARE packages.

These packages have fed 76 million people. The food value represented 2 billion, 100 million meals.

The amount of $211,000,000 worth of foods and self help equipment has been delivered by CARE in 10 years.

The total CARE shipments of food, clothing, blankets and self-help tools woull fill 11,450 freight cars — which, if in one train, would stretch 90 miles — say from New York to Philadelphia.

IN PACKAGES and some in bulk shipments CARE has delivered 101 million pounds of dry milk (equal to 500 million quarts). Most of this milk was U.S. government surplus milk . . . 47 million poiunds of cheese . . . 42 million dozen eggs . . . 32 million pounds of meat and 64 million pounds of butter and butter oils.

CARE food packages are deigned for each area. For instance, for Viet Nam contains dried fish, rice, sugar, condensed sweet milk, and a fish sauce.

TO HELP KEEP people warm CARE has distributed 300,000 blankets and over 4 millinn yards of cotton and woolen textiles for clothing, plus needles, thread, and buttons, also 455 million yards of knitting wool yarn. One program to Austria included 1300 tons of coal during a very bad winter.

To Kickoff National Heart Fund Campaign In Chicago Meeting

Chicago will become for a few hours "the heart of the nation" on the night of Tuesday, January 31, when the Chicago Heart association joins with the American Heart association to kick off their 1956 Heart Fund campaign at a banquet at 7 p.m. in the Palmer House. This will be the first national heart kick-off ever to be held in Chicago.

Principal speakers are Dr. Paul Dudley White, special consultant to President Eisenhower during his heart attack, and Sylvester L. Weaver Jr., recently elected chairman of the board of National Broadcasting Company and national chairman of public relations for the American Heart association.

Others featured in the program are Bruce Barton, chairman of the board of the American Heart association, and Dr. Preston Bradley pastor of the People's church of Chicago.

This will be the official start of the campaign from which the American Heart association hopes to realize $16,500,000 for its fight against heart disease, America's number one health problem, through research, education and heart services. The Chicago goal, for the same purpose, is $750,000.

Climax of the local campaign will be "Heart Sunday," February 26, when 42,000 volunteers in the city and throughout Cook, DuPage and Lake counties will call upon neighbors for contributions. Heart Sunday goal is $400,000. (G

Farm Head Asks For Expansion Of Markets, Disposal Of Surpluses

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, told the senate committee on agriculture and forestry "the core of the farm problem as it exists in 1956 is simply that our total productive capacity currently exceeds effective demand."

To remedy this situation, the head of the nation's largest farm organization called for (1) expansion of markets; (2) orderly disposal of government owned farm commodities; (3) a surplus reduction and soil bank plan; and (4) continuation of variable price supports.

IN THE FIELD of market expansion, the farm bureau president called for "well coordinated, aggressive, industry-wide promotional programs financed on a voluntary basis."

He said the executive branch of the federal government should not "stand idly by and watch foreign outlets shrink when supplies are available in the United States."

Mr. Shuman said the surplus reduction and soil bank plan, which Farm Bureau has been recommending for the past three years, is "not a panacea."

"We are convinced, however, that it is a step in the right direction of balancing supply and demand," he added.

FARM BUREAU'S surplus reduction and soil bank plan has four major aspects, Mr. Shuman said. These he listed as:

(1) Requiring farmers to put an acreage of soil depleting cropland in the soil bank as a condition for price supports.

(2) Allowing farmers to voluntarily underplant acreage allotments in return for negotiable certificates valid for the purchase of government-owned stocks of farm commodities.

(3) Permitting farmers to place other land in the soil bank for at least three years in return for negotiable certificates for surplus stocks or other payments.

(4) Prohibiting harvesting or grazing on any soil bank land, but providing Agricultural Conservation program payments for approved practices performed on this land.

FARM BUREAU leader called for "maximum effort" to use existing surpluses to carry out all phases of the surplus reduction and soil bank plan.

Mr. Shuman reiterated Farm Bureau's support for the principle of variable price supports and the modernized parity formula.

"Our members have no illusions that their interests are adequately protected by price guarantees alone," he emphasized.

"They fully understand that the volume that can be sold and the costs that must be paid are more important in obtaining high per family real income than government support prices."

He declared that "real farm income" cannot be protected by policies which draw excessive resources into agriculture and create "unmanageable" surpluses.

FARM BUREAU president urged the senate committee not to adopt multiple-price plans for wheat and rice. These, he said, would run the risk of "seriously disrupting" our relations with other countries without expanding exports.

He noted that the government is already subsidizing wheat and rice exports.

In the case of wheat, he said a multiple-price plan—which would provide a high price for wheat consumed domestically as flour and lower prices for exports and for wheat used as feed in the U. S. —would mean "the most unfair sort of competition for the producers of corn and other feed grains."

Better Pens Help Farmers Raise Healthier Pigs

Hog raising need no longer be a headache to the farmer.

According to Dr. Damon Catron, a farm expert at Iowa State college, the problems of the critical first few months of the growing cycle can be licked if farmers provide:

"New farrowing houses and pig nurseries . . . that give the hog producer maximum control over production environment."

Catron's strategy boils down to special feeding and watering devices for baby pigs, temperature control, special farrowing stalls, and sanitary conditions.

Temperature control means efficient heating and ventilating plus adequate insulation. Three-inch-thick mineral wool batts or blankets or four inches of blown mineral wool in the walls and ceiling will help keep the farrowing house uniformly warm in winter and uniformly cool in summer.

Good farrowing stalls also are essential. Sows often crush their young. In the narrow confines of a well-designed farrowing stall, there is no room for a sow to hurt the baby pigs.

Concrete floors are easy to keep clean and sanitary. Other nonporous materials are recommended for the walls. Sanitary conditions can be assured further by keeping the nursery away from other buildings where pigs are housed.

Feeding improvements include a feed alley in front of stalls, self feeders for each sow, a water supply piped to each stall, and space for feed mixing and feed storage.

Silage Reaches Cows Easy Way . . .

Job Handled By Made-On-Farm Device

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The young man standing beside the collection of chains, pulleys and other mechanical components in the picture below has given both himself and his 22 milkers a welcome break. He saved himself a lot of work, and provided the cows with all the silage they want—the easy way.

This "made on the farm" feeder is 60 feet long, including a 10-foot section which extends outside the barn under the chutes. Two chains, separated by metal cleats about 2 feet apart, drag the silage into the 3-foot wide manger. The section outside the barn has a solid floor. There is no floor in the conveyor inside the barn, the chains "riding" on 2x2-inch wooden strips fastened to the manger framing.

The conveyor line is located approximately 18 inches above the manger, the sides of which are about 12 inches high. Silage is evenly distributed along the entire length of the manger as the moving cleats round off the silage as it piles up to the level of the chains. When the manger is filled the motor is shut off.

Now a look at the driving mechanism. A 3-inch pulley on the motor is belted to an 18-inch pulley attached to one end of an old truck transmission, which is locked in sublow gear. This provides a speed reduction radio of transmission of 7 to 1, making a total speed reduction of 42 to 1.

At the other end of the truck transmission is a 4-inch sprocket which drives the chain. This arrangement provides a conveyor speed of approximately 42 feet a minute.

As may be noted from the illustrations, the dual chains are continuous, with the return made on supports beneath the manger bed. This bed is 2 feet above the barn floor. Manger supports extend from floor to ceiling and are spaced far enough apart so that the floor can be easily cleaned.

Law On The Farm

Deeds of Gift

Passing farm land on to the next generation is one of the privileges given by law to farm owners in Illinois. Perhaps this right is taken for granted, but if the state legislature had not provided for a law of descent and for making wills, the right to leave property to others would not exist.

Most property owners are familiar in a general way with the law of descent and the possibility of disposing of property by making a will. But few have considered the desirability of making lifetime transfers that will fix the title to their property long before they die.

THERE ARE several situations in which a lifetime transfer should be considered; when there is only one heir and the owner is financially able to make a conveyance; when there are several heirs and they agree on a family settlement in advance of the owner's death; when one heir agrees to remain at home and support his parents, and they wish for that reason to convey title to him; and in all cases where death taxes would be substantially reduced by making a lifetime gift.

When an owner is able to convey property during his lifetime, it gives the heir an earlier interest in the property and may help him much more than a gift of the farm effective at the death of the owner. This same reasoning applies to the transfer of personal property.

TO ACCOMPLISH a lifetime disposition, a deed rather than a will is the appropriate instrument. Either personal property or real estate may be given away by a "Deed of gift," and no money payment has to be made to make the deed binding. A deed to transfer personal property can be an informal instrument and need not be acknowledged and recorded like a deed to real estate.

When there are several heirs and the parents wish to convey the farm to one son or daughter, they may have a deed prepared that will give the son or daughter an heir's interest, but will require the other heirs to be paid some amount specified in the deed. Or the parents may make an installment contract to sell the farm to a son or daughter, using the installments to make equalizing gits to the other children. Such arrangements can usually be worked out more equitably then those made at the time of the owner's death, and they tend toward greater family interest and continuity with regard to the land itself.

CERTAINLY in all situations where the owner promises the farm to an heir in return for care and support and there are other heirs in the family, a deed would be highly desirable. Although federal gift taxes may be paid, state inheritance taxes would not be payable except when such a transfer is made in contemplation of death.

Every farm family that owns land should devote some time to a study of the various possibilities for transfer and should have these possibilities appraised by an attorney. (Fm

Mt. Prospect Home Bureau Holds Meeting

Members of Mt. Prospect unit of Home bureau met January 18 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Roderick in Mt. Prospect and heard Mrs. R. T. Leekley and Mrs. William Ryan give the lesson on "Seeing Ourselves as Our Children See Us."

Two "beehives" have been scheduled: January 26, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. A. Kreith, 218 S. Emerson, on beading sweaters and February 10, 9:30 a.m., home of Mrs. W. Zapel, 403 N. Prospect Manor, on plastic leaves.

A tour of Croydon China Co. is planned for March or April. Next meeting of the group will be February 15 at the home of Mrs. P. J. Szendt, 121 N. Main, Mt. Prospect.

Attend Health Group Improvement Meeting

Fourth annual conference of the Illinois health improvement association was held at the Orlando hotel, Decatur January 19 and 20. Attended by representatives from the 79 county HIA's and other health officials from throughout Illinois, the meeting was conceded to be the most successful and stimulating of any held since the formation of the Illinois HIA in 1952.

In reviewing the history of the HIA movement in Illinois, President H. P. Ash said, "Growing rapidly since the formation of the first association in McLean county in 1948, the HIA's in the 79 counties now number in excess of 70,000 members, representing approximately 200,000 persons actively concerned with the promotion of better health conditions in rural areas and small towns throughout Illinois.

Ash pointed out that sponsorship of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, whereby people otherwise ineligible may enroll in the two health care plans on group bases, is one of the important activities of the HIA's. HIA's also sponsor health projects such as safe drinking water campaigns, student nursing scholarships, TB surveys, blood banks, chest and dental X-rays, brucellosis campaigns, tetanus immunization, and many other worthwhile programs.

Cook county health improvement association was represented by Arthur M. Busse RR 2, Box 901, Des Plaines and Elmer Wente, Palatine. (Fm

Record Cow

A registered Guernsey cow, Norgert's Val Blossom, owned by Gertrude McNaught, Elgin, has completed an official advanced registry record of 11,694 pounds of milk and 569 pounds of fat on two times daily milking for 305 days, and met calving requirements. She started her record as a junior 4-year-old. This production represents approximately 5500 quarts of high-quality milk.

"Blossom" is the daughter of the outstanding Guernsey sire, Langwater Valerian, that has one son and 19 tested daughters in the Performance register of the American Guernsey cattle club.

This record was supervised by University of Illinois and was reported to the American Guernsey cattle club for approval and publication. (Fm

I attended the commercial flowers growers meeting at the Fred Pesche's greenhouse in Des Plaines. The meeting was very well attended and the Pesche's are very graceful hosts. They did everything they could to make their guests comfortable. It was interesting to tour the greenhouses.

A good disucssion took place about self service marketing This has proven to be quite a successful method of marketing bedding plants. In case you do not know, bedding plants are those we buy in flats in the spring of the year.

PEOPLE that have tried the self service type of marketing have found that the "market pack" which is one dozen individual plants in a small container is a very good seller. TO THOSE of you that have evergreens it would be a good idea for you to pour a bucket of water (gradually) on each of these on some mild day. These evergreens need water in winter the same as summer. This has been an extremely dry winter so they may be lacking water.

We had a meeting with our 4-H leaders this past week and encouraged all our leaders to make a special effort to re-enroll the members they had last year. If this is done any new members will be a gain in enrollment.

At the home bureau annual meeting we heard a young lady speak on "Marriages in Egypt." She stated the girls especially in the middle upper class have very little to say about whom their partners will be in life." The fathers and mothers decide on that.

ANOTHER SPEAKER told us about how hard women in Russia have to work and the easy jobs that men have. If the three hundred women that attended the home bureau annual meeting were especially nice to their husbands that evening, it may be that the women were especially appreciative of their position here in the United States.

In all seriousness I think the the way women get their husbands in both Egypt and India is changing.

'Toy Auctions' With Labels Is Sales Boost

The story of how dairy farmers benefitted by increased milk sales resulting from a novel sales stunt is told in the current issue of the IAA Record.

"Toy auctions," in which youngsters use 'money' labels in bidding on all sorts of prizes, is the sales stunt through which Danville Producers dairy reversed a sales slump last June, according to the article.

The IAA Record is the official monthly magazine of the Illinois agricultural association, the statewide farm bureau organization.

THE TOY AUCTIONS also helped the cooperative dairy move heavy supplies of fluid milk into consumption rather than into government storage, it continues.

Toy auctions staged by farm bureau cooperative dairy plants got started in Illinois two years ago when Peoria Producers dairy, another cooperative, began trading toys for labels from its product containers.

BOTH CITY and rural boys and girls collect product labels and then use them as "money" in bidding on such items as bicycles, dolls, wrist watches, and sporting equipment.

Those responsible for staging toy auctions in Danville, Homer, and Hoopeston during 1955's flush season were Doyne York, Steve Coate, and Robert Metzen.

York is manager of Danville producers while Coate is sales manager and Metzen is advertising manager.

Farm Head Asks For Expansion Of Markets, Disposal Of Surpluses

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, told the senate committee on agriculture and forestry "the core of the farm problem as it exists in 1956 is simply that our total productive capacity currently exceeds effective demand."

To remedy this situation, the head of the nation's largest farm organization called for (1) expansion of markets; (2) orderly disposal of government owned farm commodities; (3) a surplus reduction and soil bank plan; and (4) continuation of variable price supports.

IN THE FIELD of market expansion, the farm bureau president called for "well coordinated, aggressive, industry-wide promotional programs financed on a voluntary basis."

He said the executive branch of the federal government should not "stand idly by and watch foreign outlets shrink when supplies are available in the United States."

Mr. Shuman said the surplus reduction and soil bank plan, which Farm Bureau has been recommending for the past three years, is "not a panacea."

"We are convinced, however, that it is a step in the right direction of balancing supply and demand," he added.

FARM BUREAU'S surplus reduction and soil bank plan has four major aspects, Mr. Shuman said. These he listed as:

(1) Requiring farmers to put an acreage of soil depleting cropland in the soil bank as a condition for price supports.

(2) Allowing farmers to voluntarily underplant acreage allotments in return for negotiable certificates valid for the purchase of government-owned stocks of farm commodities.

(3) Permitting farmers to place other land in the soil bank for at least three years in return for negotiable certificates for surplus stocks or other payments.

(4) Prohibiting harvesting or grazing on any soil bank land, but providing Agricultural Conservation program payments for approved practices performed on this land.

FARM BUREAU leader called for "maximum effort" to use existing surpluses to carry out all phases of the surplus reduction and soil bank plan.

Mr. Shuman reiterated Farm Bureau's support for the principle of variable price supports and the modernized parity formula.

"Our members have no illusions that their interests are adequately protected by price guarantees along," he emphasized.

"They fully understand that the volume that can be sold and the costs that must be paid are more important in obtaining high per family real income than government support prices."

He declared that "real farm income" cannot be protected by policies which draw excessive resources into agriculture and create "unmanageable" surpluses.

FARM BUREAU president urged the senate committee not to adopt multiple-price plans for wheat and rice. These, he said, would run the risk of "seriously disrupting" our relations with other countries without expanding exports.

He noted that the government is already subsidizing wheat and rice exports.

In the case of wheat, he said a multiple-price plan—which would provide a high price for wheat consumed domestically as flour and lower prices for exports and for wheat used as feed in the U. S. —would mean "the most unfair sort of competition for the producers of corn and other feed grains."

Better Pens Help Farmers Raise Healthier Pigs

Hog raising need no longer be a headache to the farmer.

According to Dr. Damon Catron, a farm expert at Iowa State college, the problems of the critical first few months of the growing cycle can be licked if farmers provide:

"New farrowing houses and pig nurseries ... that give the hog producer maximum control over production environment."

Catron's strategy boils down to special feeding and watering devices for baby pigs, temperature control, special farrowing stalls, and sanitary conditions.

Temperature control means efficient heating and ventilating plus adequate insulation. Three-inch-thick mineral wool batts or blankets or four inches of blown mineral wool in the walls and ceiling will help keep the farrowing house uniformly warm in winter and uniformly cool in summer.

Good farrowing stalls also are essential. Sows often crush their young. In the narrow confines of a well-designed farrowing stall, there is no room for a sow to hurt the baby pigs.

Concrete floors are easy to keep clean and sanitary. Other nonporous materials are recommended for the walls. Sanitary conditions can be assured further by keeping the nursery away from other buildings where pigs are housed.

Feeding improvements include a feed alley in front of stalls, self feeders for each sow, a water supply piped to each stall, and space for feed mixing and feed storage.

Silage Reaches Cows Easy Way . . .

Job Handled By Made-On-Farm Device

By IRA MILLER

Farm Electrification Bureau

The young man standing beside the collection of chains, pulleys and other mechanical components in the picture below has given both himself and his 22 milkers a welcome break. He saved himself a lot of work, and provided the cows with all the silage they want—the easy way.

Although he still pitches silage—just because his twin silos aren't suitable for the installation of unloaders—this Virginia farmer's scooping chores end at the chutes. From that point, silage moves automatically into the barn by means of a conveyor operated by a 1 horsepower motor.

This "made on the farm" feeder is 60 feet long, including a 10-foot section which extends outside the barn under the chutes. Two chains, separated by metal cleats about 2 feet apart, drag the silage into the 3-foot wide manger. The section outside the barn has a solid floor. There is no floor in the conveyor inside the barn, the chains "riding" on 2 x 2-inch wooden strips fastened to the manger framing.

The conveyor line is located approximately 18 inches above the manger, the sides of which are about 12 inches high. Silage is evenly distributed along the entire length of the manger as the moving cleats round off the silage as it piles up to the level of the chains. When the manger is filled the motor is shut off.

Now a look at the driving mechanism. A 3-inch pulley on the motor is belted to an 18-inch pulley attached to one end of an old truck transmission, which is locked in sub-low gear. This provides a speed reduction radio of transmission of 7 to 1, making a total speed reduction of 42 to 1.

At the other end of the truck transmission is a 4-inch sprocket which drives the chain. This arrangement provides a conveyor speed of approximately 42 feet a minute.

As may be noted from the illustrations, the dual chains are continuous, with the return made on supports beneath the manger bed. This bed is 2 feet above the barn floor. Manger supports extend from floor to ceiling and are spaced far enough apart so that the floor can be easily cleaned.

Law On The Farm

Deeds of Gift

Passing farm land on to the next generation is one of the privileges given by law to farm owners in Illinois. Perhaps this right is taken for granted, but if the state legislature had not provided for a law of descent and for making wills, the right to leave property to others would not exist.

Most property owners are familiar in a general way with the law of descent and the possibility of disposing of property by making a will. But few have considered the desirability of making lifetime transfers that will fix the title to their property long before they die.

THERE ARE several situations in which a lifetime transfer should be considered; when there is only one heir and the owner is financially able to make a conveyance; when there are several heirs and they agree on a family settlement in advance of the owner's death; when one heir agrees to remain at home and support his parents, and they wish for that reason to convey title to him; and in all cases where death taxes would be substantially reduced by making a lifetime gift.

When an owner is able to convey property during his lifetime, it gives the heir an earlier interest in the property and may help him much more than a gift of the farm effective at the death of the owner. This same reasoning applies to the transfer of personal property.

TO ACCOMPLISH a lifetime disposition, a deed rather than a will is the appropriate instrument. Either personal property or real estate may be given away by a "Deed of gift," and no money payment has to be made to make the deed binding. A deed to transfer personal property can be an informal instrument and need not be acknowledged and recorded like a deed to real estate.

When there are several heirs and the parents wish to convey the farm to one son or daughter, they may have a deed prepared that will give the son or daughter an heir's interest, but will require the other heirs to be paid some amount specified in the deed. Or the parents may make an installment contract to sell the farm to a son or daughter, using the installments to make equalizing gits to the other children. Such arrangements can usually be worked out more equitably then those made at the time of the owner's death, and they tend toward greater family interest and continuity with regard to the land itself.

CERTAINLY in all situations where the owner promises the farm to an heir in return for care and support and there are other heirs in the family, a deed would be highly desirable. Although federal gift taxes may be paid, state inheritance taxes would not be payable except when such a transfer is made in contemplation of death.

Every farm family that owns land should devote some time to a study of the various possibilities for transfer and should have these possibilities appraised by an attorney. (Fm

Mt. Prospect Home Bureau Holds Meeting

Members of Mt. Prospect unit of Home bureau met January 18 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Roderick in Mt. Prospect and heard Mrs. R. T. Leekley and Mrs. William Ryan give the lesson on "Seeing Ourselves as Our Children See Us."

Two "beehives" have been scheduled: January 26, 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. A. Kreith, 218 S. Emerson, on beading sweaters and February 10, 9:30 a.m., home of Mrs. W. Zapel, 403 N. Prospect Manor, on plastic leaves.

A tour of Croydon China Co. is planned for March or April. Next meeting of the group will be February 15 at the home of Mrs. P. J. Szendt, 121 N. Main, Mt. Prospect.

Attend Health Group Improvement Meeting

Fourth annual conference of the Illinois health improvement association was held at the Orlando hotel, Decatur January 19 and 20. Attended by representatives from the 79 county HIA's and other health officials from throughout Illinois, the meeting was conceded to be the most successful and stimulating of any held since the formation of the Illinois HIA in 1952.

In reviewing the history of the HIA movement in Illinois, President H. P. Ash said, "Growing rapidly since the formation of the first association in McLean county in 1948, the HIA's in the 79 counties now number in excess of 70,000 members, representing approximately 200,000 persons actively concerned with the promotion of better health conditions in rural areas and small towns throughout Illinois.

Ash pointed out that sponsorship of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, whereby people otherwise ineligible may enroll in the two health care plans on group bases, is one of the important activities of the HIA's. HIA's also sponsor health projects such as safe drinking water campaigns, student nursing scholarships, TB surveys, blood banks, chest and dental X-rays, brucellosis campaigns, tetanus immunization, and many other worthwhile programs.

Cook county health improvement association was represented by Arthur M. Busse RR 2, Box 901, Des Plaines and Elmer Wente, Palatine. (Fm

Record Cow

A registered Guernsey cow, Norgert's Val Blossom, owned by Gertrude McNaught, Elgin, has completed an official advanced registry record of 11,694 pounds of milk and 569 pounds of fat on two times daily milking for 305 days, and met calving requirements. She started her record as a junior 4-year-old. This production represents approximately 5500 quarts of high-quality milk.

"Blossom" is the daughter of the outstanding Guernsey sire, Langwater Valerian, that has one son and 19 tested daughters in the Performance register of the American Guernsey cattle club.

This record was supervised by University of Illinois and was reported to the American Guernsey cattle club for approval and publication. (Fm

5½ ACRES IN EXCELLENT LOCATION AND NEIGHBORS. Barn for your riding horses and ponies. Small poultry house. 5 bedroom 2 story residence, modern and in good condition. Just the kind of an earlier fashioned design home with that alluring country charm that you have been searching for. You can move in now. Can be purchased on reasonable down payment on time contract, with reasonable monthly payments.

5 BEDROOM RESIDENCE IN TOWN. Full basement. New oil furnace heat. Very good condition. 2 car garage. Possession about 30 days. Only $18,500. Less than price of most 3 bedroom homes. If you need a large home, don't miss this one.

FARMS

80 ACRES, ALL TILLABLE BLACK LEVEL LOAM near Wisconsin State line. Good buildings including large dairy barn, new silo, machine shed, other buildings, plus a 5 bedroom modern frame home which also is in good condition and has a much better appearance than the customary farm residence. Only $26,000 for the whole place. Just think of it. This farm should sell for $32,000 plus, by comparison with recent sales. Owner says sell, because he has purchased other property. Location very good on hard road. If you are really ready to buy a real good 80 at 20% discount from actual value, then don't wait to see this one, it will move fast.

130 ACRES LEVEL DARK LOAM located in choicest of truck farmer area near Kenosha with good dairy barn and other buildings. 8 room modern residence. Possession March 1.

145 ACRES, McHENRY COUNTY, level dark loam. About 8 acres wooded. Good set of buildings. 3 bedroom and bath residence. About 45 miles Chicago. Black top highway. A real good producer at only $38,600. This spring possession.

168 ACRES IN TOP PRODUCING CARRINGTON LOAM. (One of Wisconsin's best classifications). Well farmed and fertilized. Owner's age and health forces sale. Large drive through hip roof dairy barn with like new steel stanchions and pens, which would cost about $22,000 alone today. You can get the 168 acres plus a large residence, with new bath, new plumbing and new furnace, besides the like new cement silo and other buildings for an additional $20,000 at a total of $42,000. Where can you find another buy like this one. This farm would sell for $350 to $400 per acre if located 20 miles closer to Chicago, but the crops and milk prices would be the same. Can be purchased all cash, or on land contract. Spring possession.

245 ACRES OF SOME OF THE BEST SOUTHERN WISCONSIN soil. Very good productive land. 2 family modernized residence. Large dairy setup including 2 like new cement silos 14x50. Good share tenant will stay. Asking $73,000.

GOOD BUYS FOR YOU

Barrington Countryside

1 ACRE WITH NEATLY REMODELED 3 BEDROOMS, oil furnace heat home. Bearing fruit trees, berry plants and grapes having ample production for your needs. Paved highway. School bus at door. 5 minutes to station. Immediate possession. More land available.

5½ ACRES IN EXCELLENT LOCATION AND NEIGHBORS. Barn for your riding horses and ponies. Small poultry house. 5 bedroom 2 story residence, modern and in good condition. Just the kind of an earlier fashioned design home with that alluring country charm that you have been searching for. You can move in now. Can be purchased on reasonable down payment on time contract, with reasonable monthly payments.

5 BEDROOM RESIDENCE IN TOWN. Full basement. New oil furnace heat. Very good condition. 2 car garage. Possession about 30 days. Only $18,500. Less than price of most 3 bedroom homes. If you need a large home, don't miss this one.

FARMS

80 ACRES, ALL TILLABLE BLACK LEVEL LOAM near Wisconsin State line. Good buildings including large dairy barn, new silo, machine shed, other buildings, plus a 5 bedroom modern frame home which also is in good condition and has a much better appearance than the customary farm residence. Only $26,000 for the whole place. Just think of it. This farm should sell for $32,000 plus, by comparison with recent sales. Owner says sell, because he has purchased other property. Location very good on hard road. If you are really ready to buy a real good 80 at 20% discount from actual value, then don't wait to see this one, it will move fast.

130 ACRES LEVEL DARK LOAM located in choicest of truck farmer area near Kenosha with good dairy barn and other buildings. 8 room modern residence. Possession March 1.

145 ACRES, McHENRY COUNTY, level dark loam. About 8 acres wooded. Good set of buildings. 3 bedroom and bath residence. About 45 miles Chicago. Black top highway. A real good producer at only $38,600. This spring possession.

168 ACRES IN TOP PRODUCING CARRINGTON LOAM. (One of Wisconsin's best classifications). Well farmed and fertilized. Owner's age and health forces sale. Large drive through hip roof dairy barn with like new steel stanchions and pens, which would cost about $22,000 alone today. You can get the 168 acres plus a large residence, with new bath, new plumbing and new furnace, besides the like new cement silo and other buildings for an additional $20,000 at a total of $42,000. Where can you find another buy like this one. This farm would sell for $350 to $400 per acre if located 20 miles closer to Chicago, but the crops and milk prices would be the same. Can be purchased all cash, or on land contract. Spring possession.

245 ACRES OF SOME OF THE BEST SOUTHERN WISCONSIN soil. Very good productive land. 2 family modernized residence. Large dairy setup including 2 like new cement silos 14x50. Good share tenant will stay. Asking $73,000.

Know Your Diesel Tractor, Then Buy

If you're thinking of buying a Diesel tractor or have questions about the one you own now, farm adviser Carl F. Mees, can help you out.

He has a question and answer type circular in his office explaining how the Diesel engine works and how it should be cared for.

Mees says Diesels are noted for their lugging ability — ability to hang on and pull through tough spots with heavy loads. Diesels are more efficient users of fuel than gasoline engines, especially at light loads.

Next time you're in his office, ask him for University of Illinois circular 735, "Diesel Tractors and Their Fuels." (Fm

Rural Youth Hold Meeting At Heights

Rural Youth held their meeting in the basement of the farm bureau building with the newly elected officers presiding January 18. Guest for the evening was Mr. Mees, farm adviser.

Under "business" was the Rural Youth dance. It will be held February 11 at Paul's Grove on Lake and Medinah roads.

Following the meeting Al and Jim Goebbert lead us in recreation. Esther von Bergon and Arlene Wede prepared the refreshments. The meeting was adjourned and a good time was had by all. (4-H

4 New Members Join Schaumburg 4-H Club

Four new members joined Schaumburg 4-H club at the group's meeting January 13. They are Shirley Rohlwing, Norbert Zeyk, Allen Stalesky and Wayne Deering.

The club planned a roller skating party for February and voted to donate $25 each to TB and the March of Dimes.

Farm Profit Pinch To Remain In 1956

Burdensome supplies will continue to dominate the farm picture in 1956, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago states in its monthly review, "Business Conditions." For the individual farmer this spells no relief from the cost-price squeeze.

In the past several years farmers have produced more commodities than have been consumed. Despite a step-up in surplus disposal activity, stocks of farm products owned and under price support loan to the Commodity Credit Corporation have increased each year since 1952. In fact not until output is brought into balance with demand and the huge stocks piled up from previous harvests are reduced will the "rather dim" outlook be brightened.

U. S. FARMERS in 1956 will probably suffer a moderate drop in cash receipts from farm marketings. Meanwhile, farmers' costs may show little over-all change from 1955 levels. Prices paid for equipment and materials are expected to average higher than in 1955, but these increases may be offset by lower prices of such materials as feed, livestock and seed.

For many of the nation's major crops, such as cotton, wheat, tobacco, rice and feed grains, large surpluses and further acreage reductions or lower price supports point to reduced income relative to last year. Cattle, hogs and dairy products, however, are likely to experience somewhat less downward pressure in 1956. Prices of these important Midwest commodities probably won't drop from the depressed levels recorded in the past few months. Continued large surpluses, though, will block any significant price improvement.

AS TO the long-term future of agriculture, the bank says, total demand for farm products will increase substantially with the upgrading of diets and the rising population. Diet improvement of lower income families, moreover, bodes especially well for livestock producers.

But a major question which remains is whether output will continue to expand at a faster pace than consumer demand. The answer, of course, will depend on the rate of technological progress and the amount of labor used in agriculture. If the rapid advances in farm production techniques continue a much smaller labor force will be needed to fill the nation's market basket. A recent study indicates that by 1975 the farm population may be down to 15 million, about one-third below the current level. (B

Be A Good Egg — Buy Eggs

With egg production on Illinois farms increasing to a high seasonal peak, the Illinois poultry industry is cooperating in a national promotional campaign to stimulate grater use of eggs in midwinter meals.

That's why January is egg month.

Recently Illinois farmers have been producing more than 250 million dozen eggs a year. This accounts for more than 5 per cent of national production. The value of eggs produced in Illinois has averaged about 95 million dollars per year.

THESE FIGURES make it easy to understand why the Illinois poultry industry is interested in any campaign to promote egg consumption.

Consumers are giving increased recognition to the versatility of eggs and their importance to their health and pocketbook. Eggs are one of the cheapest sources of protein, vitamins and minerals. Just like milk, they are almost a complete food within themselves.

IN 1920, the average egg consumption in the United States was 295 eggs per person. The consumption in 1955 was about 417 eggs per person, an increase of more than 40 per cent in 35 years.

Charles Merritt of Forrest has been appointed Illinois chairman of January Egg Month by Dr. James Gwin, general manager of Poultry and Egg National board. The board serves as national headquarters for the campaign. It is a non-profit consumer-information agency for the nation's poultry industry.

Serving as co-chairman with Merritt are James Roush, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois and J. R. Harris, department of agriculture, division of markets at Springfield.

Best To Repel Rabbits Before They Do Damage

Repel rabbits before they do permanent damage to small ornamental plants.

An ounce of prevention actually saves partial or total destruction of valuable plants, points out Harleigh Kemmerer of the horticulture department at the University of Illinois. Many control measures are just too late.

The most effective and cheapest way to prevent damage is to treat trees and shrubs with a repellent. Some effective repellents that are harmless to trees and shrubs are Black Leaf 40, an insecticide, and Arasan SF-X and Terasan 75, both fungicides. These are not apt to poison farm animals in the amount that they might eat.

AN ASPHALT water emulsion added to the repellents will serve to dilute them. It will also help them to stick to trees. Building supply dealers are a good source of this material.

To prepare the Black Leaf 40 repellent ,mix 2 pints of asphalt water emulsion, 3 pints of water and 8 tablespoons of a household detergent until smooth. Then add ½ pint of Black Leaf 40 and mix thoroughly.

A FUNGICIDE repellent can be made by adding ½ pound of Araran SF-X or Terasan 75 in one quart of asphalt water emulsion and one quart of water.

Hog Raisers Can Raise Profits By Changing Habits

Hog raisers can add $4 to the value of each hog produced during 1956 by following a number of money-making practices reports National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

It is possible to pick up an extra $1 per hog through improved breeding, $1 more through efficient feeding, $1 through improved management and at least $1 more from planned marketing.

ADOPTING the following practices will provide the added dollars which are mighty important during this period of low prices:

(1) Production of meat-type hogs through use of productive, meaty, healthy breeding stock.

(2) LifeCycle feeding of balanced rations starting with richly fortified starters or pre-starters and feeding complete rations where practical.

(3) DISEASE prevention through health certification and wider use of new disease prevention and control methods.

(4) Use of newer management practices and trends — earlier weaning, multiple farrowing, confined finishing, more efficient housing and equipment, farrowing stalls or modern farrowing houses, less pen cleaning, heated waterers and constant care to reduce stress factors.

(5) Planned marketing to get seasonal price advantages and obtain the meat-hog price differential and avoid the fat-hog discount.

(6) Use of simple, yet complete, records in figuring profit or loss as a check to improve operation by figuring and eliminating weak points as you go along.

Rotate Your Tractor Valves

Equip your tractor with rotating valves now and you may prevent a costly engine overhaul when the busy season gets here.

Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser says rotating exhaust valves makes the valves last just as long as the rings and pistons.

A rotating valve keeps valve stems, faces and seats clean. It also cools the valve so that hot spots won't develop.

Drop by my office today if you want more information about advantages of valve rotation. Ask for University of Illinois circular 736, "rotate tractor valves for longer life." (Fm

Know Your Diesel Tractor, Then Buy

If you're thinking of buying a Diesel tractor or have questions about the one you own now, farm adviser Carl F. Mees, can help you out.

He has a question and answer type circular in his office explaining how the Diesel engine works and how it should be cared for.

Mees says Diesels are noted for their lugging ability — ability to hang on and pull through tough spots with heavy loads. Diesels are more efficient users of fuel than gasoline engines, especially at light loads.

Next time you're in his office, ask him for University of Illinois circular 735, "Diesel Tractors and Their Fuels." (Fm

Rural Youth Hold Meeting At Heights

Rural Youth held their meeting in the basement of the farm bureau building with the newly elected officers presiding January 18. Guest for the evening was Mr. Mees, farm adviser.

Under "business" was the Rural Youth dance. It will be held February 11 at Paul's Grove on Lake and Medinah roads.

Following the meeting Al and Jim Goebbert lead us in recreation. Esther von Bergon and Arlene Wede prepared the refreshments. The meeting was adjourned and a good time was had by all. (4-H

4 New Members Join Schaumburg 4-H Club

Four new members joined Schaumburg 4-H club at the group's meeting January 13. They are Shirley Rohlwing, Norbert Zeyk, Allen Stalesky and Wayne Deering.

The club planned a roller skating party for February and voted to donate $25 each to TB and the March of Dimes.

Farm Profit Pinch To Remain In 1956

Burdensome supplies will continue to dominate the farm picture in 1956, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago states in its monthly review, "Business Conditions." For the individual farmer this spells no relief from the cost-price squeeze.

In the past several years farmers have produced more commodities than have been consumed. Despite a step-up in surplus disposal activity, stocks of farm products owned and under price support loan to the Commodity Credit Corporation have increased each year since 1952. In fact not until output is brought into balance with demand and the huge stocks piled up from previous harvests are reduced will the "rather dim" outlook be brightened.

U. S. FARMERS in 1956 will probably suffer a moderate drop in cash receipts from farm marketings. Meanwhile, farmers' costs may show little over-all change from 1955 levels. Prices paid for equipment and materials are expected to average higher than in 1955, but these increases may be offset by lower prices of such materials as feed, livestock and seed.

For many of the nation's major crops, such as cotton, wheat, tobacco, rice and feed grains, large surpluses and further acreage reductions or lower price supports point to reduced income relative to last year. Cattle, hogs and dairy products, however, are likely to experience somewhat less downward pressure in 1956. Prices of these important Midwest commodities probably won't drop from the depressed levels recorded in the past few months. Continued large surpluses, though, will block any significant price improvement.

AS TO the long-term future of agriculture, the bank says, total demand for farm products will increase substantially with the upgrading of diets and the rising population. Diet improvement of lower income families, moreover, bodes especially well for livestock producers.

But a major question which remains is whether output will continue to expand at a faster pace than consumer demand. The answer, of course, will depend on the rate of technological progress and the amount of labor used in agriculture. If the rapid advances in farm production techniques contine a much smaller labor force will be needed to fill the nation's market basket. A recent study indicates that by 1975 the farm population may be down to 15 million, about one-third below the current level. (B

With egg production on Illinois farms increasing to a high seasonal peak, the Illinois poultry industry is cooperating in a national promotional campaign to stimulate grater use of eggs in midwinter meals.

That's why January is egg month.

Recently Illinois farmers have been producing more than 250 million dozen eggs a year. This accounts for more than 5 per cent of national production. The value of eggs produced in Illinois has averaged about 95 million dollars per year.

THESE FIGURES make it easy to understand why the Illinois poultry industry is interested in any campaign to promote egg consumption.

Consumers are giving increased recognition to the versatility of eggs and their importance to their health and pocketbook. Eggs are one of the cheapest sources of protein, vitamins and minerals. Just like milk, they are almost a complete food within themselves.

IN 1920, the average egg consumption in the United States was 295 eggs per person. The consumption in 1955 was about 417 eggs per person, an increase of more than 40 per cent in 35 years.

Charles Merritt of Forrest has been appointed Illinois chairman of January Egg Month by Dr. James Gwin, general manager of Poultry and Egg National board. The board serves as national headquarters for the campaign. It is a non-profit consumer-information agency for the nation's poultry industry.

Serving as co-chairman with Merritt are James Roush, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois and J. R. Harris, department of agriculture, division of markets at Springfield.

Best To Repel Rabbits Before They Do Damage

Repel rabbits before they do permanent damage to small ornamental plants.

An ounce of prevention actually saves partial or total destruction of valuable plants, points out Harleigh Kemmerer of the horticulture department at the University of Illinois. Many control measures are just too late.

The most effective and cheapest way to prevent damage is to treat trees and shrubs with a repellent. Some effective repellents that are harmless to trees and shrubs are Black Leaf 40, an insecticide, and Arasan SF-X and Terasan 75, both fungicides. These are not apt to poison farm animals in the amount that they might eat.

AN ASPHALT water emulsion added to the repellents will serve to dilute them. It will also help them to stick to trees. Building supply dealers are a good source of this material.

To prepare the Black Leaf 40 repellent ,mix 2 pints of asphalt water emulsion, 3 pints of water and 8 tablespoons of a household detergent until smooth. Then add ½ pint of Black Leaf 40 and mix thoroughly.

A FUNGICIDE repellent can be made by adding ½ pound of Araran SF-X or Terasan 75 in one quart of asphalt water emulsion and one quart of water.

Hog Raisers Can Raise Profits By Changing Habits

Hog raisers can add $4 to the value of each hog produced during 1956 by following a number of money-making practices reports National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock magazine.

It is possible to pick up an extra $1 per hog through improved breeding, $1 more through efficient feeding, $1 through improved management and at least $1 more from planned marketing.

ADOPTING the following practices will provide the added dollars which are mighty important during this period of low prices:

(1) Production of meat-type hogs through use of productive, meaty, healthy breeding stock.

(2) LifeCycle feeding of balanced rations starting with richly fortified starters or pre-starters and feeding complete rations where practical.

(3) DISEASE prevention through health certification and wider use of new disease prevention and control methods.

(4) Use of newer management practices and trends — earlier weaning, multiple farrowing, confined finishing, more efficient housing and equipment, farrowing stalls or modern farrowing houses, less pen cleaning, heated waterers and constant care to reduce stress factors.

(5) Planned marketing to get seasonal price advantages and obtain the meat-hog price differential and avoid the fat-hog discount.

(6) Use of simple, yet complete, records in figuring profit or loss as a check to improve operation by figuring and eliminating weak points as you go along.

Rotate Your Tractor Valves

Equip your tractor with rotating valves now and you may prevent a costly engine overhaul when the busy season gets here.

Carl F. Mees, Cook county farm adviser says rotating exhaust valves makes the valves last just as long as the rings and pistons.

A rotating valve keeps valve stems, faces and seats clean. It also cools the valve so that hot spots won't develop.

Drop by my office today if you want more information about advantages of valve rotation. Ask for University of Illinois circular 736, "rotate tractor valves for longer life." (Fm
